BACHELORS PLAN FOR ANNUAL SHOW

Annual Affair Will Be Given
Early in Spring Quarter,
Is Intention.

Plans for their annual Varieties were discussed by the Bachelors at the regular meeting last Wednesday night.

Formerly the club has been sponsoring a show in the college auditorium during the Winter quarter. This was in the form of a minstrel with Carl Collins and his Professors as featured entertainers. Also included in the show were special numbers by local talent.

The entertainment was postponed this year until the Spring quarter; at present the plans are to give the show about a month after school re-opens for the next term.

Although nothing definite was decided at the meeting last week, there was some discussion of the possibility of transferring the show to the Gymnasium this year and putting it on as a floor show. If arrangements can be made, there will be dancing in the intermission between acts.

The club voted to have a picnic the first Saturday after school re-opens. Jim Wrinkle was appointed to work out arrangements for the affair and present them at a special meeting which will be called for that purpose Thursday evening, March 24th.

Also included for discussion at the next meeting is a plan for the Bachelors to make a donation to the fund for buying new stage equipment.

WINTER TERM TO END THURSDAY

None of the Dormitories Will Remain Open During Spring Holidays.

With examinations beginning tomorrow and continuing through Thursday, the Winter quarter of the 1937-38 term of South Georgia Teachers College comes to a close at noon of that day. The last meal for students will be served in the dining hall Friday noon, according to Mrs. P. D. Landrum, dietitian.

Registration will begin Thursday morning, March 24, at 9 o'clock and will continue until that afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to Miss Viola Perry, registrar. Classes will begin Friday morning at 8:15 o'clock, and the Spring quarter will officially be under way.

None of the dormitories will remain open during the holidays. The girls' dormitory will close Thursday night, according to Miss Mamie Veazy, dean of women.

Rosenwald Directors Will Come Here This Month To See College

The directors of the Rosenwald Fund will be on the campus on the 29th of March. They are coming to see the college in general, but the library in particular, according to President Marvin S. Pittman.

According to Dr. Pittman, the purpose of the Rosenwald Fund is to give aid at the point where the needs are greatest. Just now that is the library.

Through the aid of the Rosenwald Fund work in agriculture, industrial arts, and a special course in the supervision of schools has been added to the curriculum.

New Library Is Now To Have Two Stories

The new library is now to be a two-story building, according to President Marvin S. Pittman. The addition was due to the co-operative interest of the Board of Regents and the Rosenwald Fund, stated Dr. Pittman.

There will be four large reading rooms in the new building, two on each floor, a visual education room, where films for class purposes will be shown, three seminar rooms, a stack room, a work room for the librarian, and an office for the librarian.

The Rosenwald Fund is especially interested in the library at this time.

GRAYSON HILL ELECTED INDUSTRIAL ARTS HEAD

Grayson Hill was elected president of the Industrial Arts Club last week. Other officers elected at the same time were Hemans Oliver, vice-president; Lonnie Holloway, secretary and treasurer, and Glynn Sowell, sergeant-at-arms.

A picnic was enjoyed by the members last week end at Lovers Hill.

Carpenter Makes Extravagant Claims, But Asserts He Can Produce the Goods

"I've got the hottest dance band in the south," said T. C.'s musical genius, Marion Carpenter, when a reporter caught him in the act of writing another song hit. He was, of course, speaking of his high school orchestra, which he says is progressing rapidly.

Marion, whose success here at school secured him the position of band and orchestra teacher at Statesboro High School, is expecting his band to win the G. E. A. state contest for first. See CARPENTER, page 4

Farrar Named Head Of Newly Organized Student-Aid Club

Officers of the newly organized Student-Aid Club were elected last week. They are Arthur Farrar, president; Frank Zetterower, secretary; Bill McLeod, business manager; D. R. Barber, treasurer; Charles Brown, chaplain. Other members of the club are Ben Hodges, Vernon Martin, Willie B. McCollum, John Blanchard and Benito Sieg.

The club was recently issued a charter by the Student Council. The club was conceived by Benito Sieg. According to Sieg, the aim of the club is: "To render an opportunity for financial aid to those students who feel they are not able to complete their education without more assistance other than that from home."

Sieg stated that after realizing that only organized clubs and not individuals were permitted to raise funds on the campus, he conceived the idea of this financial club to aid students through school who were not reached by the N. Y. A. and other organizations. The money is to be raised by furnishing amusements such as outings, dances, plays, minstrels; by selling confections, and by taking over different kinds of agencies. At present the club is experimenting with a laundry agency.

STROUP APPOINTED ON ENGLISH COMMISSION

Dr. Thomas B. Stroup, head of the English department, has been made a member of the Georgia English Commission. This committee has to do with the entrance tests given to Freshmen in English. It is responsible to the Association of Georgia Colleges. One of its objects is to induce high schools to place emphasis on writing.

SANFORD HALL NOW HAS A "FIDDLING FOOL"

Sanford Hall's "fiddling fool" is one Robert Moss, of Doerun. He never had a teacher, but today he is an excellent musician. He loves that fiddle; just can't do without it.

Robert first became interested in the fiddle when he was a little boy in knee britches at Christmas time. His dad promised him a present in the form of an instrument and the fiddle was first choice.

TWO OUTSTANDING SPEAKERS HEARD

Challenging Addresses Given In Auditorium By Webb
And Palmer.

The fourth annual Georgia Progress Day was brought to a conclusion Saturday evening with a social in the Gymnasium, after the college students had had an opportunity to hear two of the nation's outstanding scientists make addresses centering around the theme "Science in Georgia Progress."

The program this year was in charge of the Division of Exact Sciences. This group had arranged exhibits in the lobby of the auditorium, in the science building, and in classrooms, showing the resources of Georgia and products that could be made from these.

The first speech was made by Dr. E. Laurence Palmer, professor of Rural Education, Cornell University. This address came after the musical program arranged by Mr. Ronald J. Neil, which included selections by the college orchestra under the direction of William Deal and the college chorus under Mr. Neil's direction.

In his speech Friday night on the topic, "More and More of the Outdoors," Dr. Palmer stated "We have heard of Georgia Crackers and Georgia Tech football teams, but we have not heard of the mountains of Georgia and the gorges cut in them by

SENIOR TRIP IS DEFINITELY OFF

Decision Made At Meeting Held
In Administration Building
Last Monday Night.

The proposed senior class trip to Washington was indefinitely postponed at a meeting held last Monday evening. So many seniors who had previously stated they were planning to go had withdrawn their names that the cost of the trip would have been prohibitive to those who remained.

Committees were also appointed at the meeting to make arrangements for a Senior Day to be held during the Spring quarter. It is hoped that this will become an annual affair after this year, with the seniors conducting the chapel program one day and also having charge of a social in the evening. Several committees were appointed in connection with the affair, to make reports at the next meeting.

LIBRARY REGULATIONS

To us it seems that a change in library regulations is long past due. According to the present rules, one can check out fiction, biography, and travel books for one week. Other books can be kept out of the library only from 4 o'clock in the afternoon until 8:30 the next morning. There is not much criticism of the method of handling week books although we understand that it is customary in most libraries for these same books to be available for two weeks without renewal. The regulations governing the other books, however have caused considerable criticism.

The present system of handling subject matter books discourages studying and reading for pleasure. If a student can have a book available in his room when he wants it, he is much less likely to waste time and chances are he will spend much more time in worth while reading than he now does. Quite often a student wishes to have a book of poetry or economics to browse through at his leisure, but he is not going to borrow one if he must rush it back to the library before classes every morning.

This regulation is also one of the principal causes why our library books are so often mutilated. For example, recently a splendid new volume was found with several pages out. The student probably did not want to do this, but an assignment had been made which he felt he must prepare. He was unable to obtain the book at the store and this seemed the only way in which he could prepare his assignment. Had he been able to have kept the book several days, this book in all probability would not have been marred.

It is our proposal that these over-night books be made available for a week at the time. If this cannot be done, certainly they can be made available for three or four days without the necessity of a renewal. We realize that such a change might make necessary an increase in the number of books on the reserve shelves. This, however, would be an aid rather than a hindrance to the students. It is our belief that every possible encouragement should be given the student to study and to supplement his regular academic work by extensive non-academic reading. It is our belief that such a change as we have suggested would facilitate and encourage both reading and study.

Lee Powell gave some sad story to the editor to get a certain item about her Strickland affair omitted from the last issue of the dirt column. It seems that the item would have caused a split in the current armorous relations. Hope your- or his emotions are more stable by now, Lee.

Katherine Gainey is no longer making life worth while for Bill. Bill McLeod-Refer to last Diggings.

Major carries on where Nattie left off and keeps the triangle in shape, but we hear she's going on the Pi Nu house party.

So far the dark side of the Joiner-Deal split hasn't come to light. But Bartow is making hay while the sun shines.

There's something mysterious about Kitty Gardner's new attitude; seems to be protective in nature. Maybe she thinks she's a policeman (Captain).

How about "Geechee" having his dates hand-picked by a certain jealous brunette?

Thelma has special deputies to keep Herschel informed as to her return from Glee Club practice.

Ruth Sisson, the story-telling, tap-dancing belle, of Atlanta, is taking up all of Berry's time—well a sizeable portion, at least.

Had there been one more picnic last Saturday, somebody would have gone stag, such a demand for girls, as T. C. has never seen and such cross-ups and stuff.

Well basketball is over now, Tommy! Rigsby will have more time to devote to you—if Mr. Garr doesn't take too much of it. He has a beautiful shiny basketball, though; maybe you'll get it as a reward for those lonely hours.

Oh gosh, I couldn't hear the rest of that message Miss Hammack gave 'Geechee from the G. S. W. C. female.

Charlie Roberson used the old "I'm not at home" excuse on a feminine man-chaser from town recently.

The lovely romance that at one time seemed to be about to fade away has apparently bloomed again. Leonard Kent took Mary Small to the show to see "It's Love I'm After" recently. But the little birdie whispers that it might be a triangle with Jimmy Wrinkle trying to horn in—and there's Miss Edenfield being left out in the cold again. . . . Oh me, oh my, wotta headache these faculty members do give unto each other.

We wonder what La Maddox's plans are for June? - Is it bells?

At last! Johnnie Thayer, you are out of school, but not off the campus. I hope a certain girl in West Hall doesn't take all of your attention from the construction job.

I wonder if Jimmie DeLoach will take the girl from Savannah on the house party after a certain boy on the campus went to see her last week end.

Wonder if Rabun's finally getting a date for the Pi Nu house party had anything to do with the senior trip being postponed again?

O. K., McKenzie, we'll let you off this time. But remember your promise!

Wonder what Professor of Rural Education Warnock was up to last week when he ransacked the library in search of a poem entitled "Mind Your Own Business."

Columnette

Don't forget to come back on the 24th.

The Co-Operative Student-Aid Club certainly deserves credit. Let's help it off to a big start. Watcha say!

Remember "Hospodee Pomeeloo?" Well you should if one is to judge from the amount of applause you gave the Milledgeville choir when they sang it.

Technical Error: Dr. Pittman had a great speaker scheduled to speak in chapel during the Spring Holidays.

"Courtesy with a couple of smiles," is the motto of Virgil "Burp" Donaldson, manager of the Little Store.

A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am writing this not merely for the sake of attracting attention or of making some destructive criticism. This is written in the hope that it will focus attention on a campus problem that is being neglected.

A short time ago a privilege of one of the student governing bodies on the campus was violated. When questioned about it, the reply was given by one of those responsible that we didn't have student government on this campus anyway. And that seems to be the generally accepted opinion.

I realize that this matter of student government has got to be a matter of mutual co-operation between the students and the administration. So far this year, with the exception of the Thanksgiving holidays, all the co-operation has been on the part of the students. They were perfectly willing to surrender the dining hall to the University Council. The splendid exhibits they have prepared and their good attendance at the Georgia Progress Day programs furnish further evidence of their desire to do all they can for the advancement of the school.

What have they received in return? The Student Council, which is supposed to represent the student body, is composed of fairly sober-minded individuals. They have only suggestive powers and they have made no radical or destructive suggestions this year. Yet, every suggestion they have made of any importance, with one or two exceptions, has been thrown aside. This is having a pronounced effect upon the morale of the council and the student body as a whole.

Since I am a senior, this cannot affect me a great deal. But it can and is affecting other students. I have heard them express themselves. Whatever initiative they have is being discouraged at the very time when it should be encouraged. Some students have been interested in organizing a student forum for the discussion of student problems, but in the light of past events they see no encouragement.

I sincerely believe that for the good of the entire school this situation should be remedied. And it is my contention that it can be remedied by the students receiving the encouragement and co-operation that they are willing to give.

F.	Ozier	Pi Nus
C.	Abelson	Swamp Rats
G.	Wrinkle	Faculty
G.	Pierce	Bushwhackers

This team was selected by the sports editor and turned over to me for publication. All tomatoes or bouquets should be aimed at him. He also asked me to explain Graydon Pierce's being selected as a guard. He is too good to be left off, but couldn't take Abelson's place at center.

There will be picnics and more picnics, but never will there be one as good as the one "Tiger's" mother, Mrs. Sowell, gave for the basketball boys and their dates, Friday, the 25th of February, at the Steel bridge. Mrs. Sowell, in behalf of the boys, I again would like to express our appreciation to you for the delightful time had by all. And so thanks still again to you, Mrs. Sowell.

The basketball boys, nine of them, enjoyed a delightful week end, the 4th and 5th, when it went down to Savannah and won the Gold Medal Basketball Tournament and brought back eight miniature basketballs, a large trophy and four individual medals. We'll say now that we've never had a more enthusiastic sponsor than was Cecil Kennedy, who is proudly displaying the first place trophy on his showcase counter. Thanks again to you, Cecil.

Once a bushwhacker always a work-horse or something like that, you know the old saying. I think the boys did darn well to go as far in the tournament as they did with working a couple of hours before each game.

CAMPUS EPITAPHS

Here lies President Pittman:
His noble frame and iron constitution
Have passed away by mortal evolution;
To make him happy, God, use this solution:
The headship of some higher institution.

Miss Mae is in heaven now, I guess,
Walking the golden streets with the blest.
Up toward the blue I saw her fly
And straighten Gabriel's red necktie.

Dean of Men At Teachers College Is a Beloved Member of Fair Sex

"Aunt Sophie" Has Held Responsible Post For Four Years.

(From Savannah Press, March 5.)
She may not be the nation's only dean of men, but students at the South Georgia Teachers College declare she is the nation's best.

For more than four years "Aunt Sophie" Johnson, of Wadley, has lived in dormitories with men students, and for just that long has been a prince among them.

Last September she began her fifth year as dean at the Teachers College, a co-educational institution with about 500 students. An apartment in Sanford Hall, newly built, was provided especially for her and a friend of long standing, Miss Elizabeth Donovan, a supervisory teacher, also of Wadley.

But the "dean of men" is not always able to sleep in that apartment. Whenever needed, she will be found sitting or sleeping in the room with an ailing or injured student, mollifying illness or injury.

"My boys," she calls them all. To them, from freshmen to seniors, she is "Aunt Sophie." Well versed in "home remedies."

She's their favorite doctor, unless the trouble is beyond treatment from a well-stocked medicine chest.

Attending the sick of her fold, however, is but a small part of Aunt Sophie's work. In fact this isn't even in her contract. Her duties embrace all those performed by any dean of men at any college in the country. In addition, she has a light teaching schedule and pinch hits for other instructors in emergencies.

Other duties—such as sponsoring clubs and raising flowers—she takes on herself. While these things make her one of the busiest persons on the campus, Aunt Sophie sometimes finds time to referee intramural ball games, always chats a moment with those she meets, and even takes an occasional course in a subject she particularly likes.

The ball games invariably are comedies when she referees, for with all her good qualities, "Aunt Sophie" is a pretty ridiculous referee. She knows it, the students know it—but she is ever in demand.

She's that way.

He: "Will you marry me?"
She, "No, I won't, but I'll always admire your good taste."—Progressive Farmer.

Punky Perryman Wins Tennis Tournament

Punky Perryman won the tennis tournament last week by defeating Copeland Ozier in the finals.

It was a hard-fought game, the final score in sets being: 5-7, 6-3, 7-5, 5-7, 6-3.

Perryman had advanced to the finals by defeating Pat Colquitt; Ozier, by some mix-up in schedule played two semi-final games, defeating Chatham Aldred in the first, then taking in Albert Braswell to reach the finals.

Ozier also defeated James Thayer and Bill McLeod. Perryman won over Bobby Carroll and Eddie Humphrey to reach pay dirt.

Faculty Members At Audio-Visual Meeting

Misses Hester Newton, Marion Groover, and Jane Franseth, took part in the Audio-Visual conferences held last week in Southeast Georgia.

Miss Franseth was a speaker at the conference held in Swainsboro Wednesday. Misses Newton and Groover were speakers at the conference held in Waycross last Thursday.

The keynote of the meetings was the use of Audio-Visual aids in the classroom. The aid of the radio in the classroom was especially stressed.

The class also voted to buy an engraved graduation invitation that will cost approximately 20 cents. About five hundred of these invitations will be ordered. Those desiring to obtain them may make arrangements with Roy Rabun, senior class president.

The electrician was puzzled. "Hey," he called to his assistant, "Put your hand on one of those wires."

The assistant did as he was told. "Feel anything?"

"No."
"Good," said the electrician, "I wasn't sure which was which. Don't touch the other or you'll drop dead."—Froth.

FRATERNITIES ARE MAKING PLANS FOR ANNUAL SPRING HOUSE PARTIES

BOTH OUTINGS TO BE AT ST. SIMONS

Tentative Date List Has Been Prepared. Many Others Planning To Go.

The two fraternities on the campus, the Delta Sigma and Iota Pi Nu's, are making plans for their annual house parties which will be held during the Spring holidays.

The Pi Nu's are going to St. Simons Island Friday morning and will remain until Tuesday, thus allowing a few days for those who attend also to go home and visit during the vacation time which lasts until Thursday.

The Delta Sigmas also are going to St. Simons.

Members of the Iota Pi Nu and their dates are as follows: Carl Collins, Lillian Reddick; Willard Cartee, Anne Felton; Paul Robertson, Virginia King; Leroy Roughton, Doris Wallace; Horace McDougald, Gladys Thayer; Roy Rabun, Mary Powell; Marion Carpenter, Winona Aldred; Jim Warren, Mary Brigman.

COLLEGE BRIEFS

Dr. M. S. Pittman will speak at Ocilla Wednesday night on the P.-T. A. program for "Daddy's Night."

Registration for Spring term will take place on March 24th and classes will begin the following day, according to Miss Viola Perry, registrar.

Dean Z. S. Henderson will represent this institution at the meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools to be held in Dallas, Texas. Dean Henderson will leave the campus March 26th and return April 1st.

The next edition of the Literary Supplement will probably appear the Monday after school starts again, according to Dr. Thomas B. Stroup. The Geoge-Anne will not appear at that time, but will come out the Monday following. By this method both papers will be read to a greater extent.

Five plays have been ordered by the T. C. Dramatic Club. Out of these one will be selected for presentation in the Spring quarter. Among the plays ordered are, "A Bill of Divorcement," and "The Enemy." The object of the club for next quarter is to present a play of a serious nature, Dr. Stroup stated.

your streams. We have heard of certain hot springs and the health-giving properties they are reputed to have, but we have not heard as much as we should of the beauties of the Okefinokee Swamp."

Dr. Palmer also said, "You can not show your visitors the best your community has to offer if you do not recognize its value yourself. A group of well-placed, well-policed, and well-advertised wild life stations scattered through this region would, I believe pay for themselves in the trade they would attract to tourist cabins, roadside stands, and the like."

Dr. Webb Spoke Saturday

"Anemic Science—Its Causes and Cure," was the title of an address given by Dr. Hanor A. Webb, chairman of the Division of Science and Mathematics at George Peabody College for Teachers. This speech came Saturday morning at the second session of the conference which was in the form of a forum on the subject, "The Teaching of Science in Georgia Schools."

In his speech Dr. Webb stated, "Georgia Progress is Southern Progress; it is national progress as well . . . Georgia and the South are today on the threshold of a development that in the light of all forecasts is to be industrial; Roger Babson says, 'The old advice, 'Go West, young man,' must be changed to 'Go South, young man!' . . . The greatest resource of any region is its people. The South has more young people in proportion to its population than any other region of the nation. . . . Industry is coming South! . . . An active industrial program in any region calls for thousands of trained young men and women to carry it on. Northern youth will have a perfect right to invade Georgia if Georgia youth are not fully prepared in sufficient numbers to take up these duties that demand training and skill."

Also taking part on the morning's program were Dr. Palmer who made an address on the subject, "Read Brooks Before Books," and Mr. H. Ashton Varnedoe, Savannah High School science teacher, who led the discussion following the two speeches.

The college entertained with a complimentary fish fry and barbecue at the conclusion of the morning's program.

State Troopers Escort International Relations Club Delegates Into Dalton

Dr. Carleton Is Caught in the Act

It has been rumored here and there that Dr. Carleton is "agin'" hitch-hiking, but from various reports that come in we don't think he will object any more.

While on a trip to Ogeechee with a few biological science students last week some candid cameraman caught the said professor with his thumb poised at a hitch-hiking angle and snapped his picture.

You hitch-hikers, don't get your hopes up for this is only what we heard, but when the film is developed we hope it will be what we expect.

Christian Conference Will be Held at Emory University This Week

The Georgia Student Christian Conference, sponsored jointly by the State Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., will be held at Emory University in Atlanta on the 18th-19th of March, according to Hemans Oliver, president of the local Y. M. C. A.

Oliver stated that he hoped a number of student volunteers from T. C. would attend the meeting. "It is hoped that some boy who expects to be back next year will take advantage of this opportunity so that the Y. M. C. A. will receive some constructive work on its program," Oliver said.

Being escorted from Cartersville to Dalton by a state trooper was the big thrill in the trip of the International Relations Club group to Vanderbilt University, according to Harvin Mulkey.

Dr. R. J. H. DeLoach, Lamar Wiggins and Jewel Vandiver were other members of the group to attend the regional meeting of the International Relations Club.

Mulkey read a paper entitled "Whither Rumania," to the round table committee assigned to the study of the "European Dilemma."

The efforts of the group to secure the convention for this school next year was a failure because Georgia had had five of the fifteen meetings and Virginia none. The meeting next year will be held at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Va.
