GREETINGS FROM COLLEGE FACULTY

DEAN HENDERSON VOICES WELCOME OF INSTRUCTORS

The upperclassmen and faculty members welcome the Freshmen of 1935-36 to our college family. Students who have been here before have learned to love T. C. and are anxious to return for another year's work. During the vacation, many of these students have talked and written of the good time they had last year, and have looked forward with pleasure to the time when they would return to the campus to renew old friendships and to make new ones among the freshmen. The officers of the student organizations have helped in planning the program for Freshmen Week with the idea of helpfulness always in mind. They want to help you make adjustments to college life. The faculty members are interested in you, and it is their desire to be influential in solving the problems facing you in a new educational situation. Many of the members of the faculty attended school during the summer, and they have not forgotten what it means to be a student. They will welcome opportunities to talk with you about your problems and aspirations. It is our sincere desire to help you make your first year in college one of great physical and mental improvement.

Z. S. HENDERSON, Dean.

WPA PROJECTS TO COMMENCE SOON

Four WPA projects on the campus will receive attention in the near future. Enlargement of the dining hall to accommodate more boarding students is the most pressing need at present with the exception of the building of the new athletic field and stadium.

Other work to be done is the erection of a health cottage, which will serve as an office for the school nurse and doctor as well as an infirmary. Several rooms to be used as practice rooms for the band, orchestra and chorus will be made by extending the auditorium, making a second floor over the heating plant.

Crowded conditions in the dining hall during the last regular session and summer school drew the attention of the administration to the fact that the enlargement of this building must precede any future growth of the college.

LITTLE MINCEY CONTEST WINNER

Eloise Mincey, of last year's freshman class, was recently declared the winner of the American Legion statewide beauty contest. Little'un, as she is called on the campus, won the town contest in Saylvania and then scored a walk-away in the state contest held at Millen.

PRES. M. S. PITTMAN GREET'S FRESHMEN

CITES OPPORTUNITIES AND PRIVILEGES AT T. C.

It is always a pleasure to greet and to welcome young men and young women who enter college. It is a pleasure because of the large significance of the event. Back of the event lies the effort, sacrifice, vision and aspiration of devoted parents and friends, as well as the hope, purpose and ambition of the student himself.

It is an interesting and meaningful occasion not only for what lies back of it, but also because of what lies ahead — many new friends, years of rapidly expanding mental, social, aesthetic and emotional life. Those young people who enter a teachers college have a double privilege—the privilege of bringing into full fruition their own rich potentialities and the privilege of equipping themselves for efficient social service to others.

From such an inspiring background and into such a joyous opportunity, it is my happy privilege to welcome you. It is my hope that you will use your best energies and help us to use our sincerest efforts in realizing your fondest hopes.

MARVIN S. PITTMAN, Pres.

FACULTY BOASTS SIX NEW MEMBERS

Six new names adorn the list of faculty members as the fall term opens. Among the additions to the faculty are three Doctors of Philosophy.

Dr. H. H. London comes to T. C. as chairman of the division of arts. Dr. London, who is a Texan, has a Ph. D. from the University of Ohio.

Dr. Thomas Bradley Stroupe, who replaces Mrs. Buttrill as professor of English, won his doctor's degree at the University of North Carolina and comes to Teachers College from the University of Florida.

In the science department, Dr. Blondel Carleton, of Portland Oregon, holding a Ph. D. from the University of Rochester, will be in charge of classes in physical science.

Miss Lillian Cumbee, registered nurse, fills a long standing need at the college as school nurse and is a welcome addition to the faculty.

"Aunt Sophie" Johnson, who graduated in the spring, will remain in her last year's capacity as dean of men, and besides those duties will teach classes in freshman English.

Mrs. Genario Honeycutt Bowen, known variously as "Honey" and as "The Play Lady," will assist Miss Lane in the physical education department. Mrs. Bowen's title is that of teaching fellow.

All Statesboro churches welcome the students and urge them to attend church just as they did at home.

Regents Approve New Dormitory

Arrangements for a new $85,000 dormitory were recently made by the Board of Regents of the University System. The federal government is to finance the project and as soon as the minor details, which are always somewhat complicated in matters of this kind, have been attended to, work on the building will begin.

The new dormitory, which will be the first residence hall in the entire system, will be located on the east side of the front drive, north of East Hall and will carry out the proposal to locate all buildings in a U-shape, with the present Administration Building as the center. It will accommodate one hundred and sixty men students and will have three excellent faculty apartments as well as a large social room.

Although this addition to the physical plant has been expected for some time, this is the first definite information that has been available. This is only one of the many instances which indicate that S. G. T. C. is coming within the range of the interest and attention of the Board of Regents and of the entire state.

Edited by GEORGE DONALDSON

PURPOSE

Realizing the vast gap between high school and college, the administration and the staff of the George-Anne are endeavoring to bridge the chasm for the Freshman Class of '35 with a special edition of our college paper, which will in part take the place of the handbook, which has been discontinued. It is the hope of all connected with this edition that it will be of value in the week of orientation.

Having once been Freshmen ourselves, we are cognizant of the feeling of utter uselessness which assails the bewildered stranger on his entrance into an environment so wholly different from which he came. It is the purpose of Freshman Week to eliminate as much of this feeling of bewilderment as it possible from the new students that come to us each year. As this paper is a part of orientation week, we hope it may do its part.

Freshman Week! A period fraught with heartaches and happy experiences.

GREEN INVASION

Our heartiest greetings to the Class of '39. May it continue the better customs of preceding classes and introduce new ideas of its own. May it soon come to realize that college life is a great life—but not without its difficulties. May its spirit be harmonious in meeting group situations. And may it, after four years, present to the teaching profession in Georgia the finest class of men and women ever awarded degrees at this institution.

MORE DREAMS

New dormitory, athletic field and stadium, health cottage, more apartments, our own water plant, an eleven-grade training school, president's home on campus, a new arts building, a school laundry, and many others. Today they are dreams—impossibilities. Tomorrow? We can only hope and work.

We are like the man who, when told that Governor Talmadge was going to move Stone Mountain, asked, "Where is he going to have it placed?" We have faith in T. C.'s dreams. We believe that they will be accomplishments.

OFF TO A GOOD START

When Polonius, wise old Shakespearean character, bid farewell to his son, Laertes, who was about to leave him, he spoke with such wisdom and tender understanding of what Laertes was about to face that his percepts have become immortal advice. We are printing what Polonius had to say on that occasion in the hope that members of the Freshman Class, for whom this edition of the George-Anne is published exclusively, will read to advantage.

"Yet, here, Laertes! Aboard, aboard, for shame! The wind sits in the shoulder of your sail And you are stay'd for. There, my blessing with thee! And these few percepts in thy memory See thou character. Give thy thoughts no tongue, Nor any unproportion'd thought his act. Be thou familiar, but by no means vulgar. Those friends thou hast, and their adoption tried, Grapple them to thy soul with hoops of steel; But do not dull the palm with entertainment of each new-hatched, unfledged comrade. Beware Of entrance into a quarrel, but being in, Bear't that the opposed may beware of thee. Give every man thy ear, but few thy voice; Take each man's censure, but reserve thy judgment. Costly thy habits as thy purse can buy, But not express'd in fancy; rich, not gaudy; For the apparel oft proclaims the man. . . . Neither a borrower nor a lender be; For loan oft loses both itself and friend, And borrowing dulls the edge of husbandry. This above all: to thine own self be true, And it must follow, as the night the day, Thou canst not then be false to any man. Farewell: My blessing season this in thee!"

DREAMS COME TRUE

Only dreams a year ago—actualities today: New roof on Administration Buildings, walls replastered, Library enlarged, Science Hall rearranged, new hot water plant, Business Office remodeled, campus enclosed, barns moved, classrooms added, first and second floors of West Hall repaired, new front entrance gates, students given share in government, Honors' Day inaugurated, placement bureau organized, Three new Phd's.—and so ad infinitum, improvements in the physical plant, enrichment of curricular activities, new uses of leisure time, and additions to the faculty have been so numerous as to defy a complete list, only a few representative accomplishments of the past year having been listed above.

Dreams, Dreamers, Workers—these three make up a combination that can't be beaten because it won't be beaten. T. C. is going places!

Now is the time for all good Freshmen to buy, buy, buy. During the next few weeks special prices will be offered on chapel seats, dining hall passes, valet service and personal maids. Everyone is expected to contribute to a fund being raised to buy a new canopy for the sun dial.

ALMA MATER

Down among the murmuring pine trees,
Where ole nature smiles,
Old T. C. holds up a standard
Known for miles and miles.

Chorus:

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward,
Ne'er her standard fail.
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail, T. C. All hail!

From the blue and broad Atlantic
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting for old T. C.'s spirit,
May she ever grow.

ON FORMING HABITS

Such a vast amount of information, or knowledge as to where that information may be obtained, is now necessary before an individual can truthfully call himself educated, that to rely entirely upon classroom discussion is not altogether wise. Classroom discussions might well be supposed to prepare a student to educate himself as well as to aid in the process during actual recitation. It is an item of profound importance, therefore, that those who are beginning their work in the realm of higher education know how to secure the best results.

The only persons in the present Freshman Class who become educated will be those who help themselves. Any knowledge that will be worth anything will come only as a by-product of personal endeavor and industry.

It is with this in mind, then, that we venture to name a few of the habits found most effective in gaining and maintaining a progressive education by present dry leaders in thought.

A daily newspaper is important for reasons which are palpable. With events of national and international significance occurring at as fast a clip as they are today, the negligent newspaper reader is behind the times. There is advantage in such reading.

The better periodicals supply a great deal of literature and articles of historical significance, as well as an insight into how the other half lives.

There are but a few books out of thousands that fail to offer anything worthwhile to the reader. One can hardly go wrong, therefore, by reading a book. There are some books, of course, which everyone is naturally expected to have read. Reading books is a pastime which pays dividends in the end.

Careful people usually leave a period in their daily routine for physical recreation. This, they say, keeps them feeling fit. That is providing, of course, that their other habits are clean and healthful, such as proper sleeping hours and so on.

THEY'RE ALL ALIKE!

(By ELOISE GRAHAM)

As I sit here, a sophisticated senior, my thoughts wander back to the freshmen of the past three years, and to me there's something almost uncanny about the way they all run true to form. The same individuals are present and the same dumb breaks are made by each class. There's always at least a dozen boys (this is a purely maculine failing) who are gullible enough to fall victim to a suave upper-classman who has chapel seats or bath tickets to sell. Don't they ever read about such things before they come to college?

'Tis strange to me how a former high school senior, who lorded it over all not even a year ago, can, by the mere process of matriculating in one of our institutions of higher learning, be immediately transformed into something that closely resembles one of the notorious Kallikak family. All common sense departs, leaving only a brain (?) peculiarly susceptible to the wiles of unscrupulous upperclassmen.

To prove that the above statements are not altogether unfounded, I shall cite a few instances of freshmen actions I have noticed in the past.

One young hopeful, just because someone told him to, went to the library and asked to check out the card catalog! Another very meekly bought all the furniture in his room from an obliging stranger. There have been several, who hearing about the excellent benchology course offered here tried to obtain books from old students. One especially dumb drick that keeps the dean's secretary tearing his hair is pulled by the coy freshmen who, after registering and paying fees, calmly decide to change their schedules, and do so by the simple process of erasing and revising.

These are just a few of the many mistakes made and I hope that by calling attention to these that forewarned may mean forearmed. But knowing the species I wonder if this is expecting too much!

There's at Least One in Every Freshman Class

The girl who won a beauty contest back home.

The boy who was a four-letter man in high school and who knows he's going to be a big help to Coach.

An honor graduate who is just too eager to get right down to work and really amount to something.

The person who is confident of becoming the greatest social light on the campus just because he rated right well at home.

A guy who knows he won't fall for any of the old gags usually pulled on freshmen.

A girl with half a dozen evening dresses who asks everyone if these will be enough till Christmas.

A local big shot who is just to sophisticated for words.

At least one member of the class who's never been away from home before.

At least one like whom there never has been another.

T. C. STUDENTS FIND POSITIONS

Demand for South Georgia Teachers College-trained teachers exceeded the supply as schools in this vicinity elected their faculties for the coming year. All graduates of the class of 1935 who planned to go into the teaching profession had secured positions by the 15th of September, and requests for recommendations are still pouring into the newly established bureau.

Especially in demand are men teachers of mathematics, science, history, and physical education. For this reason the college has made available forty-five physical education scholarships, although not begun with the intention of fostering "tramp athletes," will insure an excellent varsity team in the major sports as well as sending out from this institution men well trained in all branches of physical education.

Musicians Aided By Scholarships

The best band and orchestra in the history of the college is promised for the year '35-'36 by the new policy of giving scholarships to trained musicians. Mr. Deal, after a summer of work at the National Music Camp at Interlachen, Mich., has been made a regular faculty member, bids fair to give the T. C. a band and orchestra which will compare favorably with those of any college. Mr. Deal states that the symphony orchestra and the band will number around 40 members apiece, while the dance orchestra will be comprised of about 16 pieces.

Several new instruments have been purchased by the college and with those bought last year come very near supplying all musicians with college-owned instruments. This policy gives the same opportunity to poor students who are interested in music as that given to those who own their own.

Visitors are given a cordial welcome on the campus of the South Georgia Teachers College.

Frosh Commission To Be Continued

That the Freshman Commission will be continued throughout the year was assured by an interview with Dr. Pittman.

The Freshman Commission is a body of eighteen members selected on the basis of their standing and their apparent ability to lead. The choice is made by the student council, with the aid of the dean, after a careful study of the tests given each freshman at the beginning of the school year.

The primary purpose of the organization is to establish an honor system throughout the student body. For a more definite aim the commission strives to stimulate the freshman class to act as a unit.

Among the most important functions of the commission are representing the class in campus activities and stimulating school spirit. A more far-reaching and complex purpose is to endeavor to train the members of the commission to be capable leaders and to enable them to influence the college activities in the best way.

The commission has certain duties to perform and each commissioner is called upon to affect them. These duties include: Collecting class dues, sponsoring the class banquet, the chapel programs and other entertainments given by the class.

By talking and coming in close contact with the members of the freshman class, the commission endeavors to find the weak places in

GRADUATES TOUR WESTERN STATES

Shortly after their graduation in June, Misses Evelyn Mathews, Alma Cone, Cecile Brannen and Helen Olliff of Statesboro and Courtney Bradley of Hagan left for an extended vacation sight-seeing tour of the west.

These young ladies traveled some ten thousand miles on their vacation and saw just about everything they ever heard of in the west, including the Grand Canyon, Yellow Stone National Park and numerous other world-famous places.

The young women, fresh from college themselves, derived a great deal of information in visiting other institutions along their way, but came back still favoring T. C.

the organization and correct or modify them.

The first commission was established in the fall term of 1933. The organization was more or less experimental in nature, but it has proved its worth and is warranted to become a permanent institution.

No one smokes on the front steps of the Administration Building. Students refrain at all times from defacing college property.

You Will Be Concerned To Know That—

All changes in schedules must be made the first week of the term. These changes must have the approval of the dean.

One dollar is charged for every class cut before or after a holiday. Credits are held up until this fee is paid.

Unsatisfactory reports for students are posted at mid-term, which indicates whether or not satisfactory work has been done for the beginning of that quarter. If the student is deficient, a letter is sent to his parents.

One dollar fee, payable in advance, is necessary to take re-examination. This examination must be taken during the first six weeks of the following term.

Grades are given in letters as follows: A—Excellent; B—above average; C—Average; D—Below average; E—Condition; F—Failure; X—Incomplete. Only grades of "C" or above carry quality point credit.

Reports are sent to parents or guardians at the end of each term. Such reports are mailed from the office of the Registrar the week following examinations.

Schedule for meals: First bell, 7:00; waiter's bell, 7:15; breakfast served, 7:30. Noon: First bell, 1:00; dinner served, 1:15. Night: First bell, 6:15; supper served, 6:30.

Each student pays a college fee at the beginning of each term. This fee entitles him to lyceum attractions, athletic contests, and other entertainments sponsored by the college.

Chapel attendance is compulsory.

Mail comes in at 9 a. m. and 2:10 p. m. (Sunday 11:45 a. m.) Mail goes out at 7:30 a. m. and 1:45 p. m. (Sunday 10:30 a. m.)

The library is open daily from 8:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. Night, 7:30—9:30. Saturdays, 8:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

All freshmen should know the words and tune of the Alma Mater by September 26th. When students and supporters of the college hear the Alma Mater, they stand; if being sung, they join in the singing.

Ladies pass into the dining hall at meal time before the young men enter.

WORK STARTED ON ATHLETIC STADIUM

Following the completion of negotiations with Federal administrators, work was begun Friday on a new athletic stadium at the Teachers College. Funds granted through the WPA will be supplemented by the college, making the total cost approximately $5,000.

The new stadium will be located just off the college campus north of the Training School. It will be used for intercollegiate contests.

Workers began draining and installation of drain pipes on the site of the future stadium Friday. Completion of the project is expected by early spring, in time for baseball games to be played there.

This new athletic field has been expected here for the past three years. The site was selected two years ago when it was thought that a Federal grant was to be made.

As this field will not be ready for the present football season, bleachers will be erected to take care of spectators at the old bowl, which was practically demolished a short time ago during a storm.

T'CHIN'S

(By GEE DEE)

Welcome to the Freshman Class! As this is written there are only a few of it's members on the campus—those few being football candidates.

*****

Prospects for a good football team looked rather dreary as the two weeks of preliminary training opened, but as the days grew into a week and as new men arrived every day, the outlook became brighter. Today, the team looks good. A profusion of backs, plenty of linemen, with the exception of tackles, makes the team compare well with those of former years.

*****

As has been the case for the last two years, Coach is building his line around the veteran, Earl "Coonie" Riggs. Acclaimed as the best center in the state last year, "The Coon" is in excellent shape and T. C. fans are expecting him to play up to his usual form, which is good enough in any competition.

*****

How they are lined up:

First Team	Position	Second Team
Hartshorn	R. E.	Minus
Plunkett	R. T.	Crouch
Robertson	R. G.	Harrison
Riggs	C	Oliver
McKinney	L. G.	Kinzy
Kesler	L. T.	Ableson
Crow	L. E.	Guy
Baird	Q	Woodard
Heath	H	Raby
Ferrara	H	Foster
Fulford	F	Golden

*****

"Farmer" Fulford did not return for the first few days of practice, which fact worried coach considerably. The Prof full-back reported for practice last Wednesday and is now running in his old position on the first string, and looking pretty good after a summer of hard work.

*****

Other old students who returned are: Bell, Lambright, who has been shifted to an end position; Ableson, who is holding down a tackle berth; Cherry, Woodard, Watson, Crouch, Robertson, Kinzy, Ryals, Thornton, Josey. New men are: Ferrara, Raby, Foster, Crow, Heath, Kesler, Plunkett, McKinney, Hartshorn, Arnold, Strickland, Carroll, Gilbert, Minus, Guy, Harrison, Hill, Adams, Carter.

*****

A bit of humor was inserted into practice last Tuesday when Coach, in giving the team his new signal system, attempted to explain it to them. First he had to explain what a digit is. He got all mixed up. Use a blackboard, Coach.

*****

In our next issue students can look for a short life story of B. L. "Crook" Smith. So very few of us realize the fame that our varsity coach attained while at Mercer—and it is with the purpose of making every one on the campus acquainted with the facts concerning the mighty "Conseulla," as he was called at his Alma Mater, that this story is being carried.

*****

Now for a little lecture: Attention, Freshmen! The Freshman Class at T. C. is expected to turn out 100% for all athletic contests—to give their very best support to their Alma Mater by sitting in the cheering section and MAKING NOISE.

1935 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

October 4 or 5—Abraham Baldwin in Tifton

October 12—Douglas, here.

October 18—Tampa University in Tampa (night game).

November 1—Alabama Teachers, here.

November 9—Appalachian State Teachers at Boone, N. C.

November 16—G. M. C., here.

November 28—Stetson, here.

Four Road Trips On '35 Schedule

Two long road trip are on the program for the Teachers, one of them being to Tampa, Florida, where they meet Tampa in a night game, and the other to Boone, North Carolina, where they will engage the Appalachian State Teachers. Other trips are to Tifton and Cochran.

The '35 season will be opened away from home with the Aggies of Abraham Baldwin in Tifton. This is a new and untried team on the schedule of the Teachers, although they have in the past years met teams coached by Coach Orin Mitchell, of Tifton.

Stetson is Tide's Turkey Day Foe

The Stetson University, of DeLand, Fla., will be the Blue Tide's opponent on the annual Homecoming Day program. The Hatters take the place of Newberry on the schedule. The "Profs" met Stetson last year in DeLand, coming home on the short end of the score.

WRINKLE JOINS COACHING STAFF

Jim Wrinkle, who was graduated in the class of '35, attended the summer session at the University of Wisconsin and has returned as a teaching fellow in the physical education department. For several years Coach Smith has been in need of an assistant, varsity athletics taking up most of his time. Wrinkle will handle classes in freshman physical ed.

Wrinkle turned down several high school positions to return to his Alma Mater, including one later filled by Cy Grant, of University of Georgia football fame.

CHERRY EXTENDS HEARTY WELCOME

STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT
GREET'S ARRIVING STUDENTS WITH GLAD HAND

The upperclassmen welcome you. This week has been planned and dedicated to you. It is for your benefit.

The past of the South Georgia Teachers College is rich with achievements of other freshman classes. But only those who built this past can understandingly share it with appreciation for what it means in devotion, earnestness, and ability. It is to this year and our future years of association to which we welcome you. The future is yours. The upperclassmen with you, the new freshman class, will build it.

In the eyes of the upperclassmen you are a very important part of this student body. The accomplishments of any student body depend on the one word—you have guessed it—co-operation. This is the dividing line between the year which will live in your memory as one of effort and achievement and one which shall prove a burden.

Each year has seen many improvements made. This has been due to new comers. We trust this year will be no exception.

So you are welcome to the past as a basis to lay a sound foundation for your work. You are welcome to the future. It belongs to you. Use it!

Earnestly,

J. D. CHERRY,

President, Student Council, '35.

FOUR STUDENTS JOIN FACULTY

Miss Iris "Pat" Roberts, '35 graduate, will take up duties as a teacher in the primary grades of the training school after a summer course at Columbia University in New York City.

Jim Wrinkle, who was graduated last spring and who studied at the University of Wisconsin during the summer, assumes the position of instructor in freshman physical education classes. Mr. Wrinkle will also assist Coach Smith with the various varsity teams.

Bill Stewart and J. D. Cherry, both regular students, will do work in the Training School. Stewart's position was made possible by a scholarship from the Rosenwald Fund, while Cherry is with the college.

EDITOR WRITES FOR JOURNAL

J. D. Purvis, editor of the George-Anne for this year, had two articles accepted by the magazine section of the Atlanta Journal during the summer. Both of the articles concerned the school, one being entitled "Leisure Taught at College," and the other based on work done by the class in family sociology was called "Holding Hands at Five Points." The name of the college was mentioned in both articles and much valuable publicity was received from both.

CAN YOU WRITE?

Attention of freshmen journalists who want to try for a place on the staff of the George-Anne is called to vacancies now existent. At least two of these may be filled by freshmen.

For a trial simply call by the George-Anne office for an assignment or write a story on your impression of T. C. during your first week here and present it to the editor.

Previous experience is not absolutely necessary. This offer is for both boys and girls.

It is said that every poor Bedouin of the Egyptian desert has a right to share the meal of his more fortunate tribesmen. Evidently that share-the-wealth idea is old stuff.
