Need, Find, Assess, Use: Translating ACRL Standards into the Writing Classroom

Jewell Anderson, MLIS
Lane Library
FYE @Armstrong

- Academic Learning Communities comprised of core classes paired with a one-credit University Studies / Student Success course in place since early in the millennium.

- In 2008 Armstrong formalized institutional commitment to First Year success.
  - First Year Learning Communities
  - First Year Seminars
  - Common Read Program
IL @Armstrong

• As early as 2002, Lane librarians were collaborating with teaching faculty to introduce Information Literacy (IL) to the campus.

• In 2005 Lane librarians presented at this very conference on the topic of “Library Assignments and Faculty Collaboration.”

• Reference & Instruction Librarians continue to work with teaching faculty to address IL during bibliographic instruction sessions.
FYE + IL @Armstrong

- March 2011: FYE Faculty reach out to Lane library faculty re: let’s teach a FYE Academic Learning Community together
  - Three-credit ENGL 1101
  - One-credit IL including college readiness and study skills
FYE @ Armstrong

- Barriers to Collaboration
  - Disciplinary languages
  - Territorialism – or the expectation thereof
  - Concepts of student’s gaps in knowledge

- How to use a Word document (beyond basic functions)

- Facebook ≠ Technological Literacy

- How to access or navigate learning management systems

- How to optimize technology for research and writing purposes
FYE + IL @Armstrong

• Overcoming Barriers to Collaboration
• Open Communication
• Zero Expectations
• Plenty of Planning Time

• Planning started in March 2011 for an August, Fall, 2011 course

- Achieving Outcomes: ACRL Standards

  - Standard 1: The information literate student determines the nature and extent of the information needed.

  - Standard 2: The information literate student accesses needed information effectively and efficiently.

  - Standard 3: The information literate student evaluates information and its sources critically and incorporates selected information into his or her knowledge base and value system.

  - Standard 4: The information literate student, individually or as a member of a group, uses information effectively to accomplish a specific purpose.

  - Standard 5: The information literate student understands many of the economic, legal, and social issues surrounding the use of information and accesses and uses information ethically and legally.

- Achieving Outcomes: Composition

- Course Organized into “Modules”

- Permits professors to teach to their strengths and specializations

- Outlines the trajectory of the course

- Scaffolding

- Backwards Design

- Devise complementary assignments that maximize composition and research skill-building at once
