Becky Sellinger

Paper Moon: an economics of gender

With Paper Moon: an economics of gender, Becky Sellinger creates a gallery intervention in the form of the 1970s classic comedy/drama, Paper Moon. Exploring the aesthetics and economics of hospitality, the power of celebrity crushes, and the many ways capitalist economies make something out of nothing, Sellinger's exhibition puts a new twist on her explorations of social conditioning and cultural perceptions of femininity.

Becky Sellinger is an artist living and working in Richmond VA. Becky received her BFA from SUNY Purchase in 2011, attended the Skowhegan School of Painting and Sculpture in 2012, and completed her MFA in Sculpture at Virginia Commonwealth University in 2015. Her work has been included in exhibitions at Practice Gallery, Pelham Arts Center, Artpark, and Socrates Sculpture Park amongst others. Becky's work is humorous, often using her physical body as a site to engage a dialog around social conditioning and cultural perception of femininity.
