PARKS TO SPEAK HERE WEDNESDAY

Regional Meeting G. E. A. In One-Day Session On Campus.

The First district regional meeting of the Georgia Education Association will be held here on October 15th.

Featuring the session here and in the other nine districts of the state will be a fight against the 15-mill tax amendment to the state constitution. Orville A. Park, prominent Macon attorney, will be the speaker on this subject in Statesboro.

Other speakers to be here on October 15th include Dr. Thomas Alexander, of New College, Columbia University, and Dr. M. D. Collins, state superintendent of schools. Dr. Alexander, a pioneer in what is termed the "new curriculum," will appear on all district programs throughout the state. He will discuss fundamental principles of such a curriculum. Dr. Collins will likewise attend all regional sessions, it has been announced by Ralph L. Ramsey, executive secretary of the Georgia Educational Association, who arranged the programs.

Superintendents of the various school systems have been requested to give holidays to teachers on the date of the regional meeting in their respective districts. Schools throughout this section usually are dismissed for the day, and the teachers meet in Statesboro, where ample auditorium facilities are furnished by the South Georgia Teachers College.

Departmental meetings of associations within the state school set-up will be held in the afternoon following the morning session in each district. Among these bodies are the High School Principals' Association, the Georgia Home Economics Association, the Elementary Teachers and Classroom Teachers Association, the Association for Childhood Education, and the Georgia State Music Association.

Prominent state citizens scheduled to take part in the fight against the 15-mill tax limitation are Dr. Guy H. Wells, former president of S. G. T. C., who is now head of the Georgia State College for Women in Milledgeville; Mrs. Donald M. Hastings, of Atlanta, president of the Garden Clubs of the state; W. A. Dobson, of Atlanta, regional Boy Scout director; Dr. S. V. Sanford, chancellor of the University System; Orville A. Park, Macon attorney; Henry T. McIntosh, editor of the Albany Herald; L. W. Branch, of Quitman; Rush Burton, editor of the Lavonia Times, and B. M. Grier, superintendent of Athens schools.

The Division of Languages has purchased a projector and screen for use in the department this fall.

Series of Faculty Lectures Opened By Dean Z. S. Henderson

The first of a series of eighteen lectures to be given by faculty members of the Department of Social Science and the Department of Languages, was presented by Dean Z. S. Henderson Thursday evening.

"Special interest lectures for the humanities and social science courses for the purpose of stimulating students to study further into special fields of knowledge will be given throughout the year by members of the faculty. Dean Henderson spoke on "Primitive Form of the Family," which was the first of a series of eighteen lectures to be given at intervals of two weeks and to run through May 27.

These lectures are of a double feature with material drawn from both the fields of humanities and that of social science. The lectures will be given at 7:15 in the evening and the date and place will be announced each week of the lecture. The next talk will be given by Dr. C. M. Destler on "Dawn of Conscience." Other faculty members who will have a part in the series are Miss Mary Small, R. J. H. DeLoach, C. W. Smith, T. B. Stroup, F. D. Russell, Miss Hester Newton and Robert F. Donaldson.

HEALTH COTTAGE NEAR COMPLETION

New Infirmary Will Care for Twenty-Four Patients
When Finished.

The new Health Cottage is rapidly approaching completion. The wood-work, lighting and plumbing will be completed by October 20th. The installation of the heating apparatus has been held up, however, it is believed that this will be installed by Christmas, otherwise the Health Cottage will be ready for occupancy by the middle of November.

In the plans for the Health Cottage there is to be a reception room, clinic, recitation room for health teaching, private quarters for the nurse, a kitchenette, two private rooms for the isolation of patients with contagious diseases, also two wards with eleven beds in each. In all there will be room for twenty-four patients and the nurse. The Health Cottage was made possible by the co-operation of the WPA.

"The Health Cottage will be an addition that we have needed throughout the history of our school," stated Dr. Pittman.

BLUE TIDE TO MEET UNIVERSITY OF TAMPA IN OPENER SATURDAY

NEW THEATRE TO OPEN TODAY

The new Georgia Theatre is to have its formal opening today, October 12th, and many interesting things have been planned by Manager Hal Macon to introduce to the people of this section one of the prettiest playhouses in the state.

Among the outstanding features of this modernistic theatre is the ladies' lounge on the balcony floor and the varsity shop on the ground floor. The theatre is equipped with a modern air-conditioning system, and the marquee over the entrance is attractively designed with electric lights and neon tubing.

Manager Macon has invited the public to the formal opening today and open house will be held between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. In the evening between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock adults will be served sandwiches and drinks. The formal opening exercises will be at 9 o'clock.

The picture for the opening date is "Ladies in Love," featuring Loretta Young.

REFLECTOR STAFF COMPLETED TODAY

Work on 1937 Yearbook Begun
Last Week As Photos
Are Snapped.

Work on the 1937 Reflector under the direction of Miss Lillian Simmons, editor, and Wayne McKneely, business manager, started last week when photographs of freshmen were taken and the staff organization planned.

Though the theme of the 1937 annual has not been announced, Miss Simmons stated today that several themes are under consideration and with more funds in the 1937 budget the annual, which comes off the press next spring, should be the prettiest ever published by the college here.

FIRST HOME GAME FOR SMITH'S PROFS

Nash Higgins to Bring a Strong Line
And Fast Back Field to Statesboro.

The 1936 football season will officially open here Saturday, October 17th, when the Teachers Blue Tide meet Coach Higgins' Spartans from the University of Tampa.

This will mark the third encounter between the two teams, the Teachers winning the first in 1934 by a score of 21-13. In 1935 the Profs visited Tampa to come out on the short end of a 19-0 score.

The University of Tampa will bring to Statesboro this year one of the strongest teams ever to represent them. They have been undefeated thus far this season, and boast of only one sophomore on the first team. They recently turned back the Newberry Indians by about 50-0, and last week fought the University of Miami which beat the Teachers 44-0, to a 0-0 tie.

The underdog Teachers will go into the game not forgetting the year before last upset handed the Spartans on their last visit here. It is expected that everyone will be in shape by game time, unless additional injuries handicap the Profs during next week's scrimmages.

The Spartans will bring to Statesboro one of the best backfield men ever to perform on the local field in the person of Rudy Rodriguez, who handed the Teachers plenty of trouble in Tampa last season.

The Spartans starting line-up will probably average about 175 pounds against 170 for the Teachers. Their backfield will be light and fast, playing behind a line that boasts a 220-pound guard.

The probable starting line-up will be:

Tampa		Teachers

Muench	LT	Adams

Clinton	C	Riggs
Tramontana	RG	Inman
Farnell	RT	Abelson

Leroy Roughton Editor
William Garrison Business Manager

Several pictures graphically showing freshmen girls on their knees at their task of cleaning the front walk with tooth brushes were made here last week.

This issue of the George-Anne was edited by future members of the staff. The editor, Leroy Roughton, has been away from the campus for more than ten days. Because of illness in Roughton's family he was not able to look after the publication of this issue of the paper.

The men on the campus keep an eagle eye on the progress being made at Sanford Hall. The young ladies on the campus watch the progress also with a touch of envy. The boys have already made plans to move into the new residence hall after the holidays. Last week they selected Dodie Lambright as president of Sanford Hall.

The sixteen institutions of the University System have 10,631 students—the largest enrollment in their history—Chancellor S. V. Sanford has announced. T. C. has 522 students enrolled this fall which is an increase of 67 over last fall. The entire University System has an increase of 936 this fall over 1935. The average increase in the sixteen schools is 58 students.

The editor of the George-Anne and the Faculty Committee on Publications desires to have as many contributors to the paper as possible. In the next issue a complete staff will be announced. Some of the places are undecided and the field is open to all. The next issue will not carry a complete list of reporters but within the next fifteen days a reportorial staff will be added to the regular staff members. All students, including freshmen, are urged to turn in contributions.

South Georgia Teachers College is now the fourth largest unit in the system with the order as follows: University of Georgia, Athens, 2,843; Georgia Tech, Atlanta, 2,014; G. S. C. W., Milledgeville, 1,267, and S. G. T. C., Statesboro, 522. Other enrollment figures that may interest students follows: Georgia Southwestern, 311; Medical College, 148; West Georgia, 303; Middle Georgia, Cochran, 344; South Georgia State, Douglas, 259; Abraham Baldwin, Tifton, 250, and G. S. W. C., Valdosta, 311.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR HEALTH

"Take care of your health; you have no right to neglect it, and thus become a burden to yourself, and perhaps to others."—W. Hall.

It is an accepted fact that a healthy body is one of the greatest assets that an individual may possess. Health cannot be bought at any price; yet it is in the reach of practically all of us if we would only observe the principals of rest, diet, cleanliness, and other health practices with which we are all familiar and make use of the health facilities at our disposal.

Recently we have had the privilege of free medical and physical examinations on our campus. It was a definite problem to get the students to report for their examinations. Finally, the administration had to resort to the high school method of calling students from classes in order to complete the examination while doctors were available.

This year the students had the added advantage of having with the regular examination a laboratory examination for a number of common maladies that are not evident on the surface, yet which sap the mental and physical vitality and strength of the victim. Only about two-thirds of the students participated in these tests. It was found that approximately twenty per cent of these showed evidence of intestinal parasites. Complete returns from the other laboratory test have not been received as yet; however, it is evident that an entirely too large a per cent of our student body is being encumbered by remediable diseases.

Those that took the complete examination will learn of their handicaps and can remedy them. The others will still be uninformed as to the possible handicaps that may be undermining their health. The College Health Department, the Augusta Medical College, and the State Board of Health are co-operating to give us the best health service possible. We, as students, owe it to ourselves and society to take advantage of these services. They will aid us in building the strong mind and body that is rightfully ours.

OUR WEEKLY FEATURE

On A Sunday Evening

"Papa drive back by and let's look at that one up in the tree again. Gee, look at them two over there . . . ain't that a funney lookin' one jumping up and down. Boy, this is fun, coming out every Sunday and watchin' 'em. Don't they act funney Ma? . . . Ma, can I give that big ugly one some of my candy and peanuts? . . . Look out, papa, one of them's trying to catch on to the car . . . one of them awful lookin' ones. . . . Oh, here's a cute little one over here. Gee, I wish we could take him home with us. . . . Pa, can't we take this one home with us . . . can't we, Pa? . . . Pa, can't we?"

"Elmer, I do wish we had a zoo here in our town so we wouldn't have to bring the kids out to look at the college students every Sunday."

Green As Grass

Although the members of the present freshman class are given credit for being the best looking group of students to enroll in several years, they have already made more than their share of the dumb breaks—just a class of beautiful, but dumb ones, eh?

Could you imagine Miss Veazey's expression Friday night when one of the beauties came in at 10 o'clock quite thrilled and said, "Oh, Miss Veazey, I've been having the best time! I've just come from the Country Store."

One of the rats told Mr. Winburn that his credits were being shipped. Can you feature it?

You should have seen the rat wandering around over East looking for Dr. Pittman's office.

Believe it or not, but we can prove where one signed out to go to the postoffice. An upperclassman was awakened in East Dormitory one afternoon by a timid knock on the door and a meek voice, asking if Anderson Hall was on the third floor.

Two freshmen came dragging in from town one afternoon, and when asked if they couldn't catch a ride they said that they were offered two rides, but they were with married men, and they didn't think Miss Veazey would allow them to ride with married men.

Many have called our campus the prettiest in the University System. Let's co-operate with Mr. Garr and keep it clean.

THE KISS

The kiss—of no use to one,
Yet absolute bliss for two.
The small boys get it for nothing,
The young man has to steal it,
The old man has to buy it,
The lovers' privilege,

The hypocrite's mask,
The married man's duty.
To a young girl—Faith.
To a married woman—Hope.
To an old maid—Charity.

WAYNE McKNEELY
Assistant Editor

Well, here we are with four games behind us and six left to go. Not counting the Stetson game, the score for the recently dubbed "Bon-Ami's" is zero against 98 for the other teams. If this keeps up, people will eventually become of the opinion that the Profs are "not-so-hot." After reading J. D. Purvis' story in the Savannah Press about us, a fellow doesn't really know whether to laugh or cry about it. Maybe some day a big-hearted Alumni Association will realize that a winning football team can give a college more reputation and valuable publicity, which will result in tangible benefits, than all the worn-out traditions and intellectual achievements in the world.

Couldn't somebody do something to get us some football players. If not, we'd be a lot better off if we confine our games to junior colleges and prep-schools, and if they're any good we'll still get beat unless players can be given some inducement to come here. Out of the four teams we've played, all four of them pay all the expenses for the football team. With this in mind, our little players who go into it for the "love of the game only" deserve a hand no matter what the score is.

Now, let's look back over the trip to Troy and see if anything worth while happened besides the first down that the Profs made. About the next best thing that took place was when "Flash" Golden and Rep Howard got left in Columbus on the way back. Rep managed to make a touch for his train fare, but Golden came back addressed to Dot Bunn C. O. D. In an interview, Rep said that "Flash" had quit the team 18 times on the way home and that they sure did have good picture shows in Columbus. Golden refuses to make a statement until after he has had a talk with Coach. He has a sneaking idea that the Big Bear left him on purpose.

It won't do "Flash" any good though, because Coacher is in a terrible humor this week on account of losing a couple of months pay betting on the Giants in the World's Series. Any football candidate who was for the Yankees began practicing every day last week with from 15 to 25 laps around the field.

STETSON DEFEATS TEACHERS 12 TO 0

The Stetson Hatters defeated the Teachers in DeLand, Fla., Friday night 12-0. The entire game was played in a pouring rain.

The flood lights were put out for fifteen minutes by an electrical storm and it is estimated that there was three inches of water on the field all during the game.

For Stetson, Warren and Martin were outstanding, with Warren scoring both touchdowns in the first half. Riggs played his usual good game in the line and Grady and Stewart, in the back field, starred for the Profs.

Despite the wet field and slippery ball it was a good game. All scoring came in the first half. Neither team seriously threatened in the last half.

ALABAMA TEACHERS DEFEAT BLUE TIDE

The Teachers College Blue Tide lost their third game of the season by a score of 14-0 to the Alabama State Teachers in Troy, Alabama, October 3.

Alabama scored both of their touchdowns on passes. Other than this, it was for the most part a tight game, with neither team gaining much ground from scrimmage. Both teams were at each others throat during the entire game, and many penalties were made for unnecessary roughness. Rigs, Inman and Grady did the best work for the Teachers.

LITTLE STORE IN ENLARGED QUARTERS

The college Little Store is a little store no more. The book store has been combined with the ice cream, coca-cola and candy store to make a general students' store at the entrance of the dining hall.

Alton Settles, 1936 graduate, will be in charge of the new store. Settles stated today that a complete line of peanuts, stickers, jewelry and students' supplies will be added to the present stock.

PROF FULLBACK

J. C. "FLASH" GOLDEN, Junior, of Collins, who has been out of the regular line-up for the past two weeks with an injured knee, is expected to be back in shape in time for the game with the University of Tampa here on October 17. Golden is playing his second year on the varsity Blue Tide. He is a good passer and illusive ball carrier.

The George-Anne would like to see five hundred students yelling for the Blue Tide at the Tampa game Saturday.

NINE ADDITIONS TO FACULTY HERE

A fast-growing institution necessarily has a fast-growing faculty. This year we welcome nine new instructors to our campus. They are Walter H. Bennett, who takes the place of J. B. Westcott as teacher of social science, comes to us from Duke; Leonard Kent, who teaches commercial course, comes from Dublin public schools; Miss Louise McGilvery is teacher of physical education for women; M. C. Carr is assistant in the industrial arts department, and has charge of the agriculture department; Ivan Hostetler, also an assistant in industrial arts, comes to us from Xenia, Ohio, where he was director of industrial arts; Helen Dunlap is in charge of teaching methods in the Training School; Miss Wakeford, who comes from Young Harris, is a member of the Laboratory School, teaching English and foreign languages; H. J. McCormick, from Brunswick public schools, is assistant director in the Training School, teacher of science; Dr. J. V. Melton, who teaches psychology and education, comes to us from the Fort Worth, Texas, Central High School.

STRAW BALLOT SHOWS FROSH PREFER BLONDS

In an incompleting survey of freshmen minds by Dr. Gidyap (you know how incomplete these freshmen are), it was shown that out of ten freshmen interviewed, who were not too scared to give an opinion, six preferred blonds. (Dr. Gidyap has not been wrong in six centuries.)

Another amazing discovery shown in this week's survey was the fact that seventy-five freshmen were interviewed and all seventy-five voted for the continuation of "rat court." In fact, some wanted to have court twice a week. One freshman was questioned about the chances in the November flag rush, he sated, "Aw, we haven't got a chance." (Watch this paper for further statistics by Dr. Gidyap.)

DR. PITTMAN IN FLORIDA

President Pittman addressed the annual session of the Florida Parent-Teachers Association in Jacksonville last Wednesday evening. Friday morning he made the opening address at the Jeff Davis County Fair at Hazlehurst and Friday evening attended the Teachers-Stetson football game in DeLand, Fla.

WITH THE CLUBS

R. L. Winburn was the speaker at the first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last week. Another interesting program is planned for the meeting next week.

The program for the next meeting of the Y. W. C. A. has been announced as follows: "The Serious Business of Study," Vernice Bacon; "The Serious Business of Play," Minnie Clark. A special musical program has also been arranged.

The Delta Sigma members enjoyed a picnic supper last week at Johnnie Deal's Cherokee Lodge.

Thirty men were present at the first meeting of the Men's Glee Club, and it is hoped that the number will be doubled at the next meeting. The Women's Glee Club hold regular rehearsals every Monday evening. Officers in that organization will be announced within the next few weeks.

The Iota Pi Nu will entertain several guests with a stag supper at the Holland Club House tonight (Monday). The club is also planning for a fall dance to be held in November.

The Bachelors, who meet every other Wednesday evening, are making plans for their regular Hallowe'en banquet. The club announced today that several of their members have been given a dishonorable discharge from the club. Those members were married during the summer.

The Eupicureans entertained their guests with a feast Tuesday night. Margaret Brasington and Priscilla Prather acted as hostesses. Those invited were Mary Mobley, Nora Bob Smith, Eleanor Arnette, Anne Breen, Jewel Vandiver, Carolyn Powell, Virginia King, Rose Lockhart, Syble Strickland, Kitty Edwards and Grace Edwards.

next issue of the George-Anne will carry a list of the plays and the characters.

DIRT

Did you notice the coming-out party on the campus last Sunday night—couples coming out from behind the shrubbery? Remember, girls, the boys are what the girls make them!

What's this about Senator Becton's heated health argument in government class on last Monday. Is he going to be a college professor?

When the faculty choir gets started Dr. Smith will prove an asset if he can learn the words and keep from laughing.

What happened to the keys to Bill Garrison's flivver last Sunday. Bill, someone was holding out on you!

Little Audrey made a break the other day and she just laughed and laughed cause she didn't see anything funny.

What about Frank Mulling's new suit. That red rose really added the touch that makes it worth talking about.

Rat Court, in East Hall, went over big. Let's hope that Freshman Lockhart will hurry and lock the heart she is after. One freshman said that Ben Jones was very sweet. Watch out, Ben!

Wanted—some good scoops for the next edition. Take them to the Dizzer in the George-Anne room.

Well, it seems O. K. if the students tell jokes that are a little bit risky, because it has been heard that the president of the Student Council told one at supper the other night. George, see the little brunette that plays the bass horn and you can get a few more.

There is one case on the campus that is still going strong. Can't some little freshman girl beat Mary Cromley's time with Joe.
