THE NEWS.

Editorial.

Uncle Sam has $500,000,000 in gold in his Treasury—enough to give several of us a farm without any Oklahoma lottery.

Lady Henry Somerset takes the right view of the situation. She has collected a number of beautiful girls in the cause, and they will deliver lectures all over England.

The Chicago ordinance for municipal supervision and encouragement of athletics has passed the council. The ordinance makes it the duty of a committee "to encourage the physical development of our people, and to educate them to a knowledge of the fact that indulgence in athletic exercises and sports will greatly benefit the physical and moral health of those who engage in such exercises."

Lord Selborne, outlining in the British House of Lords the plans of the Government for improving the navy, said that it was proposed to establish a school of naval strategy, such as existed in the United States. Lord Dunsley, Parliamentary Secretary to the Board of Trade, said it was clear that Great Britain would have to look elsewhere than for her mercantile marine for naval reserves, adding that the number of British seamen were now 2000 fewer than it was thirty years ago.

And so appendicitis is "catching," according to a story from Boston. It is not carried around by mosquitoes or flies or flies, but is transmitted by "auto-suggestion." Several weeks ago a young woman was operated on for appendicitis. Her dance was constantly at her side during her illness, and suffered almost as much as she did with very similar pains. Finally the young man was obliged to call a physician, who diagnosed his case as appendicitis, and said he had "caught" it by "auto-suggestion" from his sweetheart.

"The improvement in weapons does not render the prosecution of war more difficult, as is contended in some quarters," declared Sir William MacCormac, President of the Royal College of Surgeons, in a paper read before the British Medical Association. The character of gunshot wounds has completely changed since his experience in the Franco-Prussian war (when he was surgeon-in-chief to the Anglo-American ambulance). Not only has the severity of the wounds been diminished, but they are less frequent. Only six per cent. of the wounded die.

Professor Marshall, the English economist, estimates that $500,000,000 is spent annually by the British working classes for things that do nothing to make their lives more or truly happier. At the last meeting of the British Association, the President, in an address to the economic section, expressed his belief that the simple life of food waste alone would justify the above-mentioned estimate. One point came of waste, to-day, to wit: that very many of the women, having been practically brought up in factories, do not know how to buy economically, and are neither possible cooks nor good housekeepers. It has been estimated that, in the United States, the waste from food cooking alone is over $1,000,000,000 a year!

The schemes for cheap living may become interesting to a greatly increased number of families if the reports as to the scarcity of vegetables shall prove to be well founded. Indeed, it is a fact that the price of potatoes has gone up in most Northern markets, and there are solemn predictions of an almost complete failure of the crop. How far the capacity of dealers is responsible for this advance in the price of potatoes has not been ascertained, but it is the part of wisdom for the people to be on their guard. President Roosevelt has appointed Colonel Bell to succeed General Ludlow. Colonel Roosevelt has appointed Colonel James M. Bell, Rhode Island, and president of the military board of review, to be a brigadier general, vice Brigadier General Ludlow, deceased. General Bell will retire about October 1, thus leaving a vacancy for another appointment.

ROOSEVELT ASSUMES DUTIES

New President Takes Formal Charge of Affairs of Government—Cabinet Meeting Held.

A Washington special says: After a suspension of three days as a mark of respect to the dead president, the business of the government at Washington was resumed Friday. The train leaving Buffalo for the Pennsylvania station at 9:20 o'clock a. m., and fifteen minutes later the president entered the white house, and, going at once to the cabinet room, where President McKinley was wont to do the greater part of his work. When the new chief executive reached the white house, he walked briskly to the big front door which swung wide open. He spoke pleasantly as he passed to the watchmen and other employees of the mansion, and reached his office, where he was met by the chief of staff, General Wood, who did not go to Canton to take part in the funeral ceremonies.

The president's former secretary, Mr. Lusk, Jr., will remain probably as assistant secretary. Mr. Cortelyou, at the president's earnest request, will retain his position as his secretary. At 10 o'clock, all of the members of the cabinet had arrived at the white house and soon were seated around the familiar table. President Roosevelt occupied a seat at its head and in the center of the group, as President McKinley.

Nearly all of the members of the present cabinet are quite sure to remain under Mr. Roosevelt's term, but it is very probable that Secretary Long will retire within the next few months. He feels that he can resign without embarrassment to Mr. Roosevelt, and therefore he has decided to do so. In the next few months he will ask the president to permit him to retire to private life.

The cabinet was in session about an hour and a half, all of the time being spent in a general review of the more important questions which will require the attention of the new president. All of the members were present except Attorney General Knox, who stopped for a few days in Pittsburgh. Each member explained to the president the policy which had been followed in dealing with matters of importance, and the present status of the government.

LOST BABY DIES OF FRIGHT.

Deep in a Swamp Body of Little One Found by Searchers.

The bodies of a four-year-old son of Andrew Craigmiles, of Menominee, Wis., was found in a swamp three miles from the city where he had wandered and perished from exposure, fatigue and fright. He went into the woods on Tuesday afternoon with two other boys, and when night came he could not be found. Many searching parties were organized, but no track of the little one was discovered until early Friday morning. Deep in the swamp the body was found. His heart-stained face and bruised body showed signs of great suffering from fright and pain.

ALABAMA NEGROES AROUSED.

Strong Effort Will Be Made to Prevent Ratification of Constitution.

A negro of Jefferson county, Alabama, John R. Hines, held a meeting in Birmingham Thursday and perfected an organization to resist the ratification of the new constitution on November 11th. This meeting was anticipated by the state convention of negroes to be held here on September 25th, for the purpose of organizing a state opposition to ratification.

So far as heard from, the movement has failed to become general, and the white republicans have not lost their aid or assistance to the negro cause.

GEN. WOOD IN WASHINGTON.

Head of Affairs in Cuba Holds Long Conference With President Roosevelt.

After the cabinet meeting in Washington the president, Secretary Root and General Wood, held a long conference at the white house. The discussion related to Cuban affairs, more particularly to the new electoral law adopted by the Cuban constitutional convention. General Wood had a copy of the law and its provisions were considered carefully, especially certain features which General Wood considers unsatisfactory.

HIS FIRST OFFICIAL ACT.

President Roosevelt Appoints Colonel Bell to Succeed General Ludlow.

President Roosevelt has appointed Colonel James M. Bell, Rhode Island, and president of the military board of review, to be a brigadier general, vice Brigadier General Ludlow, deceased. General Bell will retire about October 1, thus leaving a vacancy for another appointment.

COURT RECONVENES

Schley's Counsel Gains Important Point at the Outset.

FACTS, NOT OPINIONS, WANTED

Ramsay, Successor to Howison, Proves Satisfactory to Admiral Schley. Higginson Put Up As the First Witness.

The Schley court of inquiry reconvened at Washington Friday and before adjournment examined four witnesses. The most important incident of the day was the decision of the court withdrawing a question put by the court itself, asking a witness to give his opinion concerning a point in controversy.

The witness was Rear Admiral Higginson, who participated in the battleship campaign as captain of the battleship Massachusetts. This vessel at one time was a part of the fleet flying under the command of Admiral Schley, and the court asked him to state whether all possible measures were taken to capture or destroy the Spanish frigate, Cristobal Colon, as it lay in Santiago harbor from May 29 to June 1, 1898.

Counsel for Admiral Schley objected to the question on the ground that it was a question of opinion, and not a statement of fact. Judge Advocate Lemly admitted that the precedents were against the questions of this character, and the court withdrew the inquiry.

It is generally admitted that this decision will have the effect of materializing the term of the court, as it will also the court's manifest intention to cut out irrelevant questions and all hearsay testimony. In several cases the witnesses were admonished to relate only events coming within their own observation. Admiral Schley showed himself a prompt and methodical presiding officer. He called the court to order exactly at the designated hour and adjourned it just as promptly at 4 o'clock. The attendance of the public was small.

The court was called to order by a simple word of Admiral Dewey. The first order of business was the reading by Judge Advocate Lemly of the order of the navy department appointing Rear Admiral Ramsay to a place on the court in place of Rear Admiral Howison, and when this was accomplished, Captain Lemly turned to Admiral Schley and asked him whether he had objection to urge against any member of the court. The admiral arose as this question was asked and replied, "I have not."

The cry will soon be: the wood's out.

McKinley was a good man after all.

Clark Howell is now one of the chief owners of the Constitution.

Savannah will separate the races on the street cars. Correct!

The sheriff is busy these days getting things in shape for court.

The governorship racket has been lost in the excitement. Do they know where they are at?

The bears failed to bring a panic when the president was killed, but, no doubt they did their best.

The cool weather quickens the pulse and infuses new life into the citizen.

Send us happenings of your neighborhood. Marriages, dates, and the names of those who come and go.

Statesboro and Bulloch now have a first-class academy. The boys and girls can get their education at home.

Tom Crenshaw persists in writing letters. Just wait till next year, Tommy, and then you can see "Teddy about it."

The North has the anarchists. She is welcome to them, and with the anarchists and Filipinos on hand they can let the South alone.

It is to be hoped that Buffalo will attend to Czolgosz in short order. A man with such a name ought to be killed on general principles anyway.

The past is strewn with wrecks where good farmers tried to be saw mill and turpentine men. Remember, that, after all, farming is the safest business we have. Keep out of things you don't understand.

In a government like ours the destiny of the people does not rest in the hands of one man. Each man is only one of the units that go to make this great government. McKinley was only one man, and though the head of the greatest government on earth, his passing away did not create a ripple on the body politic. The sovereign power rests with all the people and when the majority speak the whole man acquiesces, and yield obedience and authority. However much we may divide at times, yet in the hour of national peril or in national sorrow we are all one people, with one hope and one destiny.

All kinds of canned soups 10 cents can of 3 cans for 25 cents. Southside Grocery.

Barroom Talk.

The talk is now bar-room or no bar-room. The matter is discussed daily, but no one seems to know for certain, that the bar will be opened. The license is high, about $5,000.00, and the parties who take stock in it, will have to put up the cash, before they can do business. It appears that none of the merchants want the establishment next to their places of business, and there is a good deal of kicking from various quarters.

There are all kinds of rumors in circulation, some say "it's a sure thing", while others say "it's a fake gotten up to scare the preachers and church people". But just enough caucusing has been going on to give color to the reports. It reported that part of the stock is to be taken by a Savannah whisky firm, and that a Savannah man is to conduct the barroom, the presence of quite a sprinkling of the barroom advocates in Savannah on Wednesday gave additional credence to the rumors.

Among those who are advocating the saloon are some of our largest merchants, they claim that the barroom will attract trade, while this may be true, yet a very large majority of the people of the town look upon the opening of the rum shop as a very bad thing, and that it will meet with the most bitter opposition goes without saying, it will divide this town into factions that will last for years to come. Yes, it would be an unfortunate visitor, and the worst thing that could possibly happen to this town. (3) slow, gentlemen, go slow.

Rev. M. P. Matheny, of Charlotte, N. C. preached an impressive sermon at the old academy last Tuesday evening. Mr. Matheny has been in attendance upon the Missionary Mass Meeting at Poplar Spring church and came by Statesboro on his way home.
