Governor Nathan Deal Visits Spanish in Georgia Exhibit

June 24, 2016

Georgia Governor Nathan Deal and First Lady Sandra Deal visited the Spanish in Georgia: A Forgotten History exhibit at the Museum on Main inside the Statesboro Convention and Visitors Bureau.

Visiting the area to deliver a commencement address, the Governor and First Lady took in the new exhibit on Georgia's 200-year history of Spanish exploration, settlement, missions, and interactions with Native Americans.

The Museum on Main is a cooperative project between the Statesboro Convention and Visitors Bureau, the Georgia Southern University Museum, and the Department of History.

Gov. Deal is Georgia's 82nd governor and is serving in his second term after spending 17 years in the United States Congress.

The College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences (CLASS) is the largest of the eight colleges that make up Georgia Southern University, and it plays a central role in every student's core of knowledge. CLASS, also described as the University's College of the Creative Mind, prepares students to achieve academic excellence, develop their analytical skills, enhance their creativity and embrace their responsibilities as citizens of their communities, their nations and the world. CLASS offers more than 20 undergraduate degrees and several interdisciplinary minors from its 11 departments and five academic centers. CLASS offers eight master's degrees, two graduate certificates and one doctoral degree. For more information, visit cah.georgiasouthern.edu.

Georgia Southern University, a public Carnegie Doctoral/Research University founded in 1906, offers more than 125 degree programs serving more than 20,500 students. Through eight colleges, the University offers bachelors, masters and doctoral degree programs built on more than a century of academic achievement. Georgia Southern is recognized for its student-centered and hands-on approach to education. GeorgiaSouthern.edu.
