525 Students Have Registered At End Of First Week

At the end of the first week of the Spring term 525 students had registered as compared to 463 regularly enrolled in the 1938 Spring quarter.

The Winter term this year had 551 students registered. The Spring term is usually 75 to 80 less than the Winter term. This Spring there are only 26 less than enrolled during the Winter term. With 62 more students already enrolled over last Spring and the Six Weeks' Short term coming up the total enrollment for the Spring quarter should reach 615 to 625. Ninety students enrolled in the 1938 Spring Short term.

Patronize our advertisers. They help us, let's help them.

Now is the time for all good men and women to enter intra-mural athletics.

We certainly have a fine bunch of new students. Let's help make them feel at home!

Indications are that we will have a big Short Spring term enrollment. The more the merrier.

Have you joined the Y. M. or Y. W. yet? You may have membership cards for the asking.

A tennis champ is to be crowned this week. Tennis enthusiasts are eagerly awaiting the completion of the new tennis courts.

The first in the series of a group of superlative contests will begin with the George-Anne itself. Don't forget to fill in the blank on page four and turn it in before Sunday.

THE NEW DANGER

The first step towards Fascism is extreme nationalism. This makes it easy for a country to slip into this idea of government without any conscious effort. Apparently our arch-patriots are unaware of this fact. We all tend to be intensely patriotic and it is only right that we should be. However, when we become obsessed with the idea that our country is the greatest in the world, that our culture stands head and shoulders above all others, then danger lurks just around the corner. The greatest danger is that we will slip into a Fascist type government without realizing it.

It is possible for the enemies of Democracy to masquerade under the term Americanism in order to strip it of the very liberties it is supposed to stand for. It is up to college students to maintain Americanism which is adapted to Democracy.

Diggings

At last something has happened that may be considered worthwhile to put in this column. It is the biggest romance of the year, folks. The George-Anne wishes to take this opportunity to congratulate Annah and Simpson. The Norfolk flash has at last succumbed to the love bug. Some fellows claim that Sapi-ent just wants a bodyguard, but our faith in human nature can't accept this ulterior motive as being true. They may try to keep it secret like we used to do in kindergarten (remember), but don't let them fool you. It's really love.

It seems that J. Brantley and "The Baby" are not doing so well. It is rumored that J. Brantley likes "Little Horn!" Could this be true? We can't see you two break up so easily. Can't you compromise in some way?

"Pat" and L. C. have taken charge of the new student. Isn't that right, Dean?

The Altman-Hamilton romance seems to be the real thing. This proves a person can have a change of heart, doesn't it, Angie? Poor Tom! This lucky Orman!

Frances' last remark before the physical science exam: "Ed, do you think the test is easy enough for Sonny to pass?"

Heard from the bushes: "Get to your dormitories, girls, there will be no dating on this campus till I say so."

Ask Marjorie Forehand how she got so many scratches on her legs—or maybe you should see Jimmie DeLoach.

We can feel for you, Meg and Cope, 'cause we can imagine how it is. Only the week ends to look forward to from now on.

Fran tells us Frank is leaving for Detroit again. These traveling people pick up lots of moss sometimes. We are only trying to help by warning you, Fran.

Bill Ware, who is practicing teaching this quarter, says he gives out of anything to say about thirty-five minutes before the bell rings. You shy young man!

Mary and Tom seem to be getting along fine these days.

Red Davis is still crazy about his blue-eyed darling, so they tell us. Red keeps Jitter Bug shut up all the time now. She just ain't got a chance.

This column wouldn't be complete without these two names, Olive and Homer.

It is rumored that Oliver and Clara would like to have more time to associate with each other.

Gesmon Neville steps out this week with that beautiful little Ruth again. They tell me he isn't her only admirer. Better watch your step, Gesmon.

It is impossible to keep up with all the new romances, so you just fill in for yourself: Love finds

Calling all co-eds: Beware of Gee Dee—is suspected of stealing lipstick.

PITTMAN HAPPY ON RETURN TO SGTC CAMPUS

Dr. Marvin S. Pittman returned to the campus Friday after attending the G. E. A. state meeting in Atlanta and representing the college at the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools held in Memphis last week.

Dr. Pittman stated that he was delighted to be back, and that he would never attend any future conventions if he could help it. He mentioned that in spite of the distressing financial situation he was never so glad to see Georgia and especially South Georgia Teachers College again.

Stewart To Receive Degree in June

Jeff Stewart, popular author of "How Is It Fellows," will be back in June to receive his B. S. degree, according to Kitty Gardner. Stewart, formerly an outstanding athletic and sports editor of the George-Anne last year, is now working in the sporting goods department of Sears, Roebuck & Co., at Little Rock, Ark.

Rev. N. H. Williams, pastor of the Statesboro Methodist church, gave an inspiring talk on "The Law of Transformation." By bringing in various illustrations and experiences, Mr. Williams clearly and forcefully explained the ability of a boy to rise to the top regardless of what his present and past circumstances might be. Barber announced the formation of a Y. M. C. A. softball team. The probability of sending delegates to the Blue Ridge conference in June was discussed.

TOURNAMENT

With BULL BROWNE

Since this year is the 100th anniversary of baseball, this column is going to be dedicated to the "national pastime" and ye olde correspondent will try to tell you of the unusual and interesting that has happened in the grand old game, and incidentally things that you have never heard of before. (The information to write this column was lifted from A. H. Tarvers' "A Century of Baseball.")

Abner Doubleday invented the game in 1839 at Cooperstown, N. Y. He was later a famous Union general in the War Between the States. At that time bases were called "bounds," outfielders called "scouts," and two catchers were used.

The longest any single inning lasted was 55 minutes. It took that long for Utica and Binghamton in the New York state league to play the first inning of their game on June 1, 1917. In comparison, the shortest game ever played was between McAlester and Ardmore of the Western Association on August 20, 1917. It required McAlester only 36 minutes to defeat Ardmore 2 to 0. This game is the shortest game ever played in baseball.

The highest paid player in the big leagues in 1881 was Jim O'Rourke, who drew down the huge salary of 2,000 bucks. In 1889, however, Buck Ewing drew down the huge sum of $5,000 per annum. Compare this with Ruth who drew $75,000 per annum plus bonuses.

Hugh McDonald is the only man on record that has ever played any baseball without the use of both legs. He played for Kerney, N. J., in 1915, and pitched for his team from crutches and won all the games he pitched that year and his team won the league. He was given a runner when at bat.

Brooklyn and Pittsburgh played the only "real" tie game in the history of baseball on August 13, 1910. Not only was the score tied 8 and 8, but each team had 28 men at bat. Each team made 13 hits. Each team had 27 put-outs. Each team had 12 assists. Each team made two errors. Each team used ten players. Each team used 2 pitchers. Each team had 5 strike-outs to their credit, and lastly, each team was given three bases on balls.

The longest ball game in the world was also the worst. San Lusita and Piedras Legras teams of El Paso, Texas, in July 1926, started playing baseball at 10 o'clock one morning and the game was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of darkness. It was then 7 o'clock. The score was: San Lusita 129, and Piedras 119. The highlight of the game

ALADDIN THRILLS AUDIENCE WITH MAGIC FEATS

Mr. Hanner's class in chemistry presented an interesting program in chapel last Friday. Various feats of magic and mystery were performed by the Aladdin and his assistants in the royal court of Confusion the seventh come eleventh.

Water was turned into wine, back to water, and thence to lemonade. A nail was driven into a board with a spoonful of mercury. Eggs were cooked without fire. Shampoo, one of Aladdin's assistants, produced smoke by rubbing his hands together. Another, Wun Lung, calmly produced a handful of fire, while his brother in magic, Wun Wey, devoured huge balls of fire. The program opened with an overture, the "Fifth Movement" from Paddleboatski's "Cerebrum in Asia Minor" and kept the audience guessing from beginning to end.

CONSCIENCE is what makes a girl tell her mother something she knows darn well she's going to find out.

was 97 bases on balls, 29 wild pitches and Mirales Piedras, short stop, established a new record by making 26 errors in one inning.

Bill Wambsgans pulled the only unassisted triple play that has ever been made in a world's series. It was made on October 10, 1920, during the fifth game of the Brooklyn-Cleveland world series.

The player to get the most home runs in one game is J. J. "Nig" Clarke, who hit eight home runs in one game in 8 times at bat. It was a Texas league game between Corsicana and Texarkana, on July 14, 1902. This was the twenty-seventh straight win for the Corsicana team and that is the record for successive games won in organized baseball. Corsicana won the game mentioned 53 to 9.

Teachers College has two boys playing Pro ball this year. They are Jake Hines, at Norfolk, and Danny Vickers, at Jacksonville.

Anyone who doubts the honesty of any incident that has been recalled in this column may satisfy his curiosity by coming to Room 308, Sanford Hall, and reading for himself.

BASEBALL TEAM
BEING FORMED

Fast Team Is Now Assured
With Most of Players
Returning.

The independent baseball team of South Georgia Teachers College opened its season Saturday at Lyons against the Georgia State Prison team. The team has been organized as last year, functioning independently of the college as far as finances, etc., are concerned, with Bull Browne as its manager.

Another fast team is assured for this year with most of the old boys back. The line-up to date is: John King and Jody Robinson, catchers; Herschel Hamil, first base; Clifford Wells, short stop; Pat Patterson, third base; Tom Dews, Jack Breaser and Bull Browne in the outfield; second base as yet has not been filled satisfactorily.

Games have been scheduled with State Prison, Ludowici, Brunswick Pilots, and Union Baggers. Other strong teams will be scheduled and the team expects to go to Parris Island, S. C., late next month.

The pitching department will be unusually strong this year with Hack Wilson and Lefty Gillespie carrying the load with John King in relief role. Wilson last year was the outstanding pitcher in the Bulloch County League, winning ten games and losing none. The team is unusually fortunate in having the only battery that switches positions as both King and Wilson are pitchers and catchers, and when the going gets rough they swap places.

WAA Making Plans
For Tournaments

The Spring sports season will begin with a series of tournaments sponsored by the W. A. A. Plans are being made for a baseball tournament, and some competitive individual sports. We would like to encourage all of you to form a baseball team. Get out your tennis racket, practice up on your ping ponging, and get into as many games as you can.

Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Health Cottage. Lenten services will be held this week and next on Thursday afternoons at 5:30 o'clock. Students are cordially invited to attend these services.
