CONFERENCES FOR STUDENTS HELD

Use of The Library Will Be Explained by Mr. Haygood

Conferences intended to reach every student in college will be held in the projection room of the new library at 4 o'clock for approximately the next seven days. Students will have the opportunity of hearing the uses of the library explained in detail by Mr. Haygood.

Mr. Haygood is at present seeing fifty students every afternoon. The list of students who are to be present at the conferences each afternoon is posted on the bulletin board. If the student is absent it is counted as a class cut unless the absence is made up at another conference.

Certain features of the library which every student should know will be explained at the conferences. Our unique system of having four libraries in one will be discussed. There is the main college library, the survey room or the junior department, the curriculum laboratory, and the Young People's department of the T. C. high school library. According to Mr. Haygood our library is already the outstanding one in the region so far as physical plant is concerned. Plans are to be discussed to make it a model library in every other detail. Honesty is the only check in the new library stated Mr. Haygood.

Dr. Tayler Gave Outstanding Talk Monday Night

Dr. William Landale Tayler, executive secretary of the International Labor Organization Committee, who was sponsored by the International Relations Club, gave an outstanding lecture here last Monday night. His subject was "Behind the Headlines."

Dr. Tayler's talk centered around the fact that the International Labor Organization is not seen very much in the headlines and yet renders great service in its efforts at peace and in other fields. According to Dr. Tayler, the I. L. O. does much to prevent war by attempting to solve international problems. The I. L. O. is doing more than the Munich agreement, which merely postponed war, in the opinion of Dr. Tayler. Following are some of the contributions made by the I. L. O.:

1. Efforts have been made to abolish child labor. Six international treaties regarding abolition of child labor were made. Thirty-two nations have completely abolished child labor.

2. At conferences in Geneva delegates of workers, employers and government of each country meet for discussion. Translators make it possible for each delegate to hear the speeches in his own native tongue. Controversial issues are discussed.

3. Treaty for abolition of forced labor throughout the world has been ratified by about thirty-five nations.

CAMPUS BEAUTY

MISS ELOISE MINCEY,

Who was selected as one of the eight most beautiful girls of the college. Miss Mincey was formerly "Miss Georgia."

COLLEGE PREXY IS HOME-OWNER

Home-ownership has become the style for members of the faculty at South Georgia Teachers College. President Marvin S. Pittman is the newest home-owner.

Dr. Pittman has purchased fifty acres of land within walking distance of the college. It was formerly known as the Hunter property. On the property is a building which is being thoroughly remodeled into a modern residence. The building with its beautiful site, broad porches, and four-acre yard might well remind one of an old plantation home. According to Dr. Pittman it is the hope of he and his wife that the home will become somewhat of a student center. A standing invitation for any See PREXY, page 2

TO HAVE SECTION IN THE REFLECTOR

Four of the Eight "Most Beautiful Girls Are Seniors.

The eight most beautiful girls of South Georgia Teachers College were selected in a student superlative election conducted by Miss Louise English, editor of the Reflector, here last week.

They are: Frances Breen, Willo-dean Crowell, Anne Felton, Rose Lockhart, Eloise Mincey, Jane Poole, Priscilla Prather, and Virginia Sands. The names are arranged here alphabetically and the girl who received the most votes will not be revealed. Four of the girls, Prather, Mincey, Felton, and Sands, are seniors. Formerly the selections were made entirely from the senior class. Pictures have already been made for the annual.

Other beauties who were nominated for "most beautiful" are: Ruth Cone, Marjorie Cobb, Meg Gunter, Alice Hill, Kitty Gardner, Sara Attaway, Marguerite Matthews, Margaret Ann Johnston, Frances Deal, Marjorie Forehand, Frances Hughes, Marcia McNeely, Agnes Hodges, Eve King, Annie Mae Taylor, Frances Harrison, Sara Godbee, Josephine Elarbee, Catherine Gainey, Rebecca Grace.

Religious Survey Shows That Most Students Are Members

There are five principal religious faiths on the South Georgia Teachers College campus. They are: Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Lutheran and Catholic.

The Methodists and Baptist hold a decided majority over any other faith. In actual figures they run neck-and-neck with the Baptists slightly in the lead. They come nearest being equalized in the freshman class, where there are seventy-four Methodists and eighty-eight Baptists. In the sophomore class there are thirty-three Methodists and forty-seven Baptists. There are thirty-three Methodists and forty-one Baptists in the junior class. The Baptists hold the greatest lead in the senior class, where they are forty-four strong and the Methodists have twenty-six. Other faiths mentioned average about ten members in each class and the Presbyterians are third, following the Methodists and Baptists.

REHEARSALS BEGIN ON WALTZ NUMBER

Carpenter and Profs Will Furnish Music for the Bachelors Ball.

Rehearsals have begun on the waltz number to be given as part of the program at the Bachelors Ball to be held in the college gymnasium March 2. Much progress is being made in the other departments of the program also.

Bobby Carroll and "Skipabout" Clanton are working on a comedy skit and promise that the jokes will be even more spicy than last year when they made a little dough. Marion Carpenter and his professors will furnish their own popular brand of swing music for the affair. Eula Beth Jones will appear on the program to do some classy vocalizing.

Parents of Students Have Varied Line of Occupation

AGE AND NUMBER ARE COINCIDENTAL

Most Freshmen Now Enter At Seventeen Or Later

Most freshmen are now entering college at the age of seventeen, according to figures just released by Dean Z. S. Henderson. The number who enter at the age of eighteen are second and the sixteen-year-old entrants form a small minority.

There are sixteen in the frosh class who are sixteen years old, one hundred and nine who are seventeen, and sixty who are eighteen. In the sophomore class there are seven who are seventeen, and sixty-two who are eighteen, and twenty-four who are nineteen. In the junior class there are sixteen who are eighteen years

Information released by Dean Z. S. Henderson, which was gathered from the cards filled out by students at the beginning of the quarter, reveals that there are ninety-one occupations engaged in by parents of the students who attend South Georgia Teachers College.

There were more people engaged in agriculture than in any other occupation, with 219 parents working in that field. Merchants came next with fifty-seven.

A list of the other occupations follows: Union Bag Company, lumber, sawmill, banker, fruit and produce, county treasurer, bookkeeper, government contractor, minister, teacher, lawyer, policeman, rural mail carrier, surveyor, inspector, mechanic, clerk, doctor, insurance, postmaster, miller, nurse, hotel, state highway department, state convict guard, commercial agent, foreman, seamstress,

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

It will be necessary for the vast majority of students on the campus to work together to blot out the latest menace of a vicious minority. It is always the destructive work of a minority which impedes the majority in their efforts to achieve greater progress. This time the attack of the termite centers around the library.

Books are leaving the library at an alarming rate via unethical and extra-legal means. The books are taken out without being checked and are not returned. A student may look in the card catalogue for a book and find it not in the library, but in some dormitory or classroom with the card still in it. Coach Smith gave several books as references last week and they could not be found because they had been taken out of the library without being checked out. This is just one example of a thing that has occurred countless times. It can be easily seen that it is the student body which suffers from this small group with the "dog in the manger" complex.

Two of the principal reasons why we must work together for our mutual protection are these:

1. If a book being used by a class of fifty is stolen, then forty-nine people will suffer from the act of one person who is not a good citizen insofar as "having a genuine regard for the other fellow" is concerned.

2. There is a possibility that "closed shelves" will be a last resort of the library authorities to prevent the loss of books.

This would cause considerable inconvenience to every student as it would necessitate his making out a call slip and waiting at the desk until an attendant could find the book. Needless to say, this will not be necessary if we co-operate in convincing the minority that we do not approve of their actions. For the next few weeks a truce will be declared in which books may be returned and no questions asked.

Diggings

Well, it seems that "Mug" still has them guessing. She still has them asking for "My Night?" Ask Punky how often "My Nights" roll around.

Has anyone asked Prissy, Meg, or Little Hill what the Ouija board told them not many nights ago? We heard also that Coach had his fingers on the magic board hoping for some correct answers to some most important questions.

Did the co-recreation night make a hit with some of you "regulars?" It should have!

Why haven't we been hearing from Charlie Paine recently? Is it that he has at last lost his technique? We sincerely hope not, 'cause you certainly did help out the Dirt Column writers a lots.

Marjorie seems to be trying to play "Mug's" game. How about it, Major and Peck?

It's a little late to be asking about the show the other week, but we just must know if Miss Mamie got to see "Ferdinand." Anyway, lots of the boys and girls found out how gentle "Ferdinand" was.

Now that Valentine time is here, I know that there will be lots of dirt—I shouldn't have said that—I meant lots of love floating around. Some of the boys have started buying early—to avoid the rush, I guess.

I think that we ought to get Sanders on the stand. They say he has some valuable information he could give out if he were approached in the right manner. By the way, who was it he saw kissing under Lindbergh's "stature" the other day?

Joe, we would advise you to stay on the campus from here on—especially when some fraternity is giving a picnic or something like that. Isn't that right, Frances?

We have heard it rumored that Kent and Miss Edenfield aren't even on speaking terms this week. But someone said that they saw them leaving the campus together the other night—maybe that was a mistake, though.

Have you noticed...? You have? Well... so have we! Could it have been an accident that Froggie and B. H. got left in Savannah the other day? Maybe yes and maybe no. We wonder what Gainey had to say about it—that is, after Mamie had her say.

New record! Eddie Najaar says that he gave more people the mumps than did Ann Breen. Can you stand that, Ann? How about counting up the number you "influenced" and letting us know by the next issue of the paper.

Why is the whole—or just about the whole—of the third floor of West Hall campused? You really want to know? Well, we won't tell. We're tough guys when it comes to talking out of school (?).

Ask Kitty how she likes being awakened at 2 a. m. by a multitude of T. C. boys—sober, but happy—as they arrived in the famous "Silver Streak" to tell her "good morning" when she went home about two weeks ago. Did I say sober? Pardon me, please, boys.

Eddie Najaar says that he and Froggie Breen are having a secret love affair. Just in case someone would try to find out about it, they don't sit together in chapel—because their places are eight rows apart, and they don't ever go around with each other—because Froggie always seems to be busy with someone else.

COLLEGE HUMOR

PROBLEMS

Cute Co-ed: "I'll bet you're worried having two exams in one day."
Cuter Co-ed: "You bet! I don't see how I can be out with two profs in one night."

He: "I've made a lot of money exposing girls like you."
She: "Blackmailer!"

He: "No, honey, I manufacture swimsuits."

"How's the patient in room 46 progressing?" inquired the doctor. And the nurse replied, "Not half as fast as he thinks he is, the fresh thing."

"That liquor they serve here is terrible."

"Who told you?"

"A little swallow."

Jim: "What is there about your line that all the girls fall for?"

Joe: "Cash on the line!"

"So you have learned to love me."

"Yes, I've been watching how all the other boys do it."

"So Jane married her hubby when he was a struggling young man?"

"Yeh, he was struggling in the arms of her father and brother."

"Bow legs are few."

"Yes, and far between."

"My big moment is familiar with many tongues."

"Say, is he a linguist?"

"No, a physician."

She: "Yes, darling, you can give me jewels, but they must be individual pearls."

He: "But why not a necklace?"

She: "I don't want any strings attached to them."

Hubby: "You shameless hussy! Have you been flirting with the butcher so he'll buy you a bracelet?"

Wifey: "No, you dope. I'm playing for bigger steaks."

"It cost me ten dollars to buy some exciting love photos."

"From a postcard dealer?"

"No, from your kid brother."

IN THE BULL PEN

With BULL BROWNE

The Teachers have hit that winning streak once again with three victories out of the last four games. The Marines, Douglas and the J. E. A. were the victims, while Cochran upset the Teachers in an appearance on the Cochran court.

Hendry Bagly certainly hit a scoring spree in the last half of the Douglas game in Douglas last week. Held to two points in the first half, Bagly got loose and chalked up 16 points in the final period to gain high score honors.

While talking about scoring, the Teachers and the J. E. A. in an over-time 5-minute period at Savannah last week shot 21 points together. The Teachers eleven of them to gain a three point victory on the Jews' home court.

One of the roughest games seen on the local court in a long time was the Teachers-Marine game. The game was plenty fast and hard hence the roughness of the game. The Teachers decisively defeated the Marines and launched a come-back trail to victory, which has increased to three out of four.

The Teachers College Frosh have not been sitting idly by and watching their big brothers, the Varsity, set up a record, but they have been taking on all comers in the high school field and making a very impressive record under the tutelage of Coach "Big Breezy" Wrinkle. They have won eight games and lost two. Brooklet, Portal, Register and others have fallen in the victory march of the Frosh, while losing only to Pembroke (at Pembroke) and Training School.

It will be a treat to see the Teachers in action once again after the Profs have been away for three straight week ends playing on foreign soil. And with their added improvement we are anxious to see the Armstrong-Teachers game Wednesday. After losing to Armstrong once already in Savannah and also in football, we are ready for a little revenge.

Last Thought of the Day—They say Gene L. Hodges (Gnell) still thinks he is in high school. Here's hoping he wakes up before next football season, 'cause we're expecting big things from him next fall.

On Saturday night the Teachers will play their toughest opponent of the season (except the Celtics) when they tangle with the Mercer University Bears of Macon. Mercer is a member of the fast Dixie conference and last year were runners-up to the Dixie Crown. They have already defeated such major teams as Chattanooga, Tech, Millsaps and Howard. The Bears boast of a good scoring aggregation, led by Doc Kirksey, who recently shot 17 points against Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Teachers Play Armstrong And Mercer This Week

TO END SEASON IN BLAZE OF GLORY

Profs Have Many Reasons To Win Last Two Games.

The South Georgia Teachers' Blue Tide basketball squad will end its season this week against strong aggregations from Armstrong and Mercer, alma mater of Coach B. L. (Crook) Smith, on Wednesday and Saturday nights, respectively.

Each of these games hold a great deal in store and the Teachers have a chance to end the season in a blaze of glory by defeating either of the teams. Against Armstrong it will be the element of revenge. The Profs were defeated in Savannah earlier in the season by a few points. According to Coach Smith his team is now ready to "Mow the 'Geechees Down," after hard and faithful practice sessions. At the beginning of the season the team had "farther to come" as Coach Smith put it, but with fine spirit and good coaching it has progressed in fine fashion.

The Profs are pointing for an upset victory over Mercer Saturday night. A victory would give the season a final "grand touch" as Mercer defeated Georgia Tech, southeastern conference champions last year, earlier in the season. Coach always likes to spring a few tricks on his Alma Mammy and Crook is no exception, as evidenced by the fine record against Mercer in past seasons.

TEACHERS DEFEAT ALLIANCE 52-49

Most Thrilling Encounter Of Season Has Story Book Finish.

The Teachers got sweet revenge from the J. E. A. in Savannah Thursday night when they defeated the Alliance in an exciting over-time struggle 52 to 49, to avenge an early season defeat. The regular contest ended in a tie after each team had gained the lead twice apiece in the last three minutes. In the five-minute over-time period the Teachers nosed the Jews out three points as each team went wild to amass a total of 21 points in that abbreviated period. In story book fashion Clyde Anderson shot a one handed shot from the sidelines to win the game and put the Teachers ahead. This shot was an extra hard one due to the cheese box shape of the Jews' gymnasium. The entire team played commendable ball as they won their third game in a row. The team left Statesboro Friday morning for South Carolina on their third straight road trip in as many weeks. They were to play return engagements with the Parris Island Marines Saturday night and the College of Charleston Friday night.

SURVEY, from page 1

The non-members also form a considerable aggregation at this time with seventy-four in the frosh class, twenty-nine in the sophomore class, twelve in the junior class, and ten in the senior class.

GRID SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Profs Are to Meet Two New Opponents Next Fall.

The 1939 football schedule for the Blue Tide gridsters of South Georgia Teachers College has been announced by Coach B. L. (Crook) Smith.

The Profs will find two new opponents on the list for next fall. The season opens with Oglethorpe, September 23, in Atlanta. The other new-comer, Jacksonville, Ala., Teachers, will be met on the home field October 7th. Other games are listed as follows:

Sept. 29—Stetson, at Deland, Fla.

October 14—Contract pending with Newberry.

Oct. 20—Alabama Teachers, at Troy.

Oct. 27—Douglas, at Douglas.

Nov. 4—Snead, here.

Nov. 10—Cochran, at Cochran.

Nov. 30—Armstrong, here.

The man who waits until he is sure he is right is nearly always left.

GEORGE-ANNE TO SEND DELEGATES

Georgia Collegiate Press Convention to Be Held In Athens.

The George-Anne will have representatives at the Georgia Collegiate Press Association to be held in Athens February 24-25, with the University of Georgia as host, according to Mr. Robert F. Donaldson, head of the publications department here.

John E. Drewry, director of the convention has requested that the delegate will make a speech on some phase of "Pertinent Problems of the Present Day." After the speeches open forum discussions will be held. The student forum will be led by Miss Emily Woodward, beloved Georgia writer, with one speaker from each of the GCPA schools taking part.

Registration will begin at 10 o'clock Friday morning, February 24, in the Henry Grady School of Journalism. The convention banquet Friday night will include such speakers as Lambdin Kay, Atlanta's Voice of the South and Tennessee's most eminent writer, Dr. George Fort Milton. The University's annual military ball, to be held in Woodruff Hall, will follow the banquet.

The Saturday morning meeting will come to order at 9:30 o'clock, and will consist of three one-hour periods of round tables for newspaper staffs, annual staffs and one for college magazines.

Groups Make Many Interesting Trips

Several groups from the South Georgia Teachers College have made trips to Savannah and other nearby towns to observe methods and types of industry and to attend lectures.

Attending the second of the lecture series by nationally known speakers in Savannah Tuesday night were: Dr. C. M. Destler, head of the social science department, and Mrs. Destler; Dr. Abner W. Kelley, English department, and the following students: Loy Scott, J. A. Gardner, Pierre Harper, Wesley Sherman and others.

Members of organic and inorganic chemistry classes accompanied by W. S. Hanner, head of the science department, visited Savannah last Wednesday to observe chemical methods in industry. They visited Dr. Herty's laboratory and the Union Bag and Paper Company, the Savannah Sugar Refinery and the Southern Cotton Oil Company.

The industrial arts class in material and methods of industry, accompanied by Ivan Hostetler, made a tour to observe methods used in varied forms of industry. They visited a lumber mill in Sardis, a veneer plant in Waynesboro, and a foundry and iron works and brick kiln in Augusta.

Child: "Mummy, sing me to sleep with a lullaby."

Mother: "Hold this cocktail for me and I'll try to get one on the radio."

The Forensic Council, debating club, had a very interesting debate last Tuesday night. The debate was unique in that two teams were debating the same subject in different rooms at the same time. The subject was, Resolved, That the United States Should Cease to Use Public Funds to Stimulate Business.

Those who took part in the debate were:

Debate number one: Pierre Harper and Ira Bell, affirmative; Mr. Boatright and Benn Tillman, negative.

Debate number two: Ted Booker and Edison Wilcox, affirmative; Gesmon Neville and John Cromley, negative.

The unusual form of debating is planned to give all members of the council a part in the activities, and to aid in selecting a team for an inter-collegiate debate. The Forensic Council will have a page in the Reflector for this year.
