IRC DISCUSSES SPANISH CRISIS

Meeting Held Thursday Evening At Home of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Destler.

Holding their last meeting of the current year, the International Relations Club met at the home of Dr. C. M. Destler, faculty advisor, last Thursday evening. Due to the Training School faculty play held at the college the same night, there was only a small attendance.

The discussion centered about papers on the international situation read by Miss Nell Winn and Harvin Mulkey. Miss Winn's paper, "The Future of the Spanish Peasant," gave a vivid picture of the life of the Spanish peasant before and after the downfall of the old monarchy and under the present Republican government which is about to be overthrown. The club decided that if the present government were overthrown the peasant would be in the same plight that he was in under the old monarchy.

Mulkey's article was "International Stakes in the Spanish Civil War." In the paper he cited examples of France, Russia, Germany and the United States giving help to both sides of the conflict. The club decided that non-intervention on the part of other countries would be best for Europe as a whole.

After the discussion Dr. and Mrs. Destler served the group delicious refreshments.

ENGLISH, GERKEN EDIT REFLECTOR

Will Be Editor and Business Manager, Respectively, Next Year.

Louise English, junior from Thomaston, and William Gerken, junior from Savannah, were elected editor and business manager, respectively, of the Reflector for next year at a meeting held after chapel Friday.

The nominations were offered by a student committee on publications from the present junior class and were approved by the faculty committee on publications before being submitted to the class.

Miss English is a Rosenwald student and has made a high scholastic average every quarter. Gerken has been a student there for three years and has been a very popular student, taking part in a number of extra curricular activities. This year he has been business manager of the George-Anne, and at present he is a student teacher in the Ogeechee School.

DENMARK SCHOOL TO BE OPERATED FOR ROSENWALDS

The Denmark School will be operated next year especially for Rosenwald students, according to President Marvin S. Pittman. The schedule has been altered so that the Rosenwald students must divide part of their time in supervision and part in teaching at Denmark.

Five of the Rosenwald students will be teaching there at all times. It will be operated in six shifts. That is, teachers will be changed each six weeks. Ten people will have the opportunity to teach each quarter.

Miss Kate Houx will serve as supervisor of training. As stated in the last issue of the George-Anne, George Donaldson will act as principal of the school, which is located twelve miles south of Statesboro.

Donaldson will attend Columbia University to work on his master's degree this summer.

The present plans are for the Rosenwald students to stay on the campus and go out to the school in a bus.

Results of Freshmen Election Announced

In a special class election held by the freshmen, Marion Lanier, of Statesboro, was elected vice-president of the sophomore class of next year. Catherine Gainey was named as secretary without opposition. Sophie Lee Hutchinson was elected treasurer.

READING TESTS RESULTS GIVEN

Much Improvement Is Shown Over Those Given In February.

Statistics concerning the reading tests given this month to 292 people were revealed by Miss Kate Houx in chapel Friday.

A comparison was made between the tests given in February and those given in May. The statistics showed a considerable gain in both rate and comprehension. The average score in school comprehension for February was 135, for May it was 146. The rate of speed in February was 28.5, for May it was 36.4.

The Rosenwald group showed the greatest gain in both rate and comprehension while the juniors showed less improvement than any other group.

People who desire information about the scores they made may call by Miss Houx's office at the following hours: On Monday from 11 to 1

C. D. Sheley Is Selected As Editor of The George-Anne By Faculty Committee

New Editor

C. D. SHELEY,

of Halcyondale, who has been elected editor of the George-Anne for next year.

C. D. Sheley, junior from Halcyondale, has been selected as editor of the George-Anne for next year by the faculty committee on publications, it was announced by Professor Robert F. Donaldson, chairman of the committee.

Sheley will take charge of the paper in the fall, and the staff will be selected at that time. The ruling is that the staff is selected by the editor and approved by the committee.

Sheley has been associate editor of the paper this year and has had much experience with all phases of the editorial management. During the winter quarter when the present editor was at the Ogeechee School, Sheley took over most of the work of publishing the George-Anne.

Sheley was editor of the Sylvania High School paper. He is a graduate of that school.

When interviewed, Sheley stated that no definite selection for associate editor had been made.

The progress shown by the students on the reading tests is commendable.

T. C.'s campus is one of the most beautiful in the state. Dame Nature and Mr. Gaar are certainly doing their part. The two of them within a year will have this campus rating as "most beautiful."

This year has been one of progress for T. C. Merely to look at the activity on the campus is evidence of this fact. Buildings, beautiful and well constructed, are rapidly nearing completion and should be ready for use next year.

Well, the Reflectors are out and the George-Anne would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Harvin Mulkey and his staff of co-workers for the splendid annual that they have given us. We believe the Reflector this year is the finest that has ever been published here, and it is a credit to the college.

In conclusion, to all those who have worked so faithfully with the present editor during these last two years, "Thanks a million." We've had a lot of headaches and heartaches, but it's still been fun, hasn't it? Well, we've refrained from sentimentality in these columns for two years now, so let's don't begin now.

We believe that the juniors made a wise selection in their choice of editor and business manager for the Reflector for next year. Miss English should be able to publish a bigger and better annual than ever, with the aid of "Geechee" Gerken as business manager. "Geechee" has been on the staff of the George-Anne all this year, and we know that he is quite capable of handling the important post to which he has been elected.

Since this seems to be an orchid-tossing editorial column, we should also like to express our approval of the selection of C. D. Sheley as editor of the George-Anne next year. This is the second year that Sheley has worked with us and we believe that he is well qualified to handle the paper next year. We members of the staff who will not be back next year are looking forward to being well informed about happenings back on the campus of Alma Mater. So we'd like to file our names on the mailing list right now, Editor Sheley.

Diggings

Wonder if Virginia has had any letters from Columbus' Maurice lately?

We wish Bragg would decide which romance he intends to continue, the one of the picnic or the one "coming back" last Sunday night. Oh! So you haven't heard about the latter; well, I'll tell you. . . . Censored.

Who is Pineapple's girl? I've heard this kind of talk for a long time but he won't tell me, so maybe someone else can.

The State Patrol is still in existence. Only last week we had a visit from one of its members. Not on state business, however, . . . Ask Breezy what kind it was I think he can tell you more than we can.

Lestina Stanley is importing one from Metter and at the same time Joe Brinson is trying to spend his time in that fair city. It looks like something is going to develop both here and there. Is it, Joe? And is it, Lestina?

A few night ago the Holy Grayle and Prof. Kent were seen heading for town and both were dressed "fit to kill." I don't know where they were going but I'll betcha they could tell plenty if they just would.

Well, Sanford Hall still hasn't been moved to town and the wear and tear on shoe leather goes on and on.

Joe, I guess you saw Betty on the campus over the week-end. They say an old FLAME never dies.

FLASH! FLASH! Just released for publication: Have you heard about Hamil and the handkerchief episode? It seems Herschel visited Halcyondale several weeks ago and returned only to leave his pocket handkerchief smeared side up right in the middle of the table. The question before third floor is whether he left it there on purpose or whether he was just too overcome by his success to realize the damaging evidence he was leaving around.

If Ed Perryman keeps on he will win a permanent place in this column. That boy is forever doing something to get in the Digging. This time he has changed girls and will now be at home to his friends on the front campus with Mary Altman.

That was a very good party given by someone last Friday night, in fact it was so good that I think it's better if we don't mention any names.

Where did Roy Rabun and "Big" Jim Warren go Friday night? Can't answer this but I hope they had a huge evening.

To Whom It May Concern: Bobb Harris has such a big interest in Pembroke that he can't stay on the campus for one week without at least one trip there.

Maybe I'm late with this but anyway it looks like Rigsby and Tommie have called it quits for good. If I'm wrong, correct me, please!

Who was the most distinguished gentleman of the campus that had a most hellava night last week and didn't get home until most morning. Ah! More than one, eh?

Did you ever try the one about "been out playing bridge." If not you really should because I saw it go over in a big way the other night.

Merely going by what I heard: Mr. Ted Booker and Mr. Everette Loosier had a little squabble the other night. Could it have been about a female, since both of these boys have a way with the women.

I'm still wondering if Miss Small ever found out who turned off the lights and whether or not they were turned back on.

COLLEGE HUMOR

Sophie: "Young man, can you explain how these empty bottles got into your room?"

Student: "I'm sure I don't know. I never bought an empty bottle in my life."

Lives there a student with soul so dead,

That never to himself has said:

"To heck with studies,
I'm going to bed."

She was only a quarryman's daughter, but she took a lot for granite.

Dean, "Oh, skipping class again. Why do you want to cut classes, any way?"

Wiggins, "Class hatred, Dean."

Mrs. Guardia (gazing over the room during one of her famous daily tests), "Tsk, tsk, will some kind student who isn't using his text book be so kind as to let me have it for a few minutes."

"Say, you certainly have a barrel chest."

"Yes, I raised it from a pot."

THOUGHTS

(While all is quiet at Sanford Hall)

By ASA BARNARD

It happens at mealtimes

It happens at chapel

It's the rage of the campus

Like the late "Big Apple"

It breaks that "big" show date

It postpones "love" tennis

Why don't our Good Maker

Let it come to a finis?

President Pittman hears it

And so does Miss Veazy

Coach Smith has to listen

Same as "Sophie" and "Breezy"

It isn't quite sweet

Nor is it quite ruff

To exactly describe it

Is above this writer's stuff

Today it's group one

Tomorrow group two

It's always "important"

And concerns only a few.

It contains the word dance

And mentions the Gym

It stresses a certain time

And is said with much vim

Of course you have guessed it

If not, you're a "glub"

You're right—it's an announcement

To a certain dance club.

"DR. STATUS DE MIND"

I am a worthless fellow. My life has gone for Naught. The world's all wrong. I've got the gong. A lost battle's fought. I wish I'd died long, long ago. What's the use I'd like to know. The cards are stacked against me. A winner I'd never be. I wish that I were leaving, leaving! 'Tis wasted air I'm breathing.

Am I feeling better or am I being fooled? Why, my head is growing lighter and my sorrow's being cooled. There's the sun a-shining. I'd never noticed that. And here's a bird singing right here where I'm at. Is that man smiling this way? Yes! Why, sure he is! One of my good ole neighbors. And I am one of his. This world is all so good and fair! Let me breathe and breathe my share of this good ole, good ole air!

That's the way the players voted them. I was agreeably surprised to find Berry, Bagley, Rape and Stewart make the team. I was pretty sure Hamil and Estes were cinches and they were. Each polled unanimous votes for first base and right field.

We had a nice trip to Claxton with the all-star team last Thursday to play a couple of games. The scores were 9 to 1 and 24 to 0 in favor of the boys from T. C. The features of the games were Strickland's distance hitting and Bagley's place hitting. Bagley hit for five straight in the same spot and called them before he hit them.

The All-Stars will play a return game or games with Claxton this Thursday on the new football field.

The play-off for the championship of the intra-murals will begin today if Bill Ware's charley-horse is better and "Rob Roy" Robertson, the good luck mascot of the Pi Nu's, can see fit to be present.

If anyone else has gotten his courage up and wants a nice easy chicken supper, I'll still lay even odds on the Praying Stewards against the Pi Nu's who are fresh from a victory over the Rosenwalds. I believe Frank Hook will get up that little bit of courage he is lacking and take one. How 'bout it, Hook, is the bet on?

This is probably the last time the Dr.'s, Stuffy's, Jeff's or Stewart's name will ever appear in the paper so I want to thank those two little ladies who have been so much help to this young fellow. One has been father and mother to me for almost thirteen years now. The other has been my pal and sidekick for a year and four months and eight days. How is it Mother? How is it, Kitty?

Like Al Katz would say, "That's it," or as my favorite, Paul Sullivan, says when he signs off after a news broadcast, "Goodnight and thirty." I still say, "How is it?"

TRAINING SCHOOL FACULTY PRESENTS "AARON SLICK FROM PUMKIN CRICK"

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKERS

MRS. HELEN COXON,

Who will make the address on Honors Day, Friday, June 10.

BISHOP M. S. BARNWELL,

Savannah, who will deliver the commencement sermon Sunday, June 5.

Superb acting by the Teachers College high school faculty made "Aaron Slick from Pumkin Crick" funnier than ever last Thursday night. The play kept the audience in an uproar. Miss Small's crocodile tears failed to make the play at all serious.

Every member of the cast did his part to make the play a success. The work of Miss Nell Smithson as Sis Riggs and Mr. Mark Scully, Aaron Slick himself, was especially fine. Miss Smithson seemed especially enthusiastic about the whole thing when she had the opportunity to throw her arms around Mr. Scully.

Others members of the cast are as follows: Mrs. Rosie Berry, Aaron's lady love, Mary Small; Wilbur Meriden, the city slicker, Mr. Walter F. Downs; Gladys May, his daughter, Pat Roberts; Clarence Green, revealed at the last as a detective, Mr. Henry J. McCormack; The Lady in Black, Julia Reese.

The plot of the play revolves around the efforts of the city slicker to put something over on Rosie and the bashful efforts of Aaron to "pop." The play ends with everyone happy, Aaron has out-slicked the slickest and popped the question.

Allegro, Italian Concerto (Bach).
2. Sonata, Op. 57, F Minor, Appassionata (Beethoven).
Allegro Assai;
Andante con moto;
Allegro ma non troppo.
Intermission.
3. Berceuse, Op. 57 (Chopin).
Nocturne, Op. 15, No. 2, F Minor (Chopin).
Etude, Op. 10, No. 12, C Minor, Revolutionary (Chopin).
4. Bridling (Greig).
Minstrels (Debussy).
Caprice Espagnol, Op. 37 (Mozkowski).
5. The Blue Danube Waltz (Strauss-Chasins)—Miss Thayer and Mrs. Barnes.

IOTA PI NU'S PLANNING DANCE WEDNESDAY

Alice Hill Elected To Head Dux Dominas

Alice Hill was elected president of the Dux Domina sorority for next year. Other officers elected at the same time are: Virginia Sands, vice-president; Marion Lanier, secretary; Catherine Gainey, treasurer; Doris Sands, chaplain.

The Dux Dominas and their sponsor, Miss Mary Small, were entertained at a luncheon given by Fay Foy at her home Friday.

Blitch and Jardine in the back and breast stroke and medley.

Walton Crouch, Charlie Robinson, Copeland Ozier, Carlton and Edward Carruth will swim free style for Hill's team. Hemans Oliver and the Carruth brothers will swim the back and breast stroke, and Ozier will do the diving. At last reports Jardine's team did not have anyone to compete in the diving.

Even his best friend wouldn't tell, so he flunked the exam.

Give a woman enough rope, and she'll let a man down.

"You are the first girl I ever kissed, dearest," said the senior as he shifted the gears with his foot.

The Music Club will entertain with a supper at the Tea Pot Grille Friday evening in honor of Miss Fay Foy, the retiring president.
