Anouilh, Euripides are performed by Masquers

Dinner with the Family; in;a hall near the campus. The guests are served by Jean Anouilh, author of Becket, The Lark, and The Faith of the Toreadors. Thursday, January 10, at 4 p.m.

Movie shorts of contemporary plays will be shown on a screen to accent the reading of Euripides' play. Miss Chew will be in the form of psychedelic lighting. Prof. Chew also hopes to have the choruses set to modern rock music with "an organ, electric guitars, and so on," he says, and "that's going to be our second musical!"

ASC leaders attend student convention

Four students from Armstrong State College plan to take the annual Georgia State Conference of the Southern Universities Student Government Association (SUSGA) in Atlanta, Dr. James Rogers, Dean of Student Affairs, will accompany them.

The January 10-11 meeting, which will be held in the Dick's Plaza Hotel, will be attended by Eugene Smith, John Eure, Powell Gahagan, and Jerry VanPuffelen. Several of Armstrong State's delegates will participate in panel discussions.

The annual gathering of student government members is planned as a way to coordinate the colleges and universities in this area and to serve as a sounding board for the discussion of both necessary and controversial topics.

Key-noting the SUSGA convention will be Dean John E.
Anderson, Academic Dean of Jere VanPuffelen, a member of the Armstrong State student government, and the various parts of SUSGA.

Eugene Smith, president of Armstrong State student government, will be part of a panel discussion of campus elections with Dr. Kenneth England of Georgia State College.

ASC leaders are listed elsewhere.

ASC majorette corps

Four additional majorettes will be featured with the Armstrong Pep Band beginning with the January 10th contest.

The girls, directed by Laurie Beecher, will perform during the halftime of all home games.

Miss Beecher is currently the solo twirler with the band.

All of the girls performed with high school bands in the Savannah area. The new majorettes are Joanne Wilson, a 1967 Groves High graduate; Marsha Inegan, a 1967 graduate of Savannah High; and Cheryln Roach, a 1967 graduate of Jenkins High School. All four of the additions are freshmen at ASC.

The January 3-4 activities by Gene Smith

The 1969 Homecoming has been labeled the "finest ever planned at this institution" by Dick Saudem, ASC's Secretary of Student Affairs. Since late October committees have been formulating plans that will set the cost of the homecoming weekend near the three thousand dollar mark. For the first time in Armstrong's history, both Friday and Saturday activities will allow day and night students to attend the programs.

Festivities will begin at 12:30 Friday, January 17th, with the annual student-faculty basketball game. This year, the faculty coach, George Bedwell, has issued a challenge to the Student Government Association, as representative of the student body, to field a team. The entertainment portion of the weekend will start at 8 P.M. Friday with a concert in the ASC gym by "The Saxons & Company," a folk group from New York. For those students who witnessed the performances of Josh White and David, Dick Clark and Brooklyn, the last two years, this year's group is the third in the series presented by Yorktown Associawill arrive at Armstrong on the wings of a successful concert tour in the North and based on the heels of a brand new, high flying record album.

Homecoming activities will continue Saturday morning as the organizations on campus begin to decorate their cars for the massive parade which will kick off at 1 P.M. for a circuit of the city. The parade will start and end at Armstrong.

The parade will feature the homecoming queen candidates and all students are urged to put a car in the parade, whether or not it is decorated.

The weekend will continue with a "coffee" for the alumni at 6:30 P.M. and will be followed by the variety game between the Armstrong State College Braves and the Pirates.

Game time for this contest only is set for 7:30. During the half, the candidates for queen will be introduced and the five finalists will be announced.

The weekend's activities will be capped off with the Student-Faculty Dance, featuring "Vic Waters and the Entertainers," a group that has appeared at Sanford University, the Kittens' Konzo (an Atlanta nightspot) and the famed Sugar Shack in Boston.

The entertainment feature, one of the best by television personality, Dick Clark. Plans are being made for the band to go on tour with Clark. The dance will be held in the Beulantic Cafeteria immediately following the game.

Ticket prices for the various events of the week-end

Smith recounts successful events of past quarters

Many students attending the Winter Quarter are starting classes in the two new halls on Armstrong State College campus. The buildings were inspected on December 16 which was the target date for their completion. Since all went well, the moving process was an quick as possible.

The Science Building is housing Nursing classes and laboratories and the Dental hygiene classes. The new Biology Building is the first floor. The second floor, is occupied by the Chemistry Department. The original Science Building continues as the home for the Mathematics Department.

Many good speakers are scheduled for the new hall. "Mouse, the Boys and Brains" and "test tubes and thymus glands" are just two of the many presentations.

New Year Cheer

Armstrong State College is now a fully accredited four year institution. This step should be considered one of the very real ones in the history of the Savannah area. The local politicians and other busy-bodies were accusing the administrators and the director of a variety of assaults against "well-natured society," the college gained its case and the accredited institution of higher learning. And, characteristically, in the importance of Armstrong's achievement was relegated to an inside page of the local paper, on the same announce of a spermatozoa controversy.

Contrast the hullabaloo, the talked-about "NEWS" of Armstrong State.

Students have been part of the accrediting process for the past few years, and they realize the many categories a college must pass. After the visit of the preliminary accrediting committee, Dr. Henry Ashmore released a statement concerning Armstrong's progress. The college had been evaluated, and though Ashmore states that he never had any doubts about Armstrong's accreditation, students were not so optimistic and now can breathe the long-held sigh of relief that their school is on the right track.

Congratulations Armstrong!

Freshman co-ed offers conditioning evaluation

The following was submitted to the Inkwell by Miss Jeanne Scarboro, who teaches the women's conditioning class at Armstrong State. The evaluation was written by one of her students.

Saunders, conditioning class "In my opinion, the success of the conditioning class is due to the SGA officers, Dr. Nease, the authorities and both service organizations. The more than 400 people in attendance can testify to the success of the operation.

Fall Quarter was one of the biggest in the history of the school with five activities drawing over 2,500 students, faculty and friends. September's only scheduled activity saw about 500, "Mil. Him and Them" pull in an estimated 250 students for the "Rot" dance.

October brought another local band, "The Midnight Riders" and approximately 200 students turned out to support the function. November featured the Miss Geechee Pageant, at which there was a live audience of some 150. The following night, Jackieville's "Mouse, the Boys and Brains" packed the 375 standing into the Blessed Sacrament gym for the "most successful" dance of the quarter. The following Friday, a standing room only crowd applauded "Play Bach" featuring the Jacques Lousier Trio in Jenkins auditorium.

Also during November, organized group functions, such as the senior's barbeque and the Greek Council's Thanksgiving Dinner drew 700 and 450 people respectively.

It is, indeed, wonderful for me as SGA President, to have "thank you" to my officers, Dick Sandeen, the social committee and the various organizations responsible for building Armstrong State College into an institution that we can be proud of. We still have two quarters left and, then, for the following activities have been planned for your enjoyment.

March 19: Spring Break Dance With the "Melody Makers."

May 1-2: Pioneer Days Fri.(2). a concert featuring the "Four Peso Singers." I trust that each student will support all of our student activities because they are planned for no one but you! If you have any suggestions, comments or criticisms, please contact me or any of my officers and we will be glad to hear them.

Thank you,
V. Eugene Smith, Jr.

Because there was a definite lack of club news submitted to the Inkwell for this edition, this section will include announcements only.

Remember that your club can be included in the columns by merely submitting your own plans and photos to the Inkwell office located in the Student Center.

A Phi O was busy during the holidays, sending four brothers to the Panhellenic national convention which was held in Washington D.C. on December 27-29. The brothers of Kappa Beta joined with approximately 700 other brothers from all over the United States and the Philippines.

The elected delegates from the ASC chapter, which has been awarded the best organization on campus plaque for the last two years were Jack Moody and Dick Sandsen. The other, non-voting, delegates were David Gould and Jim Wilson. Armstrong's delegation hosted a hike up with a bus sponsored by Section 21-A (Georgia) in Atlanta on the 26th and went from there to the Sheraton Hotel in the nation's capital.

There wasn't much time for sightseeing due to the heavy schedule of committee meetings and general sessions. There were some 20 amendments to the constitution which had to be ratified as well as the election of officers for the next two years.

For all those students who missed the student teaching during Spring Quarter, here it is again:

booth in the student center will also be open from 9:00 am the 16th and will close at 8:00 pm that night.

The five finalists will be announced at half time at the varsity game on the 17th and the Queen will be crowned at the dance which will immediately follow the game. Voting will be by popular ballot with each student having one vote. Votes will be counted in accordance with the constitution of Armstrong State College.

This year the homecoming committee has decided to maintain a little suspense in the selection of the Homecoming Queen. Dick Sanders, Secretary of Student Affairs, released this statement to the "Inkwell."

Voting for Homecoming Queen will be conducted by Ed Foreman, Secretary of Elections, on January 15th and 16th. Polls will open on the 15th at 5:00 pm and will remain open until 8:00 pm. The voting

Peace Corps announces educational loan funds

The establishment of a higher education loan fund for returned Peace Corps Volunteers was announced recently by Peace Corps Director Jack Vaughn.

The fund, started with private money raised by members of the Peace Corps National Advisory Council, makes a half million dollars available in loans to former Volunteers. Each may borrow up to $7,500.

“Volunteers come home enriched by their overseas experiences, with the potential to make positive, substantive contributions to our institutions of higher learning,” says Vaughn. “Their insights gained from living deeply in other cultures should be shared with all Americans, which is one of the goals of the Peace Corps, and the fund’s purpose is to provide more former Peace Corps Volunteers that opportunity.”

Former Volunteers are eligible up to two years after completion of Peace Corps service. Eligibility is extended for returned Volunteers who enter the military or who are employed by the Peace Corps after completion of Volunteer service.

Loan repayment at maximum interest rates of seven percent per year must begin not later than six months after a former Volunteer completes his education.
