The English are still after the money. Boers.

People who have money can easily keep it when this summer.
Both that island and two cents are one crop of sea island cotton and a half ounce will help the price.
Responsible.

A big crop of home made cotton, will lower the price at home.
A good yield.

The gold mines in the Transvaal are now open. England needs that gold.

And dispensers for the sale of liquor is the solution of the problem. It is coming to be a matter of time.

The state university at Athens will celebrate its one hundred anniversary in June. Over the larger part of the year, has been raised for the benefit of the college.

John Rockefeller and Morgan cannot get along. The whole business, we would have nothing to do with the matter about.

Mr. McKinley is sweeping around the world, and a great people such a purpose, trying him on the way.
At the hotel.

Gov. Chandler, may not have said a word about the Parkhurst crowd, but he voiced the sentiments of our people all the same.

The South is going ahead in the industrial line. Our neighbor, Millen, will soon have a big cotton factory completed.

It is friendly with his neighbors, and loves the country in which he lives. He has taught his children that fine line, and sharp tooth shoes do not make ladies and gentlemen, but solicitous, honest, industry and economy does.

He is resting after a life of well spent years, and looks back on his serene life, on the clear old farm, down by the ocean, and is satisfied and contented, and is not worrying himself about Rockefeller's wealth, nor his neighbors' land.

This man has struck oil.

BRANNEN-SIMMONS.
On Sunday, May 5th at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, about fourteen guests were married.
Elder M. F. Stiles performed the ceremony in the presence of the family, and a few invited guests.

Mr. Simmons is connected with the Simmons Co., and his wife is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brannen near Bu-lock. The News with their kind wishes wish them a long and happy journey through life.

The Builleville Branch informs its members that "Major Jones, who was bitten by a rattlesnake Tuesday last had the poison of mind to drink a gallon and a half of corn whiskey on the spot. He has recovered from the bite, but there is a telling when he will recover from the bite."

THE STATESBORO NEWS

The above named company was incorporated at the last term of the superior court, with J. L.
Mathews, W. S. Proctor, J. W.
Olliff, and J. A. Brannen, as the incorporators. The company is connected with Savannah, and its lines reach Bryan, Effingham, Ham, Tattnall, Sullivan and McIntosh counties. Nearly all parts of Bulloch are now reached and the company proposes building other lines. It is a great convenience to the people, and brings every neighborhood in touch with each other. The Statesboro exchange has about fifty town subscribers and is constantly growing. Low rates are given, and most of the stores and many residences are equipped with phones. In this rapid pace, the busy man must have a phone.

Excelsior Dots.

Excelsior is still in the lead, with her broad fertile fields, her refining natural scenery, her thriving commerce and farmers, her hardy sons and accomplished daughters. Truly this is a goodly place to live, and one that should cause the patriots heart to beat for joy. But how often we find ourselves surrounded with blessing, mourn over departed days, and see naught but calamity in the future. Such discontent, however, has little place among us, our people are prosperous and happy. But let us refer to the past.

STRUCK OIL.

Out on a farm near this creek, lives a man with his family, who has struck oil. He has a nice residence and a yard of pretty flowers and a lawn of oaks and cedars. His fields are terrace and under a good fence.
His stock are cared for, and on home raised hay and he has been in his smokehouse, milk and butter in the dairy, and corn in the barn. While the operator in New York, and the men in the city are almost crazy from nervous prostration, by going the pace that kills, he sits beneath his own vine and fig tree, and works his own land and sees nature with its sunshine and showers, brings his growing crops to maturity.

He does not want anything, but good will, and the war in Africa, and panic on wall street does not affect his equilibrium.

He reads the papers, and watches the goings on in the old world, but is not disturbed thereby. He raises his boys and girls and teaches them, that labor is honorable, and that a good name is better than great riches.

He is friendly with his neighbors, and loves the country in
his children that fine line, and
sharp tooth shoes do not make

"Don't Speak to me."

All manner of extravagant expressions are possible when a woman's nerves are overwrought. The spasms at the top of the wind pipe or bronchial tubes, "ball rising in the throat," violent beating of the heart, laughing and crying by turns, muscular spasms (throwing the arms about), frightened by the most insignificant occurrences—are all symptoms of a hysterical condition and serious derangement of the female organs.

Any female complaint may produce hysterics, which must be regarded as a symptom only. The cause, however, yields quickly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which acts at once upon the organ afflicted and the nervous system, dispelling effectually all those distressing symptoms.

Mrs. Lewis Says: "I Feel Like a New Person, Physically and Mentally."

"DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM: I wish to speak a good word for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For years I had various troubles, and suffered everything from nervousness, severe headache, and pain in the back and limbs. I had been told that I could have my health restored by using your medicine, and I soon found it was giving me much relief. I can now do my work as usual, and I feel like a new person, physically and mentally. I am glad to give you my most hearty recommendation. I am, Mrs. M. H. Lewis, 2106 Valentine Ave., Detroit, Mich., U.S.A."

Writing to Mrs. Pinkham in the quickest and surest way to get the right advice about all female troubles and ailments is to Lynn, Mass. She advises women free. Following is an instance:

Mrs. Haven's First Letter to Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM:—I would like your advice in regard to my troubles. I suffer every month at time of menstruation, and flow so much with a discharge before and after, that I am unable to do my work. I have been told that I could have my health restored by using your medicine, and I soon found it was giving me much relief. I can now do my work as usual, and I feel like a new person, physically and mentally. I am glad to give you my most hearty recommendation. I am, Mrs. M. H. Lewis, 2106 Valentine Ave., Detroit, Mich., U.S.A."

Mrs. Haven's Second Letter.

"DEAR Mrs. PINKHAM:—I wish to express my gratitude for what your medicine has done for me. I suffered for four years with worst trouble. Every month I flowed very freely. I got so bad that I could hardly do my work. Was obliged to sit or lie down most of the time. I doctored for a long time, but nothing helped me. I was told that I could have my health restored by using your medicine, and I soon found it was giving me much relief. I can now do my work as usual, and I feel like a new person, physically and mentally. I am glad to give you my most hearty recommendation. I am, Mrs. M. H. Lewis, 2106 Valentine Ave., Detroit, Mich., U.S.A."

Deposited with the National Cash Register Co., New York, N.Y., as evidence of the fact that the above is a true and correct copy of the original letter of Mrs. M. H. Lewis, 2106 Valentine Ave., Detroit, Mich., U.S.A., to Mrs. E. L. C. Lewis, 2106 Valentine Ave., Detroit, Mich., U.S.A., dated June 1, 1905.

SECRETARY ROOT GIVES ORDER

Provision of Congress For Care of Confederate Graves at Washington to Be Carried Out.

A Washington special says: Secretary Root has given orders to the quartermaster general's department for the execution of the act of Congress requiring the reburial in Arlington national cemetery of the Confederate dead now there, numbering 42, and with them the remains of the 120 Confederate buried at the national soldiers' home here. Orders have been received by the secretary from the women of Virginia, who with the remains taken south, but the order remains unexecuted.

It is stated by the war department that the act by Secretary Root in respect to the reburial of the Confederate dead at Arlington cemetery is in strict conformity with the requirements of a special act of congress, which made an appropriation of $2,500 for marking the new graves with headstones.

Soon after the law took effect opposition was manifested toward its provisions by the representatives of certain Confederate organizations. The result was that the authorities suspended action in the matter.

Considerable correspondence then took place between the officials of the war department and ladies representing certain Confederate organizations at Richmond and elsewhere.

A few days ago Secretary Root in the quartermaster general's department carried out the law, at the same time informing all the parties interested that the Confederate graves at Arlington cemetery were to be reburied in the national soldiers' home here.

It is further stated that the action of the department is in line with President McKinley's policy of giving the same care and attention to the graves of the Confederate dead as is given to those who fell on the Union side. In a telegram to the quartermaster general, Mrs. N. V. Randolph, of Richmond, Va., protested against the proposed action in the name of the "men of Virginia," and added: "We have not tried to place our dead against the graves of the Union soldiers."

In reference to this it is said that no protest has been made by the G. A. R.
