108 STUDENTS TO GRADUATE

TWENTY STUDENTS WILL BE HONORED FRIDAY, JUNE 2ND

SPEECHES TO BE MADE IN CHAPEL

David Proctor, Wyatt Bonner,
Mary Webb and Ceciline
Swinson To Talk.

Twenty students will be honored here by the faculty June 2nd, according to Dean Z. S. Henderson. Ten of the students will be honored for scholarship and the same number for constructive leadership.

The exercises will take place at regular chapel time on Friday. Two students from each group will make speeches. They are: David Proctor, Wyatt Bonner, Ceciline Swinson and Mary Webb. The general theme of the speeches will be "Purposes of Education in American Democracy." The honored students will receive certificates.

In order to be honored for scholarship a student must have made a grade point ratio of five or above for five consecutive quarters.

Those to be honored for scholarship are: Mary Ellen Battle, Wadley; Wyatt Bonner, Gray; Ann Breen, Jesup; Lucy Bunce, Statesboro; Elizabeth Burns, Eastman; Thomas Cox, Attapulgus; J. A. Gardner, Pulaski; Miriam Girardeau, Claxton; Ceciline Swinson, Statesboro, and Juanita Thomas, Scott.

ALUMNI EXPECTED TO VISIT CAMPUS

Plans have been made to give alumni a royal welcome when they visit the campus during graduation week for a new "get-together" day, Friday, June 9, according to Mrs. Henry J. McCormack, president of the organization.

The campus alumni will entertain with a picnic lunch on Friday, June 9, at noon in honor of the visiting alumni and the present senior class. The alumni will be guests in the college dining hall Friday night. There will be a formal dance in the Gymnasium honoring the alumni and visitors, according to Mrs. McCormack.

Following is a letter written by Mrs. McCormack to the alumni:

Dear Alumni:

We are looking forward to your visit at commencement. You will be interested to know that there are one hundred and eight in the graduating class. There are several new buildings which you will enjoy seeing. The

YMCA TO PUBLISH HANDBOOK FOR STUDENT BODY NEXT FALL

Mrs. Carpenter To Give Music Recital

Mrs. Winona Aldred Carpenter will be presented by Mrs. E. L. Barnes, of the South Georgia Teachers College music department, in a piano recital Friday evening, June 2nd, at 8:30 o'clock in the college auditorium.

The following program will be rendered:

1. Prelude and Fugue No. 2, Bach.
2. Sonata, Opus 53 (Waldstein)-Beethoven; Allegro Con brid.
- Intermission.
3. Scherzo, C Minor, Chopin.
4. Bird As Prophet, Shumann; La Fille Aux Cheveux de lin, Debussy.
5. From the Canabake, Gardner.
6. Prelude in C Minor, Rachmaninoff; Scotch Poem, MacDowell.

The Young Men's Christian Association of South Georgia Teachers College will publish a handbook of rules, regulations, and general information to be given to every member of the student body upon registration next fall, stated D. R. Barber.

The entire book including advertising will be worked up during the summer. At a meeting of the cabinet last week the following staff was appointed: Ted Booker, editor-in-chief; John Roberts, business manager; D. R. Barber, assistant editor. The literary editors of the book are Wilmer Wallace, Tom Jenkins, Bill Chambliss, Neil Hodges, Curtis Crook and Bobby Carroll. The publication will include administrative rules, customs, habits and useful information on the college campus.

MUSICAL EVENTS TO BE PRESENTED

The music department of South Georgia Teachers College will present four musical events, May 31 to June 3, in connection with commencement activities, according to Ronald J. Neil, head of the music department here.

The activities will begin with the second annual step-singing contest to be held Wednesday evening at 6:45 o'clock on the steps of East Hall. Fourteen college groups will enter the contest, according to Mr. Neil.

The college chorus will give its final concert of the year June 1, at 8 o'clock, in the college auditorium. On Friday evening Mrs. Marion Carpenter will give a certificate piano recital.

The department of music will give its final concert in the college auditorium at 5 o'clock, June 4. It will be in the form of an honors recital, with those students performing who have done most creditable work in music this year. The college chorus will also sing at this time.

"30"—THIS MEANS GOOD-BYE!

I hope you won't mind the personal references in this editorial. It is the first time I have done it and it is through necessity the last one.

The old table creaks and cracks and the typewriter writes the wrong words, but I love it. Again it is the last minute and everyone has forgotten to hand in any copy. It is fun though, and when this issue hits the presses I'll look back and laugh at my fear.

I have enjoyed editing your paper. I've tried to make it as much like you and about you as I possibly could. It has been the greatest thing in my college life. Through it I have known inside stories that never went into print because someone would have been hurt. But I can't go into a discussion of the many fine opportunities that it has given me, because the old clock upstairs ticks and ticks and it gets later every minute. We who are seniors would like to stop that clock so we could stay awhile longer but we know by experience that it is somewhat useless to wish.

Without a great deal of assistance and co-operation an editor is doomed to failure from the start. It is with pride that I thank my staff for the co-operation they have given me and the fine spirit they have shown in giving unselfish service for the publication. Members of the staff do the work because they love it. They are paid in no other way. I wish to thank the student body for its co-operation. Without your assistance we could never have had a paper. The faculty are also due thanks, especially for their help in making the paper a student publication.

Perhaps you would like to take an inside peep into the mechanisms of the paper from the time it is just a brainchild until it is sent through the presses. The first step is to find out the possible stories you may write about. A dummy is then drawn off the paper. When copy is handed in the editor types it, copy-reads it for errors, counts the words so that he can fit it accurately into the dummy, and then writes a headline for it. As the copy is prepared it is immediately carried to the printer. Proof reading is next in line. After the proofs are corrected the type is then made up in the form, then a proof of the entire paper is run. It is now necessary to look for possible mistakes in date and carry-over lines.

I hate to say it, but "So Long!"

Diggings

In case you want to know why "Eve" the King was walking backwards over the campus last week ask the Tillman boy.

And who saw Gardner, "Casey At the Bat," J. A. himself, having a Battle (Mary E.) down on the tennis courts before bell time Sunday morning.

Why was Dot waiting behind the bushes the other night? Waiting for ice cream? Ask Admiral.

Wynelle and Paul Murphy were holding hands the other day.

Billy Harris has been doing some scouting on the campus and has this bit of interesting chatter to contribute: "Being a new student this quarter I wouldn't venture to write only behind the eight ball so as to have sufficient protection."

It has been said by one of our instructors that there is a certain amount of electricity in the body. In that case I would suggest someone becoming famous on the campus. Why not generate that power so it could be of use. A tiny fan would go good these days.

We are all sorry to know that the fair sex do not have the ability to return from the little store without assistance, but from all indications I think it is partial dropsy which can not be cured easily. (Sorry Ted, but Miss Veazy sees different.)

Just why do college papers publish things that do not have sound doctrines, as "Dabs of Dirt," etc. Well the editor and his staff try to give the students just what they want. Then, we might say we want our names in the paper even if it does bring out facts that we thought were ours. Oh well, go ahead and try to make us believe you don't like it, but we know you do all the time.

It is really interesting to know that the intellectual bull session is a trio-success organized by J. A. Harper, Pierre Gardner and their colleague, Simpson.

I believe in the policy of variety, so why not mention a few personalities to help illustrate what I mean. "Are you in love?" was the question put to these couples. They gave some interesting responses: Hollingsworth, blush, blush; McGowan, tremble, tremble; Underwood, very much; Lambeth, wait a minute, yeah!; Wardlow, I think I'm too young to know; Powell, yes but er (some doubt); Warnock, who me, hump; Urquhart, why sure. "Oh well, I guess that's enough for this time," end quote for Harris.

Why does Frusannah Sneed blush at the mention of Jelks Taylor? Are you really going into the blackmail business, Chesly? It looks as if Bernice has competition after all.

Isaac Bunce and Pilcher Kemp seem to be having a little trouble getting together on this Lane problem. Too much traffic, Alice Jo?

How are you getting along these days, Eloise and Pat?

There is a possibility of a mutual defense pact between Bill Ware and Priscilla Prather, so they tell us.

June Carpenter and Willard Clanton are really having a struggle keeping their secret engagement a secret. Deah, deah, is the whole family like that?

It is rumored that D. R. Barber had to use Tommy Gray as a go-between to get his bed covers back recently when Curtis Crook swiped them when D. R. threw just a little cold water on him.

Dear Miss Fitt:

If Napoleon were living today he would probably be drawing an old-age pension.

Congratulations to "Ye Olde Editor" for the swell job of editing he has done this year ... also for having such a noted columnist on his staff ... not mentioning any names, of course. By the way, in this last Dippy Dutch column of the year, I think I should take time out and apologize for not insulting more people this year ... ah me! 'Tis better to have tried, etc.

LAST OF THE "BULL PEN"

IN THE BULL PEN

With BULL BROWNE

The outlook wasn't brilliant for the Mudville Nine that day,
The score stood four to two with but
One inning left to play,
And then when Conney died at first,
And Barrows did the same,
A sickly silence fell upon the patrons
Of the game.

Then from a thousand throats or more

There arose a mighty yell,
It rumbled through the valley,
It rattled in the dell,
It knocked upon the mountain
And recoiled upon the flat,
For Casey, Mighty Casey, was Advancing to the bat.

The sneer is gone from Casey's lip;
His teeth are clinched with hate;
He pounds with cruel violence his bat
Upon the plate.

And now the pitcher holds the ball,
And now he lets it go,
And now the air is shattered by the Force of Casey's blow.

Oh, somewhere in the favored land
The sun is shining bright;
The band is playing somewhere,
And somewhere hearts are light,
And somewhere men are laughing,
And somewhere children shout;
But there is no joy in Mudville,
Mighty Casey has struck out!

— ERNEST L. THAYER.

Thus we have the most popular poem in the English language today, notwithstanding any facts or claims that the English teachers will tell you about Shakespeare, Milton, or what have you. Trayer's poem, "Casey At the Bat," has been published more times than any other piece of poetry in the English language. DeWolf Harper, famed actor, used this poem in the way of a curtain call and special requests some 14,000 times in a stage career of many years. Can you imagine someone reciting Shakespeare and etc. back home at the Princess Theatre! This poem reminded the sports editor how he and all the rest of the Pi Nus felt after the defeat in the play-off.

Some of the boys had a little trouble with last week's quiz. It seems that they did not know that Lou Gehrig was at one time the property of the Giants, and that he played with Hartford before coming to the Yanks.

Another tough question was: Which minor league club established a new opening day attendance record. It was Jersey City, a Yankee farm club, which had the unusual crowd of some 45,000 fans. The other day when the club returned from a road trip 32,000 more fans turned out to welcome the team back, and funnier still, the Jersey city team is outdrawing the parent team, the New York Yankees, so far this year.

The Faculty showed surprising strength to defeat the Pi Nus in two straight games in the play-off. The fraternity team was previously un-

FACULTY AND BUGGER DAGGERS TO MEET NEXT WEEK IN PLAY-OFF

The Faculty softball team made an amazing come-back from a fourth place club to an outstanding contestant for the championship in the Shaughnessy play-off after defeating the first place Iota Pi Nu team twice in a row to eliminate them last week.

The Bugger Daggars eliminated the T-42s from the play-off last week and will meet the Faculty in a three-out-of-five-game series to be played next week. Both teams are strong and it is expected that plenty of fireworks will be furnished for spectators next week.

DELTA SIGMA GIVES BIG SPRING DANCE

The Delta Sigma fraternity entertained with its annual spring banquet and dance Saturday afternoon and evening. Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock a tea dance was given for members and invited stags in the college Gymnasium. At 7 o'clock the fraternity members and dates went to the Statesboro Woman's Club for dancing until 9 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the group went to the Rushing Hotel for the banquet. At the banquet new officers for next year were installed. From 10 until 12 o'clock the group danced at the Woman's Club. The club room and hotel were decorated in marine fashion, carrying out the "S. S. Delta Sigma" idea. Members and dates attending were: Catherine Gainey, B. H. Ramsey; Ann Fulcher, Albert Braswell; Ardelia Calhoun, Jimmie DeLoach; Doris Wallace, Leroy Cowart; Marjorie Forehand, James Thayer; Bobbie Smith, Chatham Alderman; Alice Hill, Ed Carroll; Frances Hughes, Sonny Blitch; Marcia McNeely, Charles Bunn; Kitty Gardner, Bill McLeod; Eloise Mincey, Curtis Crook; defeated until the play-off. The Faculty at this writing looks too tough for the Bugger Daggars (the winner of the other series in the play-off), and it wouldn't surprise many people if the Faculty made a clean sweep. Gus Carswell played a big part in the Bugger Daggars' win as he slammed two homers and a triple in the final game that went nine innings.

All in all, the softball season has been a big success, with plenty of action, good games and good-natured rivalry. It does seem bad that once in a while some player will flare out and talk too much or use some unsportsmanlike action, but these things come up in life and so we have to put up with them in life. Although as a whole the season has been the best so far. Jim Wrinkle should be praised highly for running off this tourney, making up the schedule and keeping statistics of the games. It was a hard job to do, but Big Breezy turned in a real good job.

Completion of Work On Auditorium Soon

Work in enlarging the foyer of the auditorium will be completed by commencement exercises, according to Dr. Marvin S. Pittman.

The present offices of the history department will be substituted as a ladies' rest room and the Green room will become a sitting room for ladies. Dr. Pittman stated that the sitting room would be nicely furnished. A toilet for visiting men will be installed in Dr. Pittman's office.

Anderson To Be Sanford Prexy

Clyde Anderson was elected president of Sanford Hall for next year at a meeting held in the college auditorium Wednesday, May 18.

Joe Joyner was elected vice-president at the same meeting. The race was close, Anderson receiving 39 and Joyner 34. Herschel Hamil also ran strong, but was ruled ineligible due to scholastic difficulties.

VANDIVER AND RAMSEY TO PUBLISH REFLECTOR

Jewel Vandiver and B. H. Ramsey were selected by the junior class as editor and business manager, respectively, for the 1939-40 edition of The Reflector at a meeting held in the college auditorium last Friday.

A nominating committee composed from the junior class selects the officers. They are then turned over to the publication committee for approval. The junior class then accepts or rejects the nominations. Both Ramsey and Vandiver have taken a large part in student activities here. It is expected that The Reflectors for this year will be given out this week.

Dr. Mooney Speaks To Boys of YMCA

With the largest attendance of any meeting for this quarter the Y. M. C. A. held its last meeting of the year in the lounge of Sanford Hall last Wednesday evening. Members taking part on the program were Theron Anglin, Clyde Anderson and Curtis Crook. The main speaker of the evening was Dr. John Mooney, of Statesboro, who presented a brief discussion of State Medicine. He mentioned the fact that in the very near future this was an issue upon which the present generation would be called upon to vote. This was an example of how matters of such universal importance could be anticipated and studied before it actually presented itself. By so doing many of the present problems could be eliminated entirely. Dr. Mooney's talk was very beneficial to the entire group.

Song leaders of the "Y" divided the group into parts and the songs to be sung in the step-singing contest were practiced. Ted Booker and Thomas Jenkins are song leaders. Although this was the last meeting of the year, it was perhaps the best. Everything points to a good year for the "Y" for next year, especially in the work with the freshmen.

Cromley Is Elected President of Y. W.

Dorothy Cromley was elected president of the Y. W. C. A. for next year at its last regular meeting of this year Wednesday night, May 22.

Other officers elected at this time were: Frances Hughes, vice-president; Miriam Girardeau, secretary and treasurer. The new officers were nominated by a nominating committee from the Y. W. cabinet and were approved by the members of the organization.

Azile Hartley read the Scripture and led in prayer. Vice-president Dorothy Cromley introduced the speaker, Mrs. D. L. Deal, who made an inspiring talk on "What It Means To Be a Christian."

greatest pleasure will be the fellowship which we all shall enjoy.

Number and new buildings will not make our Alma Mater a successful school. The students and graduates, with their enthusiastic and loyal spirits, are the ones who will help most to make T. C. the college of which we shall always be proud.

Please look at the program for the alumni and remember the time and date. I'm sure you will want to help make this year's "get-together" the biggest and best ever.

Loyally yours,

GEORGIA HISTORY CLASS VISITS MANY HISTORIC SCENES

The Georgia History class, Miss Hester Newton, teacher, made its annual tour of historical points of interest along the coastal region of the state May 19-21.

The first lap of the trip began in Savannah. The Irene Mounds, Christ church, Telfair Academy, Catholic Cathedral, Independent Presbyterian church and the Georgia Historical Library were visited Friday afternoon. The group registered at the Desoto Hotel. The tour began again Saturday morning with the Colonial cemetery, Telfair Academy again, customs house, city hall, U. S. S. Coast Guard Tallaposa, Fort Pulaski were visited before the class left for Midway. Sunbury and Darien were visited before reaching St. Simons. Historic scenes including Fort Frederica concluded the tour as the students returned to the college Sunday night.

Myrtle Beach Next Stop for Carpenter

Marion Carpenter and his Professors will end the school season with the boys swinging out for the D. S. Club of Americus June 1, the Iota Pi Nu dance June 3, and the Alumni dance June 9.

June 10 will find the Professors playing the opening dance at Ocean Forest Pavillion, Myrtle Beach, S. C. The band will play at the pavillion three nights a week and book out the other three nights.
