Call for proposals for CURIO Symposium: Deadline March 4

The CLASS Office for Undergraduate Research & Intellectual Opportunities (or CURIO) is pleased to host an evening highlighting the best research and creative endeavors of the college's students at the CURIO Symposium to be held on April 19, 2016. CURIO welcomes submissions from currently enrolled undergraduate students from all major and minor areas of study in CLASS. Projects completed during the Spring 2015, Summer 2015, Fall 2015, and Spring 2016 semesters are welcome. Interdisciplinary projects from those semesters also may be submitted.

To apply for the Symposium, students should submit a 250-word abstract describing the scholarly or creative activity and the presentation, paper, performance, or poster that will be utilized to showcase the research or creative endeavor. The abstracts should explain how the project represents original student work. The application also requires the listing of a faculty mentor with whom the student worked with on the project. The faculty mentor should help students prepare to deliver their presentation by providing both advice and feedback on their material and physical presentation.

This year, faculty mentors also may submit an application on behalf of students who wish to participate in the Symposium. The abstract should describe the student's research or creative endeavor in detail and explain how the project, paper, performance, or poster represents original student work. Please limit these to 250 words.

All projects should be submitted to: <http://tinyurl.com/2016-CURIO-Symposium>. Applications will be accepted until March 4, 2016 (please note, you must be logged in to MyApps to access the application page).

Projects selected for the Symposium program will take the form of 10-20 minute presentations, readings, or performances. Students presenting posters will be allotted time at the beginning of the program to discuss their work. If selected to participate, students must be physically present at the Symposium to comment on their research, presentation, performance, or poster and to respond to questions from the audience. Selected papers, projects, performances, and posters need be in final draft format or ready to be performed by April 9, 2016.

Outstanding presentations, performances, and posters in the humanities, fine arts, and social sciences, as determined by faculty judges, will be recognized at the Symposium with a monetary award and a student profile on the CLASS website.

Camp SAY seeking counselors

Camp SAY, summer camp for young people who stutter, is looking for staff members for Camp SAY 2015.

They are looking for some great young adults (minimum age: 19) to join the staff this summer.

To give you some more information about Camp SAY:

Camp SAY 2016 will take place from August 2nd through August 16th, 2016 at Blue Star Camps in Hendersonville, North Carolina. This year they are expecting around 130 campers, and are looking for dedicated, passionate, patient, hard-working people to join the staff. New staff applicants must have experience working with children to be considered for the counselor position. For an even better idea of what camp is all about check out this video, complete with camper testimonials.

They ask all staff members to join them for Staff Training starting July 26th and be able to stay until August 17th.

Positions they are hiring for Camp SAY 2016:

- Bunk Counselor - live with and be responsible for a group of 6-12 campers of the same gender with a co-counselor (create a positive, unified, safe space in the bunk, help to wake up and get ready, help go to bed, help stay organized, eat all meals together in the dining hall, etc.)
- Teaching Artist - lead/support various creative/performing arts activities under the support and guidance of the Artistic Director and Associate Artistic Director; work with small groups of campers (2-4 per group) to create original pieces to share/perform on Visiting Day
- Activities Counselor - lead/support various camp activities throughout the day, including sports, performing/creative arts, adventure/outdoor activities, group-bonding activities, and more
- Support Staff - support the leadership staff, office staff, and activities staff with various tasks and activities; may include supporting the leaders of specific activities; setting up for activities, evening activities and special events; helping with transitions between activities; arranging/organizing/preparing supplies in the office; providing support on the bunk line and in the dining hall; accompanying drivers with travel assignments; etc.
- Office Staff - help keep the operations of camp running smoothly, help maintain a clean and organized office space, work closely with and support the Leadership Team, answer phones and correspond with families as needed, assist with data entry, supplies, attendance, memos to staff, camper mail, and other administrative tasks

All staff members are expected to actively support, encourage, and engage all campers socially, emotionally, and physically (help with conflict resolution, self-confidence, strong communication; be a positive role model/mentor/great listener; show patience, enthusiasm, creativity, flexibility, generosity, etc.).
