Georgia Southern University Police Department's K-9 to get body armor

In the coming weeks when Deimos, Georgia Southern University Police Department's Dutch Shepherd K-9, sniffs around Hanner Fieldhouse or searches through Allen E. Paulson Stadium, he'll be clad with a bullet and stab protective vest thanks to a charitable donation from the nonprofit organization Vested Interest in K9s Inc.

FMAD senior earns apprenticeship with global fashion company

Senior fashion merchandising and apparel design (FMAD) student Kyler Arnold has had an eye for fashion and a love of design since before he can recall. So when he entered the Wrangler Competition at Greensboro Fashion Week in September, it was no surprise that his passion earned him an apprenticeship with the global denim company.

Department of Biology researchers bring fish hatchery back to life

Although the Bo Ginn Fish Hatchery has been idle for many years, the Georgia Southern Department of Biology will soon put it to use to conduct cutting-edge research. The University signed a memorandum of understanding with the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service (USFWS) to allow University biology students and faculty to use the facility, located in Magnolia Springs near Millen, Georgia, as a resource to better understand the future of ecosystems in the southeastern U.S.

Shout Outs

What made you fall
for Georgia Southern?

"The people and the campus. I had already been accepted before I ever visited, and when I came down for a weekend to visit I felt like I had come home. It's still my favorite place on Earth!"
