71 TO GRADUATE SATURDAYLargest Summer School Enrollment
In History of College is Expected*NOTED EDUCATORS
WILL TEACH HERE

First Term Will Begin June 16
And Continue Until
July 24.

Indications are that the Summer School enrollment here this year will be the largest in the history of the institution. Applications are daily being received in the office of the president and many more are expected before the session officially opens Wednesday, June 16.

The Summer School will be divided into two terms of five weeks duration each, the first beginning June 16 and running through July 24. The second term will begin July 26 and continue through August 28.

To care for the record-breaking number of students, reservations are being made in the city of Statesboro as well as on the campus.

Heretofore, men have had to live wherever they could during the summer sessions, but this year Sanford Hall is being retained for the special accommodation of men.

All cottages will be occupied by men with families. The three dormitories, East, West and Anderson, will be reserved for the use of women, and even the Health Cottage will be used for that purpose.

This year Summer School will again be featured by public school music instruction under the direction of Mr. Maynard Klien, director of choral singing and glee clubs at Tulane University and Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans, La. Mr. Klein will be leader for all college music.

Jeff Stewart Is Sanford Hall's
New President

Jeff Stewart was elected president of Sanford Hall Wednesday night, defeating Hemans Oliver, only other candidate in the race, by a margin of 15 votes.

The total vote cast was 98. Of this number, Stewart received 54 and Oliver received 39. The polls were located in the living room of Miss Sophie Johnson, who presided over the election, assisted by Lonnie Holloway.

Stewart, varsity athlete and one of the most popular men on the campus, will take over his duties in September.

Members and Guests Enjoy Affair at Tea Pot Grille Friday Evening.

The Dramatic Club members and invited guests enjoyed a banquet at the Tea Pot Grille in Statesboro Friday evening from 6 to 8 o'clock. A delightful supper course was served, but the feature of the affair was the fact that there were no speeches made.

Among the members of the organization and their guests present were: Dr. T. B. Stroup, faculty sponsor, and Mrs. Stroup, James Hussey, Cora Paige, Derrell Simons, Bobbie Smith, Florence Daley, Fay Foy, Horace McDougald, Gladys Thayer, Winona Aldred, Marion Carpenter, Doris Walzace, James Lynn, Ernestine Monsees, Hemans Oliver, Willard Clanton, Betty Clanton, Magdalene Calhoun, Thelma Harrison, Jim Harris.

Son: "Shakespeare used them."

Mother: "Well, don't play with him any more."—Yellow Jacket.

ADDRESS WILL BE BY RALPH NEWTON

Parents of the Students Will Be Guests of the College Friday.

Twenty-five students will be honored Friday at the annual college Honors Day Program which will be held in the college auditorium at 8 p. m., with Mr. Ralph Newton, superintendent of public schools, Waycross, as the principal speaker, according to announcement of President M. S. Pittman.

Sixteen of this number will be honored for excellence in scholarship, having attained a grade point ratio of five with no grade below "B." They are as follows: Studie Lee Akins, Statesboro; Lucy Bunce, Statesboro; J. Willard Cartee, Metter; Kenneth England, Wadley; Will Hill Fields, Montezuma; Milton A. Findley, Lyons; Lillian Simmons, Metter; Sallie Smith, Statesboro; Charles Stanfield, Glennville; Ceciline Swinson, Statesboro; Juanita Thomas, Scott; Evelyn Underwood, Statesboro; Jeanette Willetts, Vidalia; Bertha Freeman, Dover; Woodrow Powell, Register.

Thirteen will be honored for leadership-service. This group was selected by a two-thirds nomination of

44 DEGREES WILL BE GIVEN JUNE 12

Philip Weltner Will Deliver the Commencement Address in Auditorium.

Seventy-one students will receive degrees, diplomas, or certificates June 12 when the graduation exercises of South Georgia Teachers College are held in the auditorium. Of this number, forty-four will receive the degree of bachelor of science in education, twenty will receive the normal diploma, and seven will be given the junior college certificate.

Last year there were 98 graduates from this college, fifty-four degree graduates, forty normal diploma graduates and four students received junior college certificates.

The graduation will take place Saturday, June 12, at 10:30 a. m. with Honorable Philip Weltner, former chancellor of the University of Georgia, delivering the baccalaureate address. The awards will be made by President M. S. Pittman. Candidates for degrees will be presented by Dr. J. E. Carruth, director of the senior division. Those coming up for the normal diploma will be presented by Miss Elizabeth Donovan, principal of the Ogeechee Laboratory School. Dr. C. M. Destler, director of the junior division, will present the candidates for junior college certificates.

The degree graduates with their home addresses are: Studie Lee Akins, Statesboro; Alvarene Anderson, Statesboro; Louis Becton, Bloomingdale; Carolyn Blitch, Statesboro; Cecile Brannen, Statesboro; Frances Brett, Statesboro; Joseph Buxton, Waynesboro; Christine Caruthers, Statesboro; George Carter, Cusseta; Roger Carter, Powersville; Clifford Clark, Millen; Grace Cromley, Brook-

Fay Foy Elected President of Music Club

Fay Foy was elected president of the Music Club at the last meeting of the year which was held at the home of Florence Daley, Tuesday evening. Other officers elected at the same time include: Marion Carpenter, vice-president; Florence Daley, secretary and treasurer; Gladys Thayer, program chairman.

Assisting Miss Daley with the entertainment of the club were Gladys Thayer and Horace McDougald. An interesting program was given consisting of stories of great operas and selections from them. A delightful salad course was served.

A FINE RECORD

Dr. Thomas B. Stroup is to be congratulated on the number of fine articles that he has lately been contributing to outstanding research magazines.

Recently, "Modern Language Notes," the official language publication of the Johns Hopkins University, carried an article by Dr. Stroup concerning some of the plays produced in London in the seventeenth century.

Four other articles by Dr. Stroup have been published during the year. One of these appeared in "Anglia," an English research publication of the University of Jena in Germany.

YES, WE ARE SLEEPY HEADS

With this issue the George-Anne completes its publication for the school year 1936-37. The staff wishes to thank the student body for its co-operation in putting out the paper this year. Our only regret is that we have not been able to give you a better college news paper, and those of us who will be back next year promise that we will make this our whole-hearted purpose—to give you the best college newspaper possible with the facilities available.

In conclusion may we join with the staff of the University of Georgia's Red and Black of last year and indulge in a little self pity? We quote:

"As the clock slowly ticks away the tempus on each Wednesday night, one cannot help but look around at the faithful few who brave the wee hours of the night and the wrath of the early morning professors, to labor so that students, professors, and about 2,000 other people may read what is happening, is going to happen, and has happened within the past week at the University. These fellows are truly a faithful crew and they get no credit—oh, maybe a by-line or two every now and then or a kind word from the managing editor or the editor or some fellow worker. What goes on behind the news is an interesting thing—the heart-aches, the pains, the classes flunked, and so forth, all because the paper must be put to bed before the carcass. They are a noble bunch, and, while they may not be nationally famous writers or the best in the world, they are hard workers and each one has the interests of the University and the Red and Black at heart. To you slaving reporters, an editor doffs his hat, and hopes that you each and every one may be future big-shots in the journalistic field."

A LOYAL FRIEND PASSES

I. S. Smith, former supervisor for the State Department of Education, died last week at Reidsville. It was he who fostered the turning point, in his official capacity, which saw conversion of this school into a four-year college.

Mr. Smith labored diligently week after week gathering statistics on this section of the state in an effort to determine for himself and for the information of other educators whether a college could be adequately supported. When he made his report (and with it a recommendation for an enlarged institution at Statesboro) he was able to show from almost every conceivable viewpoint that such an institution as came to be was sorely needed. He presented the educational status over a period of years, not forgetting to include the established and potential wealth of the section.

It was his report which caused an Atlanta conference to extend until 3 o'clock in the morning—and the next day a college was recommended for Statesboro which shortly thereafter came into existence.

The George-Anne wishes to take this opportunity to pay tribute to a great Georgian and a true friend of education.

DIGGINGS

Ask Dr. DeLoach about stepping into a ladies' swimming pool in Milledgeville with his Sunday shoes on. But did he get fooled! The women weren't there.

Just what is Bill Ware up to? Is he trying to stage a come-back with Jean or is he really serious about Carolyn? Or is he thinking of cuttin' gin on Bill Winn with Tad? We give up. He'd better make up his mind pretty soon though, cause it won't be long now.

It has been reported that Almand Roach is taking too Minnie Chances out by the bird house after dinner every day.

Wonder if there is any connection between the fact that Rose is plumb certain that she is going to flunk shorthand and have to come to summer school and make it up and the fact that Ned is planning on coming to summer school, too? Just wondering, that's all.

Well, we'll have to hand it to the boys in Sanford. They held a mighty quiet election last Wednesday night. Dub Warren didn't pull any more of his fire escapades.

And have you heard about Lady Godiva over in East. She doesn't have a horse, though. But maybe John will do. Somebody said he was a horse's neck.

What's all this we hear about Sanford Hall becoming the Lovey-Dovey Apartments during summer school? The college is putting as high a premium as Mussolini on marriage by offering the choice Sanford Rooms to married couples for the summer.

What great football player had to be taken from the game on account of injuries sustained in scrimmage on the Delta Sigma "Weeper" Wednesday night. His injuries were dressed by the Coach and the player went back into the game, but soon was attacked by the blind-staggers and was permanently withdrawn.

ATSA MATTER

BOBB HARRIS

By the murkey, muddy marshes
Teachers College squats.
While us boys and girls what makes her,
Slaves and sweats and rots.

1st Chorus

Problems, theories, questions, queries,
Are our endless quest.
While the things what really matters
In neglectance rests.

II

When the final bell has tingled,
College bounds are bust.
We'll go forth and face the music
Filled with facts and rust.

2nd Chorus

Lift the book-backs,
Turn the pages.
Strain and cuss and groan;
Cheat and copy, flip and floppy,
Mince and mutter and moan.

(To be sung to the tune of "Alma Mater" over me when I have died from study.—Bobb Harris.)

PREACHES SERMON

• REV. WARREN A. CANDLER

BISHOP CANDLER DELIVERS SERMON

Inspiring Service Held in College Auditorium Sunday Morning.

Bishop Warren A. Candler preached the commencement sermon for the graduating class of South Georgia Teachers College yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

The program follows:

Prelude by the college orchestra; processional to the music of "Tannhauser March," by Wagner; song, "Praise Ye the Father," by Gounod, sung by the city and college choirs; Doxology; invocation by the Reverend H. L. Sneed, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Statesboro; song, "Come Thou Almighty King," Scripture; announcements; song, "Almighty Lord," by Marcagni, sung by the city and college choirs; sermon, Bishop Warren A. Candler, Methodist Episcopal church, South, Atlanta; song, "Faith of Our Fathers," benediction by the Reverend C. M. Coalson, pastor of the Baptist church of Statesboro; recessional.

"What's the matter with your finger?"

"Oh, I was downtown yesterday getting some cigarettes, and a clumsy fool stepped on my hand.

"Eavesdropping again," said Adam when she fell out of the tree.

A. G. Cleveland, Valdosta, and Principal F. E. Barron, Quitman.

Public school art will be under the direction of R. D. Bruce, superintendent of Lincoln Laboratory School, Ypsilanti, Michigan.

There will be a number of visiting professors from other units of the University System. Among these will be Mr. T. A. Clower, Douglas; Mr. Paul Thompson, Douglas; J. T. Ecker, Cochran, and W. B. Moye, Cochran.

By C. D. SHELEY

We wonder why our old chapel favorite, Dr. Smith, did not appear on the variety program last week. However the other performances were fair considering the actors.

Dr. Destler, Mr. Hostettler, Dr. Pittman, and Mr. Deal made a beautiful quartet, that is, they sang beautifully. Dr. DeLoach turned out to be a good bird, after all these years. Miss Perry virtually blew the roof off "Home, Sweet Home" with her accordion. Dean Henderson was the only one capable of sleeping amidst all this confusion. Paderewshew Pittman rendered something on the organ. He was followed by Miss Newton, who contributed a peculiar form of swing rhythm with the music on her knees.

Mr. Winburn told jokes about a darkey he knew in the war. (Which war?) Dr. London gave very realistic barnyard imitations. Who is the boss in the Henderson household? We ought to know the answer to this one. Dean played a selection on the accordion. Mrs. Henderson played an ancient xylophone with her usual skill.

Now, to prevent this injustice of not having Dr. Smith on the program from going too far, I will give you some of the best jokes from his last year's speech.

MISS MARY SNEED PARTY HONOREE

Advanced Foods Course Members Entertain in Honor of Her Approaching Marriage.

Miss Mary Katherine Sneed was honored at a party given Tuesday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock in the home economics room by the members of the advanced foods class with Miss Frances Knowlton as chairman of the entertainment committee.

The guest of honor was presented with a lovely breakfast set. The party, given in celebration of Miss Sneed's engagement to be married June 17th to Mr. Counts, was featured by a contest in which Miss Mary Small won the prize.

Invited guests included Mrs. H. L. Sneed, mother of the honoree; Miss Frusanna Sneed, her sister; Mrs. R. J. Kennedy, Miss Elizabeth Donovan, Miss Mary Small, Miss Ruth Bolton, and Misses Marjorie Rivers, Clara Brewton, Annie Lou Price, Nina Moore, Louise Hollingsworth, Mineola Smith, Doris Stephenson, Irene Enecks and Cloteen Music.

A small boy was leading a jackass past the Delta Gamma house on the University of Illinois campus. One of the actives, wishing to have some fun, yelled out:

"Hey kid, why are you holding your brother so tightly?"

"So he won't join your house," was the nonchalant come-back.—Varieties.

SEASON ENDS IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Stewarts Snag Softball Supremacy As Successful Season Succumbs to Studies.

The softball season was concluded on Tuesday of last week when the boys laid aside their bats and began serious study for examinations. The Stewart aggregation came through the season with flying colors, and with a perfect record on their slate.

Just how the rest of the teams stood is a mystery due to the fact that some one swiped the schedule off the bulletin board before the George-Anne could tabulate the standings. One more place is known, however, and that is the Dozier outfit who started out in the cellar and are still in it.

Due to some sort of difficulty, the athletic committee could not see their way clear to honor the winning team with the traditional chicken supper, but one and all joined in congratulating Stewart on his fine record and the spirit shown by his excellent team.

the faculty. The students selected are as follows: Knapp Bodiford, Sylva; Willard Clanton, Ellabelle; Gracq Cromley, Brooklet; Kenneth England, Wadley; Benjamin Jones, Washington; Joe Lambright, Brunswick; Hemans Oliver, Savannah; Roy Rabun, Warrenton; Earl Riggs, Statesboro; Lillian Simmons, Metter; Juanita Thomas, Scott; Howard Waters, Hilltonia; Jeanette Willets, Vidalia.

Four students have attained the singular honor of being named on both the list for scholarship and the list for leadership-service. They are Kenneth England, Lillian Simmons, Juanita Thomas and Jeanette Willets.

Parents of the honored students have been notified of the honors to be bestowed upon them and have been invited to be present at the ceremony and also to be the guests of the college at the alumni banquet Friday evening.

Miss Joy Mendes, supervisor of public school music, Savannah, will be in charge of the elementary school music study.

Another feature of the summer school this year will be the study of curriculum revision in Georgia schools. The best specialists in this field will be present to help carry out this division of instruction.

Also ranking among the interesting highlights of the summer session will be the study of the administration of consolidated and village schools with five of the leading principals and superintendents of Georgia as leaders.

They are: Superintendents Fred Ayers, Fitzgerald; John Harris, Charlton county; Allen C. Smith, Dixie;

With summer vacation coming on and this being the last issue of the G.A. and consequently the last masterpiece of this nature that yours truly will be able to expose you to, a bit of sadness enters as press time draws nigh. However, sentiment will be side-tracked as we shoot as scheduled softball's sorriest sample for every position. You were promised a sorry team and with the assistance of a few of the managers, I think we've got a team here that will rival in rottenness any recent dining hall dinner, and brother, at times that has been rotten. However, the merits of each player were weighed, and man for man, we guarantee each player who was chosen to be a menace to national softball both here and abroad.

Selecting an aggregation of this caliber was no easy job. First there was the hitting element to be contended with, because some candidates, while as lousy as they come in the fielding department, had been known to come up with an occasional bingle, and hence were eliminated. Coonie Riggs and Abbie Abelson were unfortunate enough to fall into this group. On the other hand, there were players like Robbie, or Stapleton, who did do well occasionally on the defensive, that is, they couldn't hit the traditional bull with the traditional base fiddle, but now and then they would field a ball and were disqualified. The position of pitcher was sewed-up.

And now for the team, and a fine collection of rubes we have here: Pitcher, Dozier, of Dozier's team, who never won a game; for catcher the honors go to Byrd, of the Smithmen; first base, Hugh Hill (this is the only position that all the committee agreed upon at first) of the Abelson Aggies; for second base the Pi Nus give us Carl Collins; Lee, of the Lee team, short-stop; Sneed, of the Doziers; third base, Sirmons, Pi Nu; short field, Green, of the Delta Sigmas; left field and two more from the Lee team, Hinson, center field, and Oliver, right field; as utility man, Rabun, of the Smithmen was given the assignment. And now we arrange these men in a batting line for the worst possible effect. They will whiff the willow in the following order: Hill, Byrd, Sneed, Collins, Dozier, Hinson, Green, Sirmons, Oliver, Lee.

COLLEGE HUMOR

"What color bathing suit was she wearing?"

"I don't know, she had her back turned."—Navy Log.

"I'm sweet sixteen and never been kissed," said she, "decently."—Yellow Jacket.

"Yeah," said the sophomore, "when I first came here I was pretty conceited, but they knocked all that out of me and now I'm one of the best fellows in college."—Tiger.

"Who was that peach I saw you with last night?"

"That was no peach! That was a fruit salad."

"What?"

"Yeah—she was sour as a lemon, she was slippery as a banana, and when I squeezed her she hit me in the eye like a grapefruit."—Drexer.

Freshman: "Whatya doing?"

Yellow Jacket Man: "Writing a joke."

Frosh: "Tell her 'hey' for me."—Yellow Jacket.

Junk Man: "Any beer bottles, lady?"

Lady: "Do I look as if I drank beer?"

Junk Man: "Well, any vinegar bottles, lady?"—Yellow Jacket.

Murphy: "What's that in your pocket?"

Pat (in whisper): "Dynamite. I'm waiting for Casey. Every time he meets me, he slaps me on the chest and breaks my pipe. Next time he does it, he'll blow his hand off."—Whirlwind.

A tourist traveling through the Texas Panhandle got into conversation with an old settler and his son at a filling station.

"Looks as though we might have rain," said the tourist.

"Well, I hope so," replied the native, "not so much for myself as for the boy here. I've seen it rain."—Pointer.

Cop: "How did you happen to puncture this tire?"

Driver: "Ran over a milk bottle."

Cop: "Didn't you see it in time?"

Driver: "Nope, the kid had it under his coat."—Yellow Jacket.

Proud Mother: "Yes, he is a year old now, and he has been walking since he was eight months old."

Bored Visitor: "Really; he must be awfully tired."—Yellow Jacket.

"Did you hear about the fellow who had a horse named Sarah?"

"No, what?"

"SARAH NEIGHED IN THE NIGHT."

She: "Do you want to see where I was operated on?"

He (eagerly): "Yes."

She: "Well, we're just two blocks from the hospital."—Old Line.

FEATURED THIS SUMMER AT ST. SIMONS

Carl Collins and the Professors Play Engagement at King and Prince

What Part of The George-Anne Do You Read First

By GESMON NEVILLE

A study on this momentous question, via question and answer method, indicates that the students prefer the dirt column, jokes, and sports. Harken to some of their weighty opinions:

Jim Harris: "I read the jokes and dirt column first." I asked him if he read editorials. "What's that?" Jim wanted to know.

Carol Jones, Richard Stone, and Tom Edwards all read the dirt first. Tom advocates putting the dirt column on the front page so that it will be less trouble to find. (Not a bad idea.) Virginia S. also admitted reading the dirt first.

Virgil Robinson reads editorials; think o' that! Senator Becton says that he starts with the jokes, dirt column and works on up to the front page. Bobb Harris reads his own educational article first.

Mr. Winburn reads editorials first to see what Leroy has on his mind (?) next he tackles the dirt column and jokes. Dr. Stroup reads the front page whenever he reads, he has never (so he says) read the dirt column.

Well, it looks as if the old Ed. is going to have to print more and dirtier dirt, some new jokes, and less editorial if he is going to hold his job.

Gerkin Named Head of Industrial Arts Club

Bill Gerkin was elected president of the Industrial Arts Club for the fall quarter, 1937, in the meeting held last week. Other officers elected at the same time are as follows: Glenn Sowell, vice-president; Howard Waters, secretary-treasurer; Bill Adams, news reporter; Keith Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

"Why did you run home last night?"

"I was being chaste."—Yellow Jacket.

CONTRACT FOR ENTIRE SUMMER

Will Open Season June 12 and Continue Until Middle Of September.

Carl Collins and His Professors announced the signing of a contract for a three months' engagement at the King and Prince Club on St. Simons Island to a George-Anne representative last week.

The orchestra, composed of musicians who received their start at this college, will open the season Saturday evening, June 12. Previous to this opening, they played for a dance there Saturday, June 6, returning a week later for the grand opening.

Known throughout the state for their popular arrangement of dance tunes in the swing manner, local lovers of good music are already making plans to journey down to St. Simons at various times during the summer. The orchestra has been playing engagements in various cities near Statesboro and have never failed to please wherever they have appeared.

Featured with the orchestra as vocalist will be Roy Dukes, former student of this college, who at present is located at Sandersville. Roy will return here next week to join the orchestra before they go to St. Simons.

The Bamboo Gardens, outdoor dance pavilion of the club, will be the scene of the dances for which the orchestra will play. In addition to playing at the dinner hour, they will be heard from 9 till 1 o'clock each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

Carl Collins, the director of the band, also announced that they would broadcast frequently during the summer over radio stations in Savannah, Thomasville, and Waycross.

"We have a fire department in our town that has only one hose cart and two dogs."

"What are the dogs for?"

"To find the hydrant."—Log.

Rosenwald Applicants Entertained by College

Arriving Friday afternoon the applicants for the Rosenwald Scholarships were royally entertained by the college with several events being held in their honor.

Friday evening they were guests at a supper given by the college at the Norris Hotel. Afterwards they were entertained at a reception on the T. C. campus.

On Saturday morning the applicants stood psychology and achievement tests.

Saturday at noon they were again guests of the college with a dinner at the Norris Hotel.

The awards are to be announced June 15th. There will be thirty scholarships given, valued at $250.00 each.
