STUDENT COUNCIL PRESIDENT TO BE ELECTED ON MAY 9TH

ELECTION TO BE IN GYMNASIUM

All Other Officers Are To Be Elected On Same Day.

The election of student council officers for the 1939-40 school year will be held on Tuesday, May 9th, in the college gymnasium, according to David Proctor, president of the student council.

A president, vice-president and secretary will be elected at this time. In order to qualify for these offices each candidate must turn in his name and the office for which he wishes to run, in writing, to the president or secretary of the student council before noon, Saturday, May 6th. These are the qualifications for office as stated by Proctor: "The president, vice-president and secretary shall be elected from the sophomore class or above at the time of election. In addition to being sophomores or above they must have attended the college at least one year and have scholastic standings of 'C' or above."

At the time of this writing Jewel Vandiver and B. H. Ramsey have stated that they intended to run for president to this writer. There is a

STUDENTS HAVE DIFFERENT VIEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

Student opinion polled on state affairs presented quite a contrast. While 46.1 per cent of the students blamed the governor for the financial crisis 46.6 per cent blamed the legislature, 91.1 per cent signified that they were dissatisfied with the present administration and only 50.1 per cent contended that the legislature should be called in extraordinary session.

Fear of war was evidenced by a 48.8 per cent vote that a world war was inevitable; 75.2 per cent believed that the United States would take part in the war to be while only 54 per cent believed that the United States should. Optimism was shown by a 54.0 per cent vote in the belief that the democratic countries would be victorious.

The part propaganda plays in student opinion was shown clearly by a 57.9 per cent vote believing that the United States should furnish planes to the French government, while only 22.1 per cent would favor selling planes to the Nazi government; 53.1 per cent of those voting agreed that they really hate Hitler.

FIFTH ANNUAL GEORGIA PROGRESS PROGRAM ENDS

The Fifth Annual Georgia Progress Program came to a close Saturday at noon after a successful three-day session led by Dr. William H. Kilpatrick and Dr. Paul J. Misner, two of the outstanding educators in America.

The program, in the form of an experimental school, began Thursday afternoon with students, faculty members, and visiting educators, meeting for the first general discussion in the college auditorium. The topic was "How Do We Learn?" Students were divided into twenty groups for classroom discussion with an educator to direct each group. Each student was given a twenty-five page booklet for a study guide. The first of the two talks to which the general public was invited was given by Dr. Paul J. Misner Thursday night. It was "Qualifications For a Teacher In the Progressive School." Dr. Misner stated that faith was the greatest asset to a teacher and praised Dr. Pittman as one who worked fourteen hours a day for progressive education. Dr. Kilpatrick was originally scheduled to speak at this time and a great many of his friends had traveled a great distance to hear him. Therefore, a place on the program was made for him and he spoke on "How Learning Builds the

YMCA SPONSORS CO-RECREATION NIGHTS IN GYM

For the balance of this quarter provisions have been made for the Y. M. C. A. to have the Gym open every Saturday night for co-recreational activities. The first night will be Saturday, May 6th. All recreational equipment of the physical education department will be open to students. This equipment includes table tennis, shuffleboard, badminton, volleyball and other games.

The Y. M. C. A. deputation team will make its first trip Sunday, May 7th. The exact time and place is not yet known, but letters have been sent to the surrounding towns and the men who have parts on the programs will definitely be ready by May 7th. Deputation teams have not been used in the past several years, but there is a strong inclination on the part of the "Y" to resume these activities. Each program consists of Scripture, prayer, short talks and vocal or instrumental music. Mr. Paul Thompson, faculty advisor of the "Y," is in charge of deputations. No team will be sent out more than once, but an entirely new personnel will make the different trips throughout the quarter.

At the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night Mr. Kermit Carr, young business man from Statesboro, was the principal speaker.

MAID MARION WILL BE CROWNED THEN

Program for May Day Event
Released By Miss Hammack.

The annual May Day pageant will be presented at this college Friday afternoon, May 5th, in the amphitheatre behind the gymnasium, according to Miss Sue Hammack. At that time Priscilla Prather, recently elected May Queen will be crowned by her maid of honor, Eloise Mincey.

The court attendants of Maid Marion are as follows: Senior class, Anne Felton, Alice Hill and Virginia Sands; junior class, Miriam Girardeau, Kitty Gardner and Ann Breen; sophomore class, Frances Breen and Frances Deal; freshman class, Betty Smith and Abbie Mann.

The event will take the place of an English May Festival. Robin Hood, Henry Bagley, and his merry men followed by all the merry-makers, enter first. June Carpenter and Azile Hartley are the court jesters. Then Maid Marion and her attendants make their entrance for the crowning ceremony.

This is followed by the May Day

STUDENTS TO ENTER GROUP SINGING TEST

In an effort to arouse student interest in the step-singing contest the George-Anne wishes to remind you of the following excerpt from the college bulletin:

The Hon. Hinton Booth, of Statesboro, and President Marvin S. Pittman, in order to promote the knowledge and appreciation of and skill in music, are offering for the school year 1938-39 a number of prizes as follows:

1. Group singing. Various groups on the campus are invited to prepare songs for group singing. No limit is made as to the size of the group. Formal compositions should not be used, but such songs as are appropriate for community singing.

During Commencement Week the groups will gather at the amphitheatre and each group will be allowed five minutes in which to present their numbers. A first prize of ten dollars and a second prize of five dollars will be awarded.

"THE CONSTANT WIFE," TO BE PRESENTED IN NEAR FUTURE

Dr. Destler Reads Paper At Meeting

Dr. C. M. Destler, head of the social science department here, read a paper entitled "Southern Community Resources for The Social Studies," to the teachers section of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association Saturday, April 22nd.

Dr. Destler attends the meeting of the association every year and is usually on the program. The meeting this year was held in Memphis, Tenn. A number of book reviews by Dr. Destler have been made in "Social Education."

Left: So when the leading lady drinks she acts as if she'd come out of the gutter?

Center: No, she acts as if she were going into it.

The first production of "The Masquers," newly organized dramatic club of South Georgia Teachers College, "The Constant Wife," by W. Somerset Maugham, will be presented in the near future, according to Eddie Najjar, director.

The cast for the play has been selected and is as follows: Constance, Caroline Oliver; John Middleton, Homer Blitch; Bernard Kersal, Thad Hollingsworth; Martha Culver, June Carpenter; Mrs. Culver, Bernice Griffin; Marie Louise, Sara Godbee; Barbara Fawcett, Margaret Ann Johnston; Mortimer Durham, J. L. Faircloth; Bentley, Martha Cowart.

The play is a comedy of a sophisticated English family. Constance's best friend is having a love affair with her husband. What happens and how the triangle is worked out will furnish an enjoyable evening for the audience.

"Drink no wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee."—Lev. 10:9.

We are having a fine crop of chapel speakers. Oliphant is to speak to us next Monday.

O Vicious Minority, please leave us some light so that we may see and not break our necks in the dark.

Cope Ozier and Major Cowart join the list of appendicitis victims. We are glad to hear, however, that they are recuperating nicely.

The George-Anne finds much to commend in the work being carried on by D. R. Barber and his newly organized Y. M. C. A. It seems that new blood was exactly the tonic needed.

The spring presentation of the new Dramatic Club should be a tremendous success under the direction of Gunga Najjar. The play was written by an equally famous writer, W. Somerset Maugham, and presents a daring picture of sophisticated English life.

RARE TREATS

It seems that we who are students at South Georgia Teachers College have one rare treat after another in store for us.

Barely have we said good-bye to the greatest educator in America than we are ready to welcome Maid Marion and her court. Maid Marion is also a great person, but in a different way. The fair lady promises more fun for us on this May Day than we've ever had before on the same occasion. New ideas, new tricks, new costumes, new dances; they all add gaiety and fun to the festive affair. The sun always shines here on May Day so we have no worry about that.

Immediately after the departure of Maid Marion and her court we are faced with a more serious affair, but it still may be classed as a rare treat. Perhaps the right to vote is the greatest treat of all. It is necessary that the George-Anne remain neutral in student elections. However, we cannot refrain from urging every student to exercise the privilege of voting. The George-Anne doesn't care who you vote for, but it does care whether you vote or not.

After the election the step-singing contest will appease defeat and reward victory with its beautiful voices. There is also a cash award for the group which wins the contest. The George-Anne urges every student to become a part of some group and join in the singing contest.

Owed to the Social Peanuts—Just to let the public know the Social Peanuts are getting around all right these days:

If anyone has any suggestions that would keep Marjorie Cobb out of trouble they would be greatly appreciated.

Milledgeville seems to be a good place for Maggie and Sarah. G. M. C. is not very far away.

We wonder why Maggie and Ollie B. are so anxious to get to Millen every week end. It couldn't be just to visit Annie Mae. By the way: A heart for sale, see Annie Mae.

Adelle's bills are getting her down this quarter.

Poor Ham walked alone one Sunday night. Wonder where Angie was.

Wonder why Martha wants to go to Atlanta all the time. It couldn't be to shop . . .

Now that this little debt is paid we have some other important business to attend to. The remainder of this column is dedicated to those co-professors of Bushology, Messrs. Hey-good Simpson and Sapient Morris. These professors have slaved week after week to compile some statistics which they now wish to present to you. According to the professors the students were graded on what they did in class. This seemed to be the only defect of the class: some students did better work outside the class but they were graded only on what they did in class. (No home work, plez.) However, let's get down to brass grades. Dr. Simpson graded the boys and Dr. M. graded the lady people. First we'll look at the representative group handed in for speculation by the professors: Tom Carpenter and Mary Mercer, A; Sonny Blitch and Frances Hughes, A; Robert Moye and Audrey Cason, A; J. Olliff, F Harrison, A; H. Crawley, C. Smith, A; Cope Ozier, Meg Gunter, A; Tom Jones, Mary Altman, B; B. H. Ramsey, Catherine Gainey, B; F. Wardlow, L. Powell, B; H. Rape, E. B. Jones, C; B. Goode, B. Grace, C; A. Braswell, B. Smith, D; B. Jones, Faye Hall, D; G. Burney, Mervin Futrell, D.

Now let's delve in the Profs.' little black book and see some individual scores: Mary Smith, B; Lawrence Enloe, F; H. Cleveland, B; Hugh Maxwell, A; Babe, B; J. B. J., B; Mildred Gillespie, C; Ted Booker, C; Mincey, B; Hiram, B; Nancy Strickland, D; Astor Ward Minchew, D; Gertrude, B; Roland Warnock, B; T. Gray, C; Barber, B; Angie, C; Hamilton, B; Anne Breen, C; Bob Bell, C; Mary Powell, C; I. W., C; V. Eason, E; Jeremias, C; Frank Aguirre, C; Gerken, D; Herman Bray, D; DeLoach, D; B. Harris, B; Clay Waller, D; Davis, D; Adolf Drewry, B; R. G. Young, C; McGowan, B; H. Blitch, D; Nelson, D; Browne, B; Sherman, D; Moore, C; E. Loozier, B; J. Proctor, B; P. Perryman, B; Myrtle, C; Holloway, C; C. Gainey, A; Beulah Rogers, D; Sarah Morris, B; Dot Durden, C; Mary Love Lewis, B; June Carpenter, A; Rebecca Grace, B; Olive Reppard, D; Marjorie Cobb, B; M. Griffith, B; Pris Prather, C; Froggie, B.

We notice that some of the girls dressed back stage terribly fast at assembly Wednesday morning. We wish they would dress that fast and efficiently while we are waiting for them in the lobby.

SPEAKING OF SITUATIONS

He was indeed facing a situation, and he had never faced the SAME situation before—so he had no past, or similar experiences on which to base his actions. He had friends, no doubt, who had, at one time or another, faced similar situations . . . but HE (everyone KNOWS) was a different personality, so this was an ENTIRELY DIFFERENT situation. Therefore he could not imitate his friends' behavior pattern. In fact he was upset, his equilibrium had been disturbed; he really must adjust his disintegrated personality (he made a note of that), it was awful; Horrible; Terrible, in fact it was BAD . . . and most annoying! This was definitely a "state of affairs."

Of course there were certain opposing factors and fundamental equations as well as the minimum requirements for a gentleman's procedure, as an organism and a personality, involved in the situation. THIS state of affairs required a NEW treatment. It MUST culminate! He acted accordingly. Moving a little closer he stammered . . .

"B-Betty, will you m-marry me!"

NOCTURNE (In A-Square)

They was ankin' out over da grass in Central Park, alias "de woods," and de night air was balmy wit cigaret smoke, and breezes from de bay. De sky was lousy wit stars, an de moon was just sneaking up over Brooklyn and shinin' like a red hot potato. De night was made for luv. Slug took a quick gander around to see dat nobody was eavesdroppin'. Then he reached over and took Mamie's hand in his paw. A strange look came into his eyes an he says to Mamie, he says: "My dear, after a long and careful study of the situation, and, having given due consideration to all elements involved, I have come to the definite decision that tomorrow we shall have rain."

CENSORED

They can't do that to me even if they did. Imagine! Well, anyway, all the best movies are censored; that's what makes them good; but I never thought THIS column would be THAT GOOD. If you would like a personal, un-autographed, un-expurgated, un-censored, and un-written copy, simply tear the labels off of three nearby SITUATIONS and mail them in together with a dirty, old, worn-out dollar bill.

IN THE BULL PEN

With BULL BROWNE

Elsewhere on this page is a group of sportanic questions compiled by the conductor of this column, and it is our hope that as many as possible will participate in this "quiz" contest. The prize to the winner will be a pass to the Georgia Theatre. This will be a regular feature of the sports page.

Well it seems that the great Hamilton-Morrison really hit their stride in the recent doubles competition in tennis. Morrison has visited the sports writer for three nights last week—so that he would be assured a write-up for his great tennis feat. So much was said in another article that this column is not going to say much about the Hamilton-Morrison duo except that a group of papers will be sent to Thompson and Brunswick.

In last week's paper in a write-up of the baseball team uptown Hack Wilson was left out of sed write-up. This was a gross error as Hack is not only the star pitcher, but he is also the entire pitching staff to date. Wilson's record so far is three wins against a single loss. However, when "Red Sox" Davis gets his crook ball working he is going to relieve Wilson of some of the duties.

And on the subject of Red Davis, that gent really shined in his debut with the Statesboro baseball team last week in Vidalia. Red stood on home plate and danced a jig. He calmly told the pitcher that he had better keep the ball out of the slot as he was going to send it over to Lyons five miles away. On the next pitched ball Red shellacked a long triple to right center. Was pitcher Gillespie mortified.

The baseball team won two more victories last week—defeated Millen 7 to 0 and Vidalia 11 to 5. Both of these clubs belong to fast semi-pro leagues.

The Pi Nus seem to be walking off with the softball title as they defeated the only other undefeated team, the T-42s, last Wednesday by a lop-sided score. (Yep, that's the team Coach Smith pitches for.) Somehow the star pitcher for the T-42s could not get his crooked ball to work and the Pi Nus were hitting him all over the lot. But the straw that broke the camel's back was when Big Breezy Wrinkle slashed a triple off of Pitcher Smith's fast one.

The best game of the season so far was the Delta Sigma-Pi Nu game. The game ended in a 6-6 tie after the Delta Sigs led all during the game and the Pi Nus tying the score seconds before the game was called on account of rain.

Haven't heard anything about the tennis team lately. Let's hope that worthy cause hasn't

Morrison, Hamilton
Are Net Champions

Heygood Morrison and Orman Hamilton defeated Neal Hodges and Adolf Drewry 5-7, 6-0, 6-0 in the finals of the doubles tennis tournament to become champions in that division. This team will represent the college in inter-collegiate matches.

Mr. W. S. Hanner, coach, started working with Blue Tide tennis men last week. The present ranking of the men is as follows: 1, Braswell; 2, Morrison; 3, Perryman; 4, Hamilton; 5, Brigham.

The Teachers will meet Armstrong in matches on May 6th and 20th. Games have also been scheduled with Mercer and it is probable that Douglas and Brewton-Parker will be on the list.

1. Name the number one tennis player for men (amateur) from 1920 to 1929?
2. Name the only undefeated team in the southeastern conference for regular season play during the 1938 basketball season?
3. Which league won the all-star basketball game in 1938 and what was the score?
4. Name the number one woman tennis player who ruled the feminine tennis world from 1923 to 1925 and from 1927 to 1929?
5. Who was voted baseball's greatest all-around player for the Hall of Fame at Coopertown, N. Y.?
6. What occupation did Abner Doubleday pursue at the time of his invention of the game of baseball?
7. Name the Georgia Tech player that made the all-southeastern basketball team in 1932?
8. What country won the Davis Cup matches in 1932?
9. Who was voted the American league batting champ in 1938?
10. Who was voted "The most valuable player in the National League for 1938."

fallen through. A former big shot of the tennis world was here last week end. None other than Punky Perryman's big brother from Georgia. A lot of people are wondering how Ed Perryman ever got time to play tennis with all the women around. Yet, that is how all good players get famous—over-coming all obstacles that block the way. ### Ushers To Serve At Vesper Services

In the past there has been a great deal of confusion in the vespers services held each Sunday night in the auditorium. The audience does not sit near enough to the front of the auditorium, but instead is scattered throughout the back of the auditorium. The vespers committee of the Y. M. C. A., in order to try to remedy this situation, is going to attempt the use of about four men at each service as ushers. These ushers will pass out the song books and show each person a seat, as near the front as possible. This will, it is hoped, be best for the group on the stage as well as in the audience. The student body is urged to attend vespers regularly and co-operate with the ushers in their work.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The spring quarter pledges in the Industrial Arts Club are W. H. Muggidge and Charles A. Estes.

The club has held its last two meetings in the shop, building hobby horses and shepherd staffs which are to be used for the May Day festivities.

BACHELORS

Bids were extended to sixteen new men at the last meeting of the Bachelors Club. They are D. R. Barber, Clyde Anderson, Bill Chambliss, David Bowman, Joe Ingram, Nick Dubberly, Horace Johnson, Theron Anglin, Alvin McLendon, B. H. Ramsey, Joe Joyner, Bill King, Arthur Farrar, Gus Carswell, Billy Watson, Joe Stanford. Plans are being made for the annual spring banquet and dance to be held May 20.

DUX DOMINA

The Dux Dominas and their dates for the April 22nd dance were: Alice Hill, Ed Carroll; Marjorie Cobb, Charles Bunn; Anne Powell, Wesley Sherman; Mary Powell, I. W. Bragg; Rose Lockhart, Bartow Miller; Catherine Gainey, B. H. Ramsey; Elizabeth Horn, Pat Patterson; Marion Lanier, George Hitt; Sara Godbee, Roy Rabun; Fay Foy, Jake Smith. The invited guests and their dates were: Margaret Remington, Gene L. Hodges; Virginia Blitch, Punky Perryman; Alice Jo Lane, D. R. Barber; Louella Smith, Buck Woodard; Adelle Dozier, Billy Talbert; Mary Altman, Herman Wrinkle; Myrtle Larisey, Buddy Young; Dot Durden, Jim Moore; Edna Neville, Jack Hogarth; Mr. and Mrs. Flora; Miss Lillian Hogarth; Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hanner and W. S. Hanner Jr.

ROSENWALD CLUB

At the last meeting of the Rosenwald Club plans were made for the reception which was given in honor of distinguished visitors, college faculty and invited guests, at Juliette Lowe.

Plans were made for the publication of a bulletin in the form of a unit of work to summarize the two years' program of the Rosenwald group here instead of "The Helping Teacher." Songs were practiced for the step singing contest.

CRAWFORD SINGS AT THE GEORGIA

After hard work and study in the Georgia Progress program students are ready to relax and enjoy "The Ice Follies of 1939," with Joan Crawford and James Stewart at the Georgia Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, May 11 and 12.

It is the romance of a girl who stepped between a man and his career and saved both. Joan Crawford is at her best as Mary McKay, the singing skater. Incidentally, those who remember her singing "Always and Always" will want to hear her sing three new songs in this picture. James Stewart gives his usual excellent performance in the picture.

In addition to the stars to the picture is the entire troupe of the original "International Ice Follies." Spectacular ice numbers are filmed in technicolor. We suggest that you see this extravaganza on ice.

Pianist: What's that, you always say "yes" when a man winks at you?

Singer: Yes, an eye for an eye is my motto.
