

Georgia Southern University

Georgia Southern Commons

The George-Anne

5-10-1937

The George-Anne

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne>

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "The George-Anne" (1937). The George-Anne. 155.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/george-anne/155>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by Georgia Southern Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in The George-Anne by an authorized administrator of Georgia Southern Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

BIG JOINT DANCE IS PLANNEDCOLORFUL MAY DAY PAGEANT IS WITNESSED BY LARGE AUDIENCE*VERNA LASSETTER CROWNED QUEEN

Dance In Gymnasium One of Most Enjoyable Even Given At This College.

Before an audience of twelve hundred people Verna Lassetter was crowned Queen of the May to reign over the May Day Festival Friday afternoon in the outdoor theatre of the college. The scene was a riot of color with the lovely dresses of the Queen, Maid of Honor Grace Cromley, and the Ladies in Waiting contrasting with the gayly colored costumes of the dancers assembled to pay homage to them.

The festivities were concluded Friday evening in the Gymnasium with a dance at which the visitors on the campus mingled with the college students to make the affair one of the most enjoyable ever held here. Music was furnished by Carl Collins and His Professors.

The ceremonies Friday afternoon were featured by a number of folk dances presented by girls of the physical education classes and children in the laboratory school.

At the conclusion of these dances the winding of the five May poles was executed and the Queen awarded a box of candy to the group giving the best performance.

This was followed by a May Day

See QUEEN, Page 3

YMCA PLANNING FALL RETREAT

Will Be Held Near Guyton Next Fall To Acquaint New Officers With Duties.

The first fall retreat of the Y. M. C. A. in its history will be held next fall, according to Tom Shearouse, president of the Y. M. C. A. The retreat will begin two days before school starts, probably at Riverside Park near Guyton. The purpose of the retreat is to acquaint the new officers with their duties and responsibilities to the Y. M. C. A. There will be outside speakers, study groups for special problems on the campus and such recreations as swimming, fishing and soft ball.

Money to build the ping pong table for Sanford Hall will be taken from

See YMCA, Page 3

WILLARD CARTEE
STUDENT COUNCIL
PRESIDENT-ELECT

Wins Over Hemans Oliver By Narrow Margin of Eight Votes.

By the narrow margin of eight votes Willard Cartee defeated Hemans "Goat" Oliver in the race for the presidency of the Student Council which was held Tuesday, May 4. The race was the closest that has been held at this college in recent years, the total vote being 424. Cartee received 216 and Oliver 208.

Vernice Bacon was unopposed for the office of vice-president as was Priscilla Prather for secretary.

Senior Class

Roy Rabun was elected president of the senior class in the class elections held during chapel hour Tuesday. Other senior class officers elected are: Leroy Roughton, vice-president; Julia Reese, secretary; Howard Waters, treasurer; Fay Foy, J. C. Golden and Saralu Darby, Student Council representatives.

Junior Class

David Proctor was elected president of the junior class at the same time. Other officers elected are: Eloise Mincey, vice-president; Martha Hardin, secretary; Copeland Ozier, treasurer; Johnny Deal and Eli Hill, Student Council representatives.

Sophomore Class

Buck Tinley was elected president of the sophomore class. Jimmie Hines was elected vice-president, and Miriam Girardeau was elected secretary. A run-over election was held in chapel Friday and Jewel Vandiver defeated J. D. Lee for the office of treasurer and Tom Vandiver defeated O. B. Inman for Student Council representative.

ENGLAND TO LEAD DISCUSSION

Kenneth England will lead the Stephens-Oglethorpe Society Wednesday night in a discussion of the essays, novels and short stories of Willa Cather. A debate on the question of the supreme court will be in charge of Hemans Oliver.

Mr. Singley (in middle of joke): Have I ever told the class this joke before?

Class (in unison): Yes.

Mr. Singley: Good, you will probably understand it this time.

CARL COLLINS AND HIS PROFESSORS TO PLAY FOR ANNUAL FRATERNITY HOP*England Rants Again;
This Time on Music

By KENNETH ENGLAND

The music memory contest should serve as a stimulant (not alcoholic) to this music-loving student body who received their music books (Reflectors) last week.

It is giving everyone a chance to display his knowledge of composers and compositions. It is well known that all of the students have an extensive knowledge of the classic music of the ages. It is really remarkable that so few students know anything about "Dinah" and the "Organ Grinder's Swing." But this, of course, is explained by the fact that the musical tastes of the students are far above the level of that rhythmic emanation of tones of different frequency and wave length, commonly called "swing."

The almost unanimous interest in the contest will be heightened since it is known that many of the selections were perhaps written for people whom we all know.

"The Andante" from the "Surprise Symphony" was no doubt written for Dr. C. M. Destler when he found Mrs. D. after she had been in Haydn for so many years.

When Wagner wrote the "Bridal Chorus" in "Lohengrin" he still had hope for Miss Ray. Brahms was particularly interested in Mr. Donaldson when he composed the "Cradle Song." Brahms was the first Walter Winchell.

The "Funeral March" was an expression of genius from Chopin just before going to class under a certain faculty member. Handel had in mind the seniors who graduate on June 8

See ENGLAND, Page 3

KAY BRICE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF VESPER CHOIR

Kay Brice was elected president of the vesper choir at a meeting held in room 7 Wednesday night. Also elected at the same time were the following officers:

Willard Clanton, vice-president; Ernestine Monsees, secretary; Sue Zetterower, treasurer; Tom Bridges, social chairman; Polly Connor, co-chairman of the social committee.

Mrs. Z. S. Henderson was again elected as director of the organization for next year.

Three Hundred Are Expected At Dance

Iota Pi Nus and Delta Sigmas Will Entertain With Banquets.

To the music of one of Georgia's leading swing bands, members of the Delta Sigma and Iota Pi Nu fraternities and their guests will dance in the Statesboro Armory from 8 to 12 o'clock Saturday evening, May 15, when Carl Collins and His Professors will furnish swing, syncopation and rhythm for the sixth annual joint dance.

Preceding the dance, the two fraternities will entertain their dates at their individual banquets which will be held downtown at two of the leading hotels. The Iota Pi Nu banquet will be given at the Norris Hotel and the Delta Sigma will be held at the Jaekel Hotel.

At this time the old members of the clubs will be welcomed back and introduced to the new men who have joined since their departure from T. C.'s campus. These banquets will begin at 6 p. m. Saturday, according to announcement of the presidents of the two clubs.

One hundred and fifty stag invitations have been mailed out to friends of the members on the campus and elsewhere. It is expected that three hundred people will be present at the dance.

Featured with the orchestra as vo-

See DANCE, Page 3

One-Act Comedy By James Lynn Will Be Presented in Chapel

"Be a Good Sport," a modern, one-act comedy written and directed by James Lynn will be presented during the assembly hour Wednesday, May 12, in the auditorium.

The cast of characters is as follows: Dr. Dunn, James Hussey; Alice Dunn, Doris Wallace; Fay Dunn, Meg Gunter; Tony Burke, Cecil Stanley; Polly Sims, Louise Bennett.

The play was written by Lynn in connection with the work being carried on in the leisure arts creative writing class under the direction of Dr. T. B. Stroup, head of the English department. Last quarter a play written and directed by James Hussey was presented in chapel and met with approval. The title of that presentation was "Sally."

The George-Anne

Established 1927

Member Georgia Collegiate Press Association

Published biweekly by the Students of South Georgia Teachers College, Collegeboro, Ga. Address Communications to Box 183, Collegeboro, Ga.

Subscription Rate: 10c per Copy, $1.00 per Year.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Collegeboro, Ga., under temporary permit.

Leroy Roughton Editor
Shields Kenan Managing Editor
Goat Oliver Circulation Manager
Joe Lambright Sports Editor
Wayne McKneely Assistant Sports Editor

Editorial Staff

Frances Cone, C. D. Sheley, Vivie Johnson, Will Fields,
Kenneth England, Carolyn Blitch, Ruth Pound,
Bobb Harris, Charlie Sheppard,
Charles Downs.

Unless something is done pretty soon, people are likely to get the idea that T. C. students are powerful snooty, the way they hold their noses when they have to walk from the campus down to the highway.

Well, the election is over and everyone seemed to take it in fine spirit. The losers were good losers and the winners were good winners. May it always be thus with T. C. men and women on the campus and in after life.

The George-Anne welcomes those new students who have entered for the short spring term. We hope that you will like it here so much that next fall you will come back and become one of our regular students. But whether you do come back or not, remember that you will always find a welcome awaiting you.

The George-Anne would like to take this opportunity to commend the men who are members of the two fraternities on the campus for their decision to come together and co-operate with each other as regards their dance next week end. This campus is entirely too small and the spirit in the past has been entirely too friendly for jealousies to cause the discontinuance of an affair which has come to be looked upon as a tradition at this school.

ROSENWALD SCHOLARSHIPS

T. C. is indeed fortunate to have as its president a man whose friendship with those who are in position to help the college has enabled the college to secure generous donations.

The recent gift of $25,000 for thirty scholarships from the Rosenwald Fund makes a total of $55,000 from that Fund to Teachers College. Last year a gift of $30,000 over a period of five years was provided by the Fund. With that gift three additional faculty members were employed and the conduct of the Ogeechee School as a laboratory school was made possible. The new gift of $12,500 for a period of two years will provide thirty full time scholarships. One faculty member, who will serve as the guide for these thirty students will also be provided.

The benefactions are made possible because of the interest the Julius Rosenwald Fund has in rural life and the friendly relationship existing between the Resenwald Fund and President Marvin S. Pittman.

The big impetus to the band, three years ago, was made possible by a gift of Mr. Maurice Fels, of Philadelphia, another friend of Dr. Pittman. That gift plus donations by local citizens made possible one of the outstanding college bands in Georgia.

Again, we say, Teachers College is fortunate to have as president a man whose friends are generous towards the college.

DIGGINGS

Ann doesn't seem to be keeping up with B. H. so well lately—Mary M. for the picnic (by the way, she is trying to get several of the girls' boy friends) and Martha R. for the dance last Saturday.

Maybe we haven't heard all about Saralu's trip to Athens. She is still talking about it.

Why does Verna want to shake off Jim? She's probably thinking of someone else—or is Jim?

Well, "The Old Digger" is expecting plenty of hot copy concerning a certain Pi Nu boy with curly hair now that one of his ex-sweeties is back on the campus for the short term.

Wonder how many commercial students wrote in annuals or let others write in theirs—Pet's (L. R. to youse) is spotless.

Carol played around again, but we believe Cope has her back in hand now.

Did we see right or were we supposing Snag had a date Sunday night?

Josh said he wasn't coming to see Grace as maid of honor because he had seen her as maid of honor for quite awhile now.

One person gave us some good tips about Georgia history trip. However, he refused to mention any names, and that's what we want. Especially, the bunch that went to the Tavern Saturday night.

Someone told us that Willie Fields would like to get hold of a good umbrella to put up in his window at nights. You know, Willie has an end room near the fire escape.

Charlie Shepard just dropped by to inform us that he didn't regret the fact that Fay Foy was on that history trip with him. We don't know exactly what he meant.

And here's a real scoop for you. How would a certain professor feel if he knew that a theme which he gave a student a good grade on had already been published in one of the more rowdy college humor magazines.

Someone mentioned the fact that Mitch had got a new Deal. We prefer Miss Deal.

Wonder how much John Varnedoe would pay to hear the plain and simple opinion of him held by a certain red-haired lady?

Some of you campus Romeos are missing a swell opportunity if you don't step in and take up where Peck left off.

By next issue we hope to be able to publish some of those cute poems that Kenneth and Minnie write to each other in their afternoon "lit" class.

And speaking of hoping to be able to publish something, Helen surely put the quietus on Paul—'cause he won't tell a thing. Suppressing news, is he. Well, we'll see about that.

ODDITIES of NATURE

By BOBB HARRIS

The Praying Mantis

The Gay Cowbird

Stealing around in the night, attacking law-abiding birds, and causing a general feeling of unrest among the citizens of the bird world, the notorious cowbird is named public enemy No. 1 of the "feathered nation." His habits are similar to those of the cowboy in the days of the lawless west, combined with those of the drug store cowboy of today.

He is a strong supporter of "Squatter Sovereignty." Wherever he hangs his hat is home as long as the legitimate owner is smaller or weaker than he. He chooses as a mate the kind of girl that would kick you in the stomach while your back was turned. She goes around and lays her eggs in the nests of other birds while they are away from home, and because of their limited knowledge of math the poor victim never knows the difference until hatching time. The can't count their chickens either before or after the eggs are hatched. When one of the sufferer's children turns out to be large and ugly and a regular rough neck she just accepts the "black sheep" theory and does her best to provide a good environment for him. Many times the young rascal bumps a few of his foster brats off and gets more worms for himself. He grows up to believe that "What's yours is mine and what's mine is mine." He never develops any family pride. As soon as his keeper grows weary and worn from hauling his victuals to him he pushes her face in and goes on his reckless way.

The fact that he doesn't bum cigarettes and rides and never tries to croon keeps him from being a total, grand, hopeless rascal.

"It has been said that the case of the cowbird and the cow is the only instance where two really can live as cheaply as one."

YMCA, from Page 1

the Y. M. C. A. budget instead of being collected from the students it was decided at the "Y" meeting on Wednesday night. The table is to be built in the industrial arts shop and placed in the lobby of Sanford Hall for the use of all the boys. The table will be of regulation size.

The new sponsors of the "Y" elected Wednesday are Miss Sophie Johnson, Mr. R. L. Winburn and Dr. T. B. Stroup.

QUEEN, from Page 1

Gallop in which members of the audience were participants. Among notables who joined in the merry-making were Mr. Marion Smith, chairman of the board of regents, and President M. S. Pittman.

When this dance was finished the audience rose and remained standing while the Queen and her court retired from the throne.

The college band under the direction of Mr. William Deal was seated under a group of trees near the throne and furnished music for the occasion.

SPORTS

PROF SPORTOLOGY

Well, here I am with quite a talk to make this column readable at all after "Wolf" Roughton's swell job of pinch-hitting last issue. And speaking of pinch-hitting, the old soft-ball league is sure functioning in fine style this spring. Everything is going well except that the players living in Sanford Hall (practically all of them) have to take a cold shower every afternoon when they finish playing. For a while the water was luke warm, and that although far from ideal, was tolerable, but here lately the water has been about the right temperature for drinking purposes and nothing else, especially bathing and shaving. Besides other ill effects, the cold water just about ruins the dress night practice, because when a boy finishes his frigid dip on Wednesday afternoon, he naturally feels that he isn't being co-operated with, and hence refuses to co-operate or dress for supper, and you can't blame him.

This column is going to endeavor to bring to you in the next few issues something unique in the way of all-star or all-league teams or something like that. We're going to look everything over in the soft ball league, and then publish our own pick of the all-dud team from the league. The players on this team will constitute the worst players that can possibly be found for each position. Of course, there will be a lot of competition for some of the places, such as catcher (m m), but somehow we'll try to make a fair choice, so that the members of said team will be a real distinction.

Getting back to the hot water, here's one that's too good to let pass. It seems that John Varnedoe was making a complaint to one of the local profs about the cold showers. "Well," said the prof, "every morning when I get up I take a cold shower and feel rosy all day." John looked a bit puzzled and said, "That's all right about the cold shower, but tell me more about this Rosy."

I know she,
I love she,
For she I would die,
She told I
She love I,
But damn she,
She lie.—Navy Log.

STEWART'S TEAM LEAGUE LEADERS

Have Won Five and Lost None During First Half of the Soft Ball Tournament.

With Stuffy Stewart's hard-hitting aggregation way out in the lead, the half-way point has been rounded in the first half of this year's soft ball season. Most of the games have been nip-and-tuck affairs with plenty of excitement both for spectators and players.

The following is the standings of the teams up through last Thursday's games:

Team	Won	Lost	Percentage
Stewart	5	0	1,000
Coach Smith	2	1	666
Delta Sigma	2	2	500
Lee	2	2	500
Abelson	2	2	500
Iota Pi Nu	1	3	250
Dozier	0	4	0

Track Team Ready For Stiff Competition; Meet Douglas Tuesday

After several weeks training under the direction of Coach Breezy Wrinkle the 1937 edition of the Blue Tide track team is ready to face the difficult schedule that is before them.

With tentative matches scheduled with Mercer, B.-P. I. and others, the Teachers expect a good record on the track this year. The team will leave tomorrow for a return meet with the Douglas South Georgians.

With only five men left from last year's squad, Coach Wrinkle has developed several freshmen who are now ready for college competition. Looking best among these are Winn, Waters, Hodges, and Woods, all of whom were at one time district winners in high school. The pace has set by three veterans, Harris, McKneely and Oliver.

The team got off to a good start this season in two pre-season practice meets with the Statesboro and Savannah high schools, defeating both of these aggregations. Keeping their slate clear, the Profs took Douglas in the first scheduled meet of the season 64-44. Harris, of T. C., and Lanier, of Douglas were the outstanding men of the meet.

Miss Veazy (in the drug store): Have you any Lifebuoy?

Buddy: Set the pace, lady, set the pace.

ARMORY BOWLING ALLEY
"Crow" invites everyone to bowl for health. Pointers to beginners. Open 'til 11:30 nights. 10c a game.

"The Romp" Given By Bayside Players

By KENNETH ENGLAND

Last Tuesday night was a gala occasion for confirmed theatre-goers. The reason for such was the presentation of that classic masterpiece of the 18th century, "The Romp." The Bayside Players of Savannah, gave the play, using home talent.

The actors and actresses are participants in the WPA theatre movement. In giving the play the director stuck very closely to the 18th century tradition, according to Dr. T. B. Stroup.

The play is not one of the outstanding plays of the period, but the actors did their best. Those who deserve special compliments are Miss Frederica Oliver, sister to our own "Goat," and Miss Hunt for her portrayal of Miss Prissy.

There was a Mrs. A. Frost who rather over-played Cousin Molly Cockney. She married the brother of Jack Frost. There was also a Miss Axelrod in the play, but we were surprised to find that "Miss Differential" and "Sir Eustace Eustis Hepplewhite" did not appear in the play.

The music for the play was composed in the typical 18th century manner by Miss Leila Sack, of Savannah, for her own amusement. The composer officiated at the pianoforte.

After all is discounted it is really the setting and perhaps the costumes that actually deserve any praise. The play, however, was quite an experience for all those who saw it.

Eighteen Students Attend Georgia History Trip

Eighteen members of the Georgia history class which is taught by Miss Hester Newton visited scenes of interest in Southeast Georgia last week.

The group left Friday afternoon in the college bus and went to Savannah, where they spent the night. Saturday they continued their trip down the coast to St. Simons Island, where they remained Saturday night, and then began the return trip arriving in Statesboro Sunday night.

Those who made the trip included Vernice Bacon, Isobel Sorrier, Doris Stephenson, Sara Plemmons, Irene Enecks, Lillian Eason, Shields Kenan, Fay Foy, Dessie Holton, Virginia Hughes, Marjorie Maddox, Charles Shepard, Douglas Strickland, Jeff Stewart and Ben Strickland.

Places of interest visited by the group include: Telfair Art Academy, Wormsloe Gardens, Bethesda Home, Fort Pulaski, and famous Midway church.

W. A. A. TO HAVE PARTY TOMORROW

The members of the W. A. A. will be entertained with a supper and picture show party tomorrow night.

The party will dine at the Tea Pot Grille and then go to the Georgia Theatre to see Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald in "Maytime."

A house party which had been planned at St. Simons for last week end was not held.

A SCHOOL SUPPORTER
THACKSTON'S DRY CLEANERS
HOBSON DuBOSE, Prop.
Agents:
1st and 2nd Floors—Jimmie Dozier
3rd Floor—Bill Ware
12-Hour Service to Campus.

JOHNSON HARDWARE COMPANY
"You Are Always Welcome At Johnson's"
STATESBORO, GA.

THE FAIR STORE
Make your headquarters at the Fair Store.
The fairest store in town.
7 NORTH MAIN ST.

RADIOS and REPAIRS
BLITCH RADIO SERVICE
43 East Main St. Phone 147

VISIT OUR BATHING SUIT DEPARTMENT
Where you will find the smartest styles and the newest materials, including beautiful prints, brocaded satins and lovely knits.
RENETTE'S
SMART WOMEN'S AND MISSES' WEAR

COLLEGE HUMOR

Liquor store slogan: "The Customer is Always Tight."

A grass widow is the wife of a vegetarian.

Most of the houses in France are made out of plaster of Paris.

Adam: "Eve, you've gone and put my dress suit in the salad again."

She: I hear that play last night was simply terrible! Filthy!

He: My dear, it was even better than that.

Roach: How was the punch at the party the other night?

Cobb: It was pretty good except them darn fish kept getting in my way.

A chiropractor is a man who gets paid for what any other man would get slapped for.

If all the students who sleep in classes were laid end to end they would be much more comfortable.

Aunt Sophie: Dodie, Dodie! Are you spitting in the fish bowl?

Dodie: Nope, but I'm coming close.

Ike: What did that cute little French girl say when you asked her if she kissed and petted

Mike: Adieu.

Ike: You lucky stiff—Western Reserve Red Cat.

"Do you mean to tell me," the judge said, "that you murdered that poor old man for a paltry three dollars."

"Well, judge, you know how it is. Three bucks here and three bucks there—it soon mounts up."—Rice Owl.

"Have a drink."

"I beg your pardon sir, I'm a Pi Nu."

"Pardon me, here's the bottle."

He: You're Mae West, aren't you?
She: No. I'm June West, 30 days hotter than Mae.—Colgate Banner.

Then, there was the young co-ed who, having been told by the professor to put her pledge at the end of her exam paper wrote "Alpha Omicron Pi."—Maryland Old Line.

While strolling through the post-office one day, in order to pick up our huge fan mail, I stopped in front of the bulletin board. A sign on it read: "Wanted, musicians to form new orchestra. Leave name and instrument in P. O. Box 2178." Some piano player is going to have a hell of a time.—Minnesota Ski-U-Mah.

Members of Industrial Arts Class Go To Augusta

The members of the industrial arts class made a trip to Augusta Friday, April 30, with the purpose of studying first hand the method of manufacture of some of the commonly used materials of industry.

Three well established concerns, doing business in lumber, iron and brick, were visited by the members of the class.

The trip proved to be educational and had advantages over the textbook method, according to Knapp Bodiford, a member of the class.

Several other trips are being contemplated and, if these prove to be successful, trips to some of the leading industrial plants will probably become a definite part of the program in this and other related courses.

At the last meeting of the club it was voted to extend invitations for membership to the following students: Frank Hook, Hemans Oliver, Keith Smith and William Adams. These men are either majoring or minoring in industrial arts.

DANCE, from Page 1

alist will be "Cliff" Garfield, whose singing has never failed to please when he appeared at the college dances.

The orchestra, known throughout the state for its popular arrangement of dance tunes in the swing manner, will play from a platform at one end of the Armory. The orchestra stand, as well as the rest of the Armory will be decorated in gay colors of the two fraternities.

Confetti and streamers will be distributed to the dancers after intermission.

ENGLAND, from Page 1

when he wrote the "Hallelujah Chorus."

We have it on the most reliable authority that Liszt improvised the "Hungarian Rhapsody" after he had eaten a meal in the college dining hall. We know, too, that Ned Warren has had a predecessor, because MacDowell also wrote "To a Wild Rose."

The "Cannibal Song" is well represented—you know, the "Minuet."

Rubenstein wrote the "Melody in F," but certain students (ho-hum) have heard the "Melody in H" after too many steins of beer (yes beer). In all likelihood Sir Arthur Sullivan was thinking of Senator Beeton when he wrote "Onward Christian Sol-

THE THUNDER CLOUD

(The following poem written by Milton Findley was recently awarded second place in a contest among college students by the Georgia Poetry Society. The contest was open to students throughout the United States.)

Slowly up the Western sky
Your fleecy head comes creeping.
The evening sun, whose face you hid,
Paints all your edge with silver.
The rumble of your thunder's roar
Steadily draws nearer.
The silver fades, your face grows dark;
All nature waits a-quiver.
Gloom fills the air. A sullen lull
Has warned us of your coming.

Lightning flashes split the heavens
Saluting with their thunder.
The patter of the first few drops—
A scurrying gust of wind,
Then the deluge, the deafening roar
Of howling wind and thunder.
All nature drinks and you pass on.
The sun gives us a rainbow.
That says you came to do your work
As God has planned it.

—Milton Findley.

diers." O Liszt (list) to Doris Wallace's voice when she tells you of "Liebestraum" (Love's Dream). Something might come of it.

This elucidating material is, I am sure, most satisfactory. So if there is music in your mouth, heart, soul, or wherever music is; express it in your appreciation for the genius of Bach, Bizet, Liszt, Handel, Strauss, and the others who highlight music history. The point is, "Enter the Contest."

Sonny learns of love in the movies,
Not from a Taylor so neat,
But from the couples around him,
Who just consume one seat.

Georgia Theatre

MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in

"MAYTIME"

Also News

THURSDAY-FRIDAY

"WAIKIKI WEDDING"

With Bing Crosby, Bob Burns,
Martha Raye, Shirley Ross,
George Barbier, Leif Erikson.

Also Comedy—Shorts

SATURDAY

(Double Feature Program)

"RACING LADY"

With Ann Dvork, Smith Ballew, Harry Carey.

and

Gene Autry in

"ROUND-UP TIME IN TEXAS"

Also Selected Shorts

THE FASHION SHOP

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

The season's latest in Dresses, accessories and beach wear. All styles are individual.

A. M. SELIGMAN, Prop.

Next Door to the Georgia Power Co.

ANNOUNCING

SALE

Ladies' and Gents'

SWIM SUITS

JANTZEN AND ALLENA

E. C. Oliver Co.

COLLEGE STUDENTS!

SAVE YOURSELVES MONEY AND A TRIP TO TOWN.
WE CARRY A LINE OF
COSMETICS, DENTRIFRICES, SHAVING CREAMS, ETC.

COLLEGE CRESCENT

GULF GAS AND OILS

"A Little Store That's Behind the School in a Big Way"