CURTIS QUARTET HERE THIS WEEK

Last Lyceum Attraction of Season Will Be Presented Wednesday Evening

The Curtis String Quartet, the final lyceum attraction of the 1936-1937 season, will be presented at Teachers College auditorium next Wednesday evening, February 17, at 8 o'clock.

With a growing appreciation of chamber music apparent throughout the country, much attention is being focused in the Curtis String Quartet. The organization made its first appearance in 1927. On graduating from the Curtis Institute of Music the quartet was granted the name of that institution.

During the past seasons the group has toured extensively, meeting everywhere with outstanding success. The high order of musical talent of the personnel and their thorough mastery of ensemble playing have justly won for the quartet the distinctive position which it holds. The Curtis Quartet gave a concert in Statesboro two years ago and their program was so pleasing that they have been invited for a return engagement.

The Curtis Quartet was honored in 1934 with an appearance before President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their guests at the White house. During the summer of 1935 the quartet was presented in London in concerts given as an American contribution towards the Silver Jubilee celebration. A more extensive European tour was completed last fall, which included engagements in England, Holland, Bel-

PARTY WILL BE GIVEN SATURDAY

House Councils and Matrons of East and West Dormitories To Stage Affair.

A party sponsored by Miss Mamie Veazy, Miss Mary Will Wakeford, and the house councils of East and West dormitories, will be held in the college gymnasium Saturday evening, February 20th, at 8 o'clock, according to announcement of Miss Veazy, dean of women.

The affair will include a musical program in which the college Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. William Deal, will participate. This program will be followed by a dance, music for which will be furnished by the college orchestra.

In former years this event was arranged by Miss Veazy, but this year, since there are two girls' dormitories, it will be a joint affair of both. Miss Veazy is the matron of East Dormitory and Miss Wareford is matron of West Dormitory.

YWCA Soon to Have Kitchenette and A Small Reading Room

A combination YMCA reading room and kitchenette will be established in East Dormitory, according to Helen McGarrah, president of the YWCA. Plans for this work are being considered and Miss McGarrah stated that it would be partially financed from the proceeds of the sale of soft drinks at the basketball games. The sales have been under the direction of the YW and YMCA cabinets and the student council.

The plan is to divide the former infirmary and use half the space for a reading room and the other half for the kitchenette.

An effort is being made to secure money to pay the expenses of delegates to the state "Y" conference which will be held during the spring holidays. Miss McGarrah stated that a large delegation would probably attend from this school. No announcement has been made where the conference will be held.

One-Minute Interviews Reveal Varied Opinions on Improvements

Many and varied were the suggestions for the improvement of the George-Anne which were given by representative students in a series of one-minute interviews last week. A member of the George-Anne staff interviewed 37 students in an effort to obtain an opinion from practically every group on the campus.

The opinions, with the names of the contributors follow:

Frank Mulling: "More accurate proof reading and more accurate information."

Owen McKenzie: "A better editorial page would be appreciated by the students."

Charles Stanfield: "More news concerning students and campus life without a decrease of interest in other departments such as the editorial page."

James Dickson: "A closer connection between the paper and the administration."

Henry Bagley: "A good comic strip should be added."

Harold Rigsby: "The paper should have more dirt."

Douglas Strickland: "More material, a bigger paper."

Hugh Hill: "More current news of student interest."

Frank Aldred: "Increase the number of jokes."

Willard Clanton: "Something should be done to arouse the students in making more contributions to the paper."

Joe Lee: "Should be published more often."

Almand Roach: "Should have news

BACHELORS' MINSTREL SHOW WILL BE PRESENTED FEB. 25

Dancing Class Will Have Formal Affair

A formal dance will be given by the leisure arts dancing class Saturday evening, March 6, in the college gymnasium, according to Mrs. "Honey" Bowen, director of the class. Only members of the class will be allowed to attend the affair, Mrs. Bowen stated.

The group now has an enrollment of 150 members, all of whom are beginners in the art of dancing. Visitors are not allowed in the gymnasium while the class is meeting, according to Mrs. Bowen.

The dancing class is a part of the leisure arts program being sponsored by the college to enable students to learn some beneficial form of recreation for leisure moments.

The dance March 6th will be a form of graduation exercises for the present group, Mrs. Bowen stated.

GALA MUSICAL SHOW PLANNED

Entertainment to Include Music Of Carl Collins' Professors; Also One-Act Play.

Plans are being made by the Bachelors' Club to present one of the most gala entertainments of its kind ever seen here on Thursday night, February 25th. The show will be in the nature of a musical minstrel, and will bring to the local stage the best combined talent available in this vicinity.

The minstrel will be divided into two parts, the first of which will be a one-act play, which is being directed by Kenneth England. The play is of the semi-tragic type, and is highly recommended. The cast will include Kenneth England, George Carter and Thelma Harrison.

The last half of the show will be of a modernistic minstrel type, the script for which is being written by Dodie Lambright and Kenneth England. The feature of this department will be the music of Carl Collins and his Professors, who will be on the stage at all times, and be heard in such songs as "Dinah," "Stardust," "St. Louis Blues," "Swampfire," and others. Featured with the orchestra will be the voices of Cliff Garfield, Roy Dukes and Grace Cromley.

One of the high points in the performance will be a dance by a chorus composed of one dozen of the loveliest girls on the campus. The chorus will wear black and white dancing costumes, which are being designed by Willie Fields. The chorus is being directed by Willie Fields and Mrs. "Honey" Bowen.

As a guest performer, Miss Sara Kate Scarborough, of Summit, will perform on the piano and sing. Miss Scarborough will be remembered by the older students for her remarkable ability to bring jazz out of a piano whenever one was available. She will play and sing an old favorite, "Sweet Mama," which she made famous in the Freshman Class minstrel show in 1932.

Another ever-favorite number will be the dancing of Bobb Harris, who promises to make his end of the show one worth remembering. Besides this, many popular songs will be sung by the Bachelors' chorus in the black-faced circle.

The fun and frolic for the evening will be furnished by four end-men, who will make the time between the numbers enjoyable. The part of "Hambone" will be taken by Willie Fields. Jimmy Dozier will play the part of "Zeke," a college-bred nigger. "Rastus" will be portrayed by Paul

EXTRAVAGANZA

According to the reports being circulated about the campus, this college will be given the opportunity at an early date to view a combination musical show, one-act play, and minstrel that will exceed anything ever presented here in the way of entertainment. The Bachelors' Club is the sponsor of the affair. Dodie Lambright has charge of the minstrel, Kenneth England is supervising the production of the play, and Will Fields and Mrs. "Honey" Bowen are directing the chorus composed of ten of the college girls. Any student who has attended an affair which was under the direction of any one of the above-mentioned people knows that no better group could have been secured to direct the entertainment.

The profits derived from this performance will be donated by the boys to be used for some worthy purpose. They have the interest of the school at heart and should receive the support of every student and faculty member. More power to them!

QUESTIONNAIRE

In an effort to find out why the George-Anne has become more or less of a flat shoe in so far as creating interest among the student body is concerned, a reporter was assigned to interview as many people as possible last week in order to find out what the trouble is. As little partiality as possible was shown regarding who would be interviewed. The main purpose was to get opinions representing practically every group on the campus.

The results of this experiment may be found elsewhere in this issue. The opinions were solicited with the view of securing helpful suggestions on how to improve the George-Anne. No doubt they were given with the same purpose in mind. They were sincerely appreciated since they were evidence that someone is taking an interest in the student newspaper.

Consideration will be given to every suggestion, and those deemed practicable will be adopted as part of the policy of this publication. The George-Anne welcomes at all times criticisms and suggestions.

Also, any contribution will be accepted, considered upon its literary merits, and if found to be usable, it will be published. The college, it is hoped, will eventually sponsor a literary magazine which will be published quarterly or monthly for the purpose of encouraging young writers in their efforts. But until such time as it shall see fit to do so, the George-Anne will give consideration to literary achievement along all lines. There must be, of course, limitations on length, due to the small amount of space available.

For the present, however, the members of the George-Anne staff pledge their efforts to produce a newspaper that will prove a credit to the institution and of benefit to the students.

DIGGINGS

By LEROY ROUGHTON

(Editor's Note: The dirt this week was hoed up by two guest columnists, Willard Cartee and Paul Robertson. Any black eyes which are to be handed out will please be delivered direct to them. And in this connection it might be stated that henceforth no one will be allowed to see a copy of the dirt column until it comes out in the George-Anne on Monday mornings. One couple who figured quite prominently in the news this week came by the office just before the time of going to press and attempted to destroy the manuscript. They were only prevented from doing so at great risk of life and limb by the editor.)

The writers wish it understood that no feeling of personal revenge or bias has prompted our use of the personalities involved. It is our hope that this column will be taken in the spirit in which it is written. We're off!

Have you noticed how well the "Mighty Pressus" has been playing basketball recently? Is it the effect of inspiration? Maybe not, but ain't the Roses sweet?

Jeff Stewart, after his first night in Sanford Hall, awoke and thought he was in a hotel. We wonder if he was thinking about the hotel the football boys occupied when the Teachers played Stetson.

Oooh!—Oooh!—What's the matter, Martha, you can't take it? We must say it is rather thrilling to hear songs that bring back such fond memories.

Smelling salts! Doctor! Camphor! All the basketball boys fainted in Pembroke after the ball game. The "Big Bear" opened up that iron-bound heart and gave each boy a dime. There must not be any "double dip" ice cream parlors in Pembroke.

Deannie Bell is now teaching at Ogeechee. My! That works some hardship on Lil. It means late to bed and early to rise. But you know, persistent effort is necessary to achieve a purpose.

It seems that Golden has been getting some national publicity this season. Even Dr. Barker made some comments about our "Flash Gordon."

What kind of a new game is that, that Owen and Annie Myrle, and Buck and Marjorie were playing Sunday afternoon on the campus? I think they entitled it "Coming Up for Air." It looked like an excellent game. Let's try it sometimes.

We must admit "Meg" is a cute girl, but holding to two is quite a job. However, it is rumored that she has reformed. I wonder which blond she has selected. It certainly is a blondy subject.

Well, we see that David and Vernice are not eating together any more. We wonder if something has gone wrong or if lady luck was just against them.

There seems to be nothing settled about "Little Mincey" yet. At any rate "Little Willie" hasn't committed suicide.

There seems to be a controversy in the Mary and Joe affair, at least it was. What's the matter Joe, is Mary quite contrary?

How many students saw the exhibition that Johnnie and Red put on the night of the Armstrong-Teachers game on East Hall porch? It certainly was an entertaining affair.

One cannot help wondering if any other bottles were found in the room of the girl who had a whole case of Coca-Cola bottles. We have heard it said that a "coke" makes a good chaser, although we are inclined to think that none of our T. C. girls use chasers. They always do the chasing.

A Year Ago In The George-Anne

Program is ready for Progress Day. Freshmen boxers defeat Boys' High. McKinney and Bowen show up best. Teachers beat Mercer for the second time 38-25. First team occupies bench after twelve minutes.

Bachelors' Club will present minstrel, the proceeds of which will go toward purchasing new stage equipment.

Results of questionnaire show cafeteria favored by majority of students; faculty is well liked; hot water, better heating system, new dining hall and more little parlors wanted.

Leap year party to be given by Student Council. Only girls will be allowed to ask for dates. The only stags will be those from East Dormitory. Young ladies must call for and return their dates to their homes. Graham gives hints to boys on how to be sure of a date.

Two Years Ago In The George-Anne

Editor D. B. Turner, of the Bulloch Times, is chapel speaker.

Radutsky states that "Fullback" has the hardest punch he has ever seen for a man his size.

Louis Untermeyer, poet, critic, and anthologist, will give lecture as part of lyceum programs.

Elmer "Carlyle" Brewton announces that he likes Newelle best, "next to Little Mincey."

Blue tide wins from College of Charleston, Middle Georgia College and Georgia Military College.

Fullback Smith and Buster Deal win championship of this section of the state in their respective weight classes, at a tournament held in Savannah.

Teachers are Conference Champions! The two games taken from South Georgia State College made it two to one for the Teachers over the Tigers and sewed up the conference race for "Crook's" boys.

B. M. O. C. announce their ideals of the perfect female. Josh Lanier and Carl Collins both prefer modern girls who do not smoke or drink, who dance well, are home-loving and have no desire to play around. Josh definitely prefers brunettes, but Carl says it doesn't matter to him.

FINE RECORD SET BY 1937 CAGEMEN

Present Prof Team One of Best Ever to Represent This College.

The 1937 edition of the Teachers' basketball team possesses one of the best records on the local court of any team ever to represent this institution. Up until the Stetson game, which was played after this edition went to press, the Prof record at home is perfect. Brewton-Parker Institute, Middle Georgia College, University of Tampa, Mercer University, University of Florida and Armstrong Junior College fell before the Profs in order on the local court. In six interscholastic encounters on the local court the Profs have run up a total of 244 points to compare with the combined 148 for the opposition.

A summary of the entire season (not including the Stetson game) is as follows:

Teachers . . . 29	Armstrong . . 31
Teachers . . . 34	B.-P. I. . . . 9
Teachers . . . 45	M. G. C. . . . 31

W. A. A. Council Gave Picnic at Hollands' Pond Friday Night

The members of the W. A. A. Council enjoyed a picnic at Roger Holland's pond last Friday night. Among those present were Dorothy Bunn, Cloteen Music, Elizabeth Watkins, Jean Smith, Priscilla Prather, Margaret Brasington, Dora Brinson, Sara Lou Darby, Mrs. "Honey" Bowen and Miss Louise McGilvery. After a six-mile hike the girls were served rolls, coffee and cocoanut cake.

Plans are being made for the annual W. A. A. house party which will be held in the spring quarter. St. Simons Island has been selected as the place of revelry. It is hoped that many old members will be able to join the local group for the occasion.

Basketball season has opened with a bang! Much progress and interest has been shown, as evidenced by the large number of girls that have come out for practice.

One game has already been played in the Freshman-Sophomore tournament. The Sophs won by a score of 41-31. Two more games will be played, one on Friday and the other at a later date. These two games will end the 1937 basketball season.

AT THE MOVIES

Monday and Tuesday the Georgia Theatre will present Cecil B. DeMilles production "The Plainsmen," starring Gary Cooper and Jean Arthur. The picture deals with the love story of "Wild Bill" Hickok and "Calamity Jane" in a setting of the old West, where men were men and women knew it.

Dick Powell and Joan Blondell will appear Wednesday and Thursday in one of the top musical shows of the season, "Gold Diggers of 1937." Dick sings and Joan wisecracks and a merry time is had by all.

On Friday will be Edward Everett Horton in "Let's Make a Million." This picture brings to the screen again those "pixilated" sisters who made such a hit in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town."

A double feature program will be presented Saturday which includes "The Captain's Kid," featuring May Robson, Guy Kibbee and Sybil Jason, and "The Big Show," starring Gene Autry.

From what we hear spectators at the Bachelors' Minstrel should bring their own soap and towel.

PROFS TO PLAY MERCER AGAIN

Will Encounter Bears on Their Home Court in Macon Next Thursday Night.

The Prof basketballers will write the concluding chapter in their 1937 record when they meet the Bears of Mercer University in Macon Thursday night.

The Bears will be out to revenge a 36-31 loss handed them by the Smith men on their last visit to the local court. The Professors will find rough going this time, as the Bears will be much more stubborn on their own court.

The game Thursday night will mark the farewell exhibition of George Carter, star forward of the Teachers' quint. Carter has been a member of varsity Blue Tide for the past two seasons, and has been exhibiting a superb style of play that will make his presence missed next year.

Mary Cromley and Leroy Roughton have been selected to represent the Teachers College at the southeastern division conference of International Relations Clubs which will be held at Auburn, Alabama, February 19-20.

The delegates will extend the conference an invitation to hold its 1938 meeting at this college. A written invitation was secured from President M. S. Pittman which will be given to the conference at the meeting in Auburn.

"Major Issues Before Congress" was the topic of discussion at the last meeting of the local club which was held at the home of Christine Caruthers in Statesboro. President Roosevelt's plan for reorganizing government agencies was discussed in open forum.

IOTA PI NU

The Iota Pi Nu fraternity will give a dance in the Statesboro Armory February 27, according to announcement of Willard Cartee, secretary of the club. The present plans are to have music furnished by Carl Collins and his Professors. Cartee stated that a large number of the former members of the club have been extended invitations to be present at the affair, and also that this promises to be one of the outstanding social events of the winter quarter.

TRUE TO FORM

By BOBB HARRIS

Elmer O'Toole, the "Charlie College" of the campus, arose majestically, looked at the roaring crowd, then at the coach, and followed his chest out onto the court.

O'Toole, who was the main cog in the athletics of his alma mater, had of course cut practice for three days before the big game. He had also been conditioned in one of his required subjects and had sassed the Dean. He had been found at "The Hot Spot" the night before at the bottom of a large neat pile of collegiate drunks. As was the custom of "The Noble Knights of College Athletics," he had also slightly busted a laig yesterday. It was well taped up and he had told the girls that he doubted whether or not he would be able to win the game. Just yesterday he had been seen with a couple of the beauties, smoking a big, black cigar and eating a bar of fudge.

To top it all he had told the coach, this morning, that he didn't know whether he even wanted to play tonight or not. His grandmother would rather he would spend his time more constructively. "But if you need me, Coach, you know me," he had said. (Imagine what the coach said.)

By and by the big night had come, the game had started, and the score had become twenty to nineteen in favor of the enemy. Thirty seconds to play! The coach had motioned to "Hurricane" (that's what his admirers called him.)

Now he was in. The crowd grew tense. You could hear the quietness—you could hear the temperature fall. The timekeeper reached for his whistle. "Our boy" reached for his lame knee. He gave a grand imitation of "Frankenstein" and straightened up. Now he assumed that dogged look of determination (or whatever you call that look that's on the star's face at the big moment). The whistle was in the timekeeper's mouth! The ball was in Elmer's hands. He passed, swept up, lunged for-
