FORMULATE PLANS FOR MAY DAY
PAGEANT

The May Day Pageant, Friday afternoon, May 1st, according to plans now being formulated, will be one of the loveliest ever held at the college.

The bright-colored costumes of the dancers contrasted with the more delicate hues worn by the queen and her court will present a charming scene.

Miss Helen Godbee, Queen of the May, will wear the traditional white gown which has been designed for her by Miss Mary Small. Miss Mattie Cain, Maid of Honor, will wear a dress of yellow fashioned like that of the queen. Costumes for ladies of the court will be of the same design, but in green.

After the coronation ceremony, a program of dances will be presented, and then the winding of the May poles will climax the afternoon.

STUDENT WINNERS IN SUPERLATIVE CONTEST

Dr. Philip Weltner to Make Address; Commencement Speakers Announced

Speakers invited here for Honors Day and commencement exercises have made final acceptance, according to announcement made last week.

Dr. Philip Weltner, former chancellor of the University system, will be here on Saturday, May 30, to make an Honors Day address. At that time 24 students will receive recognition for scholarship, campus leadership, and service to the institution. According to present plans there will be 12 in the first group, and six in the leadership and service groups.

On Sunday, May 31, the commencement sermon will be preached by Dr. Samuel Senter, pastor of the Wesley Monumental Church of Savannah.

On Saturday, June 6, Dr. Aquila Chamblee, president of Bessie Tift College, Forsyth, will deliver the commencement address.

The first Honors Day exercises were held last year with Dr. R. E. Park, head of the English department at the University of Georgia, as speaker, honoring students with exceptional Faculty Adopts Report of Committee on Publications At Last Meeting.

Beginning in the fall of 1936 the editor of The George-Anne and the editor and business manager of the Reflector will be paid regular salaries for their services, is the announcement that comes from the Faculty Committee on Publications. This committee is composed of Professor Robert F. Donaldson, chairman; Dr. J. E. Caruth, Dr. C. M. Destler and Dean Z. S. Henderson.

The report of the publications committee, stipulating such payments, was adopted by the faculty at their last regular meeting, which was held on Monday evening, April 6th. The report likewise provides that a certain scholastic standard be maintained by these student leaders, who, in the future are to be approved by the committee.

The editor of the George-Anne will receive $108.00 for each scholastic year, and the editor and business manager of the Reflector each will receive $54.00 during the scholastic year.

Following is the report made by the

ROSENWALD FUND
PROVIDES MONEY

$10,000.00 Offered Next Year; Allotments to Continue For Five Years.

Officials of the Julius Rosenwald Fund have definitely announced that they will offer this college $10,000 next year for educational purposes, with annual allotments continuing for five years until a total of $30,000 has been given.

The purpose of this offer by the Fund is to shift money from building negro school houses to the stimulation of training teachers, both white and colored.

This work in Georgia will start at this college because of its location and the interest shown by President M. S. Pittman in rural life, which is the particular phase of education that the Rosenwald Fund tends to promote. This decision has come as a result of over a year's careful investigation and study by experts on rural education, employed by the board to determine the most urgent educational needs in the South.

This money will be given, however, only on condition that the state Board of Regents will each year supply the sum necessary to make the total $10,000. That is, after the first year the allotment from the Fund will decrease by $2,000 each year of the five-year period.

Also, the regents must give assurance that they will continue to provide for the college as much money as should be provided for a teachers college.

The proposal of the Rosenwald Fund will be taken up by the regents and passed upon at an early date.

BELL SYSTEM WILL BE INSTALLED JOINTLY

A new system of electric bells is to be installed in the near future by the faculty and the student body, who are sponsoring the project jointly.

Plans are to install in each building a six-inch electric bell which will be controlled by a ringing panel in the Administration Building. Connections between the buildings will be made through underground conduits. Materials have already been ordered and work will begin as soon as they are available. The installation will be done by college and student labor under the direction of Dr. H. H. London.

The approximate cost of the project will be $150 which will be raised by the faculty and the student body jointly. A system of this kind will be so arranged that an electrical clock to ring the bells can be added when-

Something new: A school without any teachers.

Is it really true that the golf course is to be turned into a cow pasture?

We've thought of a dozen things to say about the fallen Gates of Jericho—but none would sound very well.

Co-eds can think of some of the worst things. Now they want the old clothes of the boys to change into coat suits. Bet they just want to wear the pants. (And what about the shine?)

SIGNIFICANT ACTION

The recent adoption of recommendations made by the Faculty Committee on Publications was a significant action of local administrators. Under the old system of selecting editors—if, indeed it might be called a system—there was opportunity for the most outrageous of all methods of obtaining positions of campus leadership and honor. That unfair selection of publication managers has seldom, if ever taken place is to the credit of this institution; but where there is no stabilizing force there is always the possibility of unfair selection. Thus we are happy to note that such selections will be governed in the future.

We speak primarily of The George-Anne. In the past no student when asked, has been able to state just how the editor of the publication was selected. Of course, there have been unwritten rules which have been followed, such as seniority and degree of efficiency. But it can be seen that such methods are not without danger.

After the situation had been brought to the attention of President Pittman by the present editor of The George-Anne, a faculty committee on publications was named. That committee, in determining the policy to be followed, has made every inquiry conceivable into politics of other colleges. This was done in an effort to bring to this institution the benefits of successful methods. Whether or not this has been done will be determined in the future. That the effort has been made cannot be doubted.

Practically every recommendation made by those familiar with the situation has been adopted. Let us hope that this has been an instance of foresight which will prove valuable to the college in future years.

TO THE WINNERS

To the superlative contest winners The George-Anne is happy to extend its congratulations. Those honored by students in the recent election may, and we are sure they do, feel proud of the distinction given them. Though the results of such elections are not always true and are frequently inaccurate as a measuring rod, they nevertheless are not without merit.

Many students were forced to join the ranks of the "also ran" group by just a few votes, and an election today might easily see them in first place instead of the winners of last week. To these "also rans" we likewise extend congratulations.

Several instructors of undoubted ability were not even in the running in the excellent teaching race. This very probably is due to their restricted classes. We are convinced that Miss Mary Small, Dean Henderson, Miss Viola Perry, Miss Marion Groover and Miss Elizabeth Donovan, just to name a few, have demonstrated that their teaching is of a superior quality—yet they ran poor races. We point this out merely as illustration that there is hardly an absolute method by which teachers may be rated exactly according to ability—no more than is it possible to rate students with grades. But the results are interesting, and as we have pointed out, are not without merit.

Congratulations to the winners and many thanks to the voters who supported the election in such a fine manner.

FUTURE WAR VETERANS

That amazing organization in which 20,000 American youths have impetuously united themselves—the Veterans of Future Wars—is ridiculous, of course it is. But its ridicule has proved the most powerful of all weapons in meeting the arguments of the so-called protectors of liberty.

The movement started at Princeton University; now there are chapters in scores of leading colleges and universities, each supposedly doting upon a thousand dollars payable June 1, 1936, with interest compounded backward annually at three per cent from 1965. It is not necessary for the American Legion to prove the fantasy of such figuring as this; anyone can do it with ease. No wonder such a proposition gets under the skin—just where it ought to be.

Nor has youth stopped with the V. F. W. At Vassar an auxiliary of Gold Star Mothers of Veterans of Future Wars stands ready to take a trip to Europe this summer on government expense, to select graves for future sons who will crumple in future wars. At Charleston College a great diplomatic order has come into existence with the avowed purpose of making the next war as destructive as possible. The suggestion of a Youngsters' Pension Plan has been made at Mercer. Under its provisions the government would start paying pensions of two hundred dollars a month commencing at the age of twenty-one and continuing until the recipient is fifty. And so on.

Youth realizes that in the event of another war the odds are too great against coming out alive. They realize that they will be called upon to kill, to destroy, to die. And for what?

So it is that youth has been having a grim satiric laugh beforehand; getting a kick out of poking fun at a "merrily-we-go-to-hell" proposition; puzzling over the imbecility of killing people and leaving battle fields drenched with human blood—youth has been doing all this, and now the sore spot has been touched with ridicule. If that spot has been sufficiently touched, let the Veterans of Future Wars retreat. If not, let them keep the pace.

TWO YEARS AGO IN THE GEORGE-ANNE

April 23, 1934

Dr. M. S. Pittman is selected to replace Guy H. Wells as president of the South Georgia Teachers College. Mr. Wells will go to G. S. C. W.

News story states that "athletic teams may now travel in comfort and style to meet opponents." (Oh yeah!)

Helen Olliff has been unanimously elected to reign over May Day festivities on May 5. (Miss Olliff is now president of the Alumni Association.)

Dr. W. A. Taliaferro, pastor of the Bull Street Baptist church, Savannah, and Ralph Newton, superintendent of the Waycross public schools are announced as commencement speakers.

Miss Newton's history class is about to start on an other of the yearly trips through the state.

One hundred students will register today for the spring short term.

The new president writes the students that "we should be able to cause our school to occupy its rightful place in the program of progress which is now in process in Georgia."

Editorials laud President Wells, welcome Dr. Pittman, announce neutrality in approaching student elections, and urge better care for the golf course.

Teachers win and lose to Norman Park on the diamond; Wilkins Smith defeats Charlie Munch in singles tennis match for campus championship; swimming pool hours are announced (and the boys and girls can't be in the pool at the same time); Teachers to leave for B.-P. I. in new bus.

Student Council and faculty laud President Wells for his work as president of the college.

Last rites are announced for Thais and Gold Nigger, two pet fish belonging to J. D. Purvis and Bill Stewart "in a setting of mystic beauty on the shores of Lake Wells—for more than two years dedicated to meditation and ceremony."

J. D. Purvis is elected president of the YMCA; Alton Ellis, vice-president; Julius Hodges, secretary; Douglass Jackson, chaplain.

May I Interview?

When members of the senior class were interviewed on the question, "How do you feel about the Constitutional loyalty oath you must sign before teaching next year?" those interviewed seemed divided on whether or not it was a good thing.

Some of the opinions given are:

Carolyn Lewis, assistant advertising manager of the Reflector:

"I think the oath of allegiance that teachers are required to take is detrimental because normally no teacher conscientiously teaches anything contrary to the Constitution."

Gwendolyn Dekle, president of the Woman's Athletic Association:

"In my opinion the oath of allegiance is a good thing. It forces the teacher to teach patriotism to her students and to set them an example."

Marvin McKneely, editor of the Reflector:

"The oath of allegiance that teachers are required to take in my opinion, besides being unfair, actually works a hardship on the teacher in that he can not teach as he wishes."

Cleo Trapnell, president of the Home Economics Club:

"I think that the oath is a good thing because it unifies the school system in a general patriotic effort."

George Donaldson, former sports editor of The George-Anne and Reflector:

"The oath of allegiance idea is a result of propaganda in an effort to foil any effort to revise the present constitution."

J. D. Purvis, editor of The George-Anne:

"I don't mind taking the oath, as it embodies nothing more than that to which any loyal teacher should voluntarily subscribe. But I don't like to think about the circumstances and individuals responsible for getting the oath started in the legislature. The spirit of the move, in the beginning, was rife with false accusations, based on motives of self-gain. It is, it seems to me, rather pointless."

Student Journalists Convene in Atlanta

Emory University to be Scene of Annual Meeting; Trophy to be Awarded

Meeting on the Emory University campus in Atlanta, the Georgia Collegiate Press Association will hold its annual convention May 1 and 2, it has been announced by Murphy Holloway, president.

Highlight of the session will be the awarding of a trophy by Chess Abernathy, editor of the Cobb County Times, to a member paper of the association for the outstanding editorial accomplishment of the year. The award is made for the purpose of stimulating editorial, feature, and news writing in the college press.

The trophy will be permanent, and the name of each year's recipient will be inscribed on it, with the provision that three consecutive awardings to any one paper will entitle that paper to permanent possession of the trophy. Judges will be three newspaper-

Four Classes Give Destler Most Votes For Good Teaching

Dr. C. M. Destler, instructor in history and social science, last week was named by the four college classes as the professor whose quality of instruction is most excellent.

The freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes each chose Dr. Destler in the superlative contest sponsored by The George-Anne.

Other teachers receiving five or more votes from the freshmen were W. S. Hanner, science; F. D. Russell, English; Z. S. Henderson, sociology and mathematics; Miss Sophie Johnson, English, and Dr. C. W. Smith, languages.

Dr. T. B. Stroup, English instructor, rated second in the sophomore election, followed by W. S. Hanner, Miss Malvina Trussell, biology instructor, and F. D. Russell in the order given. Each received five or more votes.

The junior class also rated Dr. T. B. Stroup second, with Dr. J. E. Caruth, education, third, and W. S. Hanner fourth.

The seniors likewise rated Dr. Stroup second to Dr. Destler. Miss Trussell, Dr. H. H. London, industrial arts, and W. L. Downs, education, rated in the order given.

Other members of the faculty received a scattering of votes.

"Dodie" Lambright, sports editor, was in charge of this edition of The George-Anne. This is the second time during the year that a member of the staff has edited the paper in the absence of the regular editor. Marvin McKneely, managing editor, was in charge of an edition last November.

Upon Arriving At The Age Of

By Bobb Harris

Cold, glistening beads of perspiration dotted Elmer's pale, nervous hands as he gripped the icy slabs. He breathed hard with quick gasping breaths. The whole atmosphere seemed strangely stuffy and heavy to him. He twisted his neck to loosen the damp stuffy towel that covered his face and neck. It seemed to hug tighter, tighter. His chest was covered by a second and larger towel. He lifted one groping hand convulsively as if to tear the covering from himself. His most forward thought was to get down and run. He heard the steady drip, drip, drip of something behind him. He swallowed hard. The whirring drone of voices around him and the shuffling feet of the one nearest him were almost more than he could stand.

Why had he ever listened to them? Why did he let them talk him into it? Wasn't he getting along all right by himself? Terrible nightmares ran through his mind. What if something slipped, or what if something went wrong? He tossed and turned. Oh, he knew no good could come of it. Now he gritted his teeth and set himself to grin and bear it. Now with the dripping there came the monotonous whet, whet of cold steel. He tried to shut it out but in vain. Then the dripping was hushed. Then the whetting. There was a breath-taking silence except for the now diminishing drone of voices. Some of the men had gone out. The sickening smell of wood alcohol drifted to his nostrils. He swallowed hard. The man with the stealthy shuffle moved toward him. A cold, clammy hand reached out and pulled the towel from his face. Something was put on. He flinched and looked up into the face now directly over his.

The dark sober eyes now stared directly into his. Something cold touched his face! He groaned. The razor slid smoothly across, cutting a clean path in the week's growth of beard. Elmer was getting his first barber shop shave.

"In order to systematize and stabilize the administration of the publications of the college it seems desirable for some definite policy to be set up by the faculty for the administration of The George-Anne and the Reflector. With this in view the Committee on Publications, composed of J. E. Carruth, C. M. Destler, Z. S. Henderson and Robert F. Donaldson, after careful consideration recommends the following policy:

"1. That the managing editor of The George-Anne be selected by the Faculty Committee on Publications after careful consideration of all available candidates.

"2. That the managing editor of The George-Anne be paid by the month, at the rate of $12.00 a month, for a period of nine months.

"3. That the managing editor of The George-Anne maintain a scholastic standing to be determined by the publications committee.

"4. That the managing editor of The George-Anne shall be allowed to choose his editorial and business staff with the approval of the committee on publications.

"5. That the editor and business manager of the Reflector be selected in the spring quarter by the junior class with the approval of the committee on publications.

"6. That the editor of the Reflector and the business manager of the Reflector be paid by the month, at the rate of $6.00 a month, for a period of nine months, to be paid out of the Reflector budget.

"7. That the editor and business manager of the Reflector maintain a scholastic standing to be determined by the committee on publications.

Destler Makes Address At Historical Meeting

Spoke on Reconsideration of Pendleton Plan Before the Mississippi Valley Historical Association.

Dr. C. M. Destler will return tomorrow from the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, held in Austin, Texas, last week.

In compliance to the request of Carl S. Driver, chairman of the program committee, Dr. Destler was one of the speakers to address the association on the South and the West in the sixties and seventies. His specific topic was, "A Reconsideration of the Pendleton Plan."

Dr. Destler's address was made Thursday evening, though he remained in Austin through Saturday when the association adjourned.

money paid out for both publications.

"Respectfully submitted,
"ROBT. F. DONALDSON JR.,
"Chairman."

Consideration of methods which would stabilize the administration of the publications was begun last spring with the appointment of the publications committee by President M. S. Pittman. Since that time a great deal of investigation has been carried on among other institutions to see how such affairs were managed elsewhere. Such investigation has been made principally in the state of Georgia, though colleges and universities in several other states were consulted. Members of the Georgia Collegiate Press Association were helpful in determining the policy to be adopted by filling in questionnaires given them by The George-Anne.

Members of the local committee hoped to adopt the most successful method by getting facts on the organization in other schools.

The need of a definite policy was brought to the attention of administrators by the present editor of the student publication.

PROF SPORTOLOGY

Probably there is a good reason for it, but just the same we don't like the idea of finding ourselves in the midst of an ideal baseball environment with T. C. unrepresented on the diamond. In the first place, it makes it hard for a sports editor to find anything to write about in the spring. Another thing we'll miss a lot will be the traditional verbal encounters between "Crook" and "Jake," or "Mike," or whoever the opposing coach might be.

And speaking of baseball, let's take a look at the far flung battle front this week. J. C. Hines, former all-round Prof athlete, has been giving fans something to talk about in the pre-season exhibition games of the Savannah Indians. But as fate would have it, just when Jake has the shortstop position sewed up about as tight as Bobb Harris' Easter pants, we find that he is in for more (Moore) trouble. We wonder if Eddie is any relation to the Mrs. Here's luck, "love and kisses."

An excellent exhibition of track talents was displayed last Saturday by representatives of the high schools participating in the First district meet. Many of these boys will go to college next year, and since T. C. can always use her share of good athletes, why not try to interest them in coming here? Get busy, you graduates of First district high schools.

The Prof tennis team is rapidly rounding into shape under the tutorage of Coach W. S. Hanner. William Riddle, who entered the tournament more or less as a dark horse, has displayed a brand of tennis that has rated him above such veterans as Settle and Shell. Riddle's tennis certainly has that quality known as "class," and if he keeps it up he is going places this season.

Perhaps it would have been in order in our superlative contests to have had a place for the most athletic boy and girl. We hesitated to suggest this, however, since there were enough places already to almost go around the student body so that everyone could have a distinction. Our nomination would have been Holder Watson, never a star but always an inte-

TRACK MEN LOOK GOOD TO COACHES

Wrinkle and Westcott Pleased With Spirit and Morale of Team; To Meet B.-P. I.

Coaches Wrinkle and Westcott state that they are well pleased with the recent performances and the improvement in the spirit and morale of the Tide track men, who, with a month of practice behind them, are well primed for the opening meet at B.-P. I. Saturday, April 25th.

Especially pleasing to the coaches has been the keen competition among the men for positions on the relay team. There are eight fast men trying for this squad, and this seems to insure a strong relay team.

"Chicken" Golden bids fair to step into the shoes of "Breezy" Wrinkle, last year's broad jumping star, and is expected to equal Wrinkle's record of twenty-two feet.

The high hurdles prove to be the weakest department due to the lack of material and the uneven sandy track. The sandy condition of the track is making it difficult for hurdlers to show much ability.

Two potential winners have appeared in each of four events which were notably weak last year: The 440-yard dash, the discus, the pole vault, and the relay. This should assure a better balanced squad than that of last year.

Following is a tentative list of the way the men will line up against B.-P. I. Saturday:

100-yard dash—Gilbert, Oliver and Thornton.

220-yard dash—Gilbert, Golden, Oliver and Thornton.

440-yard dash—Adams and Rush-ton.

Half-mile—Anderson and Wrinkle.

1 Mile—Brinson, Wrinkle and Smith.

Hurdles—Deal, Hamel and McKneely.

Pole vault—Cartee and Rhodes.

High jump—McKneely and Ryals.

Broad jump—Golden, McKneely and Oliver.

Discus—Warren, Watson, Rucker.

Shot put—Cherry, Gilliam, Kinzy.

scholastic averages and those selected by members of the faculty for public recognition.

It is impossible to state at this time just how many students will graduate in June, as a number of additional candidates are expected to enroll for the spring short term. It is expected, however, that the 1936 class will number more than any previous group.

gral part of every team he has tried out for. Whether it be football, baseball, basketball, track, or whatnot, there has never been a time during his two years at the college that Holder was not going out for some major athletic team.

SPRING GRIDSTERS START HARD WORK

May Get Spring Practice Game With Claxton; Still Short of Candidates.

With preliminary practice and warming up work-outs well behind them, Coach B. L. Smith and his spring football candidates are settling down to more serious work now that the third week of practice has begun. Attempts have been made to secure a game for the spring squad with the team from Claxton which played an independent team from T. C. a short while ago.

Hard and rigid work-outs have been given the candidates during the past several days. Practical football is still the order with special emphasis given to blocking, punting and passing, both forward and lateral. Much of the time is taken up with signal drills and the squad has acquired a number of new plays. The offensive formation used by Coach Smith for his backfield is quite different from any used heretofore at T. C. This formation appears to be very effective and will probably be used by the varsity next fall.

Handicap No. 1 continues to be the shortage of players working out. Coach Smith urges that as many new boys as possible report for practice during the remaining two weeks.

Physical Education Head Attending National Meet

Miss Caro Lane, head of the women's physical education department, is in St. Louis, where she is attending the American Physical Education Association meeting.

Miss Lane has just recently been appointed as Southern representative on the national committee on materials exhibits.

At the last national association meeting that Miss Lane attended she won first prize for her word description of the convention. The prize amounted to approximately $200, but Miss Lane was not present to receive the prize, so it was awarded to another contestant.

No matter how dumb the candidate (and, boy, is that dumb in lots of cases!) he can always find a bunch of voters dumber than he. — Olin Miller.

TEACHERS LOSE OPENING MATCH

Local Netmen Fail to Tally; Visitors Take Every Set Except One.

With only one set to their credit, the Teachers tennis team lost their opening match Friday to a superior team from South Georgia State College at Douglas.

Shell, Hodges and Carroll played best for the Prof team, while Harper, Clower and Mingledorff were easily the most outstanding players on Douglas' team.

In the singles, Settle lost to Harper 1-6, 2-6. Harper played consistently well, and placed his shots with such accuracy that his opponent was seldom in a position to make a good return. Clower gave probably the best best exhibition of tennis during the afternoon defeating Riddle 6-0, 6-0. Shell, handicapped by an injured wrist, dropped his match with Mingledorff 3-6, 3-6. Byrd defeated Hodges 6-1, 7-5, after taking several close games in the second set. Carroll, after winning fourteen games to his opponent's twelve, lost his match 0-6, 6-4, 6-4, to Carswell.

In the doubles matches, Shell and Carroll lost 2-6, 1-6 to Clower and Mingledorff, Douglas' veteran doubles team. Hodges and Settle were defeated by Harper and Carswell 6-4, 6-4.

THROWN OUT!

Votes of 44 freshmen, 22 sophomores, 12 juniors and one senior were not counted in the recent superlative election because they were not correctly filled in, according to a tabulation made by Barton Stephens, of the staff of The George-Anne.

COUNCIL CHOOSES REPRESENTATIVES

Eloise Graham and Gwendolyn Dekle Will Attend State W. A. A. Conference.

Council members of the Woman's Athletic Association have chosen Eloise Graham and Gwendolyn Dekle to represent the Teachers College at the Georgia State W. A. A. convention to be held in Milledgeville Wednesday through Friday.

The Georgia State College for Women is host to the convention this year, an honor which S. G. T. C. had last spring.

Other business at the last W. A. A. council meeting included the making of preliminary plans for the annual house party to be held the first week end in May at Savannah Beach, and arranging for members to attend the G. E. A. in Macon. A large number of the association's members will be present on the house party.

Among those representing the W. A. A. at the Macon meeting were Janie Durrence, Kathryn Simmons, Mary Rogers and Louise Rozier.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT "GHOSTS"

Rehearsals have begun for the spring production of the Dramatic Club. The play to be given is "Ghosts," by Ibsen, and weeks of hard work are ahead of the cast as this is the most difficult play attempted by the club.

The cast is as follows:

Engstrand, a carpenter — Howell Martin.

Regina, his daughter—Eloise Graham.

Manders, a clergyman — Hemans Oliver.

Oswald, a painter—Kenneth England.

Mrs. Alving, his mother—Helen Godbee.

AT THE MOONPITCHERS

Hell-o Students:

Clark Gable, Myrna Loy, Jean Harlow.

And for twenty cents you get to see all three of these together in "Wife Versus Secretary," Monday and Tuesday. What a Cast! What a show! Love! Laughter! Tears! Enough of it all to please everybody. Don't forget to open your door when opportunity knocks, and take the tip from me, don't miss the opportunity of spending an enjoyable evening at the show Monday and Tuesday.

Miriam Hopkins, Edw. G. Robinson, Joel McCrea.

And these three are here Wednesday and Thursday in "Barbary Coast." You must know how good this is because everything that Georgia girls play in is top-notch.

Thursday is "Gow." All about cannibals and head-hunters. Ow!

Friday is "Every Saturday Night," a gloriously funny Fox picture.

And I ain't fooling, that dubble featur Saturday is something to be looked into.

See you at the show—

MINNIE SEEM.

Russell Again Elected The Most Popular T. C. Professor

Professor Fielding D. Russell, English teacher, has been elected the most popular member of the Teachers College faculty for the third consecutive year. This honor was given Mr. Russell in the annual superlative contest which took place Tuesday, April 7.

Mr. Russell, who has been teaching here since 1932, was named the most popular professor in the superlative election sponsored by the George-Anne in 1934, 1935, and 1936.

Miss Sophie Johnson, dean of men and also an English teacher, came second in the election, with ten votes less than Russell. Other teachers who received 25 or more votes were Miss Caro Lane, Dr. C. M. Destler, and James Wrinkle.

First District Dramatic Winners Will Play Here

"The Slave With Two Faces," a one-act play, will be presented in the auditorium Thursday night, April 23, by the dramatic club from Millen High School.

This play was awarded first place in the First district meet held a short while ago in Summit. A small admission charge will be made to defray the expenses of bringing the play here.

LOCAL PLACEMENT BUREAU BEGINS SECOND YEAR WITH GOOD RECORD

PLANS MADE FOR "Y" CONFERENCE

The Southern Student Conference of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will again hold its annual meeting at Blue Ridge, North Carolina, from June 11 through June 20, it has been learned. More than one hundred colleges will be represented at the conference. Several members of the local associations expect to attend the conference.

Work on setting up the conference schedule, securing leaders, and discussing carefully the needs and desires of Southern students has been carried on during the past eight months by student workers all over the South.

It is hoped by local workers and officials of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. that the student body as a whole will support and give as much help as possible toward sending a large delegation to the Blue Ridge conference this spring.

MANY GRADUATES PLACED IN 1935

REQUESTS FOR DEGREE GRADUATES EXCEEDED SUPPLY, STATES DOWNS.

The local placement bureau will soon begin its second year's work with a good record, according to W. L. Downs, director.

Mr. Downs stated in an interview with a George-Anne reporter that 75% of last year's graduates were placed through the efforts of the bureau, and that there were more requests for degree graduates than could be furnished.

"Twenty-five out of the 35 normal graduates secured positions by the beginning of the fall term last year," Mr. Downs stated, "and almost a hundred per cent of the degree graduates were placed early in the summer."

Service of the bureau is not restricted to normal or degree graduates, Mr. Downs said, adding that if other students desired the aid of the placement division they should make application.

In the past the bureau has helped a great deal by students' notification of vacancies in the counties. It is the desire of the placement bureau that such notifications continue to be made, Mr. Downs said.

The placement bureau was created in 1935.
