I. R. C. DISCUSSES CZECH SITUATION

Key to European Crisis Lies In Hitler's Intentions Toward That Country.

By D. R. BARBER JR.

On Thursday night, March 31st, the International Relations Club held its regular meeting in Room 20 of the Administration Building with Lamar Wiggins, club president, presiding. Several new members were present and contributed to the round table discussion. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for the annual outing at Tybee.

President Wiggins opened the program with an account of the South-eastern International Relations Club Conference held at Vanderbilt University March 4th and 5th. He quoted from speeches made by Dr. Fenwick and Dr. Price.

The topic for discussion was "The place of Czechoslovakia in the European crisis." The conclusion was reached that this country's fate is of

ROSENWALD VISITORS ARE PLEASED WITH PROGRESS BEING MADE HERE

LIBRARY OPEN UNTIL 6 O'CLOCK

No Information Concerning New Ruling on Forty-eight-Hour Books.

The library will remain open one hour longer in the afternoons this quarter, according to Miss Eleanor Ray, college librarian. The time limit is extended to 6 o'clock p. m. under the new ruling.

No definite information can be given as to when the new ruling permitting students to keep over-night books out forty-eight hours will go into effect, Miss Ray stated. She added that it would probably go into effect about the end of the first six-weeks' session, before the short spring term begins.

Many improvements have been made in the library, according to Miss Ray. Among these she listed AWAIT RESULTS OF DIRECTORS' MEETING IN ATLANTA SATURDAY.

The results of the Rosenwald visit will be known after the meeting of the board of directors is held in Atlanta on Saturday, according to Dr. Marvin S. Pittman.

The group expressed themselves as being very appreciative of the college, Dr. Pittman revealed. Mr. Embury was especially pleased and made the statement that, "I am more and more impressed with the college on each visit, particularly with the earnestness of the faculty and the student body and the effectiveness of the work that is being done."

The group visited three phases of work. They visited the classroom work on the campus, the Ogeechee School, and the supervisory work going on in Bulloch county. All members of the group visited all three phases. They expressed themselves as being especially pleased at the work going on at Ogeechee.

GLEE CLUB PLANS UNION SERVICE

Hope To Have At Least Ninety People In Group, Including Statesboro Choirs.

The South Georgia Teachers College chorus, in conjunction with the choirs of the various churches in the city of Statesboro, is sponsoring a Union Service Sunday evening, April 10th. The churches in Statesboro will not have services on that date which will enable their congregations to come to the college auditorium for the joint service.

Mr. Neil, director, states that he hopes to have at least ninety people in the group, including the visiting choirs from town. The local chorus is composed of the Men's and Women's Glee Clubs. Only one song, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," will be sung.

Trips to Savannah and Augusta are to be made at an early date by the combined clubs. A two-day tour is also being planned for the early part of May.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Intramural sports and contests offer to every student in school the opportunity to compete as a member of a team, an opportunity to develop skills in a number of athletic events, and above all, furnishes an excellent means of recreation and exercise. Formerly all of these advantages were accessible only to those fortunate individuals who were members of varsity teams.

According to Mitchell, the leading authority on intramural sports, participation in these activities offers many advantages. He lists these: Better Health, regular participation in big muscle activities simply must lend itself toward better health of the individual; Social Contacts, the meeting and competing with fellow students will give a closer contact with the entire group, and make for a friendlier, more understanding attitude toward many students whom you did not particularly like; Group Spirit, there is a definite bond holding together members of various athletic teams. Every person ought to experience this feeling of being a member of a group, and having the whole group interested in him; Permanent Interest in Sports, one of the chief interests of Physical Education teachers is to develop skill and interest in activities that will carry over into later life; Bodily Prowess, with regular play and exercise the body will develop organically, and in skill also; Scholarship, a sound mind in a sound body has been the cry of men for centuries—taking part in regular play and exercise affords an individual a chance to overcome sluggish feeling, to have pep and energy and zest for the routine part of his school life—all this makes for a happier, more contented student, and tends to raise the scholastic level.

We have an intramural program second to none in this state, but many improvements are needed even now.

To a large extent the boys who really need the development seldom participate in intramural programs; the people who are selecting teams want to win, and therefore pick the ones who already have a great deal of skill. Usually there is found most of the proficient players on one or two teams; since there is small probability of any other team beating them out, no one tries to organize against them. Of course this partice is harmful, but the major purpose of intramurals is lost sight of . . . It is

Diggings

Ever so often college editors get riled up and swear in the still of the night that dirt columns and people who read dirt columns and people who get written about in dirt columns ought to be lined up and shot. But wutinell is a fellow going to do when there is a whole column to be filled and nothing to fill it with except the type of stuff that folks write off on little slips of paper and come and stick on the typewriter while nobody is looking. Ye gods, if some of that mess went in the paper we'd have to leave town for a week after every issue.

Well, try again. It's spring now; that ought to be good for a couple of lines. Yes, it's spring. H'mn. As Dodie says, "It's spring and the peaches and pairs are in bloom." Sophie says Dodie never could spell, but it would appear that that phrase was just Dodie's sly way of saying that it's a long ways to Savannah.

You freshmen are probably wondering why all this to-do over somebody who isn't even in school now. Well, that's about the only kind of dirt column that a fellow can afford to write when he signs his name to it. Now, you take for instance, if something appeared in this column about some of the faculty members or Rosenwald students there might be an awful fuss, and your correspondent never was good at running foot races. Course now, if it could be settled by having a long-distance spitting contest, we are willing to spot anybody a good handspan and still wager a postage stamp on the outcome.

No, we aren't going to write anything about faculty members or Rosenwald students. Course now, we could write something about old Kent and his newly acquired title, but we won't even do that 'cause old Kent didn't cuss so awfully, awfully much when we swiped his typewriter to write this mess on, after the timely demise of old Caterpillar had threatened to hold up the writing of this week's G.-A. And old Kenty-Wenty might even scurry around and get us up a new typewriter after us being so awfully nice this week and not saying anything about him and his love-life in the dirt column.

Then, too, we could write a lot about that Jacksonville trip and the incident of the telephone calls, but we won't.

Now the house party ought to be good for a few lines but we understand that all concerned prefer that to be not mentioned. Why, Frank Zetterower says that his tight rope (or was it barb-wire fence) walking had nothing to do with Bobbie coming home by herself. So what's a dirt columnist going to do? There won't be any point in trying to find out why Froggie returned so early, would there?

But with things the way they are, maybe we'd better not write about people individually. Maybe it would be better to write about a whole group, like, for instance, the new club that Admiral Byrd has organized. It is reported that they held the first meeting the other night and that one prospective member failed his entrance exam by going out too early.

not the winning, but active participation in activities that counts. Every boy and girl ought to take part whether or not he or she thinks that the team on which he is to play is the champion or not. Another weakness of our intramural organization is the absence of awards. People who participate do not do so only for the sake of winning and receiving awards, but that helps put interest in it.

Scoop: Spring is here!

Inside story of the production of the imitation Wild West horse opry of last Friday: The production was carried through with many trials and hardships as all great productions are. The first plan for the chapel program was to have imitations of our faculty. But for reasons and then some more reasons, it was decided not to do this. It was late in the night and no idea yet for the program. And then it struck like a bolt of lightning; we would give a T. C. version of a "horse opry." Then Miss Veazy wanted the girls to come in. After a good bit of persuasion she relented and we went on with the practice. Two of the lady professors came in and said the play was disgraceful. That was somewhat disheartening, but we kept on. The student applause indicated that they were right.

One of the ideals of this institution is to develop broadmindedness. And yet some members of the faculty have never learned to take a joke. The student programs in which jokes are pulled on certain professors are of no other spirit than that of fun. We wish the jokes could be accepted in the spirit they are intended and not as a personal insult, disgrace, or otherwise.

And speaking of broadmindedness what do you think of the seniors voting against having holidays on Thanksgiving. One senior voted against it because "they'll get them anyway." Another, "We've never had them, why should they?"

the utmost importance to the future of Europe. Should Czechoslovakia fall into Hitler's hands he would be for a time almost undefeatable since Austria is already in his grasp. The other Central European powers would be forced to give in, following Czechoslovakia, and Germany would then have an open way eastward.

For ten years after the war Czechoslovakia was peaceful and prosperous. There was much business expansion and many new industries were introduced such as shoes, automobiles, textiles and explosives. Her exports increased 100 per cent during 1937.

Today there are three and one-half million Germans living in Czechoslovakia. German possessions on the border make up the richest part of the country, abounding in coal and radium mines, machine factories, glass and leather works. Two-thirds of these Germans favor the uniting of Czechoslovakia with Germany. They are led by Konrad Henlien and are really a part of the Nazi party.

The opinion was expressed that the removal of trade barriers and the stabilization of world currency would go far toward bringing about world peace.

The next topic for discussion will be "America's foreign policy and America's armament program."

SPORT SLANTS

By JEFF "STUFFY" STEWART

If there is anyone, or anything who would like to make a nice friendly wager of a chicken supper for their team against mine on the softball league, I'll just be forced to take them up.

Or better still, I'll bet any number of suppers up to five that our team wins the championship against the field. There's a nice chance for some to pick up some 7-1 odds.

How about it, are there any gamblers in the crowd? You would certainly be gambling because those odds are prohibitive. In other words, the Praying Stewards are due for a third consecutive championship. This reporter has been watching the boys play a little and has selected these men as the champions: Hamil, 1b; Henry Bagley, scf; Vergil Robinson, 2b; Doug Strickland, rf; Howell Martin, 3b; Roy Berry, c; Tiger Sowell, lf; Bill Franklin, p; Hagin cf; the Doctor, ss; Charles Estes, of.

One more player is eligible. We'll probably take on Miss Lane so that the teach Coach plays on won't be playing under too heavy a handicap. As to the other teams, there are plenty of good players around here, but they need a couple of years of seasoning before they try to step up in the Praying Stewards class. Some of them are Miller, Rigsby, Ozier, Ware, Cowart, Bull Brown, McLeod, Joiner, Green and Eli Hill.

Guess this kinda puts me on the proverbial limb, doesn't it? Well, we are perfectly willing to have the limb cut, but I don't believe any other team will have sharp enough saws. Shall we wait and see?

Spring Football Practice Begins

Spring football started in a big a big way last week, according to Coach "Crook" Smith.

At this time there are about twenty boys out for partice. A larger number are expected to come out later. Every man has shown improvement and there are many bright prospects for next year.

The period of spring football training will last for about three weeks.

Among the boys out for practice are Ben Hodges, Harold Rigsby, Joe Joyner, Asa Barnard, Bull Brown, Herschel Hamil, Tom Vandiver, Robert Moss, C. W. Graham, Roy Berry, Albert Hagan, Hack Wilson, Eli Hill, and Woodard, Carswell and Allen.

Browning or Kipling?

Editor: "Have you ever read proof?"

Frosh: "No, who wrote it?"

Miss Gush (in a restaurant): "I think it is a shame that cattle must tie in order for us to have this steak."

Mr. Guff: "Yes, it is tough, isn't it?"

SOFTBALL LEAGUE WILL OPEN SOON

Several Teams Have Already Been Organized and the Positions Filled.

The big news from the office of the health and physical education department concerns the intramural tournament in softball. A meeting of the boys interested in playing is to be held soon, a schedule drawn up, and a round tournament run off. In this type of tournament every team must play every other team; winner is the team with the best percentage at the end of the schedule.

Last year the Praying Stewards repeated their 1936 triumph, and according to Jeff Stewart, they are going to make it three straight. "Bull" Brown (with Coach's backing), I W. Bragg, the two fraternities, and maybe some others we have not heard about all intend to show him that some other team can gain that coveted title.

Coaches Smith and Wrinkle would like to have some of the student body to volunteer as officials for the tournament; it will be good training for the individuals, and will be a big help to the department.

Plans for a swimming meet are being formulated. All of the boys are asked to watch for notice of this.

Faculty Members Are Commended For Fine Work

The work being done by Miss Jane Franseth and Miss Elizabeth Donovan was praised by Mr. M. R. Little, state school supervisor, who was recently a visitor in the Bulloch county schools.

In a letter to Mr. H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, Mr. Little stated:

"The supervisory program conducted under Miss Jane Franseth is bearing fruit and I found some good teaching going on in the classrooms. There seems to be a spirit of co-operation among the teachers and pupils, and since you have expanded your vocational courses I am sure that more of the larger boys and girls will remain in school than they have in the past.

"The work going on at the Ogeechee School under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth Donovan, with the teachers from South Georgia Teachers College, is very fine and I hope that some plans will be made during the summer to enlarge the school plant so that better work can be done next year.

"Do you think we can squeeze in here?" he asked, as he entered a crowded bus with his big date.

"Dear," she whispered, "I think we'd better wait until we get home." —Yellow Jacket.

Potter's Wheel Is Recent Addition To Industrial Arts Shop

One of the newest and most interesting additions to the equipment of the Industrial Arts shop is a potter's wheel which was constructed by students and Mr. Ivan Hostettler, head of the department.

The wheel was constructed from old automobile parts and is driven by an electric motor. Mr. Hostettler stated that the wheel in its present condition was not quite satisfactory and that some changes need to be made.

In discussing the construction of the wheel Mr. Hostettler revealed the interesting fact that sixty-five per cent of the clay in the United States is located in Georgia. He went on to state that Dr. Herty had informed him that Georgia has everything necessary to develop a ceramic industry.

Mr. Hostettler gave, as an example for the need of the development of the industry in Georgia, these statistics: The South every year spends fifteen million dollars on tableware alone. When unrefined clay is shipped to the North, it sells for around $8.00 per ton. When Southerners (Georgians included) buy it back, it costs at the rate of $3.00 per ounce.

Other new equipment in the shop included a new metal lathe which is to be used in the metal work class, and some new sheet metal equipment.

WRONG TRAIN

I got on the train at the terminal depot en route to Detroit. After about thirty minutes the conductor came through, examined my ticket and said, "Young man, you are on the wrong train." I immediately got off and walked back.

I boarded another train and had settled very comfortably back in the cushions after a full fifteen-minute ride when the conductor came through. He examined my ticket and said, "Young man, you are on the wrong train."

I trudged my way back to the depot, so mad I could spit cotton and swearing at every step. I had no sooner got on the train than a preacher said to me, "Young man, you shouldn't swear like that; don't you know you are going to hell?"

Right then I knew full well I was on the wrong train again.—Yellow Jacket.

His wife, determined to cure him of his evil ways, with the aid of a sheet and an electric torch, transformed herself into a fair semblance of a ghost. She went in and skook the drunkard.

English Instructor: "Are you smoking back there, Mr. Sprat?"

Sprat: "No sir, that's just the fog I'm in."

TENNIS PROSPECTS APPEAR HOPELESS

Aspirants Are Not Reporting For Practice, and Interest Is Lagging.

Unless more interest is shown by those seeking places on the tennis squad this year, the idea of having an intercollegiate team this year may be abandoned, according to Mr. William S. Hanner, tennis coach.

Howell and Ed Perryman, Pat Colquitt, Owen McKenzie, Bill McLeod and Copeland Ozier are showing up well in practice, Coach Hanner stated, and the five-man squad will probably be picked from these six.

Plans to organize a freshman team this year are also being considered by Coach Hanner. James Thayer, B. H. Ramsey, Albert Braswell and William Parker are considered the most likely candidates for this team. The freshmen will probably play Savannah High School in Savannah, Coach Hanner said.

Six matches have already been scheduled for the varsity, two with Mercer, two with Douglas and two with Tifton. Last year Mercer defeated the Teachers for the first time in the history of the tennis rivalry between the two schools.

Seniors Urged To File Applications As Soon As Possible

Members of the senior class and those who intend applying for teaching positions next year should file application blanks immediately, according to Miss Queen Collins, new secretary to the director of the placement bureau.

The college is using a new style application blank this year which includes all the information necessary for county school superintendents and others seeking to secure teachers.

In addition to the regular information concerning qualifications, the form this year will include recommendations and a photograph of the applicant.

All college credits acquired by the students will be listed on the blank by Miss Collins, who will secure the information from the office of the registrar.

"Wash that?" murmured the toper.

"This is the Devil," came the answer in sepulchral tones.

"Shake hands, old horsh. I married your sister."—Pelican.

A man went into a restaurant and ordered a meal. When it was brought to him he dipped his hand into the mashed potatoes and started to rub it in his hair. The waiter rushed up to him and said, "Why sir, what do you mean by rubbing mashed potatoes in your hair?"

"I'm sorry," said the man, "I thought they were string beans."—Yellow Jacket.

Saturday Picnics This Quarter May Continue Until Eight O'Clock

Picnics this quarter may continue until 8 o'clock on Saturday evenings, according to a statement of Willard Cartee, president of the Student Council. The statement, made in connection with the release of the social calendar which appears elsewhere in this issue, also included an announcement that picnics may be held during the week and last from 4 p. m. until the beginning of the study period. The study period begins at 7 p. m. now, but according to Cartee, it will probably not begin until 7:30 later on in the quarter.

Cartee also stated that dances held in town on Saturday evenings may begin at 8 p. m. and last until approximately 11:45. This is done to allow time for the girls to check in at the dormitories by 12 o'clock.

Any group desiring to have a dance in the Gymnasium may arrange to do so, Cartee stated. There is a fee of five dollars for the use of the building. This fee is to be paid in at the office of the bursar.

DELTA LAMBDA DELTA

The Delta Lambda Delta sorority held their annual spring dance at the Woman's Club room Saturday night, March 26th. The club room was attractively decorated with roses and southern smilax.

Members and their dates for the occasion, were as follows: Julia Reese, Jim Wrinkle; Thelma Harrison, Herschel Hamil; Gladys Thayer, Horace McDougald; Doris Wallace, Leroy Roughton; Virginia King, Paul Robertson; Mary Brigman, Jim Warren; Joe Johnson, Bobby Carroll; Sue Zetterower, Copeland Ozier; Burdelle Harrison, John Cromley; Kathryn Gardner, Jeff Stewart.

Among those invited for the occasion were Margaret Alexander, Maxine Griffis, Misses Susie Hammack, Pat Roberts, Ruth Sisson, Mary Mercer, Mary Alderman, Jurelle Shuptrine, Audrey Cason, Dorothy Darby, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Bennett, sponsors of the club.

DUX DOMINA

The Dux Domina held their first regular meeting of the quarter Thursday night, March 31st. Sibyl Strickland and Virginia Sands were hostesses. Plans for the Pan-Hellenic Dance to be given on May 7th were discussed. Delightful refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

The Piedmont Hotel will be headquarters for the college during the meeting of the Georgia Education Association in Atlanta, April 14, 15, 16.

President M. S. Pittman, accompanied by Miss Jane Franseth and Miss Elizabeth Donovan, spent Saturday in Atlanta, where they attended a curriculum conference.

Jeff Stewart in bed with a cold, was told that he had a high fever. Jeff: "How high is it doctor?" Doctor: "A hundred and one." Jeff: "What's the world's record?"

Dime Dopes and "Snow White" Are Featured by St. Louis Symphony

By C. D. SHELEY

Several hundred T. C. students migrated to Savannah to hear the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra beat its band on Wednesday night. A good time was had by all and when it was time to clap at the wrong time it wasn't us T. C.'uns who did it.

The musicians were kept in order by a funny looking guy who kept waving a stick at them. He didn't worry them much though because they payed him very little attention.

Probably Wm. Deal and Mr. Neal enjoyed the concert most. They propped their chins on the balcony ledge and stared with dreamy eyes at the harp, which was made musical by a lady. Speaking of enjoyment, the lady in the blue dress had a swell time, too; I could tell by the way she sparkled.

At intermission they charged us a dime for coca-colas, which were cold day before that. The bottles were stacked in the rear of the bus to make room for the students on the way back.

Roy Berry drove the bus back after being found asleep in the Lucas. He enjoyed "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" very much.

There wasn't room on the balcony ledge for Mr. Kent, but then he had Miss Edenfield.

Miss Mary Will Wakeford, Miss Julia Reese, Leonard Kent and Robert Donaldson spent last Friday in Pulaski, where they acted as judges in the First district high school debates for the class C schools.

Remember Joe Stein?

Members of this year's senior class may recall the tall, lanky lad from Colquitt, who was a student here four years ago.

A clipping from the Auburn Plainsman, student newspaper at Auburn, Alabama, reveals the interesting fact that Stein is to receive a degree in veterinary medicine at that school next year.

The feature of the story concerns a dog which Joe adopted two years ago and which has since been attending classes regularly with his master. The dog, Jerry, is slated to receive an honorary degree in veterinary medicine at the same time that Stein receives his, according to the clipping received here last week by Aunt Sophie.

The paper also carried a picture of Stein and the dog seated in a lecture room.

The next issue of the paper also contained a news item about the intra-mural basketball tournament finals there which was won by the team on which Stein was playing center.

Anyone interested in reading the two clippings may call for them at Aunt Sophie's room in Sanford Hall.
