I. R. C. DISCUSSES FOREIGN POLICY

Glenn Sowell and Eleanor Murphy Take Leading Parts
On Program.

The International Relations Club, with Lamar Wiggins in charge of the discussion, held its regular meeting Thursday night in the Administration Building. Several informal talks were made by members on the subject, "America's Foreign Policy." Glenn Sowell spoke on "Economic Sanctions and Collective Security." Eleanor Murphy gave a book report on "American Neutrality," by Bernhard and Lage.

This author gives two possible policies which the United States might adopt in regard to her foreign policy. First, isolation and absolute neutrality, and second, co-operation with other democracies of the world against autocratic aggressor nations. The club decided that the United States had not applied her neutrality policy in the Japanese-Chinese conflict but at the present time was refraining from any interference in Spain. The general consensus was for the United States to pursue the former policy named above instead of the latter as outlined by President Roosevelt in a Chicago speech in October, 1937.

South Carolina Schools Visited By Dr. Carruth And Miss Franseth

Dr. J. E. Carruth and Miss Jane Franseth were visitors in the Colleton county schools, South Carolina, on Wednesday of last week.

"We found a very interesting situation there," Dr. Carruth said in speaking of the trip. "Ralph Gaskin, a graduate of this college, is doing very well at Cottageville. The state department is trying to convert his school into a state demonstration school."

Dr. Carruth went on to explain that the county school system there is attempting progressive education in the primary and elementary levels, but that the secondary level is conventional.

Ehrich Sorantin, Violinist, Will Be Presented As Final Lyceum Number

Dr. Destler Attends History Meeting Held At Indianapolis, Ind.

Dr. C. M. Destler, head of the social science department, attended the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, held in Indianapolis, Ind., April 28, 29 and 30.

The meeting was to enable historians to keep up to date on their subject. Papers were read, and given in research work, and general problems of historians discussed.

For the last two years Dr. Destler has read a paper at the meeting, but this year he was not required to do so.

Dr. Destler is the author of five articles concerning Georgia to appear in the Dictionary of American History.

The final lyceum number of the 1937-38 series will be given Monday evening, May 9, at 8 o'clock in the college auditorium when Dr. Ehrich Sorantin, eminent Viennese violinist, will be presented in concert.

Endowed with powers which stamp him as an artist of the highest rank, Dr. Sorantin has been acclaimed by press and public. He made his debut at the age of twelve, and in Vienna he became a favorite. He made a concert tour of Austria and other European countries and as a tribute to his triumphs was made professor of violin of the Vienna Conservatory. In this country he has been conductor of the Tennessee Philharmonic Orchestra and the Nashville Symphony. He holds a degree of doctor of philosophy from Vanderbilt University.

Dr. Sorantin's picture will be seen on page 3.

The George-Anne wishes to extend a hearty welcome to the short term students, who are arriving this week. We believe that you will find this college amply suited to your needs.

"We were pleasantly surprised in chapel Monday of last week. We are students although we aren't ladies and gentlemen. Oh, why worry about a little thing like that. Rabbi Solomon didn't even realize he had made a mistake."—From Sheley's Columnette.

Congratulations to the band for the fine showing they made on their recent trip. It is understood that they were received by large and appreciative audiences at all appearances. This should prove to be fine advertising for the college. Here's hoping Mr. Deal will continue to do as well in the future as he has in the past.

Political chatter: With the Student Council election not so very far away it might be well to breeze up on our political notes. . . . In the past, personality rather than a platform was required to win. . . . This year every candidate should let the student know what he stands for. . . . Certainly the office of president requires a definite program. . . . Some one suggests that we have a political party, the candidates giving speeches, platforms and refreshments.

STUDENT OPINION

Ever so often some member of the editorial staff of the George-Anne receives a letter signed "A Student." The general trend of comment in these letters is to the effect that something ought to be done about the regulations by which students are supposed to abide.

While these letters are often quite vociferous about things in general, they seldom mention any particular incident so that it is useless to try to check up and see just what is causing the trouble.

Yet there does seem to be an unusual amount of dissension in recent weeks and we suggest that perhaps it would be worthwhile to look into the matter.

How this is to be accomplished we are not prepared to say. A suggestion has been made that the college sponsor a student forum where students may freely express their opinions. Whether this would be a solution would depend upon the attitude with which it is undertaken. This we do believe. The student body and faculty here is as fine as can be found anywhere. If there is dissatisfaction on the campus, we feel sure that it can be remedied if only the source can be determined.

Diggings

The strains of Carolina seem to be in the air and I think I. W. Bragg can tell us all about it.

David has gone on the Georgia history trip and from all reports of the past David knows his way around Savannah. What we mean is what will he tell Vernice when he gets back this time?

We wonder why Rigsby and Tommie have been apart for the last few days; is it an experiment to test the "true love" or do they really mean it?

J. O. Wingard is coming up in this world from the looks of things happening lately. He seems to be undecided as to a D. L. D. or an L. T. C. Stick by your guns, Wingard, these things always pan out right.

Looks like this man Hickey is really going to town in a big way. And Bobby Carrol is taking heed to the old saying, "the cure for one woman is another woman." What's gonna happen? Don't ask me, I didn't do it!

Where does Red Maddox go on her late afternoon walks—can it be that she wants to be alone?

Well, Scruggs, Len Lastinger is back on the campus. And by all appearances Little Cone is on the well known "spot." We wonder how this will pan out?

As is being said, "I hear there will be quite a few mighty, mighty good-looking girls coming to the short spring term." So if youse gals really love your men you had better put short leashes on them for the next few weeks and watch your step!

Where was Ed Perryman at the Pan-Hellenic dance last Saturday night. We saw Hitler Hook with Pris and as the usual thing, Ed is right by her side, but on that night "Ed werent by her." Is that what spring does to people? Allah forbid!

We saw Marion Carpenter back from the band trip many moons before the band. Was it Ozzie's fault or could it have been Blondie that made that man leave the band at Washington?

Big Jim Warren and Mary Brigman are really back into the old "spring mood," by the looks of them on the campus you'd think it was last spring out again this spring. Not many people around here seem to have that old spirit, so follow in Jim and Mary's footsteps and I think everybody will be happy.

The band came back Friday night and I think a few girls around the campus got right out of the "dumps" and smiles again took the place of the long faces.

What two college boys seem to prefer high school girls to our own fair beauties of T. C.? They say to heck with school, what we like is town and the brighter lights.

What this college needs is more spring romances. No kidding, if this slack-up continues this column will be completely out of something to print. Won't somebody please come to the rescue and fall in love? Thank you!

The naval building program was also discussed at length. "A navy second to none," would be the theme of this program. If carried out it would increase the present strength of the navy by 20% as a whole while in the aviation branch it would be over 20%. It would add approximately 1,000 planes, 2 aircraft carriers, and many other improvements at a cost of between one billion and two billion dollars. It was proposed that this country maintain a navy 60% greater than anything Japan could build. This would call for 3 battleships with a tonnage of 45,000, each costing from $90,000,000 to $100,000,000. It would take approximately ten years to complete this program.

The question was raised as to how this navy would be used. Many possible uses were cited, such as joint action with other navies to create a sort of international police system, or as a defensive system near the coast of the United States and possessions, such as the Panama Canal, Alaska and Hawaii. Most important, however, would be for the expanded navy to act as a bargaining force in the Orient, particularly with Japan. In any case, however, this navy is assumed to be a force for peace and not for aggression.

The final opinion voiced by the club was that, as a general rule, the United States had no clear cut foreign policy as yet.

The stock in the Praying Stewarts took a decided drop last week when the Bull Brown aggregation took them apart 7-5, but it is on the rise now due to the set-back Brown received at the hands of the Pi Nus.

If the Stewarts can come through this afternoon in their game with the Pi Nu team, stock will be at par.

Offers on the chicken suppers are still good, even after the loss, but no one seems to be anxious to eat or they think I'm as crazy as Kitty is. I don't know which.

It has been decided to have a Shaughnessy play-off for the championship. I'll tell all I know about it in the next few lines. Some team will end up in first place, another in second, third, and fourth place after everyone has played seven games. The team in first place will play the fourth place a best two-out-of-three series. At the same time the second and third place teams will also be playing a best two-out-of-three series. The winners of these semi-final rounds will meet in a best three-out-of-four series for the championship.

Fellows, I would appreciate it if each of you who is on a softball team would hand in to me some time this week an all-star softball team which will be published in the next edition of this paper. Each year a couple of out-of-town games are played of out-of-town games are played also try to go to Armstrong and have them here. So please turn in this list some time this week.

Remember the race is wide open and there is a good game on for this afternoon. How about it, Hook? Have you decided to take me up on this one?

PLAY DAY FOR HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO BE SPONSORED HERE MAY 7 BY COLLEGE

Approximately three hundred seniors from various high schools in this section of the state will be on the college campus Saturday, May 7th, to participate in the Play Day, according to Jim Wrinkle.

This event is sponsored by the physical education department of the college so that pupils from the schools may meet each other in a pleasant, informal way and to foster the spirit of play.

The girls are supposed to meet on the practice field back of Sanford Hall, where the softball games are now held. The boys are to meet on the old football field or on the practice field back of West Hall.

The purpose of the affair is to encourage the schools to play with each other rather than always playing against each other, and to promote wholesome activity through a varied program of physical education.

The girls are to bring a gym suit, shorts and shirt, or slacks and shirt, with tennis shoes or flat-heeled oxfords. Boys are to wear a gym suit, baseball uniform, or swimming suit, tennis, baseball or track shoes. The boys are also requested to bring a baseball glove if possible.

The meeting is scheduled to begin Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. All visiting players are to register and colored arm bands will be given to distinguish teams which will be divided up according to sex, age or some other qualification.

A picnic luncheon is scheduled to be given for the visitors at noon, and in the afternoon a demonstration of physical education will be given in the Gymnasium by the classes under Miss Susie Hammack. Also in the afternoon group singing will be held in the auditorium.

during the day for seven days.

Fines: There will be a fine of five cents for each hour or part of an hour a reserve or seven-day book is kept beyond time due. There will be a fine of five cents for each day a fourteen-day book is kept beyond date due.

Each student will be allowed not more than four books at one time. The files will be checked by 10 o'clock each morning and all students who have more than the stated number of books will be fined. The fine will start with the time the fifth book was checked out.

Books will be called in for reserve shelf use only. When you are notified a book is needed, a fine will start twenty-four hours after the notification should be received.

Seven-day and fourteen-day books may be reserved by a reserve slip being made out by the student. Students will be notified of the return of books reserved by them by a notice on the check table.

The desk attendant has been instructed not to look through the circulation files for information as to who has a certain book or when it is due. If the book is not on the shelf or in the reading room it is checked out.

"It is hoped that this new system will improve the efficiency of the library. However, the efficiency of any library depends to a greater extent upon the people who use it than upon any regulations made. The library will have to depend upon the co-operation of students and faculty," Miss Ray stated.

English majors, whether they are seniors or juniors may take the comprehensive examination in English, according to Dr. T. B. Stroup.
