GOOD AVERAGES IN FRESHMAN TESTS

This Year's Class Out-Scores Others in Five Tests—Boys Rank High.

Results of the Freshman tests which were announced here during the past week prove that this year's class is above the average. The tests given were psychology, science, mathematics, history and English. In the five tests given, the girls of the Freshman class hold more first places but in the total number of places the boys out-rank the girls.

The results of the psychological test were: First, D. B. Franklin, of Statesboro, with a score of 252; second, John Swint, of Gibson, 251, and third, Malcolm Mann, of Statesboro, with 250.

David Proctor, of Woodbine, came highest in the science test with a score of 66; second, Ralph Kemp, Statesboro, 60; third, Minnie Chance, Oglethorpe, 59.

Lucy Bunce, Statesboro, was first in the mathematics test with a score of 53; D. B. Franklin, Statesboro, 51, was second; third, Oliver Fussell, Dawson, 49.

In the history test Juanita Thomas, of Scott, came highest with a score of 57; second, Margaret Hayslip, Statesboro, 45; while Robert Brinson, Millen, and Malcolm Mann, Statesboro, tied for third place with a score of 44.

BAND PREPARING FOR STATE TOUR

Thirty Now Enrolled as Group Members—Played at the G. M. C. Game.

The Teachers College band, under the direction of William Deal, has reached a membership of thirty students through the recent addition of a bass horn. Members include twenty-seven boys and three girls.

Plans and preparations are being made for a spring tour of the band throughout the southern section of South Georgia. The tour will include all the cities of a fair population such as Moultrie, Valdosta, Columbus, etc.

At the G. M. C. game the band performed some demonstrations for the benefit of the G. M. C. band and for the benefit of the general public.

The band is still shy of a drum major and is looking for a bass drum player who has some knowledge of music.

The band this year, as in years previous, has had a big part in maintaining a fine school spirit.

Band and orchestra rehearsals are held each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

Press Association Members Here for Few Hours Today

A large number of editors of this section are spending a few hours on the Teachers College campus today while in attendance at the First District Press Association in Statesboro.

Included in the group here to listen to the address of Hon. W. T. Anderson, editor of the Macon Telegraph and News, are Congressmen Hugh Peterson, of the First district, and Braswell Dean, of the Eighth district, both editors of weekly newspapers. Among other visitors are citizens of Statesboro and the families of some of the editors.

Following the Anderson address this morning the editors will hold a business meeting in the college auditorium, after which they will be entertained at a luncheon in Statesboro given in their honor by the Statesboro Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Anderson's visit is one of a series being paid the Teachers College by prominent journalists of the state. W. G. Sutlive, of the Savannah Evening Press, and H. T. McIntosh, of the Albany Herald, have taken part on previous programs.

MEXICAN PEOPLE STUDIED BY AAUW

Discussion Led by Miss Caro Lane at Last Meeting—Plans Made for Future.

The racial background of Mexico was the subject for discussion by the American Association of University Women at the meeting in the Yellow Cottage Tuesday evening.

Before entering into the program for the evening the organization heard a brief history of the A. A. U. W. given by Mrs. Brit Buttrill, followed by the reading of excerpts by Miss Eleanor Ray.

Mrs. C. W. Smith was in charge of the program, which included a discussion led by Miss Caro Lane. Miss Lane, having recently returned from a visit in Mexico, was able to share many personal experiences in leading the discussion.

Future plans for the association include a study of the social, political and racial problems of neighboring countries; likewise a study of the music, art and literature of those countries. Later the group will study other countries which are not neighbors to the United States.

At the Tuesday meeting several new members were welcomed to the association. Miss Hester Newton, history teacher and president of the A. A. U. W., presided at the meeting.

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS PROGRAM FOR BIG HOMECOMING CELEBRATION

MAKES ADDRESS

EDITOR W. T. ANDERSON, of The Macon Telegraph and News, who is a visitor here today.

FIVE GROUPS MAP DAY'S ACTIVITIES

Freshman-Sophomore Rush to Be Held in Forenoon; Luncheon for Alumni.

Beginning with the Freshman-Sophomore rush Thanksgiving morning, the Teachers College 1935 Homecoming is to be a day of much activity and entertainment for students and alumni.

The Student Council, assisted by five campus organizations, are official sponsors of the day. Co-operating with the council in mapping out the activities and assuming the responsibility for certain of these are the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations, the Oglethorpe and Stephens Literary Societies and the Woman's Athletic Association.

Following past custom there will be no classes on Thanksgiving Day. There will be a cost for each class cut before and after the holiday, unless arrangements have been made with Dean Henderson before the cuts are taken.

A great day is in prospect for the students, alumni and friends of the institution. In the forenoon there

T. C. INSTRUCTORS ON STATE BOARD

Destler, Hanner, Perry and Trussell Named to Serve For Teachers College.

Four members of the South Georgia Teachers College faculty have been placed on the State Board of Examiners for survey courses this year.

These include the following: Dr. C. M. Destler, social science division; Miss Viola Perry, mathematics division; W. S. Hanner, physical science division, and Miss Malvina Trussell serving on the biological science division.

It is deemed quite an honor to hold a position as a member of one of the examining committees.

Second only to the University of Georgia, along with Georgia State College for Women, South Georgia Teachers College has the largest number of committeemen of any college in the University System.

The general policy that is to be followed henceforth with reference to membership on these examining committees is that, roughly speaking, half of the members will serve for two years; the other half will be new appointees so that every teacher offering the survey courses will eventually serve on their respective examining committee.

FRESHMAN CLASS PREFERS READING

W. A. A. Survey Shows Athletics Are Not First Choice In Recreation.

A majority of this year's Freshman class prefers reading rather than playing football or basketball. At least, that's what the Woman's Athletic Association found out when they made a survey of what Freshmen preferred in the way of recreation. The basis of the survey was the personal charts filled out at the first of school.

Reading came first with 115 votes, and was followed closely by swimming with 110 votes. The radio and the movies were next with 105 and 101 votes respectively.

Football and basketball were at the foot of the list with one vote each. Can it be that the Freshmen are a bunch of hothouse blossoms?

The activities listed according to popularity follow: Reading, swimming, radio, movies, dancing, hiking, fishing, camping, music, tennis, boating, motoring, horseback riding, skating, hunting, cards, photography, golf, baseball, sewing, knitting, archery, basketball and football.

A hearty welcome to the editors of the First district!

And another to the Alumni who soon will leave their duties in all sections of the state to pay us a Homecoming visit.

The occasion of each of these visits is a distinct honor to this institution. Individuals of either group are always welcome, but it is an added pleasure to be host to all at the same time.

Announcement has been made by a Constitution Revision committee of the Georgia Education Association that changes in the Constitution of that body will be considered in April, 1936. The proposed changes deal mainly with the representative assembly (designed to make it "impossible for any one system to have a dominating influence in the control of the association") and the number of officers. Complete information concerning this matter may be obtained from the November Georgia Education Journal.

TO THE ALUMNI

Greetings, Alumni of the South Georgia Teachers College.

This issue of the student publication comes to you as an invitation to return to the scene of your college days to meet old friends and re-live many of the happy experiences which were yours as students.

Thanksgiving Day, following the custom of other years, is to be Homecoming Day. Elaborate plans are being made to entertain more former students on that date than have attended any previous Homecoming. There is every indication that the number of visitors will surpass any record of former years.

It is our sincere hope that every former student will make a genuine effort to be here at that time. The faculty and student body extend a warm welcome back to the campus. It is hoped that all may be back for the occasion.

The success in keeping our real T. C. spirit alive and vital depends very largely upon the interest shown by graduates in their Alma Mater. We wish for the Alumni Association the very greatest of achievement, and stand willing to lend any possible support to the organization.

Let us make the 1935 Homecoming an event of major importance in the lives of present and former students, and let us have the aid of all the graduates in making for an alumni group which will be powerful in its influence in bettering the school situation of this state.

Come and be with your classmates and friends at the scene of some of your finest experiences. The South Georgia Teachers College welcomes you back.

A VOICE AGAINST WAR

It is doubtful if the voice and the power of the American college press has ever been as concentrated on any one point as it is today on outlawing war. All over the nation the sound is being heard, the unqualified denunciation of war and its methods. For the past several weeks such denunciation has been the number one subject for collegiate editorial comment, according to a count made by the Associated Collegiate Press. Not only the college editors, but every student who attends certain conferences either takes part in, or listens to, an organized cry against wholesale slaughter.

For the past two years in the Georgia state Christian association meetings, representatives of a dozen state schools have heard or have had voices in heated discussions against war. On one occasion it took a great deal of persuasion on the part of so-called conservatives to talk one of the groups into withholding a resolution they had passed from the press. The students of many other states sound less conservative. For example:

"The students of today," states the Millsaps publication, "are fortified with indisputable evidence of the dirty, shameful tactics used in plunging the United States into the last war. They are fully aware of the sinister forces working for war today . . . they see war . . . stripped of the silly romance and glory, a damnable bloody debacle where young men's guts are ripped to shreds and their quivering brains scattered abroad—to fill the purses of Wall Street tycoons and to furnish headlines for the scandal-mongering, sensation-crazed news sheets of William Randolph Hearst."

The Columbia Spectator believes that the American anti-war movement was never stronger than it is today, and adds that the pressure is being felt at Washington.

AS OTHERS TELL US

Gag Legislation

"There is no more important task for national teachers' organizations than to help stem the tide of legislation that is calculated to seal America hermetically against ideas," states the current issue of the Social Frontier in getting off to a running start against loyalty oath legislation, or what it terms, "gag legislation."

It is interesting, if not particularly stimulating, to note that during the past spring loyalty oath laws for teachers were enacted in Arizona, Georgia, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Texas and Vermont, bringing the total to twenty-two states which have passed some form of bill making loyalty pledges or oaths mandatory for teachers. Similar legislation was defeated last spring in Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Evidently commenting on this situation, Robert Quillen said in one of his daily quips: "This is a free country now, and nobody can tell you how to act and what to think, unless you're a school teacher."

The Daily Illini, University of Illinois publication, takes the swell out of the swell-headed editor in the following manner: "The college editor should make a slight distinction between himself and his job. The job is important; he is not. The editorship is as responsible a position, in its potential power to help or harm the university, as the presidency of the university."

"The editor, unless he is a child prodigy, must proceed thoughtfully and with due regard for the errors of his predecessors if he is properly to fulfill that responsibility."

T. C. ON PARADE

They're coming home.

All the old fellows who drained the fish pond; who taught grammar grade children in the basement of the gymnasium; who remember the Ad building as a flat top structure, and the dormitories as two-storied rooming houses; who saw the Blue and White vanquish its foe or go down in humble defeat—all these will be back Thanksgiving.

With their return will come memories of other years. They will recall the Teachers' first home-coming back in 1932. In November of that year a small number of old grads, parents of students and friends of the college gathered to take part in the first of these annual celebrations.

Upon their return the old fellows saw many new things. There was the new rock drive being made to the campus, there was the new gymnasium, the new swimming pool, the lakes.

This year the ground will be in shape for the new stadium. Many of the old timers who took part in the first celebration will be back. They'll watch the enlarged Teachers Band parading, they'll watch the Freshman Class in the same loyal trek to town, they'll rub elbows with their friends at the evening banquet, they'll meet a classmate every time they turn around. They'll call by the dean's office for a little chat, they'll go back to the kitchen to greet Segastia. They will, in fact, live their whole college years over in a single day.

Yes, they're coming home.

And even next year it will be different, much different. These old grads will come back—home again—as a part of a well organized alumni group; they will come back again to become a part of the traditional T. C. spirit, in slightly changed physical surroundings. There will be a hospital, another dormitory, cottages, and an enlarged dining hall. There will be an accredited laboratory school including the eleventh grade, there will be an even more extensive exchange teacher training program in effect, increased recognition.

Yes, even different next year—and largely because of the "Old Grads."

DRAMATIC GROUP WILL GIVE PLAYS

Casts Have Been Chosen for Productions in December—
New Members Chosen.

Try-outs for the fall productions of the Dramatic Club were held last Wednesday night and three one-act plays were cast. These plays will be presented at night some time in December.

The cast for "A Night At An Inn," by Lord Duncan, follows:

The Toff—George Carter.

Bill—R. M. Horton.

Albert—Marion Carpenter.

Sniggers—Kenneth England.

Idol—Frank Mulling.

First Priest—Harry Zalumas.

Second Priest—Douglas Durden.

Third Priest—James Deal.

"The Boor," by Ehegghor, has the following characters:

Gregori Stephanor Smirnor—Geo. Donaldson.

Mrs. Porpor—Jamie Hooks.

Luka—James Hussey.

The third play is "A Weakness for Nurses," by Strachan, and the cast for it is as follows:

Miss Harding—Marion Smith.

Mary O'Leary—Thelma Harrison.

Marmaduke Brownleigh—Willard Clanton.

Angelica Brownleigh—Eloise Graham.

Albert Brownleigh—Harry Zalumas.

This year the Dramatic Club intends to produce a number of plays and to give all interested students a chance to try their hand at dramatics.

The following were elected as new members of the club by try-out:

Ruth Pound, Christine Rahn, Thelma Harrison, Ethel Mae Byrd, Carolyn Warnell, Willard Clanton, Benjamin Waller, Florence Daley, Jamie Hooks, Fay Foy.

Provisional members: Bobbie Boykin, Priscilla Prather, Ben Jones, R. M. Horton, Margaret Brasington, Feral Davis, W. A. Prather, Vivie Johnson.

SO CO-EDS ARE SWEET, Eh?

Girls are NOT sweet. A recent survey by the Albany Medical College gave the composition of women as follows:

Sugar, one-fourth pound.

Lime, five pounds.

Enough iron to make a six-penny nail (what no brass?).

Enough gluten to make five pounds of glue (so that's why they're so hard to shake off).

(This is gonna be good.) Enough fat to make ten bars of soap.

Ten gallons of water.

Glycerine enough for the bursting of a heavy navy shell (and that explains lots of things).

Thirty-one pounds of carbon (mere ashes).

Magnesium enough for ten flash-light photos.

To Be Printed on Cream Paper With Brown Ink—Will Use Linoleum Cuts.

The photographic work on the Reflector has been completed and work has begun on the art section of the annual.

The photographs, as announced before, will be printed on cream paper in brown ink in keeping with the theme of the annual—the Georgia Pine.

The art section, which will consist of linoleum cuts of the industries in which the pine tree plays an important part, is under the direction of Miss Cleo Trapnell, art editor, and Miss Mary Small.

The photographs were made by O. M. Sanders of Sanders Studio, Statesboro.

PITTMAN STATES WAR IS BLUNDER

Addressed Savannah Rotary Club at Luncheon Last Week.

"War is a stupid blunder of an unplanned society," declared Dr. Marvin S. Pittman, president of the South Georgia Teachers College, in an address Wednesday before the Rotary Club at its luncheon meeting at the Hotel DeSoto in Savannah. His general theme was "What Good Business Has a Right to Expect of Education Today."

Dr. Pittman distinguished between good business and big business for large profits. He pointed out that merely accumulated money, however much it might be by a few people, is not good business. He maintained that it is good business only when all society shares fairly in the products of the right type of business which in itself is good for society.

Dr. Pittman based his talk on the five following points:

1. That education shall teach effectively the stupidity of war, and shall create constructive attitude and procedures for guaranteeing peace.

2. Education shall teach the wastefulness of crime and shall work for its elimination by creating good citizens and creating public attitude for the effective enforcement of law.

3. Education shall teach an intelligent comprehension of the economic and social problems of this machine age, and develop a civic conscience such that its products may be abundantly available and its benefits may be fairly shared.

4. Education shall teach the citizens of America to earn their livelihood easily, effectively, joyously; that they shall capitalize their increasing leisure time sanely for both the individual and for society.

5. Education has a right to expect of business an intelligent understanding of the contributions that education has made and is making and should make. Good business purely as a matter of good business will pro-

CEREMONIES HELD HONORING HEROES

Armistice Day Celebrated With Martial and Patriotic Program—Bass Speaks.

Armistice Day was celebrated here last Monday with martial and patriotic ceremonies honoring the heroes of the war seventeen years ago.

At three o'clock the college students and townspeople gathered to watch the National Guard and ex-service men, led by the college band, parade to the front campus, where they passed in review. In the reviewing stand were the Gold Star mothers, prominent city officials, and Dr. M. S. Pittman.

After the review the program was carried to the auditorium. The first tribute was the advance of colors which was followed by the invocation and two minutes of silent prayer. Malcolm Mann, member of the Freshman class, rendered a vocal solo, "Flanders Field." Following this se-

RECENT REPORTS SEEM VERY GOOD

Many Former Students Busy in Various Activities; Add to Buildings.

Former students of the Teachers College are making great headway throughout this and other states, according to authentic reports of their activities. Daily newspapers frequently carry stories of school construction, expansion and other improvements where students trained at this institution are in charge. Below is a brief sketch of what a few of them are doing. Authoritative information concerning others will be appreciated by the George-Anne.

Stillmore

A new grammar school with six rooms has recently been completed at Stillmore, in Emanuel county. This gives the Stillmore community a renovated high school building and a new grammar grades building. M. H. Williams is at the Stillmore school.

Newington

A contract was let last week to build a $25,000 brick school building at Newington. At present Misses Lizzie Dell Lovett and Lorene Hatcher are doing exchange teaching at Newington. Misses Helen Godbee and Mattie Cain Wall are regularly employed teachers there. The new building at Newington is to be a 12-room structure with modern conveniences in addition to a large auditorium.

Alston

Oscar Joiner keeps meeting state requirements and adding to his recognition at the Alston school in the Mt. Vernon community. Joiner feels that it will not be long before he has an accredited high school over there.

Other Schools

Many other schools in the state are improving and building. We list a few of them, but do not say that their principals were all trained here.

Hazlehurst has a new gym and basketball shell. The building cost $5,000.

Garfield, in Emanuel county, has a new six-room high school. A $12,000 bond issue was successfully carried in that county for the new structure.

The Henry County High School, in McDonough, is enjoying a renovated building with new equipment and a splendid increase in high school enrollment.

The doors of a new school building were opened to students at Aragon on November 4th.

Sanitary water systems have been installed in the schools of Polk county. These schools are Fish Creek, Benedict, Brewsters, Antioch, and Fite.

Riverdale school in Clayton county has installed a new sanitary water system.

T'CHIN'S

(By GEE DEE)

Welcome, editors! We are glad to have you with us.

The Profs are still batting five hundred, having won two, lost two and played two draws. Since the last issue of the G.-A., the Teachers have played three games, losing to Alabama State Teachers by two points in a game that reminded observers of last year's Homecoming contest with Newberry; winning from Middle Georgia by one touchdown, and holding a highly-touted Appalachian State Teachers outfit to a tie.

The campus and a few of us in particular are anticipating the greatest Homecoming ever. A real game, old students returning, a big feast, and, believe it or not—a dance promise to make this Turkey Day a day we won't soon forget.

The footballers returned from Boone, N. C., one at a time and at hours ranging from six Sunday afternoon into the wee small hours of Monday morning. Again the bus broke down and the team after riding six hundred miles in something that rides like a freight car and playing a hard game were forced to get out and hitch-hike home.

Just a word about one of the most loyal supporters that T. C. has ever known, Mr. C. E. Cody, of Savannah. Mr. Cody has been ill for some time but is steadily improving. Here's hoping he can be with us for Homecoming.

Basketball questions: Will Stewart play? Will Youmans return? Can the Profs beat the Celtics? Will the team hitch-hike to its games? Can Coach arrange games that will really show the merit of his team?

Another term descriptive of Hines—and by a freshman girl: "Holding Jake is like eating Jello with a fork."

Two new men added their names to the list of scorers in the Cochran game when Heath and Grady came through to score touchdowns after "Jake's" boys had bottled up the Teacher scoring threats, Hines and Fulford. These boys are looking good.

Ferarra and Guy were injured in the Appalachian game but will probably be in shape for the Turkey Day riot.

Let us extend on the part of T. C. athletes and lovers of sports, a most cordial invitation to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with us. Unless plans go astray, we can offer you a grand and glorious Homecoming.

We notice that Coach is planning to give the varsity basketball players "T" jackets again this year as he has already booked the Celtics for a game here on January 13th.

TEACHERS WIN ONE LOSE ONE, TIE ONE

BEAT COCHRAN, LOSE TO 'BAMA STATERS AND TIE APPALACHIAN.

Keeping up their 500 average, the Professors have, out of their last three contests, won one, dropped one and played one scoreless tie.

In one of the most thrilling games ever played on their home gridiron, the Teachers went down before a heavier, more experienced Alabama State Teachers College eleven only after sixty minutes of football during which no one was certain of the outcome. The final score was 28-26.

The 'Bama Teachers scored early in the game and were beginning to rest on their laurels, when their Georgia brethren opened up an offensive that couldn't be stopped. Going back to work the Troy gridgers scored another marker in the second quarter to lead by one touchdown at the half.

The Georgia Teachers held the ball in mid-field all during the third stanza, neither team scoring. A hectic final quarter followed, in which the Profs. scored two touchdowns and the Alabama Teachers one. Extra points accounted for the victory.

Middle Georgia College

T. C.'s most ancient rival went down in defeat on its home field before a Blue Tide that couldn't be stopped, scoring two touchdowns on long drives. Heath went over standing up after racing over the weak side of the line for twenty yards. Crowe was successful in his try for extra point from placement.

The second quarter was played in mid-field with no threats of scores. The Profs opened up an offensive in the third quarter which resulted in a score, Grady carrying the ball over the center of the line on a quarterback sneak. Crowe again converted the point after touchdown.

M. G. C. opened up the last quarter with a barrage of passes which carried the ball down the field to cross the goal in the closing minutes of play. On two long drives, Mixon, Cochran back, took the ball from his own thirty-yard stripe to the Teachers' five-yard line. From this point M. G. C. cracked the line for a score. The try for extra point was good.

Riggs at tackle, Crowe at end and Fulford at full were the highlights of the Teachers' defensive while Grady and Heath stepped out in the offensive. Hines was closely watched throughout the game.

Appalachian State Teachers

The T. C. football warriors held the strong Appalachian State Teachers College footballers to a scoreless tie on the Boone, N. C., field. Both teams had several chances to score but did not have the required drive. Defense was the order of the day, little ground being gained through the line. The little gaining that was done was done through the air, even

TEACHERS START COURT PRACTICE

Only Two Members of 1934-35 Varsity Back in School—Twenty Men Report.

Basketball practice began last Tuesday with about twenty men out, only seven of whom were old men. Only Stewart and Hines of last season's first string are back in school and there is some doubt as to whether they will be in uniform when the Teachers take the floor for their first game some time before the Christmas holidays. Several members of the freshman squad bid fair to make places on the varsity, Ryals, Warren and Robertson placing high among those coming up to the varsity. Old varsity men are Stewart, Hines, Purvis and Carter.

A tentative schedule has been made which includes College of Charleston, Middle Georgia, South Georgia State, Mercer, University of Tampa and the Rosenbloom Celtics.

STUDENTS ATTEND YMCA CONFERENCE

Plans Formulated for Ensuing Year—Activities To Be Centered Around World Peace.

At the last state conference held at Emory University, the local Y. M. C. A. was represented by George Carter, Hearn Lumpkin, Bob Espy, W. H. Fields and Mr. Bob Winburn.

At the state meeting plans were formulated for the ensuing year when the "Y" activities are to be centered around the world peace movement.

One of the highlights of the conference was the report given by George Carter on the recently initiated "Buddy Groups," which was put into effect last year by the 1934 president, J. D. Jurvis. Mr. Rohrer, state director of Y. M. C. A. activities, felt that this could be made a most vital factor in bringing about a closer fellowship among "Y" members. In commenting on this Mr. Rohrer said, "It is here that the real work of the 'Y' can be best manifested in its influence on the students in our colleges as well as in the high schools throughout the state."

The next Y. M. C. A. conference is to be held at the University of Georgia on January 5, 1936. It is hoped that an even larger delegation will be able to attend this meeting.

though the ball was too slippery for effective passing. Several pass attempts would, without a doubt, have resulted in scores had it not been for the condition of the field.

Riggs was again the defensive star of the day, assisted by Fulford, who was shifted from his position at full-back to end for this game.

TEACHERS MEET HATTERS THANKSGIVING

Freshmen Class Won Freedom Last Year; Are Defenders November 28th

Freshmen will battle Sophomores in the annual color rush Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 o'clock, and if they win, it means freedom for them. Last year the Freshmen were victorious, but the Sophomores promise a different story this time.

The rush will be under the direction of Bill Stewart, president of the Senior class, and he will be assisted by Dean Henderson and ten junior and senior men who will act as officials.

To make the contest interesting, the Freshmen will put into the fray only as many Freshmen as there are eligible Sophomores. This will give the Freshmen the advantage of selecting their strongest men while the Sophomores will use everyone from Smith on up.

The battleground will be a fifty-foot circle surrounding the colors which will be attached to a horizontal bar ten feet from the ground. Eight minutes will be allowed for the contest.

The use of fists is not allowed and any man guilty of a foul will be disqualified. However, the conflict will not be halted, and the officials will take the risk incurred in removing the offending contestants.

This should prove an exciting encounter with the outcome not a thing to place money on.

NEWS INTEREST OF STETSON'S HISTORY

Information Gathered by the George-Anne-Institution Shows Growth.

Feeling that there are those who would want more information on the university whose football team the Teachers play Thanksgiving, the George-Anne has gathered the following information:

Stetson University was established at DeLand, Fla., as a high school in 1883. The name "Stetson" comes from the name of a hat manufacturer in Philadelphia, its most liberal benefactor in its early years.

The institution became the DeLand Academy in 1885, and took its present name and status in 1887.

The Stetson College of Law, first law school in Florida, was organized in 1910. The institution became a member of the accredited list of the American Bar Association in 1930 and two years later was made a member of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in America.

The enrollment of Stetson University for the year 1934 was 544, an increase of 40 per cent over the previous year. The present enrollment of the institution is recorded at 611.

STUDENTS PLAY

T. C. students believe in playing. A glance out on the campus any afternoon will show a number of intra-mural contests being played with the spirit of a big game.

For the past few weeks the young women have been playing a very interesting league schedule in touch-football.

The next term will see a change to other sports, with an intra-mural program in effect in whatever activity is chosen.

pertain to life in their immediate environment.

Understand Literature

The English classes have many opportunities for increased appreciation of reading. Silas Marner, Irving's Sketch Book and Treasure Island have given much impetus to an understanding of the best in literature on different high school levels. A puppet show and two stage plays have grown out of these readings. A special effort has been made to stimulate an enthusiastic interest for pleasure. The French pupils have found many things to do in connection with learning the French language. France has become a next door neighbor. Her customs and manner of living have appealed to these boys and girls in such a way that they are anxious to present a program of French songs, games, music and dancing, all in costume.

At 10:45 each day forty minutes are devoted to music. The rhythm band, the orchestra, the guitar club, the piano classes and the choral singing offer opportunities for music to all the children. The Home Economics Club is providing much stimulation for studying the problems of the home and social life of the girls. Recently a luncheon was served the members of the eighth grade as a culmination of a science unit on foods. The boys are beginning the work in industrial arts this week. With all the above offerings in the Laboratory School curriculum both children and student teachers have advantages of an enriched program.

(By GEE DEE)

Words of personal mention about the boys who have won the Blue and White for Tecy this season, and who, although most of them are new men have done themselves proud in playing one of the toughest schedules that the Teachers have ever attempted:

Crowe, lanky, left-footed Gainesville lad, has held down his end in fine fashion, played a swell offensive game and accounted for numerous extra points even though his kicking foot is on the wrong side.

Plunkett, handsome 190-pound tackle, is the man you have seen tearing down the field under punts and smacking the receiver before he has a chance to get going.

McKinney, "built for comfort—not speed," a guard who has seen action in every quarter and played a swell game as blocking guard, especially in the Appalachian State game.

Riggs, need we say more?

Oliver, little, loud and a real scrapper—a man who plays center in practice and guard in games. "Goat" has stayed out for two years, knowing that he was playing behind the greatest center in the state, and kept fighting.

Kessler, even though he hasn't learned the signals and probably won't, has played a lot of good football. He is from Augusta and proud of it.

Guy has shown more improvement than any man on the squad and has changed his post at end from one of the doubtful positions on the team to a point of strength.

Ableson, shifted from fullback to the line, has acquitted himself well, playing at guard and tackle, playing his best game against Alabama Teachers.

McLemore, this name is synonymous with hard luck; although injured twice during the season, "Bobby" played good ball while he was in there.

Hartshorn, shifted from one position in the line to another all season, has at last shown himself to be versatile as well as consistent.

Hill, a plugger, this boy will play lots of football before his day at T. C. is done.

Ferarra, quiet and unobtrusive, "Angelo" has been in there scrapping every minute. This boy plays a position at which the best players are seldom noticed—his is the duty of moving the obstructions from the path of the ball carrier—and he has done it well.

Lambright, another who plays hard teaches social sciences, directs athletics, and offers suggestions for entertainments. Her biggest joy, of course, is the basketball team.—Louise Yeomans, exchanging at Bay Branch, got a real kick out of her playground work recently. A saw flew up and struck her in the mouth, breaking one of her teeth.

STETSON IS TIDE'S TURKEY DAY FOE

PROFS SEEK REVENGE FOR LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT BY HATTERS.

Stetson will furnish the opposition for the Blue Tide in its annual homecoming classic. This year the Hatters take the place of the Newberry Indians, who have been the foes of the Teachers for several seasons. Last year Stetson took the Teachers by a 19-0 score.

Coach Smith's proteges will face an uphill battle according to reports from DeLand, the home of the Hatters. By comparative scores, Stetson is some twenty-odd points the better of the two teams, but as games are not decided on paper, the Teachers promise a little more action than is forecasted by pre-game dope.

The Teachers are in excellent shape, there being only two minor injuries on the squad. Ferarra, first-string blocking half, is temporarily out with an injured hand as is Guy, varsity end, but both will probably be in shape ere Thanksgiving dawns.

Psychologists at a California college have discovered that a kiss, by causing extra palpitation of the heart, shortens the average life three minutes. At that rate most of us have been dead for some time.—The Technique.

all the time and receives little attention, a smart quarter, a hard blocker.

Bell, 135 pounds of fight; to "Deanie" there isn't a bigger, faster man on the field—he'll hit any of them and hit 'em hard. He is our personal nomination for nerviest.

Grady, fast and smooth; this boy will go places.

Heath, handicapped all season with a bum shoulder, this 'Gusta boy has had little chance to show his real worth. He's fast and heady.

Raby, from Coach's home town; a fast and shifty back.

Baird, another man slowed up by an early season injury, "Gus" is rounding into shape and will probably see a good bit of action in the Turkey Day encounter.

Golden, greatly improved, but playing behind a star.

Robertson, injured in the Douglas game and has been out ever since. "Robbie" is a scrapping little guard.

Words descriptive of Hines and Fulford would be wasted.

The rest of the squad, composed of Harrison, Hogan, Strickland and Adams deserve to be congratulated on the fact that they have stuck with the team. Most of these men are playing their first year of football and have had little chance to get into varsity games but they have stayed out and acted as cannon fodder. No team is better than its reserves. T. C. has only a few, and maybe they're not experts, but they have stickability.

ACTIVITIES SHOWN IN VARIOUS UNITS

Laboratory School is Culminating Fall Projects — School Work Reviewed.

The pupils and teachers of the Laboratory School are very busy now working on the culminating activities of the various units which were begun in the early part of the fall. In the first and second grades the interest of the children is centered about a community activity. The development for the immediate future will be the making of a flower shop. The main objective of this part of the project is to get acquainted with the simple principles of science in the growing plant.

In the third and fourth grades a visitor will find a group building various types of houses. They are learning about the evolution of the house from the cave to the large apartment house in the city. In this same room there are all kinds of reminders of Eskimoland, Holland, Norway, Switzerland, Italy, Japan and China. The fourth grade children are on an imaginary trip to these countries and have found out the customs of the children there. In many ways the fourth grade boys and girls are demonstrating the life and customs of the children of many lands.

Study Georgia Pine

The fifth and sixth grades are busy finding out about Georgia, and particularly the value of the Georgia pine. A little later one will find a phase of colonial life wonderfully well portrayed in the exhibit of articles found in a colonial home. These children will give interesting accounts of the experiences of our ancestors during the colonization period.

It is not as easy to develop an integrated unit in the high school as in the elementary grades. Regardless of this difficulty there are many activities going on in these grades to enrich the subject matter and stimulate enthusiasm among the pupils. The social science teachers are making the textbook material most vital by engaging the students in such a program as will encourage wide reading. Out of this material the interpretation of subject matter becomes a significant factor in citizenship development.

The natural sciences are presented from the practical viewpoint. If one should visit the science classes he would find the members engaged in working out science problems that

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR CHAPEL HOUR

Educators, Parents and Others Will See School at Work And at Play.

December 11th will be a gala occasion for this college. This day has been designated as Visitors' Day, and efforts are being made to have all persons interested in the school visit the campus and see T. C. at work.

Dr. Pittman has called upon the Student Council to assist him, and definite plans are in the making. Invitations are to be sent to every county school superintendent and principal whose county is represented in the student body. Official invitations will be sent by the council to these people, but the students should write personal letters to those whom they would like to come. This would include the friends and families of the students.

Various state officials are to be guests on this day, among them will be M. D. Collins, state school superintendent; Dr. S. V. Sanford, chancellor of the University System; L. M. Lester, director of curriculum studies; M. R. Little and M. E. Thompson, state school supervisors, and T. J. Dempsey, state high school inspector.

The program for the day will include a visit to the classrooms and the Training School, a special assembly, a barbecue dinner served in the Gym. In the afternoon, the visitors will see T. C. at play when the boys and girls will play off some of their intra-mural contests.

DELTA SIGMA FRAT TO HAVE A BIG DAY

Tea-Dance and Evening Dance Included on Fraternity Program November 23rd.

The Delta Sigma fraternity is making definite plans for one of the most important affairs on the social calendar this season. On Saturday, November 23rd, the members and dates will enjoy a tea-dance at the Columns' Tea Room on North Main street. This dance will be a card dance. Saturday evening at 8 o'clock there will be a dance at the Armory in Statesboro. It is expected that there will be many out-of-town guests for the dances. Sixty couples are expected for the evening dance. Cards have been issued.

The Hotel Richmond orchestra of Augusta will play for both dances.

MISS PEIRCE NEW FACULTY MEMBER

Vacancy in Commerce Department Filled by George Washington Graduate.

Miss Mildred Peirce, from the District of Columbia, has assumed her duties here as the new head of the commercial department, filling the vacancy created by the resignation of T. E. Roberts.

This new faculty member received 1927, her masters in psychology and George Washington University in 1927, her masters in psychology and statistics from George Washington in 1929, and has recently been doing graduate work on her doctor's degree at Teachers College, Columbia University, N. Y. She has also studied administration of progressive education at the College of Charleston and a special study of personnel administration, State Hospital, Arlington, Pennsylvania.

Employed in educational work in the federal department at Washington, Miss Peirce rendered service in the capacity of technical secretary. She is rich in experience through the variety of services in the several departments in which she worked while in the federal service at Washington.

Miss Peirce has taught in several schools and colleges in different sections of the country, including Arlington Junior College, Arlington county, Virginia.

IN THE Y. W. C. A.

Sixty-five girls were received into the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening, October 31, at the traditional "candle light" installation ceremony which was unusually impressive this year.

The officers and cabinet members, attired in white, formed a triangle on the stage and the new members walked in single file across the stage, lighting their candles from that of the president, Miss Grace Cromley.

A personnel office has been established here with Grace Cromley and George Carter, presidents of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A., respectively, as its heads. This organization is expected to be of real service to students who want jobs as well as faculty members who need helpers.

Miss Mary Roberts Stewart, a Y. W. C. A. leader from Charleston, S. C., was honored at a breakfast in the home economics dining room Friday morning by the officers of the Y. W. C. A. After breakfast Miss Roberts talked in chapel on "The Student Volunteer Movement."

.. Among The Clubs ..

DUX DOMINA

The Dux Domina club was entertained Monday by Mattie Cain, Malba Harvey and Lottie Rountree in honor of Miss Corrine Lanier, a former president, who is attending Vanderbilt University. The regular meeting was held Thursday night in the home economics room. Mr. Russell, the club's sponsor, gave a talk on "Good Etiquette."

L. T. C.

The L. T. C.'s were entertained Wednesday evening with a feast by Lil and Kathryn Simmons. New members were initiated into the club.

EPICUREANS

The Epicureans announce the pledging of Eloise Warren. They held their regular meeting last Tuesday evening in Anderson Hall. Ida Kent and Mildred Brannen were hostesses.

D. L. D.'s.

The D. L. D.'s are making tentative plans for a picnic to be given on November 23.

BACHELORS

The Bachelors Club, at its regular meeting Wednesday evening, decided to sponsor a play sometime during the winter quarter, the proceeds of which will be offered some worthy campus cause.

IOTA PI NU

The Iota Pi Nu fraternity entertained members and dates with a chicken fry Tuesday afternoon, November 6, at Roger Holland's. A bid has been issued to Marion Carpenter.

OGLETHORPE

"The Trysting Place," one-act play, was presented by the Oglethorpe Literary Society Wednesday evening, November 13, in the auditorium. The characters included: R. M. Horton, Eloise Graham, Laura Hickey, LeRoy Roughton, Ethel Mae Byrd and Bill Stewart.

STEPHENS

"Is It Better to Stay Single, or Marry a T. C. Student?" was the question debated by Melba Harvey and Bob Espy at the Stephens Literary Society which met Wednesday evening, November 13. This was unique among debates, as both sides held to the affirmative.

In addition to the debate, Miss Dorothy Hodges gave some selections on the xylophone and Marion Carpenter sang. Plans were made for the Stephens guest party to be held Nov. 23.

FACULTY OUTINGS TO BE ORGANIZED

Local faculty members have begun an outing club. The plan is that an organization for the members of the faculty be made that they may get away from their studies and get into a social atmosphere more often.

The group met the latter part of last week and organized, with Miss Trussell acting as director and appointing committees in charge for each week's program. After the business meeting the faculty members present gathered their lunch and went to the mill pond of Col. Hinton Booth, where they enjoyed an evening of eating and singing.

The object of this program is to get the instructor away from his work at least once a week and give him the opportunity of enjoying social contact.

All faculty members are eligible and the club extends a cordial invitation and welcome for those who have not yet had the experience of enjoying one of their outings.

At 6:30 in the evening the Home-coming banquet will be given in the Dining Hall, followed with the Home-coming

IRC DISCUSSES WAR QUESTIONS

Destler Leads Discussion on Sanctions, Italian Isolation and Blockade.

"Will the League check Italy?"

This was the subject discussed by the International Relations Club at the last meeting, held at the home of Miss Sarah Remington in Statesboro.

Dr. C. M. Destler led the discussion after the question was put before the club. Among the most important sub-questions and discussions proposed by the club were: "Why did the League not check Japan and Bolivia?" and "What is England's policy on a balance of power?"

Economic sanctions were discussed by the club members, including war, the possible isolation of Italy, and the effect of a blockade.

On the matter of a blockade the discussion by the group was in general approval that a blockade would not be effective because of Italy's submarines, mines and superior air fleet.

Following the discussion the club was entertained with refreshments by Mrs. Remington.

dance in the Alumni Building at 8:30

Each year these home-coming affairs show more improvement in efficient organization. Begun back in the '20's, there were few people in attendance, and a program was lacking altogether. It was simply a time for some of the old students to come back and visit a day and see the Teachers play Brewton-Parker Institute in football, the traditional Thanksgiving foe for a few years. In 1932 the first real home-coming was inaugurated. Since that time the day has come to have real meaning in the lives of those associated with the college.

This year provision will be made for former students to register, thereby establishing the first permanent record of the number and the names of the day's visitors.

Thanksgiving Event

Waycross, Ga.,
November 4, 1935.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

Ed Rusk, Al Henderson, my right hand man this year, and I have been talking things over and have decided that we can't miss attending "Homecoming Day" at T. C. this year. It is always a pleasure to see old friends and to renew the college spirit that is so contagious on the campus.

I saw Aunt Sophie, Dean Henderson and a number of old T. C. students at Douglas the other day. It was almost like a day at summer school.

Regards,
C. H. PARKER, JR.

Alston, Georgia,
November 7, 1935.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

I am sure that by this time the various committees have gotten plans pretty well under way for the annual Home-Coming. This occasion should bring in a large number of old students who have not been to the campus in quite a while. Several of us from here are expecting to return for that day with the expectation of seeing many of the students who have taken part in many previous activities which we have enjoyed in the T. C. way.

Hoping to see you and the others on the gala occasion, I am

Yours sincerely,
OSCAR H. JOINER.

Jesup, Ga.,
November 4, 1935.

Dear Fessor Bob:

Thanks for your letter which came in this morning about the alumni edition of the George-Anne. I feel that I had rather come back to the college on that date than any I know for it is a time to renew old acquaintances and re-live old experiences. The old feeling of fellowship that becomes a vital part of the hours spent on the Teachers College campus are long to be remembered when we return to our places as we leave the campus.

Yours sincerely,
J. H. DEWBERRY.

Jesup, Ga.,
November 6, 1935.

Dear Mr. Donaldson:

Thank you for your letter telling of the special alumni edition of the George-Anne which you plan to publish.

Let's have a great day November 28 and come out in a big way with the game, the gathering and the goobers. With most alumni, any thought of Collegeboro is a kind of homecoming.

Sincerely yours,
DORA SMITH.

WELCOMES ALUMNI

MISS HELEN OLLIFF, of Statesboro,
Now teaching in Wadley, welcomes former T. C. students in the following letter. Miss Olliff is the alumni president.

Dear Alumni:

We are all so busy with our own tasks that it is difficult for us to get together back at dear old T. C. It has occurred to me that the most convenient time, perhaps, of all the year will be at Thanksgiving. For that reason, I am joining with the Student Council and the faculty in inviting every one of you to come back to the campus and spend Thanksgiving Day. Let us meet for an Alumni Association meeting at 11 o'clock in room 4. There are important matters for us to consider. A luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the present Senior class.

We shall applaud our football team to victory in the afternoon and join in the grand homecoming party at night.

Hoping to see every loyal alumni at the grand homecoming, I am yours for a still better T. C.,

HELEN OLLIFF,
President, Alumni Association,
South Georgia Teachers College.

CHERRY INVITES PAST STUDENTS

Speaks in Behalf of Student Body in Welcoming Former Students Back to Campus.

To Former Students:

There are many fond memories associated with the Thanksgiving season. It has stood in all our experiences for a day of rejoicing and thanksgiving for the blessings of a year bountifully bestowed. Here at South Georgia Teachers College in the minds of all the students and all the alumni there is one other big memory attached to that day—and that is Home-coming.

We are all grateful for what the school year has meant to us as students. We are thankful for what the year has meant to you as alumni and friends of our institution. We all have thanks to render. Is there a more fitting way to do this than for you, the alumni, to return to the scene of your preparation for what life is meaning to you, and join with us in a great home-coming at T. C.?

The program for the day has been planned for your enjoyment. The Student Council is making every effort to make the day carry the true home-coming spirit. As official sponsors of the day we extend you a sincere and cordial invitation to South Georgia Teachers College, November 28th.

Earnestly and cordially yours,
J. D. CHERRY,
President Student Council, 1936.

PROGRAMS READY FOR HOME-COMERS

Will Furnish Former Students With Calendar of Events This Fall.

When Stetson University and the South Georgia Teachers play the home-coming game here Thanksgiving, spectators will be given a program which will enable them to follow the game more accurately.

The program will be in the form of a 12-page booklet, printed on light blue paper, and containing information of special interest to former students who will be at the homecoming game. A short review of most of the football games played this season will be written by the sports editor of the George-Anne, and a calendar of events covering the important happenings at the Teachers College this fall will be included.

This part of the booklet begins with the date September 27th when the "Green wave swamps campus" and follows the important and interesting events of the term through the Delta Sigma dances on the 23rd of November. The writer very cleverly portrays the happenings in chronological order. From this calendar former students may learn what their club brothers or sisters have been doing.

In the center of the program will be the numbers, names, weights and positions of the competing teams.
