Motion:

I move that Georgia Southern University end its affiliation with the Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation.

Rationale:

The Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation website lists Georgia Southern University as a "sustaining partner." Georgia Southern University is the only university listed as a "partner" of the Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation. It is unseemly for the Georgia Southern University to have its name associated with an organization whose goal is to lobby government officials in support of more expansive gun rights.

SEC Response:

5/28/2013: This item was not approved for inclusion on the agenda of the June 4th meeting, because the motion needs to be reworded before being considered by the senate. According to the response to a previous RFI, the university is not an affiliate or partner, even if it is presented as such by the Congressional Sportsmen's Foundation website.
