ARCHITECTS HERE FOR CONFERENCE

Edward and Sayward Will Draw Plans for New $82,000 Laboratory School.

Edward and Sayward, architects from Atlanta, chosen by the Board of Regents to plan the new $82,000 Laboratory School to be erected on the T. C. campus, were here Wednesday conferring with President M. S. Pittman and Mr. Walter Downs, director of the Training School, concerning plans of the building.

The building is to be modern in every design and will accommodate the needs of over 400 children. An up-to-date educational program will be offered covering all phases of school life; it will include home economics, commercial education, industrial arts, agriculture, music and health education.

Construction of the building is to begin January 1. According to present plans the building will be ready for occupancy by September, 1938.

Stroup Introduces New Plan of Teaching Here

A new laboratory class plan which is in use at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina has been instituted in the English department here. Teachers College is the first in the state of Georgia to use the plan.

The new plan, used for freshman English course, has the class meet twice each week for two-hour periods instead of the usual five-hour week. The change was made, according to Dr. Thomas B. Stroup, head of the English department, in order to emphasize the importance of theme writing, which formerly could not hold its own because of the short space of time in which to compose the contents of the theme.

ELECTION RESULTS

Miss Margaret Hodges, of Statesboro, and Copeland Ozier, of Montezuma, were elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, of the junior class in a special election here last week to fill the vacancies left when the former officers did not return to school.

FORTY-ONE STUDENTS MAKE SPRING TERM DEAN'S LIST

WINS BIG CONTEST

MULKEY TELLS HOW HE CAME TO WIN CONTEST

When interviewed here today as to the how and wherefore of his good fortune in winning the $400 prize given by the American Bar Association for the best essay on the Constitution, Harvin Mulkey stated that he was taken completely by surprise when the telegram came advising him of his good fortune.

"I intend using the money to help me in graduate work which I intend doing sometime in the near future. I have several schools in mind at present which I may attend next year."

To show the modesty of Mulkey even after winning with his paper on "How and to What Extent the Rights and Liberties of the Individual are Protected Under the Constitution," he did not spread the news of his success—but others did.

Seven Students Make "A" Average

Grade Point Ratio of 4.5 or Above Is Required to Make The Honor Roll.

Forty-one students of South Georgia Teachers College made the Dean's List during the spring quarter of the 1936-37 term, according to announcement made here last week. Of these forty-one there were seven students who made a straight "A" average for the quarter. They are as follows: Knapp Boddiford, Sylvania; Mrs. Nadine Borom, Coolidge; Paul Robertson, Brooklet; Doris Stephenson, Lyons; Ceciline Swinson, Statesboro; Doris Wallace, Statesboro; Jeanette Willets, Vidalia.

SENIOR COLLEGE ENROLLMENT UP

More Juniors and Seniors Enrolled Here This Year Than Ever Before.

Registration of the 501 students at S. G. T. C. showed a marked difference this year. Heretofore there has been an abundance of freshmen and fewer upperclassmen in proportion. But this term not only are the freshmen still here, but also there is a definite increase in the senior college level.

Last year the junior and senior classes combined contained 126 students. But this September there have been 164 juniors and seniors to register.

The senior class is the largest in the history of the school, with a total of 73 students.

Class registration:

Freshmen	195
Sophomores	141
Juniors	92
Seniors	73

GRADE POINT RATIOS

SPRING TERM, 1937

The grade point ratio for the spring term showed a definite increase over the two preceding quarters of last year. The men led in each class with the exception of the Senior; also, as can be seen by the total ratios, as the classes advance so do the grades.

The social clubs had a higher average than the student body as a whole.

	Men	Women	Total
Freshmen	1.94	1.89	1.91
Sophomores	2.63	2.48	2.55
Juniors	2.88	2.73	2.80
Seniors	3.52	3.59	3.56
Bachelors	3.65	Epicurean	2.91
D. L. D.	4.06	Iota Pi Nu	3.10
Delta Sigma	2.86	L. T. C.	3.20

AN HONOR WELL DESERVED

Everyone enjoys a success story, especially if the hero is known and admired. Harvin Mulkey has all the essentials of the hero, and his success reads akin to that of Harry Stillwell Edwards.

Known and respected by practically every student on the campus, Mulkey has never been one to push himself to the forefront as a seeker of undeserved honors. He has always conducted himself with the most becoming modesty and dignity, never talking in loud and bragadocious manner about what he had accomplished or was going to accomplish. Thus it is that the honor which has come to him is all the more appreciated by those who know him.

Mulkey's attention was called to the contest sponsored by the American Bar Association by Dr. C. M. Destler, head of the social science department. Miss Mae Michael, secretary to President M. S. Pittman, also had confidence in his ability and urged him to enter the contest. Both of these people are to be commended for their part in offering encouragement and aid whenever they could.

Dropping out of school at Christmas last year, Mulkey worked on the material for his essay, using as his reference source the county library at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and the University of Florida extension library. During this time he worked at a manual labor job from 2 p. m. to 10 p. m. each day.

The actual writing of the essay was done in two weeks. With only three days left before the close of the contest, Mulkey sped his essay on the way to fame by air mail.

And so the American Bar Association awarded first prize of $400 to Harvin Mulkey for his paper written on the subject, "How and to What Extent the Rights and Liberties of the Individual are Protected Under the Constitution."

In doing so Mulkey not only brought honor to himself but also to the college in which he received his training. Thus it is that the George-Anne joins with the Bulloch Times and its publisher and editor, Mr. D. B. Turner in giving praise to the college and to the student. We quote: "He chose South Georgia Teachers College because it had an appeal for him. He has found it an institution which fitted his requirements, and has availed himself of the best opportunity during the three years of his attendance there. Possessed of outstanding natural ability, he has been given the best assistance of which his college has been capable, which assistance has gone far toward fitting him as a winner of the high award. Not taking from him even the slightest bit of the honor of the winning, yet the institution at which he is being equipped is certainly entitled to share with him in the glory, and all the friends of South Georgia Teachers College join in giving praise to the college and this young student of highest standing."

Diggings

By LEROY ROUGHTON

Well, here it is twelve p. m. Friday night and still no dirt has been chunked into the G.-A. office so what the heck is a dern editor supposed to do. In a survey conducted by Scoop Sheley last year practically everybody but Dr. Stroup said that the dirt column was the first, and in many cases, the only thing read in the paper, so there you are.

If it's dirt you want then dirt you're going to get even if it has to be made up right here between me and the decrepit old typewriter that has been here ever since those day long ago when Professor Kent was editing this paper in his spare time between coat-dancing performances up at Mrs. Column's tea room.

To begin with something ought to be done about Carol and Cope. It's no fun when two people just bust up and won't give any reason for it. But those two invariably answer, "I don't know," when questioned about the affair. Carol did say, however, that she thought that Billy Goode was about the cutest thing she had ever seen. Bet he's glad this wasn't published before rat court last week.

Being as this isn't an anonymous column like it usually is, nothing will be said about Almand Roach and "Lucy Wucy" Stanley, cause Almand gets bloody murder in his eyes every time she is mentioned and I don't want to wake up some morning with my throat cut.

Hitler Hooks is reported to be on the lookout for a blonde; he says he is tired of mashing blackheads.

Wonder if this Lewis dame is the cause of a remark by one of Statesboro's enterprising young druggists that Alcatraz is a push-over compared to the T. C. dormitories.

It will require a little more research before this column will be prepared to make any statement concerning the following people: Ann Breen, Lil Baldwin, Dabner Groover, B. H. Ramsey, Bill Hicks. Things are so mixed up there that I can't tell who's liking who. Maybe it will be straightened out by next issue.

This Stapleton boy is some smooth worker. How he manages to have a different girl eat with him each meal is beyond me.

There are little tiffs in the best of families, even between David Proctor and Vernice Bacon; David is so chivalrous to these little freshmen.

Why can't people make up their minds who they want to go with and quit busting up and then I wouldn't have to be sitting here trying to think up who's mad with who and why. If there were more people like Jeff Stewart and Kitty Gardner there wouldn't be any need for dirt columns.

Some other couples who are to be congratulated for going steadily together are Robbie and Virginia, Flash and Dot, Cone and Len. Here's hoping more people will follow their example.

Wonder which freshmen boy Lee Powell thinks looks like Robert Taylor?

Just heard about Gerkin making a date one night at the beginning of school and then forgot what her name was and where she stayed. Did you ever find her, Bill?

And "Scoop" Sheley says he's in love. Wonder if it's that blonde Fussell girl?

.. SPORTS ..

Before leaving with the football team for an extended trip in Florida, Coach Smith expressed little hope that they could win more than one of three games to be played. In the first two games the boys are hopelessly outclassed by the lack of experienced reserves, and the distinct weight disadvantage. By the third game they will probably be so tired and travel worn that it will be hard for them to play winning football. Of course they will not be without pep, enthusiasm and scrappiness, but it takes definitely more than that to overcome the adversities that they will encounter.

Dr. Pittman has issued a challenge to the band. He promises that if they will have, by that time, forty members, he will do all in his power to send them to Cochran with the football team when the Blue Tide journeys there to engage the Middle Georgia College team. Naturally, we expect the band to accept, and we will watch with interest the preparations they will make for the trip, as we can think of nothing we would enjoy more than having them to encourage the team during one of the outstanding games of the season. "But," says Dr. Pittman, "one of the members must be Aunt Sophie Johnson."

The prospects for the tennis team are much brighter than they were last year. With three regular members of the squad returning this year, and several good players entering we feel sure that the team will make a great deal better showing than they were able to do last season. With the added year of experience we believe that McLeod, McKenzie and Ozier, the holdovers from last year, will form a good nucleus for Coach Hanner to build a mighty fine team around.

The departure of Mr. Fielding Russell, to continue his studies, leaves the boxing team here at T. C. in quite a fix. Of course we would not keep Mr. Russell here if we could, when he has the opportunity to strengthen his own educational background, but we will certainly miss him.

So far no one has been found to fill his position, and unless one of the new faculty members is able to take his place, we will probably be without boxing this term. There is a probability that one of the outstanding members of last year's team will be put in charge, but at present that seems improbable because there is only one, or possibly two, who are capable, and it is doubtful if they would be willing to accept the responsibility that would of necessity go with the job.

After a scoreless second period, the Miamians started the second half with a 70-yard touchdown march.

The final touchdown came on a 41-yard pass play in the fourth quarter.

First Joint Meeting of Year To Be Held In Auditorium Wednesday Evening.

Joint meetings of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. will be held in the college auditorium this year on the first Wednesday evenings of each month, according to Hemans Oliver, president of the Y. M. C. A.

It is the hope of Oliver, who originated the plan, that matters of interest to both men and women students will be more ably presented under this arrangement. Last year the meetings were held separately. On the third Wednesday evening of each month this year the two organizations will hold their regular meetings separately. The men will meet in the lobby of Sanford Hall, and the women will hold their meetings at some place yet to be selected.

The first meeting under the new arrangement will be held Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock in the auditorium. A well-rounded musical program is being planned for the occasion by a committee composed of David Proctor, William Gerkin, L. C. Lee, Jewel Vandiver and Fay Foy, president of the Y. W. C. A.
