Y CONFERENCE HELD IN MARCH

A LARGE NUMBER OF MEMBERS WILL ATTEND THIS THREE-DAY SESSION IN MACON.

The Georgia Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. conference formerly held at Camp Wilkins, Athens, will be held this year at Wesleyan College, Macon, March 28 to 29.

The committee, which is a part of the state cabinet, is composed of Emma Stephens, Wesleyan, president; Leonard Kent, S. G. T. C., vice-president; Sara Hambricht, Brenau, secretary, and James Talbert Emory, treasurer.

Several outstanding Georgia educators will appear on the three-day program. Dr. Smart, of Emory University, is to be the principal speaker. Dr. Roper will lead a discussion of racial questions.

In addition to these speakers, student speakers from colleges throughout the state will participate. They will discuss the purpose and function of the World's Christian Student Federation.

A large delegation composed of both Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. members are to attend from this institution. The meeting will begin with a dinner on Friday night.

Tech "Y" Singers Be Here Friday

The "Y" Singers of Georgia Tech will present a program to the student body Friday, March 2nd, at 8 o'clock, in the college auditorium.

After appearing in Millen Friday afternoon, the singers will leave in time to arrive here for supper at 7 o'clock. They are to go to Savannah after the program here.

These singers are sent out by the Y. M. C. A. of Georgia Tech each

President Wells at Cleveland This Week

President Guy H. Wells, gaily attired in a complete new outfit, ranging from a ritzy double-breasted suit to a hair cut and shave, passed Miss Sophie's close examination late Wednesday night and made his departure under cover of darkness.

Mr. Wells rushed by the office to get all available information on just what he was to do after reaching Cleveland, Ohio, where he is attending the National Educational Association. The association is in session from February 23 to March 1, and Mr. Wells is there in the interest of the college.

Women Lead Men In Fall Term Averages

Fall term grade-point averages reveal the fact that the women of the college have made higher grades than the men. The average for the 441 students who were in attendance at the close of the fall term is 2.43. The women have an average of 2.61, while the men's average is 2.17. The highest average was made by the Senior class, the lowest by the Freshman class. The Senior women are in the lead, while the last place is held by the Freshmen men.

GRADE POINT RATIOS

	Men	Women	Total
Senior . . . . .	2.70	3.81	3.08
Junior . . . . .	2.40	2.97	2.67
Sophomore . . . . .	2.29	2.43	2.37
Freshman . . . . .	1.95	2.56	2.32
Total . . . . .	2.17	2.61	2.48
Dormitory . . . . .	2.15	2.73	2.61
Non-Dormitory . . . . .	2.21	2.41	2.37
Football Team . . . . .	1.71

Grade points are computed by dividing the number of quality points earned by the number of courses carried. A grade-point of 2 represents a C average; a grade-point of 4 represents a B average, while that of 6 means an A average. A student must have a grade-point of 2 before he can be awarded a diploma.

ATHLETIC CLUB BUYS EQUIPMENT

The Woman's Athletic Association has bought six tennis raquets, two sets of golf clubs, oars, badminton raquets, horseshoes and balls to be placed at the disposal of the student body. This equipment can be obtained at the office of the Physical Education Department in the Gymnasium and on any day from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Through the endeavors of the association it is possible for this equipment to be used by the students without cost. The expansive campus-wide athletic program is being launched to promote more out-door sports among the students and it is hoped that many students will take advantage of this practice. The Women's Athletic Association has been an active body on the campus during the last quarter, and with the assistance of Miss Lane and Mrs. Dyer, it is rapidly progressing in the work it has already started. Through the co-operation of the Physical Education Department, their first step in this mighty program has been completed, but an effort is being made to obtain a greater amount of equipment and thus afford opportunity for more persons to participate in these sports.

The Y. M. C. A., which is sponsoring the program, will entertain the singers and members of the Y. W. C. A. with a reception after the program.

WILDE'S DRAMA HIGHLY ENJOYED

A complete cast presented "Lady Windermere's Fan," in the college auditorium Thursday evening, February 22nd. The play was directed by Henrietta Doster.

Margaret Williams, as Lady Windermere, handled that difficult role with much ease, and especially outstanding was James Hall, whose fine portrayal as her husband, ranks him among the most capable of the college actors.

Comedy relief was introduced by the Duchess of Berwick, Annie Mae Hunter, and Lord Augustus Lorton, Lofton Giddens. Miss Hunter, although she has appeared in numerous plays, has never been more suited to a role than to that of the duchess. As the slightly eccentric young nobleman, Lofton Giddens, gave his talent for comedy full play, much to the delight of the audience.

Although George Donaldson had only a minor role as the butler, his savor faire, in spite of embarrassing situations, was admirable—in all, he was the perfect man-servant. Bee Shafe, as the much misunderstood Mrs. Erylyne, put herself into her part and gave a very sympathetic interpretation. Dick Saunders was excellently cast for the part of the rakish Lord Darlington and won the sympathy of the audience by his pathetic speeches in the third act. Verna Lassiter and George Carter did their parts most adequately.

Before the play and between the acts music was rendered by Mrs. Z. S. Henderson, Eugenia Marshall, Torrence Brady, Helen Enecks and Shelby Monroe.

GIRLS ATTEND ATHLETIC MEET

FOUR MEMBERS OF THE W. A. A.
LEAVE NEXT WEEK TO AT-TEND STATE ASSOCIATION.

The S. G. T. C. delegation to the state meeting of the Woman's Athletic Association has been signally honored by being given charge of one afternoon's program. This meeting is to be held in Valdosta at the Georgia State Women's College, March 2, 3 and 4. The representatives from this school are Helen Olliff, president; Louise Rozier, Victoria Cone, Mary Margaret Blich and Miss Caro Lane, faculty adviser.

The subject of the program which they will present is "What Physical Education Can Do to Improve High Schools in the State."

This state meeting is an annual event that is widely known and has attracted the interest of the schools of the state. It will be attended by delegations from most of the women's

Variety Program At Pembroke

The first of a series of trips to nearby towns was made Friday night by a group of S. G. T. C. students who presented a variety program in Pembroke under the auspices of the Pembroke P. T. A.

The program consisted of the college orchestra directed by Mrs. E. L. Barnes, a solo by M. Y. Hendrix, dances by Alice Gray and Bob Harris, saxophone solo by Shelby Monroe, reading by Corinne Lanier, several number by the college trio, composed of James Townsend, James Wiggins and M. Y. Hendrix, and a trio composed of Mrs. Henderson, Torrence Brady and Eugenia Marshall.

The second portion consisted of the play, "Cabbages," presented by a group of college players. This play won first place in the annual one-act play contest between the societies.

Perhaps, some of those people who have never heard of the Student Council are some of the same bunch that profess ignorance in a lot of other things.

Now that the students have learned the Alma Mater, it might be well to begin teaching it to some of the faculty. They, too, are a part of "our happy family."

The members of the Woman's Athletic Association are due many thanks from the student body in sacrificing their sweaters to buy tennis racquets and golf clubs to be used by the school. Those girls did this at their own suggestion. No fee will be charged for the use of this equipment. When we play with these racquets and clubs, let's treat them as if they belonged to us and try not to damage them in any way. Remember, everybody is getting the benefit of their use.

NEED FOR A HANDBOOK

One of the greatest handicaps in dealing with the Freshman class this year has been the lack of a handbook. Not only has this been detrimental to developing the spirit and morale of this class, but it has been difficult to put across to them the traditions, rules, songs and other things of the school that it is necessary for them to know to become a loyal unit of our family.

As there is not a year book to be published this year, there is possibility of securing some additional funds from the fee allotted to the annual for the handbook. If this be the case, the concentrated efforts of the classes and all campus organizations should result in a complete and attractive handbook.

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s could certainly play a large part in putting out this book for next year's Freshman class—no other source could be as effective in putting over the purpose of these organizations. As each entrance application came to the college, the secretary could enclose a handbook, thus acquainting the prospective student with the college and its atmosphere.

We do not want an administrative handbook, we want a student publication. This work should originate in the Student Council, with this organization receiving the support of every student. Shall we have a handbook containing our Alma Mater, school calendar, rules and regulations and other necessary information, or shall we, next year, continue to harp at the Freshman class because they don't sing the school song and respect school traditions?

READ AND ENJOY

The library has recently added a collection of about two hundred and fifty books. These books are now in process of being catalogued, numbered, etc., and will be removed to the shelves at an early date.

The largest number of the books are in the fields of English, History and Home Economics. There are several good biographies, but very few of fiction. The following are descriptions of some of the most representative:

"Sons," by Pearl S. Buck, is a sequel to her widely read "Good Earth," published a few years ago. The new novel begins exactly where the other left off, carries on the Sago of the house of Wang, of Pear Blossom and the aging Lotus, the three sons of Wang Lung, their wives and their children. Some one has said, "If anyone doubted the author of "The Good Earth" was an artist, that doubt will vanish when he reads "Sons."

Paul DeKruif has made for himself a name through a passion for making unknown benefactors of mankind—those who made the great discoveries civilization takes for granted live again. To do this he goes through to the original sources with an energy and thoroughness intolerant of half-way measures. In the collection we have his new book, "Men Against Death," telling of twelve scientific pioneers who have fought to keep men from dying. With the exception of three of the men, DeKruif has known them personally and is able to present their achievements not as mere uninspired academic grubbing, but in the obscurely romantic way in which they actually happened.

"The Flying Carpet," the fourth book by the author of "The Royal Road to Romance" brings a new interest. To his adventurous realm, is added the clouds. The books of Richard Halliburton are boldly romantic, picaresque, bright spirited and have become standard readings for imaginative and restless peoples of all ages and in a dozen countries.

"Franklin DeLano Roosevelt, the Minute Man of '33," by Belle Moses—this authentic and colorful biography of President Roosevelt brings to boys and girls the inspiration and the interest of a great life story. It is a delightfully intimate book, going behind the scenes and showing the man as he really is. In writing the book, Miss Moses has had the co-operation of the Roosevelt family.

"The Roosevelt Program," by Cleveland Rodgers, is one of the several books in the collection dealing with the recovery question.

"World Resources and Industries," by Erich W. Zimmermann, attempts to show the relation between geography and economics.

On the question of America's foreign relations there is "Can America Stay at Home," by Frank H. Simonds, author of an equally interesting volume, "Can Europe Keep the Peace?" which also is included in the collection.

Other books that will be of special interest to students of history are a three-volume set on the Russian Revolution, "This is Russia," and several dealing with Southern history.

Included among these for use in the home economics department are "Table Service" and "The Perfect Hostess."

There are many other equally interesting volumes among this collection. Watch the display tables for these new books.

.. Poet's Corner ..

"Twilight Time," by Miss Polly Mincey was chosen as the runner-up of "Fumes of Philosophy." Douglas Durden's sonnet on "Success" was given honorable mention.

TWILIGHT TIME

Cool blue shadows fall like velvet
O'er the purple moor;
Pale roses lose their color
In the sun's last hour.
Soft sweet music sends an echo
Through the misty air;
Flowers, gold and blue and crimson,
Shed their fragrance there.
Then there comes a peaceful quiet,
Thoughts of home and rest,
Weary hearts are turned toward God,
Who their lives hath blessed.
Oh, the joy and longing for comfort
That the twilight brings!
Toils and cares all seem to vanish
As the "night bird" sings.
Silvery threads of silver, weaving
Dreams of softest gold,
Wafts aloft a lovely pattern
As the night unfolds.
Once again the day is passing,
Leaving in its trail
Twilight and the thoughts that come
Ere the light hath failed.

POLLY MINCEY.

SUCCESS

You have a task confronting you today
And think success you really can't attain.
If you've failed once, you do not try again;
Accomplishment can not be gained that way.
Your life you're taking, making day
by day,
Do you make all your hours show
some gain
In timely knowledge or in thinking sane,
Or do you while your valued time away?
You're in a mold, your life is now being pressed
Into the form which it will e'er retain.
This mold you shape yourself at your own wish,
And if you make a slip t'will mar the best
Of victory that ever you attain;
Success is made through high and noble push.

DOUGLAS DURDEN.

DEAR EDITOR—

Collegeboro, Ga.,
February 23, 1934.

Dear Editor:

Honest Injun! Mr. Editor, are you going to tolerate such sayings as appeared in the last issue of the G.-A.? We all thought that Sally Snooper was bad enough, and now it is that upstart calling herself (or himself) the K-I-G-Y. The Kigy column spoke in generalities mostly, but those specific examples were complete and right to the point. Do you realize, Mr. Editor, that such wise cracks are bringing the social life on the campus to the very lowest ebb? If this publicity stuff keeps up there won't be any more couples like Cliff and Mary, or Sid and Kat. In fact, they'll all be afraid to love. It makes us feel like we are in the spotlight all the time. Take, for instance, Shelby Monroe, you notice how retiring his nature has been since his most audacious exposition. Now, we admit, that some

PROFS WIN FIRST BOXING MATCH

HARD-HITTING LEFTS OF THE TEACHERS TAKE 8 OF 10 VICTORIES, WITH 3 KNOCK-OUTS.

The Teachers boxing team, under supervision of Mr. Russell, won their first inter-collegiate match with G. M. C. last Friday night. The G. M. C. boys outweighed the Teachers a few pounds, but the war-like spirit which the Prof boxers had cast away every weight advantage. "Little" Bob Cherry, "Fulback" Smith and Harold McKneely won their fights by knock-outs.

The first fight resulted in a decision for "Jake" Riggs over his opponent. Riggs' left proved too much for the battered partner.

The second match began fast and ended fast when Bob Cherry floored his man in the second round. Again, there was too much left.

In the next fight "Buster" Deal, of the Teachers, won a close decision. Deal showed wonderful generalship in this bout.

In the first lightweight bout, Padgett battered his way to a clear cut decision.

Lawrence Shippy used his science in winning the next fight by a close margin.

Beddingfield's opponent had too much reach and finally won a close decision in this bout. This is the first bout the Profs lost.

"Fulback" Smith, in a series of blows to the body and jaw floored his opponent for the count, 45 seconds after the bell.

Showing the crowd a punch they had never seen before, McKneely decided to take no chances and spilled his man in 15 seconds.

In the first heavyweight match, Cliff Hale won an easy decision, from an opponent who apparently was able "to take it."

Earl "Cooney" Riggs, lost a very close decision to Brooks, of G. M. C., in the final bout of the night.

Hines Leads Scores Of Basketball Season

The individual scores for the basketball season have been compiled, and were found to be very evenly distributed. Hines, forward on the team, led the scorers with 89 points; Smith, with 79, was second, and Wrinkle, with 78, was a very close third. Stewart, stalwart center, came fourth with 77, Spears ranked fifth with 74 and Pafford, the hard-working center, ranked sixth with 46. The remaining scores are as follows: Donaldson, 32; Purvis, 29; Dubose, 23, and Beall, 21.

BASEBALL BEGINS OFFICIALLY TODAY

The first official baseball practice will begin today at 3:30 o'clock. Coach Smith has issued a call for all men who can play baseball to come out.

Only two members of last year's championship team are back this year. Coach Smith will have to build his team almost completely from new men and from the reserves of last year. About thirty or forty men are expected to answer the first call and in this number there are several prospects.

Spears and Woods are the two varsity men and Settles, Stapleton, Martin and Beall are the reserves.

Societies to Hold Quarterly Debate

The regular quarterly debate between the two literary societies will be held Friday evening, March 2nd, in the auditorium.

The Oglethorpe Society has presented the following subject: "Resolved, That the United States government should reduce without compensation the amount of cotton produced to two-thirds the amount produced annually between the years 1930-32."

In this interesting discussion Elizabeth Fletcher and Howell Martin, representing the Oglethorpe Society, will uphold the affirmative, and Nancy Young and Joe Buxton, of the Stephens Society, will take the negative.

DEAR EDITOR—

couples want advertisement. "Geechee" hopes the column continues; 'cause you know why. Billie Gwyn is a fine fellow now that Dodie has gone.

If I were an Iota Pi Nu I would take Kigy's remark as an insult. If she knows some of her sensational stuff, why doesn't she print it and not insinuate that they are hypocrites. We would like to get the low-down on some of the other fraternity boys. Come on Kigy, publish something about the Iota Pi Nu's so that they won't be so proud to show Mamma and Miss Veazy the George-Anne. The students would like to know it, too.

Oh! If we only had Sally back! Sally is the one we're waiting for, but Sally doesn't write here anymore. If a number of the students appeal to you will you consider giving her another little short corner, just some place to fill up space? This new editorial member is going to ruin all of us who are trying our first love. Poor me, I did not even get a bid to the hop last week 'cause someone would print that he had a date with Backe Numba.

Help us out, woncha, Mista, 'cause I, too, am just A STUDENT.

Sally's Advice to The Lovelorn

Dear Miss Sally Snooper:

Please answer this letter, Miss Sally, just as soon as possible because it is urgent that I get your advice while the stars are shining at night. This is my problem, Miss Snooper: A few months back a young co-ed and I were desperately in love and had everything planned for a moon trip. She gave me the gate just before the flight, but each night when the stars come out, I long for her company. Every consellation reminds me of her. What shall I do?

JILTED.

I remember your case well and I sympathize with you. However, I feel it my duty to tell you that she never really loved you, and she only went with you for your money. The wound is fresh, but soon it'll heal, and this faithless young so-and-so will no longer darken your thoughts.

Dear Sally:

I am in love with a boy who will not go with me because he thinks I'm too fat. I've tried to reduce, but I haven't been successful. Please suggest a way. I think I'll die if he doesn't give me a break soon.

POLLY PLUMP.

I believe your question was answered by the chapel speaker Friday, but if it isn't convenient for you to go on a speaking tour, just send me $1.00 for a box of my magic formula "Reduso Pills" and lose 10 to 15 pounds a day.

Dear Sally:

Can you help me in this matter? Everyone says I giggle too much. I can't help it, honest, it is my natural way of laughing. I try to be jolly with everyone but it seems that I am a failure. People even make fun of me, and this hurts my feelings so much! If I can't laugh any other way without being called silly, how am I supposed to do when I hear or see something funny?

PUZZLED.

Why not try wiggling your ears?

Dear Sally:

I've noticed that a few of the boys have taken your splendid advice with good results, especially "Sack-em-up," concerning this case off the campus. Therefore, with great anxiety, I reveal secrets I have not dared tell anyone, in hope of a happy denouement. When at home Christmas, I met a girl from another state, who loves me better than life itself, and who wants to marry soon. But----! On my return to S. G. T. C. I went on a picnic and became enmeshed in the wiles of an enchantress—for truly she affects me strangely. I do not know what to do, for I must be true to my love, but yet . . . oh, heavens!

AN UNDECIDED LOVER.

What's wrong with loving two at a time? Neither need know of the other's place in your affection. Incidentally, how do you do it?

Dear Sally:

I am tall and handsome, use Life Buoy and Listerine, but still the girls shun me. They say I have wonderful lips but never have a chance to use them. Please advise me how to remedy this.

BALONEY.

Oh! But do you use Lux for your laundry work and do you eat Grape-Nuts for breakfast? Try these—they never fail.

Dear Sally Snooper:

I am from the land of sunshine and flowers, but there is no sun in my life since my true love has gone North. I have not known her long, only since Christmas, and I live in dread that she no longer loves me. Her letters grow fewer and fewer. Please advise me what to do.

INDIANAPOLIS.

Send her some stamps. That'll be a gentle hint.

K-I-G-Y

Some people evidently weren't born to be sports or else they had the wrong type of environment. If it weren't for this column what would people talk about—and the way this column has been talked about! It's even been called low down but the thing that hurt most was when our sincere French professor called it silly. It just burned it up! Will somebody please tell us why Talmadge Ramsey feels that he simply must know who writes this column. Why all the sudden interest? Talking about improving chapel—why not smoke Old Golds—they tell me there isn't a fought in a carload. Everyone is expecting quite a bit of dope about the dance, but why didn't Earl take a date, and who took Charlotte? Mary seemed to be having quite a bit of trouble that night—imagine having Grady, Bobby and Earl on your hands at the same time. Why was Bobby looking for Mary after the dance?

That reminds me—Alice seems to be breaking the tie that binds—but who could blame her—John being in Atlanta. The dance was quite the most exciting event so far. Everybody had a date with everybody else, and I simply know somebody had to be left out. Little Owens was doing some hard work trying to keep her business (Buster and Charlie that night) straight. The most popular question of the evening seemed to be "Do you have a toddy?"—and all except the disabled—would "Co" Lanier, Mary Wolf and Polly Mincey come under that head?

Sara was having her a time—Cohen and Spears Saturday and Spears and Cohen Sunday, but say, the Brinson played out on Cohen. Rumor has it that Pete will be back soon. A tip to a way out of an embarrassing situation—as having a date in Brooklet and Statesboro at the same hour—go to bed! And why didn't "Quat" stay for church services Sunday morning?

You should have seen dignified little "Jake" leading the grand march! We wonder how he did it. Here's another on Jake—some of you ask him what he thought when he woke up Sunday and couldn't find his watch. The part that is puzzling is why Mary had to wait five minutes to give him an answer. I hear the suggestion has been made to one "little" girl that as "Quat's" sweater would be too large and because it might be hard to get, it would be better to try Jake. Pretty good advice, and have you noticed how the affair is flourishing?

The week end brought Carl something! He's rushing around telling everyone how he immediately lost his heart to a fair young visitor on the campus—but can anyone blame him?

An overheard conversation: Question, "Who did Lottie date Saturday night?" Answer, "Which date?"

Then Sunday—"Come to see us sometime and bring your family." Polly and Cheney were riding with Mr. and Mrs. Lanier Sunday after-

CLUBS

EPICUREANS AND DUX DOMINA

The Epicureans and the Dux Domina are entertaining with a dance in the Gym Saturday night. Decorations will be in the clubs' colors and green will be used also. From 8 to 11 o'clock there will be dancing, with music by the school orchestra. Each girl has invited a date and a stag. During the evening light refreshments will be served. Misses Vivian George, Bill Rountree and Lillian Vandiver are the out of town guests who will attend the dance.

IOTA PI NU

Thursday evening the Iota Pi Nus are having an oyster supper at Buster Bowen's before their regular meeting. Oysters in various styles compose the menu, and the boys are anticipating a big feed.

DUX DOMINA

Corinne Lanier and Louise Quan-

tock entertained the members of Dux Domina with a valentine feast last Wednesday night. The individual plates were arranged with the valentine motif predominant and a hot drink was served.

DRAMATIC CLUB

"The Trysting Place," by Booth Tarkington, will be presented at the Dramatic Club Wednesday night. The cast follows: Launcelot Briggs, Billy Gwyn; Mrs. Curtis, Catherine Melton; Mr. Ingoldshy, Howell Martin; Jesse, Polly Mincey; Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Sara Haslett; Rupert, Wilson Wilkes. The play is directed by Eloise Graham.

FRENCH CLUB

OUR COLLEGE

NEWS ... VIEWS

JOSEPHINE MUHPHY, feature editor of the George-Anne, represented our staff at the Press Association held in Athens last week.

MRS. BARNES has divided her public school music into groups. Each group is to give a program dealing with the periods and types of music.

DR. GLASGOW, pastor of the Independent Presbyterian church of Savannah, will speak to the students in chapel Tuesday and Wednesday mornings.

SOME OF THE TALENTED musicians on our campus favored us with a varied program in chapel Wednesday. The program consisted of several numbers by the band, some selections by Mrs. Henderson and a group of students, a piano solo by Mrs. Barnes, and a saxophone solo by Shelby Monroe, accompanied by Helen Enecks.

WE ARE LESS PRONE to deny the validity of Hawthorne's story of the Great Stone Face since the chapel program sponsored by the Sophomore Class last Wednesday. Certain faculty members were impersonated by students so well that in some instances a second look was necessary to really decide that it was not that instructor for sure.
