COLLINS MAKES OPENING ADDRESS

Educator Outlines Three Programs of Great Importance to State.

Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of public instruction, in an address to the students in the college auditorium Friday, stated that Georgia believes in giving her youth a good education. On the stage with Dr. Collins were a number of county school superintendents and state legislators. These were introduced by Dr. M. S. Pittman at the conclusion of the address.

The speaker expressed pleasure at seeing so many friends of the college who took time away from their business to attend the assembly program.

"I do not know anyone who is doing a finer piece of work for the youth of this section than your president, Dr. M. S. Pittman," said Dr. Collins.

He then outlined three programs of foremost importance to the state. These were:

1. Program of public health.
2. Program of public school instruction.
3. Program of highway construction.

In explaining why he placed public health above public education, Dr. Collins said, "You must first reach a pupil before you can teach him."

Dr. Collins stated, "What we need is a state-supported, but not state-controlled system of education."

Home Economics In Improved Home

Improvements in T. C.'s new home economics and art departments were completed today under the supervision of Mr. Hoyt Dondon, and the college now has up-to-date arrangements in those divisions.

An electric refrigerator, an electric range, dome lights, extra halls and new cooking tables represent some of the changes and additions that have been made in the home economics department. The heads of both the art and home economics departments think that their departments are now very well equipped for school work.

Offices in the basement, adequate storage space, 20 cook stools, extra halls are other big new helps which have been added. The two new coats of plaster which have been applied show up brilliantly.

In the new sewing tables there are drawers in which students may keep materials.

The home economics department has planned a new dining room suite for the dining hall. They also expect to get in more sewing machines.

Dr. London says that facilities are now adequate for the major needs of the two departments.

GEORGE CARTER,
President, Student Council

STUDENT COUNCIL WELCOMES FROSH

COUNCIL PRESIDENT EXTENDS GREETINGS.

To the Freshmen:

When you entered college last week you made a beginning on the most important and perhaps, most serious part of your educational career. You are put upon your own to make good—or fail. There are, of necessity, many difficulties to face, many new problems to solve, and it will take a man or woman with a determined spirit, an insatiable desire for knowledge, and a good sense of humor to take the blows on the chin and smile.

That might sound somewhat difficult. But to the T. C. student who earnestly throws himself into the democratic spirit of our campus, who makes the same mistake no more than once, who enters into a recreative social life, who is afraid of no person, and who really appreciates the development of his own personality, experiences no difficulty.

There are certain traditions and standards which permeate the spirit of the "blue and white." Now these traditions and standards are yours. Live by them and add to them. One of our first traditions is that of an unquestionable school spirit and loyalty—loyalty to our teams whether they win or lose, loyalty to our high standard of scholarship, loyalty to our freedom of thought, and loyalty to ourselves.

One of the first standards which we treasure highly is our heritage to student government. Every T. C. student must make himself worthy to live up to that standard and thus further promote student participation on our campus.

These are yours now. . . . I hope you will cherish them as your own. It is a pleasant experience for the upperclassmen to welcome you and see that the class of 1940 is by far the best in spirit, loyalty, standard, and scholarship. These are our hopes—what are yours?

Sincerely yours,
GEORGE CARTER,
President, Student Council.

Series of Broadcasts By College Students To Begin in October

A series of radio lectures will be broadcast by South Georgia Teachers College beginning October 2nd and continuing until May 14th. These lectures, to be delivered by Dr. M. S. Pittman, Dr. C. M. Destler, and Dr. Thomas B. Stroup, will be approximately twelve minutes long.

The program will last 30 minutes, including several numbers by students of music and dramatics. Each program will be chosen appropriately, that is, the music or skit will be appropriate to the lecture. For example, such music as negro spirituals and folk songs will be used on the program that includes the topic, "The Southern Negro."

Subjects for lectures for school of the air radio program, 1936-37:

October 2—Introduction: What is the South?

October 23—The Southern People and Their Heritage.

November 6—The Folk: Their Customs, Lore and Handicrafts.

December 4—Southern Labor and Labor Conditions.

January 15—Southern Industry and Business.

January 29—The Southern Negro: His Culture and His Problems.

February 12—Problems in Southern Education.

February 26—Problems in Southern Health.

March 12—Social Reforms in the South.

April 2—The Southern Press and Southern Magazines.

April 16—Southern Literature.

April 30—Fine Arts in the South.

May 14—Conclusion: The Future.

MANY NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY

Library instruction to enable students to find books more easily and quickly will be given in the college library beginning Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to Miss Ray, librarian. This instruction is primarily for the freshmen but any upperclassmen who wish may receive it.

The Dewey Decimal System of classifying books is used and any one familiar with it should have no difficulty in finding any book in the library within a short time.

Last year 2,500 new books were added, bringing the total to 14,000. Of the new books, 251 were contributed by social science classes.

"Gone with the Wind," by Margaret Mitchell, is the most popular fiction book in the library at present.

Miss Ray stated that due to the large number of students it may be necessary for the library to remain open longer than it does at this time. It is opened at 8 o'clock, closed for lunch at 1 o'clock, reopened at 2 and closed for the night at 9:30.

NEW RECORD IS SET FOR REGISTRATION

Enrollment Shows Increase of 58 Over Last Year; 512 Students Enrolled.

Registration for the fall quarter of this year at Teachers College reached a new high, breaking an all-time enrollment record for the regular session with an approximate 512 students up to Thursday afternoon, with several other students expected. This year's record proved to be an increase of 58 student over the 454 who registered for the fall quarter last year.

Until this year's record enrollment the largest number of students registering for the fall quarter was in 1934, in which year 504 students registered.

No authentic figures could be obtained from the Dean's office before the publication of this issue as to the number of students in each class and the percentage of boys and girls in each.

An approximate 250 students, however, will go to make up the freshmen class, according to a statement by Dean Z. S. Henderson. Exact figures for all of the classes were not available.

Forty-Piece Band To Be Organized

Director Deal In Need of High-Stepping Drum Major.

Under the direction of Mr. William Deal the college band now has an enrollment of 30. This number is expected to increase to 40 by Christmas, Mr. Deal stated.

At present the greatest need is for a drum major. "I will welcome anyone who can step high, wide and handsome for T. C.," Mr. Deal said.

Plans are being made to equip the members with uniforms, which will probably consist of white military caps, blue coats, and white trousers. With a well organized and talented group of musicians already assembled, Mr. Deal says he is confident of a successful year.

Dance Orchestra

"The dance orchestra at this time is as good or better than at the end of school last year," Mr. Deal said, when asked about the prospects for the ensuing year. He stated that he is well satisfied with it. The most prominent of the new musicians are: Rushing, piano; Lastinger and Ward, trumpets; Austin, trombone; Booth, sousaphone; Williams, saxophone; Winona Aldred, violin.

Symphony Orchestra

The symphony orchestra will be composed of 30 pieces. The orchestra will furnish music for chapel programs and take part in the music department's broadcasts over radio station WTOG in Savannah.

AN APPEAL

If we are to publish the best college newspaper in the state at Teachers College, we must have the co-operation of every student registered here, the alumni, and friends of the college.

The co-operation must begin at home and we make a sincere appeal to all students to lend a helping hand in the preparation of this publication. Of course, everyone cannot have an item published in each issue of the paper, but we hope that when June comes around all students will have made at least one contribution to the paper.

The complete staff of the George-Anne will be given in the next issue. Those whose names appear on the staff are on trial, and if they do not come across with the goods others will be given their places. The complete staff of reporters, however, will not be announced until the middle of November. All new-comers are urged to contribute to the paper, to give us a trial, and let us give you a trial. We urge you to have a talk with the editor and other members of the staff. Visit the George-Anne offices, and turn in your contributions.

ROBERT F. DONALDSON JR.,
Chairman, Committee on Publications.

TO THE FRESHMEN

When a student enters college, he must leave his old habitual environment and step into a new experience. He is then confronted with the problem of making his own decisions and managing his own affairs. His life is his own to mold it as he will.

The college wants to aid the new student in this new experience. It has many facilities for doing this, but it is up to the individual to take advantage of the opportunities offered. The student organizations, the upperclassmen, and the faculty deem it a privilege to aid you and to be your friend. If you make yourself friendly toward them, lasting friendships will result.

You are a personal representative of the college; therefore you would do well to remember the advice the father gave his son who was leaving for school. He said, "Son, you are taking a good name with you. Bring it back as clean as you carry it away."

Take part in extra-curricula activities, but do not take too great a part until you have become firmly established in your work. A splendid opportunity is offered for the development of qualities of leadership and service not found in the regular curriculum work.

Make the most of your spare moments. You have a library at your disposal with a splendid selection of books, periodicals and newspapers that will aid materially in your education. Time spent with them each day will eventually make you a much better-rounded individual than you could have been otherwise.

Take a little time off each day for your favorite recreation. You have a golf course, tennis courts, swimming pool and other recreational facilities at your disposal. You will do well to make the most of them since a healthy body is necessary to a healthy mind.

We try to make our social life at T. C. as clean, wholesome, and complete as possible. We want you, the freshmen, to join us in our social life. We endeavor to have socials to fit the taste of every student. Come out and enjoy them with us.

Freshman, our college is growing rapidly in number of students and size of plant. Let us all work together and make it grow in character as well.

ALMA MATER

Down among the murmuring pine trees
Where ole nature smiles,
Old T. C. holds up a standard
Known for miles and miles.

Chorus:

Lift the chorus. Speed it onward,
Ne'er her standard fail.
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
Hail, T. C. All hail!

From the blue and broad Atlantic
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting for old T. C.'s spirit,
May she ever grow.

A RURAL DEMONSTRATION PROJECT

Students of South Georgia Teachers College have open to them now a splendid opportunity to go into a rural community and demonstrate what can be done in an educational way with the material available in the community.

The Ogeechee school district in Bulloch county has agreed to co-operate with the college in a rural demonstration project. The teachers in the demonstration are taken from the students who have had teaching experience in the college laboratory school. This offers student teachers an opportunity to confront conditions just as he would in actual professional teaching with the advantage that a trained supervisor will be on hand in the person of Miss Elizabeth Donovan to advise the student teacher. This demonstration gives a number of conscientious students a chance to gain three additional months of teaching experience besides that gained in the laboratory school before going out into the profession.

The student teachers engaged in this experiment have the full co-operation of the college department which corresponds to the school department in which he is working. This is a distinct advantage to the teachers as well as the students since it gives them the benefit of the knowledge and experience of the entire faculty. The college and training school library are at their full disposal as well as all the other facilities that the college possesses.

The college believes that the project will be of a decided benefit in demonstrating what can be done in an educational way in the rural sections of South Georgia if conscientious teachers with the correct training are placed in these vitally important positions in our rural communities.

The possibilities of this experiment are almost limitless. The college will watch with great interest the development of this interesting and important project.

SCHOOL SPIRIT

All you wise freshmen gather 'round close and let's talk school spirit. You know the very life of a school depends upon the school spirit of the personalities of the student body and particularly of the freshman class. The success of the various social functions, athletic functions and other extra-curricula activities depend greatly upon the spirit of our freshmen. To make things simpler, we're depending on you, as freshmen, to make things click.

In previous years the freshmen have manifested a spirit of loyalty and friendship from the first day of their arrival. This year we want more of it. We want to see school spirit, loyalty, energy, pep, and see things click with a bang.

As a tip to the freshmen, this issue of the George-Anne advises, first of all, that all freshmen purchase a rat cap. Second, that courtesy and respect will be expected of the freshmen by all upperclassmen, and third, that the entire freshman class will be subject to rat court which will convene at an early date.

The purpose of this article is to impress upon you of the freshman class, that we're expecting a great deal of you. Be proud of T. C. and make T. C. proud of you. Let's get the old spirit. When we get things going right we'll see if it can't be made contagious. Now the ball's rolling, the door to success is labeled "push," so let's do our share and push it along.

A Hint to the Wise

By the time this issue comes out you freshmen probably will have already received plenty of instructions about what to do and what not to do. Most of these will be of aid in avoiding physical pain or one sort or another.

But there is a form of chastisement, which, while not entailing bodily harm, is quite as painful rest assured.

If you don't believe it just try going to Dr. Stroup's classes and ask to speak to a student.

Therefore these suggestions are given for whatever they are worth. If you are wise you will pay attention to them and try to abide by them.

Don't let Miss Michael see you throw paper on the floor. For that matter, don't throw paper on the floor.

Don't try to convince the professor that you know more than he does. You might, but you will never get him to admit it.

Don't go the library with the intention of filling a date. If you must talk to a young lady, take her by the Little Store and buy her a dope. (This is not a paid advertisement.)

Don't tell everybody about what a big shot you were at home. You ain't at home any more.

DINING HALL MADE LARGER

Recent improvements in the dining hall have made accommodations for the entire student body possible. The enlargement of the building has already been completed and work has begun toward remodeling the kitchen. Electrical apparatus has replaced the old equipment almost entirely.

We can't say much about the Miami game on account of we don't know yet how it is going to come out even though it is already over by the time you read this, and that leaves us only the Mercer game to talk about, which probably shouldn't be mentioned any more than possible. However, it was a good game from certain standpoints, even if we were slightly nosed out.

About the best looking players on our side didn't get a chance to do much on account of it was so seldom that we ever got the ball, which was when they would kick off to us after they had made a touchdown or something. But that was all right because whoever was carrying the ball for us had about as much chance of getting anywhere as a restricted freshman.

Just to sort of give you an idea of how unpleasant it was to expose yourself to one or more of the opposing gents with nothing to hang on to except a football, let us tell you of a conversation we overheard during the third quarter while Jeff Stewart was doing the totting for us. Jeff got the ball and was about half way up to the slaughter when he fumbled, and the ball rolled over by Paul Robertson, so Jeff yelled at Robbie to pick it up. Well sir, Robbie took one look toward the Mercer team and said, "Pick it up yourself, you dropped it!"

Freshman "Spec" Dominy came through the encounter in about as good a shape as did any of the Professors, which is pretty good considering that "Spec" was participating in two sports, football and boxing, at the same time. Although "Spec" seemed to be getting pretty punch-drunk in the first few rounds, in the second quarter he floored his opponent with a left hook that jolted the fans way back up in the thirty-five-cent seats. It took the coach, two trainers, and the water-boy to clear the remains off the field.

Maybe the reason that the Bears made as many points as they did is because the new fast and commodious 'stream-lined' bus that "Big-Hearted" Coach borrowed from the band was just too much for the boys. The bus suits everybody fine except "Abie" Abelson, who gets the cramps on long trips on account of there isn't enough room between the seats for "Abie" to get his feet on the floor.

MIAMI DEFEATS TEACHERS 44-0

Riggs and Grady Star As Profs Hold Hurricane in Second Period.

The Blue Tide went down before a strong Miami University Hurricane in Miami Friday night, 44 to 0. The Teachers, however, held the Floridians scoreless in the second period.

With a light, inexperienced team, Coach Crook Smith carried 25 men to Miami, and after a two-days' ride and a game played under the lights, the Professors put up a stubborn battle, according to word received here Saturday morning. The Miami report stated that Riggs in the line and Grady in the backfield played jam-up football for the Teachers.

Dunn and Dolan did the scoring for Miami with one touchdown from the opening kick-off. The Teachers tightened up in the second quarter and the Floridians were unable to score in that period. Approximately 6,000 viewed the game despite the wet field.

Line-up:

Miami		Teachers

PROFS LOSE FIRST GAME TO MERCER

Bears Present Heavy Team; Profs Lack of Experience Cause of Defeat.

The 1936 edition of the Blue Tide lost its opening game of football 40 to 0 to a heavier and more experienced team from Mercer University on September 18th.

The performance of the local boys was for the most part rugged and unorganized and the Blue Tide was unable at any time during the game to do any substantial ground gaining. Abelson, Dominy, Stewart, Ozier and Riggs played the best game for the Teachers. Bloodworth and Varner did most of the ground gaining for the Bears.

The line-ups:

YMCA PRESIDENT GREET'S STUDENTS

Good old September—the month when all young men and women launch out on another grammar, high school, or college year. While still in grammar school the general attitude concerning school opening is somewhat one of contempt. As the child progresses to high school the young student begins more and more to realize the opportunities which school offers.

Then when the same victim of early education enters college, he or she realizes the benefit of not only an education, but the associations and contacts which one makes by having fellowship with humans.

Each September then, hearts are made glad when upperclassmen return to the campus to be once again with the old students and to meet the "freshies" who join in their ranks. Handshakings and greetings are in order, but there is the sad part, too, that of not having the graduates and the others who have dropped out, back again.

Still a greater joy than any of these is the fact that we are privileged to continue our same religious activities as though we were still at home.

We hope this year to make our religious program for the YPA as attractive as possible, offering you basically, the regular meetings of the two "Y's" as well as church services, Sunday schools, vespers, and young people's meetings such as Epworth League and Baptist Training Union.

And, as I have said on a great many cards to freshmen boys, in behalf of the "Y," I am welcoming you to our school as well as the YPA. May we enlist your efforts to make each a success for the ensuing year?

The first meeting of the YMCA will be announced later. Watch the bulletin board for not only "Y" material, but for all other announcements.

THOMAS SHEAROUSE,
YMCA President.

DIRT

This week's story is dedicated to the freshmen; should I say cute freshmen? Well, personally, I think they are pretty green.

Now, for the girls that want to know which sorority to join, they are all fine, but I think you would enjoy being in the Delta Sigma or the Iota Pi Nu sorority more than any other.

Why was a certain new boy looking for Coach on first floor of East Hall Tuesday night? Don't get alarmed—he thought it was the Administration Building.

The blonde that was sent down to Lik Watkins' room in the wee hours of the morning for food was very successful. She succeeded in getting a few crumbs in a cracker box—what a sport. Waking Lik up.

Dodie Lambright is neglecting some very cute upperclassmen girls for a certain freshman. Look out, Dodie! They all know that Graham gal.

Who is the pretty blonde sophomore that is keeping "Little Mincey" awake at night? Don't mind her, she tells them all the same thing.

Why are all the girls going to the new social science teacher's sister? Maybe they want to hear about her family.

Freshmen girls get together and buy all your chapel seats close to the front and impress the faculty.

Freshmen boys, keep a sharp lookout for your caps. That Sylvania femme has already collected one. Maybe she craves more.

DELTA SIGMA

The Delta Sigma fraternity is making plans for a fish fry to be held at Roger Holland's picnic grounds for its members and a few of its friends.
