RECEPTION & AWARDS

Form & Content highlights exemplary work from students in foundations courses—Drawing I & II, 2D Design, 3D Design, and Art History I & II.

The exhibition was juried by Visiting Assistant Professor Valerie Powell of Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas. Powell received her M.F.A. from Washington State University and both a M.A. and B.F.A. from Stephen F. Austin State University. She teaches a range of studio courses and is the coordinator for the SHSU foundations program. In the studio she is most concerned with the intersection between painting and sculpture.

All events are free and open to the public.

sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, painting, drawing, printmaking, photography, and mixed media.

The exhibition was juried by New York City Gallerist and Curator Bridget Donahue. Donahue is co-founder of the innovative DIY gallery space, and was gallery director at D'Amelio Terras Gallery and Gavin Brown's Enterprise. Donahue owns her own gallery in Manhattan's Lower East Side, Bridget Donahue Gallery, which made a number of "Best of 2015" lists from such publications as the "New York Times" and "Art in America." Donahue's expertise ranges from 2D painting, 3D sculpture and installation, new media work and more.

All events are free and open to the public.
