Dr. Dolores Rangel was recently notified that her article titled “Reflexiones de Federico Campbell sobre el proceso escritural en Post Scriptum Triste y Padre y Memoria” was accepted for publication in La Colmena, a journal published by the Universidad Autónoma del Estado de México.
Dr. Leticia McGrath was named the winner of this year’s Outstanding Advocate for First-Year Students award.

McGrath has been actively involved in the FYE program in a variety of ways for many years, and has often been nominated by her students and peers for the award.

This year, in particular, her honors section of FYE advocated for her.

Dr. Chris Caplinger, Director of FYE, and Provost Diana Cone, were among those in attendance in her honors class to applaud her as she received the award.
Two CLASS Graduate Students Receive Highest Graduate Honor

April 19, 2016

Heidi Moye and Desiree Riley received two of the three Averitt Award for Excellence in Graduate Research and Instruction at the 2016 Research Symposium.

Heidi Moye, graduate student in the Department of History, received the award for excellence in research.

Desiree Riley, graduate student in the Department of Literature and Philosophy, received the award for excellence in instruction.

The Averitt Award is the highest honor bestowed upon graduate students within the Jack N. Averitt College of Graduate Studies. The award is presented in two categories, excellence in research and excellence in instruction, and carries with it a $1,000 prize.

The College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences (CLASS) is the largest of the eight colleges that make up Georgia Southern University, and it plays a central role in every student’s core of knowledge. CLASS, also described as the University’s College of the Creative Mind, prepares students to achieve academic excellence, develop their analytical skills, enhance their creativity and embrace their responsibilities as citizens of their communities, their nations and the world. CLASS offers more than 20 undergraduate degrees and several interdisciplinary minors from its 11 departments and five academic centers. CLASS offers eight master’s degrees, two graduate certificates and one doctoral degree. For more information, visit cah.georgiasouthern.edu.
