PROFS BATTLE UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA HERE OCTOBER 12TH

MANY TO ATTEND CONTEST FRIDAY

TEACHERS FACE FLORIDIANS
IN FIRST HOME GAME. ALL BUSINESS HOUSES TO CLOSE.

The event of the first football game of the season promises not only to be a big day for T. C. students, but also for people of Statesboro and for lovers of the game from the entire section. The business houses have planned to declare a half holiday so that the entire town can turn out.

Plans are being made to have a real college program of cheers and school music during the game and at the half. The tradition snake dance at the half is to be given by the cheering section and all freshmen being required to take part.

Attendance at the football games has been gradually increasing for the past few years, and because of out-of-the-state competition for this first game, even a keener interest is being shown this season. The Tampa visitors boast a strong eleven and the Teachers will be hard played to win. This strong competition, the interest in the opening encounter and the spirited backing of the student body together with Statesboro's prospective turn-out will be incentives for the Teachers to drive hard all week in preparation. Everybody wants a victory. The game begins at 3:15 Friday on the athletic field.

The Senior elected Helen Olliff president; Charles Munch, vice-president; Louise Quantock, secretary; Mary Margaret Blitch, treasurer, and Leonard Kent, Shelby Monroe and Jewell Greene as student council representatives.

Results of the Junior class election are as follows: President, Bob Shell; vice-president, Kathryn Yeomans; secretary, Edna Bennett; treasurer, Bill Stewart, and Cheney Griffin and Alton Ellis, student council representatives.

Wayne McKneely was chosen by the Sophomores as president; Lillian Simmons, vice-president; Bob Pound, secretary and treasurer, and Sara Remington, student council representative.

Officers for the Freshman class are to be selected at a later date.

SENATOR GEORGE SPEAKS ON NRA

Walter F. George, the senior senator for the last eight years from Georgia, spoke to the student body and faculty at the chapel period last Wednesday. The topic of his talk, which he read from manuscript was "What Has Happened and What is Going to Happen in the New Deal."

He gave to the assembly in a clear and concise form, an explanation of the nation's problems and policies, stating that the New Deal marked the end of the old economic order, but not the end of democracy. He further assured the students and faculty that the ideals and traditions of liberal education were not being threatened and were not in danger of destruction.

Along with Senator George were several other outstanding men of Georgia, Howell Cone, of Savannah, who introduced the speaker; Senator Jones, of Waynesboro; Senator Barter of the Savannah Morning News; geron, of Sardis, and H. V. Jenkins and J. P. Miller, of the Savannah Morning News.

Changes Improve College Facilities

The improvements on our campus have made a wonderful change in the appearance as well as the comfort of T. C. Since the new term began, many changes are noted about the buildings and grounds.

ENROLLMENT FOR 1934-35 TERM PASSES FIVE-HUNDRED MARK

MESSAGE FROM DR. M. S. PITTMAN

"It is a pleasure to welcome every student who is enrolled for the fall term in the South Georgia Teachers College. For many of you this is a new experience. We hope and we believe it will prove a profitable experience for you. For many others it is a continuance of experiences of previous years. The joy which you manifested upon your return to the college is an indication of the pleasure and profit which your previous experience has provided. We trust that this year will be a continuance of the happy experiences of the past with even greater benefits.

"We are all engaged in a common cause without reference to our position, the cause of building for ourselves and for society a larger and better life. With a clear vision of what we desire, with consecration to the tasks before us, with sensible recognition of the rights of others, and with intelligent co-operation, all our hopes for larger achievements may be realized. The college welcomes every one of you to the tasks and the privileges which college life affords."

RECORDS BROKEN IN TWO CLASSES

FRESHMEN CLASS AND SENIOR CLASS ARE LARGEST IN HIS-TORY OF INSTITUTION.

With the enrollment reaching the five hundred mark, with every available room in the dormitories and cottages occupied, and with all sections of classroom study filled and overflowing, South Georgia Teachers College faces the future with success assured.

This year's Freshman class and Senior class is the largest in the history of the institution. At present there are forty-eight seniors and with the summer school graduates the degree class will total sixty-five.

The Freshman class is made up of two hundred and thirty students from five states. The state represented are Georgia, Florida, Alabama, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Totalling one hundred and twenty-five, the Sophomore class is smaller than that of previous years. This number will make the normal diploma class equal the degree class. There are forty-eight enrolled in the Junior class.

Any smart child can worry father to death with questions about lessons, and it doesn't take long.

The acid test of an individual's interest in any public work is a contribution.

Presidents for House Committees Elected

It was recently suggested by Dr. Pittman that, in order to insure a more thorough system of student government the occupants of each of the respective halls should meet and elect a president upon whom responsibility of their welfare could be placed.

In response to this suggestion meetings were held last Monday evening, October 1st, for this purpose. In electing these people you have placed an extremely important responsibility upon them; one that is unprecedented in this institution. It is designated as a part of the New Deal for the students of this college.

Those who were elected and to whom you are invited to go with your suggestions and your criticisms are: East Hall Miss Marjorie Toole; West Hall, Jim Wrinkle; Anderson Hall, Miss Armine Davis; the Brown Cottage, Miss Eloise Daughtry; the Singley Cottage, Miss Mary Holt; the Olliff Home, Harry Zalumas; the Gym, Sidney Stapleton.

LEISURE ARTS PROGRAM BEGUN

How many of us use or know how to use our leisure time to best advantage?

Dr. Pittman started in summer school the experiment of helping everyone learn how to enjoy his leisure time. The program or experiment is being continued, and all who wish to learn how to dance, speak a romance language, play in the band, or study nature, may do so without extra cost. Nothing about it is compulsory. Everyone is to enjoy and profit by it.

Four days a week are to be given to these activities. Each student has the privilege of joining the group he is most interested in. At the end of six weeks he may change to another group. By the end of the year each student should know how to do six things that he doesn't know now.

Floors. Rooms have been repainted and the result is a clean as well as comfortable place in which to live. A new radio has also been installed in the West Hall to make it all the more homelike.

The library, on the second floor of the Administration Building, is being enlarged to twice its size to take care of the increase in enrollment. The grounds and shrubbery are being cared for by students working with the FERA.

With the new Stadium constructed and with a few other minor improvements realized, South Georgia Teachers College can soon take her place among the more renowned institutions of learning in Georgia.

TO THE FRESHMEN

When a Freshman enters college he is confronted with the problem of making his own decisions and managing his own affairs. His life is his own to mold in his own way.

The upperclassmen and the faculty are more than ready to aid in any manner. Make friends among the faculty and among the other students. College friendships are lasting. The other Freshmen are more than ready to be friends with you.

Keep an eye on the future, plan carefully, but keep an eye on the present as well. Live each day as a separate unit, filling each minute to the best of your ability.

Support the college at all times. Obey its rules and abide by its decisions.

Develop and keep alive a school spirit. School spirit is not only the outward expression of loyalty, but the support of all teams and all organizations. Be on hand at all games, but also support the college by obeying its rules.

Be conservative in time. Make each minute count. Spend as little money as possible for unnecessary things. Be considerate of your fellow students in dormitory and class life. Strive to build up the college spirit of co-operation and a respect for the property rights of the college and others.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

The students of S. G. T. C. fail to realize the invaluable force of school spirit. Those of us who were here last year know that at all times when we needed enthusiasm the most our campus resembled a graveyard after dark.

We can't help but feel loyalty and love of our school deep down in our hearts but there are times when we need outward expressions of such emotions.

Each of us should have a feeling of possessiveness. This is my school. . . I constitute as great a part of it as the fellow beside me.

Are we forgetting that our school days are numbered? Shall we look back over these years and think blankness, or shall we thrill to the memories of college yells and songs or of banners flying?

Some of this morbidness and devil-may-care attitude is nothing short of laziness. Let's get up and shake off this indifference and show our new students how proud we are to belong here. Let's don't let them think that they're here for a four-year nap.

On October 12th comes our chance to display our school spirit at the University of Tampa game. Cheers alone will not win the game, but the knowledge and inspiration of the fact that the student body is solidly behind the team will mark up touchdown after touchdown.

YE FRESHMEN

This is the time of the year that Freshmen are at their freshest, and the breaks they make are numerous enough to fill a book. This year's crop has done everything from falling for the old gag of buying chapel seats to falling into the Henderson's fish pond.

Can you imagine the consternation in the library when one young hopeful asked to check out the card catalogue?

The other day Louise Quantock kindly gave a recital on the noiseless typewriter for those who had never seen one.

Then there was one innocent who strayed into a 400 history class and stayed there for quite awhile thinking it was zero English. Maybe there's some hidden connection between the two, but I don't get it.

Having heard about the excellent campus course offered here and that Grady McElmurray made an A in it last term, one Freshman asked Grady if he had a book to sell.

Speaking of courses, Kent has had the screaming jitters over several Freshmen, who, after having registered and paid their fees, changed their schedules by the simple process of erasing and revising.

I still like the one on the cute little girl from Ogeechee who brought a kerosene lamp along.

One thing to be said about the Freshmen is that they aren't stingy. When Charlie Munch asked one for some shaving cream, he was urged to take the whole set.

Of course, then there were those girls who signed out to go to vespers, but in spite of all their breaks, they outnumber the upperclassmen at least two to one, and I am well content to leave them alone.

NEW DEAL IN STUDENT GOVERNMENT

With a change in presidents a change in the government usually follows. Thus it is with S. G. T. C. A golden opportunity is presenting itself to our students, and we hope they will be able to handle the situation wisely and competently. For years we have criticized the rules of this institution; now it is for us to revise those rules and create new ones to meet our needs. It is the solemn duty of every member of the house committees to give the matter his most careful attention and consult with the students so as to be able to present his suggestions clearly and forcefully.

Students, if you object to a certain rule, speak out. Tell those in charge how you feel about the matter. Don't be a slacker. Let's have a real government of the students, by the students and for the students!

CAMPUS COURTESY

There should be a place in every school for courtesy and surely we have that place in our school. It takes so little effort on our part to say "Thank you," and "Please, pardon me," or to stand aside while someone in a hurry passes, or for men to let ladies pass first. Yet, these are the things our friends are judging us by.

Upperclassmen, since we have so many new people on our campus, it is our duty more than ever before to be courteous and thoughtful to those about us. Freshmen and new people, an opinion of you is being formed, too. Let it be the best. Soon we will have visiting teams on our campus. The courtesy we show them will go far in upholding our reputation, and in making them eager to return. We owe it not only to ourselves to build our house of courtesy stronger, but to our parents, our home town and to our school.

Don't you want to register for a course in courtesy today and stick to it throughout the years? Always remember—

"Hearts, like doors, will open with ease
To very, very little keys,
And don't forget that two of these
Are 'Thank you, sir' and 'If you please.'"

DEAR EDITOR—

There are two complaints that we feel are well worth the attention of everyone.

All the rooms in our dormitories do not have water. Of course, having water in your room is a decided advantage. It requires much less time and effort on your part to brush your teeth and wash your face in a lavatory in your own room than to chase up and down two halls every morning and night looking for one that is not being used. But contrary to the former practice you are charged the same room rent whether you do or do not have water. How unfair it is for those who do not have water easy accessible to be charged the same room rate as those who do have it!

And won't you agree that everybody should know how to swim? You have only to recall the tragic death this summer of one of our students to know how important the ability to swim really is. We feel that we are not being radical in saying that the ability to swim should be in the requirements for a degree. Then, besides the necessity of it, just think of the fun you get from swimming, and the enormous amount of good exercise it is to your body. But how can one swim when the pool is bone-dry? Can't something be done about it?

Let us say that we are not grouchy pessimists finding fault with everything. We are old students. We love South Georgia Teachers College and we are loyal to it. Yet to make it a more equitable and enjoyable campus, these two complaints require some attention.

In this letter we are expressing not only our own opinions, but also the sentiment of a host of other students, both freshmen and upperclassmen.

Sincerely,

TWO INTERESTED STUDENTS.

spending four years in preparation of their work.

Miss Elizabeth Donovan is spending her entire time supervising the teaching of eight student teachers in the Bulloch county schools. These young ladies are teaching for one term in actual school situations with full responsibility for the children. The regularly employed teachers are studying in the college. This is a new undertaking in teacher training. Although the program is limited to a small number each term it is a beginning in a more extended experience for young teachers properly supervised.

Miss Jane Franceth is a new member of our faculty. She comes to the college from Michigan. She has done much successful work in the supervision of rural schools. This school year she will do extension work in two counties in this section of the state. These counties are Treutlen and Wheeler. Her program is already under way. In this column there will be reports of her work from time to time.

TEACHERS 1934 EDITION

PROFS LOSE FIRST GAME OF SEASON

The Blue Tide lost their first game of the season Friday night, September 28th, to Alabama State Teachers College at Troy, Ala. The margin of victory was one touchdown and an extra point, the score being 19-12.

"Farmer" Fulford scored all twelve of the Teacher's points, scoring one touchdown in the first quarter and again in the fourth period.

"Buch" Owens was the key man of the Alabama attack. The 'Bama back scored eighteen of his team's nineteen markers.

The Profs drew first blood when Fulford crashed through the center of the line to score from the fifty-yard line. The Teachers failed to connect for the extra point.

In the second quarter, Owens scored for Alabama after a series of line plays had carried the ball deep in T. C. territory. Cook kicked the extra point, making the score at the half: Alabama Teachers 7 and T. C. 6.

Another series of power plays in the third period ended in another score for Alabama, Owens again making the tally. Score: Alabama Teachers 13 and T. C. 6.

The fourth quarter saw Fulford receive the ball on a lateral pass and score his second marker of the game. Again T. C. failed on the try for extra point. On the kick-off Owens received the ball and picked his way through the entire T. C. outfit, running ninety yards to score. Here the game ended. Score, 19-12.

Making good might give a fellow satisfaction if folks didn't expect him to keep it up.

Outline Year's Work Of Physical Education

No year has given greater promise of a more thorough and successful physical education program than the one that lies before us now. With zeal and enthusiasm the students of this college are looking forward to their participating in one or more of the intra-mural tournaments outlined for the year. Every student is not only requested but urged to take part in one of these tournaments, for in them students are given an opportunity of developing a sense of fair competition not otherwise offered by the college. It is interesting to note that in some cases the tournaments of last year were so popular that many students came back this year with plans for organizing a winning team in their respective sport.

Coach B. L. Smith points out, however, that several changes have been made in the program for this year. Good wholesome play he believes is absolutely necessary to health, but here, in an institution whose aim and purpose it is to train leaders and teachers, something is going to be offered the students of the upper classes other than the opportunity of healthful exercise.

Regarding the new program Coach Smith said, "Students come here for the most part to receive training as teachers and community leaders, therefore something besides mere chance to play together should and is going to be offered them. For the freshmen we are going to pursue something of the same course carried out last year, but for the upperclassmen, we are going to offer them something of the technical thing of play that will aid them in correcting weaknesses both in themselves and others. Health and its safeguarding will be our main goal for the year."

For the girls in this college there is possibly even greater opportunities given for getting first-hand knowledge of directing public and school playgrounds.

The public welfare committee of the Statesboro Woman's Club has, with the co-operation of Miss Caro Lane and three students of this institution, has set up a typical playground that is situated east of the campus. This playground is under the supervision of Miss Lane and it is to serve as a "laboratory" for the students of the entire college for obtaining experience with its supervision. Every sophomore girl is required to spend part of her time on the playground. Already interest is being shown in other localities and requests have come from Brooklet and Sylvania for aid in setting up a similar playground.

The general physical program for the girls will be carried on in much the same manner as last year.

This institution is fastly gaining momentum in its physical education department and before many years it will be setting a precedent to be followed by every institution in the south.

Projected air conditioning of deep gold mines in South Africa is expected to increase production by making it possible for miners to work at greater depths.

CLUBS

TRI-STATE CLUB

The Tri-State Club, made up of students living at the Olliff home, was organized last Monday evening. Students from three states were present. Harry Zalumas was named president and Herbert Pitchford was elected secretary.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. is introducing this year a plan for the upperclassmen to be big sisters to the freshmen. Each older girl will be assigned several freshmen to help. The Y. W. C. A. held its regular installation service at vesper Sunday night.

L. T. C.'s

The L. T. C.'s met Wednesday night for a short business meeting to discuss plans for the coming year. It was decided that the club would meet once a month for a business session and once for a social. New bids will be extended this week.

DUX DOMINA

The Dux Domina has reorganized this year with these officers: President, Louise Quantock; vice-president, Martha Pippin; secretary, Eloise Beddingfield; treasurer, Lottie Rountree; chaplain, Eugenia Marshall. New bids were given to Mary Palmer Wellborn, Fay Foy, Melba Harvey and Mildred Zeagler.

B.-P. I. BARONS WIN OVER T. C.

The Blue Tide journeyed to Mt. Vernon Friday and played Brewton-Parker Institute, coming out on the short end of the score of 6-0. The first quarter was played near the middle of the field, neither team being able to make substantial advances. In the second quarter a pass from "Sub" Hines to Middlebrooks carried the ball to the ten-yard line. The Profs failed to show a scoring punch and lost the ball on downs. Near the beginning of the third period B.-P. I. punted to T. C.'s ten-yard marker. The Teachers fumbled on the first play. The Barons re-

Y. M. C. A.

The first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held Wednesday evening, October 3rd. The program was short and consisted largely of an explanation of what the Y. M. C. A. plans to do this year.

Plans are being made to start furnishing the "Y" rooms at an early date. The association is subscribing for magazines and papers and will buy books of interest to its members. The plan is to have a room where boys can find inspirational and religious literature and be comfortable while reading.

covered and after four plays scored the only touchdown of the game. They failed to convert for the extra point. The ball remained in possession of the Teachers almost all of the final quarter. They flooded the air with passes, but were unable to complete any for a score. The award for the outstanding performance of the day goes to Fulford, the Teachers' fullback. Benson was the main cog in B.-P. I.'s offense. As neither team could make large gains through the other's line, there were few first downs registered.

TRAINING SCHOOL

The enrollment in the Training School has gone beyond one hundred. There are twenty-five more children enrolled at this time than at the same time last year. The ninth grade has been added, making it possible for a complete junior high school unit.

Miss Nell Bracey is the new critic teacher for first and second grades. Miss Bracey was critic teacher at G. S. C. W., Valdosta, for three years. Miss Marion Groover is supervisor of fifth and sixth grades. She has had a very wide experience in the public schools of Georgia having taught in many types of schools, from the one-teacher rural school to the large city system.

The student teachers this year have been selected with greater care than ever before. More and more the department of teacher training must be strengthened in order to be able to meet the problems in the preparation of teachers for the public schools. The teacher training program of Georgia has only scratched the surface in its efforts to prepare teachers. Two years of college work with one term spent in the Training School are very inadequate requirements. The educational progress of this state will make little advancement until there are higher standards set for scholarship and professional training of elementary teachers. It is quite a delight to the supervising teachers of the Training School that three of the seniors of this year's class are preparing to be primary teachers. May the time speedily come when the majority of our student teachers will be seniors, or rather they will be students who are
