The great - great - grandparent of the George-Anne has been discovered in the library by Mr. Haygood, librarian. "The Torch" was published by the students of the Georgia Normal School as an issue of the quarterly bulletin.

There are only three copies in existence in the library. The following extract is from the March 14, 1925, issue. "Along with the marked education progress so evident at Georgia Normal during the past year and along with plans for immediate future advancement go certain improvements of the physical equipment. TO LEAD GEORGIA PROGRESS EVENT

Dr. Paul Misner To Play An Important Part In Experiment.

An experiment will be tried this year for the Fifth Annual Georgia Progress Day Program, which will be held here Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29. Dr. William H. Kilpatrick and Dr. Paul J. Misner will be the principal speakers.

According to President Pittman, instead of making a general program to which the public is invited the program this year will be conducted on a basis of a two-day special school with all students and the faculty as one class.

Leaders in education throughout the state have been personally invited to attend the school. Because of the limited auditorium space, where the classes will be conducted, the invited guests have been limited to about 150 people. School will run for two days, beginning Thursday at noon and concluding Saturday at noon. A general address will be given by Dr. Kilpatrick on Thursday evening and the public will be invited. Dr. Misner will make a public address on Friday evening.

Mincey Tells All About Big May Day Fun and Frolics

(By ELOISE MINCEY)

"Can such delights be in the street
And open fields and we not see't?
Come, we'll abroad; and let's obey
The proclamation of May."

One more May Day returning affords an occasion for fun and frolic. To you, our student body, we dedicate this program hoping that you may partake of this May Day in watching our revelers.

The amphitheatre has been chosen for the village queen, which, according to ancient English tradition, is the spot chosen for this happy celebration. Here mingling with each other in festivities, come the villagers in holiday attire and lads in the guise of Robin Hood and his merry men. Even the milkmaids and chimney sweeps, in borrowed finery make merry at the festival, their one holiday of the year.

Maid Marion, the May Queen, has been selected as the fairest maiden in the village. In her train, dance along the jesters, waiting to display

"Drink no wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee."—Lev. 10:9.

Have a speedy recovery, Harold. We are pulling for you.

Spring is in the air and so is Marion Carpenter's romance music.

Ernestine Chavous occupies a prominent spot in the magazine, Southern Folklore, this week.

The poll showed the Diggins column still to be the most popular. When are you going to give us another chance to vote, Pineapple? That's the way to keep the campus interest stirred up.

LUCKY, LUCKY US!

Every student will have one of the rare privileges that comes but once in a lifetime when one of Georgia's greatest sons, if not the greatest, Dr. William H. Kilpatrick, leads us in an experiment that should go down in educational history.

Students, faculty members, the greatest educators in Georgia, and the greatest teacher in America will study together for two days. Those days will live in every memory as long as that memory survives. It is most fitting and appropriate that Dr. Kilpatrick will be with us in our celebration of progress in Georgia. Dr. Kilpatrick is a symbol for all that is good and liberal in education.

The idea of the school experiment began with our own Dr. M. S. Pittman. Dr. Pittman talked it over with Dr. Kilpatrick in Cleveland and satisfactory arrangements were made. Dr. Kilpatrick usually receives large sums of money for his services. However, due to his love for the south and the persuasive ability of Dr. Pittman he was willing to come and work with us.

Mr. Leslie W. Johnson and Dr. Kilpatrick are working together now, by correspondence, to get the program into shape. Students will receive guidance sheets with complete information at the beginning of the program. The big group will divide into twenty-five smaller groups for class discussion and will meet again in the auditorium for general discussion. There are four general topics for discussion: 1. The Learning Process. 2. The Whole Child. 3. Education and Social Changes. 4. Procedures and Practices.

Dr. Paul J. Misner will play an important part in the program, applying the practical side to Dr. Kilpatrick's theories.

Diggings

Not a word was heard when it was heard that Admiral Byrd was coming back. In the still of the hush, not a gal did lack a guilty blush. Tush, tush, double tush, tush.

Then there was Wilson, the Hack, who got in a hack, to see his gal, his dear old pal, but the car something did lack, and he had to come back. Darn, darn, double darn and a couple of doggones.

And how about the lady Dane who was offered a job as shipping clerk, 'cause she snook around with a long slick dirk cutting down all the shrubbery that took months to grow. Months and months and double months and even more than that. And doesn't pain kinda rhyme with dean?

Spring is here, sayeth the Ind. Arts students, so is Bing and we wish he wasn't.

And this took place at the latest big dance where the girls wore lace and the boys wore fresh pressed trousers (pants): Anne said to Cartee, Come to me me darling and never mo' do partee. Reba took a roach and Jimmie took a bow then Yarborough took DeLoach for a ride in a coach. Sara took Brown and Robert took Morris. Sayeth Brown, You're as sweet as a drink of water in the Sahara. Lorraine had a new hobby, all dressed up and looking like Bobby. Dorothy, the comely lady, had a date with a guy from Albany. Sarah neighed for a pany. Trussell escorted by Hogarth. My dear young fellow did you take a barth. Shucks, yes, Isabel.

Eula Beth Jones and Harris Rape sang songs that would make even the sour grape fall off the eight ball. And McLemore and Curtis Lane sang, "You're a sweet little pain, but I'll have a little more."

Jewel had Renfro for a beau. Hort Dog! Lorraine with Willard; the beauty of rain on a billiard ball. Well, you probably will be bald, Willard, old pill. Rainey was plumb dainty and so was her mount and her date who was Mount. Eldridge is the name, sir, if you want to play a game of bridge. With Agnes Hodges (the girl who dodges or doesn't dodge) was the guy with the twinkle, old man (of the hills) Wrinkle.

Why do girls stand outside the dining hall on Thursday nights? Ask Alice about her technique.

Does Anne have a Pain(e)? Where do "Jap" and Lester come in? Maybe Anne can explain.

The George-Anne would like to take credit, if it's possible to get away with it, for bringing the Babe and J. B. J. back together by suggesting a compromise.

Lorraine, we hope the return of a certain young lady to the campus won't cause you to Loozier man.

House parties can either make you or break you. Was it the house party, Marcia, or was it Froggie?

Will somebody please find June a man. She's even rolling up her hair at night.

Elizabeth, blow your own "horn" now that you have Junior privileges.

By the way, Pris went to her first wedding last week end. We hope it won't be her last!

Now this stuff must stop. As the weasel so goes pop.

SPRING SONG,

Spring has sprung
Love is in the breeze
Birds are twittering in the trees
Insects open sleepy eyes
Awake and buzz and bite
Flies, mosquitoes, gnats
The moon is out till late at night
The ladies have new hats!
Jumpin' jitterbugs
Dance and play
Picnics, sulphur, molasses
While students fight a losing game
To stay awake in 2 o'clock classes!
Ain't nature grand!

IN OTHER WORDS: "NO!"

"... yeah! I got a reason for not takin' you to town!" I heard him say. "If I go to town the chances are I'll stop in at Sloppy Joe's Greasy Spoon for a beer. Some of the boys'll be there... they like to play poker. After a beer I like to play poker, too. When I play poker I lose money. If I lose my dough I ain't got none left to spend. Wit'out spending money I can't go to town or run around late at night. Therefore, I'd hafta go home early. If I start going home before Twelve P. M. Ma will think I'm sick. When Ma thinks I'm sick she gives me Castor Oil. Castor Oil is bad. I don't like it... an' if you think I'm gonna take a big dose of CASTOR OIL just for takin' YOU to town, you're NERTZ..."

SELF SUFFICIENT

He was sitting at the bar downing one after another and laughing boisterously. Every so often as he mumbled to himself he would hold up his hand in protest. Finally the bartender's curiosity got the better of him. "What are you doing?" he asked. "I'm telling myself jokes," was the reply. "But why the hand in the air?" "Oooh, that's when I shtop me if I've heard it."

EXCLUSIVE INTERVIEW!

"... is it TRUE, that...?"
"Sure," replied Bull Browne, "I shave once a week whether I NEED it or NOT."

I would end this column with a good "Little Audrey" joke... except there aren't any GOOD ones.

LOAN FUND BECOMES AVAILABLE FOR USE

The Rosenwald loan fund is to begin functioning this term, according to Dean Z. S. Henderson, chairman of the committee in charge of the fund. The committee of control is made up of the Dean of the college as chairman, the head of the education department as treasurer, and the president of the college.

The fund with $106 at present will eventually amount to a loan fund of over $1,000, stated Mr. Henderson. Only seniors are eligible this year with members of the Rosenwald group having first choice.

SOFTBALL
STANDINGS

IN THE BULL PEN

With BULL BROWNE

Well, the softball season is off to a fast start and it looks like a nip and tuck battle between the Faculty and the Iota Pi Nu for top honors. However, there are plenty of other tough teams that will give these two favorites lots of trouble before the season is over.

The Statesboro baseball club, which is composed of college players, journeyed down to Lyons last week and played the Georgia State Prison team. All the prison boys seemed to be fine chaps, and all that, until Wells broke one of their pet bats and from then on none of the college boys hung around the prison bench. The prisoners are all on their honor not to escape and no armed guards accompany them.

Arrangements have been made whereby that South Georgia Teachers College will have a tennis team to compete with other colleges. A lot of credit goes to Mr. Hanner for the reorganization of the team, etc. Previously it had been announced that there would be no tennis team due to finances, but Mr. Hanner has somehow figured out how to run a tennis team and make it pay for itself. The baseball team knows what a struggle that is.

The leading hitters in softball so far this season are:

	Ab	Hits	Av.
Minchew	2	2	1,000
Hollen	4	3	750
Bowen	5	3	600
Jones	5	3	600
King	5	3	600
Strange	5	3	600
Wrinkle	5	3	600
H. Martin	9	5	555

Howell Martin has received the most hits so far and has also been at bat more times than any other player. This is due to the fact that faculty members are allowed to play on two teams.

The tennis team rankings this year will be decided by a challenge tournament. Mr. Hanner will give them temporary places and any person below those that are ranked can challenge him for his place, and in event he defeats his opponent he assumes his rank. Braswell, Morrison, and Perryman will probably be ranked 1, 2, and 3.

The college played host to the track teams of the First district high schools Saturday. This is about the third straight year that the college was chosen as the site for the meet. This speaks well for the college to be chosen so often for such an important occasion.

ELEVEN TEAMS TO BATTLE THIS WEEK FOR LEAGUE LEADERSHIP

The eleven teams in the intra-mural softball league will furnish fans with another thrilling week as they battle for league leadership. Two games are scheduled for every afternoon.

The firing begins this afternoon with the N. Y. A. facing the Iota Pi Nu, and the Faculty team against High School. The Faculty and Iota Pi Nu are rated tops, but upsets are fashionable this season. Following is the complete schedule for this week:

Tuesday, April 18—Clifton vs. Delta Sigma and T. 42s vs. Y. M. C. A.

Wednesday, April 19—Bombers vs. Iota Pi Nu and Buccaneers vs. High School.

Thursday, April 20—N. Y. A. vs. T. 42s and Faculty vs. Bugger Daggers.

Friday, April 21—Clifton vs. T. 42s and Bombers vs. High School.

Each of the teams above thirteen men to begin with and all are allowed to add one man for each defeat. Each team will play every other team. According to Coach Wrinkle it will take approximately five and one-half weeks to do this. The four leading teams will use the Shaughnessy system to decide the championship. Any persons desiring to be an official is requested to see Coach Smith or Coach Wrinkle.

Girls' Softball Practice Started

Girls' softball practice has begun and the teams for a tournament have been organized.

The following captains have been selected: Marguerite Mathews, Beulah Rogers, Edna Nevils, Azile Hartley, Mary Kennedy, Olive Reppard and Kitty Dubberly. There has been approximately 125 girls out for practice. The Rosenwald and Faculty women have organized a team to gether. Any group may organize a team and enter the tournament. Susan Ann Braswell is in charge of the tournament.

COLLEGIANS WIN FIRST VICTORY BY A SCORE OF 15-6

The Statesboro baseball team, which is composed of college boys and a couple of town players, has completed its first week of play with one defeat and one victory.

The defeat came at the hands of the Georgia State Prison by the score of 13 to 3. Lack of practice caused costly fumbles which accounted for 6 of the prisoners' runs. A return engagement has been secured by the Collegians and the boys expect to get revenge.

The victory came last Thursday in Millen against the strong Ogeechee league entrant of that city. The Collegians trounced the Millenites 15 to 6. Both of the games last week were much better than the score indicates.

The line-up for the Statesboro team at this time is: King, catcher; Hamil, first; DuBose, second; Wells, short; Patterson, third; Browne is the only sure starter in the outfield. The other two outfield positions will be definitely filled before the next game.

Championship In Doubles To Be Decided In Near Future.

Albert Braswell is the new tennis champ of South Georgia Teachers College. He donned the crown after defeating Haygood Morrison in the finals. The doubles championship will be decided in the near future. Twenty-four men have entered the doubles contest. They are, by teams: Rowell and Wilkinson, Brigham and Kenan, Chapman and Harris, Ingram and Watson, Harper and Anderson, Perryman and McLeod, Faircloth and Watkins, Morrison and Hamilton, Stanford and Jenkins, Braswell and Ramsey, Hill and Carroll, Drewry and Hodges.
