RESERVE CORPS TO GIVE TEST SOON

Purpose For Selection Of Men to be Given College Training

Men on inactive duty in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of all branches of the service have been ordered to take qualifying tests which are to be given at all the colleges in the country, according to Dean Z. S. Henderson, of Georgia Teachers College, who is in charge of giving the tests here.

Applicants for the new Navy V-12 college training program and all students who are members of any branch of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps, including the Air Corps, will take the test on Friday, April 2, between the hours of 9 and 11 a. m., and will take identical tests. Men enlisted in the V-1 Reserve and freshmen and sophomores enlisted in the Marine Reserve Corps will be given a test on Tuesday, April 20. Juniors and seniors in the Marine Reserve and members of the Navy V-7 and V-5 program are not required to take the test. All tests will be given in room 20 of the Administration Building.

Eligible high school students as well as college students will take the test.

Navy To Select Officer Material

The purpose of the test is to produce officers for the various branches of service. High school seniors, high school graduates and college students who appear to have potentialities for selection as officers will be chosen for college training. Selection will be determined by individual results on the test. The new navy plan contemplates that this college training will be carried on while the men are on active duty, in uniform, receiving pay, and under general military discipline. The test is for the preliminary selection of men to be given college training.

Qualifications Limited

Listed below are the qualifications which must be met before students can take the test for the V-12 and other programs.

Your should fill out this form and apply for the test only if you belong to one of the following groups:

(a) High school and preparatory school graduates who will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, regardless of whether they are presently attending college.

(b) High school and preparatory school seniors who will be graduated by July 1, 1943, provided they will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by that date.

(c) Students who will have attained their 17th and not their 20th birthdays by July 1, 1943, but who do not hold certificates of graduation from a secondary school but who are now continuing their education in an accredited college or university.

Furthermore, to be eligible for selection, you must:

(a) Be a male citizen of the United States.

(b) Be morally and physically qualified for this program, including a minimum uncorrected visual acuity of 18/20 in each eye.

(c) Be unmarried, and agree to remain unmarried until commissioned, unless sooner released by the Navy Department.

(d) Evidence potential officer qualifications, including appearance and scholarship records.

Fill Out Form

Dean Henderson stated that he has application blank forms which must be filled out by anyone taking the test. The forms must be completed before the test begins and brought with the student to the test. Men who plan to take the test should get

John Dunn To Go To Navigation School

John Dunn, of Deveraux, president of the Georgia Teachers College Student Council in 1941-42, is now in the Army Air Corps stationed in San Antonio, Texas. Dunn has just taken tests at the classification center and found qualified to be either pilot, navigator or bombardier, and word has just been received here that he would go to navigation school within the next few weeks.

Dunn, a graduate with the class of '42, was listed in "Who's Who" in American colleges and universities, and was honored at last year's annual Honor's Day program for both scholarship and leadership. He was president of Bugger Dagger club and was a member of the Teachers College football squad for two years.

FORMER STUDENT ON GUADALCANAL

Japs Fail To Get Him, But Malaria Took Him Out Action

The U. S. Marines have a powerful fighter in their ranks that was once a student here at G.T.C., according to the Macon County Citizen, his home town newspaper. This Marine is Capt. Will Hill Fields, of Montezuma, who attended school here from 1934 to 1937.

Capt. Fields graduated at the Marine School at Quantico, Va., with a lieutenant's rating. Soon after his graduation he was assigned to a combat unit for immediate active duty. In May, 1942, he left Norfolk, Va., on a ship bound for some port in New Zealand via Panama Canal. A short time after putting out to sea, his ship came upon a submarine that they were able to dispose of somewhere off the coast of the United States. Capt. Fields was assigned to stay in the New Zealand port for five weeks.

After his stay in New Zealand he was sent to some island in the South Pacific, where they rehearsed the methods they were to use in making a landing on Guadalcanal. They knew now what their destination was

ESSAY CONTESTS OPEN TO STUDENTS

Georgia Woman Resents Bad Name Given Native State; Offers $50.00 Cash Prize

Students of Georgia Teachers College have been offered the opportunity to enter a campus-wide essay contest, the winners of which will share a $50.00 cash prize which will be given to encourage "Good Government For Georgia," the proposed theme of the essay.

The donor of this award is Mrs. John Barton Seymour, of New York and Savannah, who because of the "uncomplimentary things said about politicians and methods in the state of Georgia," stated that she thought that this method might bring out a good deal of thought on the subject.

Dr. Pittman, president of Georgia Teachers College, received the following letter concerning the essay from Mrs. Seymour, a native Georgian, last week:

New York, N. Y.,
March 17, 1943.

Dear Dr. Pittman:

Some weeks ago I saw in The New York Times that you had been re-instated as president of the college at Statesboro, Georgia. I was glad to see that news—having been distressed over so many injustices recently taking place in my native state. I extend to you and to the college my sincere congratulations.

I have a small offer to make to the students at Statesboro which I hope you will accept, or decline, as your good judgment dictates.

I should be pleased to offer fifty ($50.00) dollars to the best essay on "Good Government For Georgia" or "A State Well Governed," etc. Of course I should rely on you for the title of the essay, but that is the content. The requirements of course, you would decide upon the award in June. I think it might bring out a good deal of thought and some controversy.

So often this winter, either on the lecture platform or in the papers or magazines one heard very uncomplimentary things said about politicians and methods in the state of Georgia. This seems a very small amount for the price but I hope you will take it in the spirit in which it is made.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. JOHN BARTON SEYMOUR.

Any student of GTC is eligible to enter the contest. The closing date and other details of the essay contest will be announced at an early date.

FOUR MORE T.C. STUDENTS HAVE BEEN DRAFTED

Other students at Georgia Teachers College who are being inducted into the army and will leave Statesboro on April 2 are Kenneth Cowart and George Lee, Statesboro; James Bryan, Brooklet, and Jack Wynn, Portals.

Guest Programs Begin Next Monday

Beginning on next Monday, April 5, a series of weekly guest chapel programs will be inaugurated here when Judge Will Stallings, chairman of the board of education of Treutlen county, will bring a group with him to present "Treutlen County Day."

"Toombs County Day," with County Superintendent Spell and Supt. Carl Lancaster, will be presented the following Monday, April 12.

On April 19 Jenkins County School Superintendent C. B. Landrum and Supt. J. F. Sosby, of Millen schools, will bring a group here to present "Jenkins County Day."

These guest programs will be given at every Monday's chapel hour and are for the purpose of creating a closer relationship between Georgia Teachers College and surrounding counties, according to Dr. M. S. Pittman, who arranged the programs.

OFF-WEEK-END TO BE GIVEN AT EASTER

Students can spend Easter at home this year, according to an announcement from the Dean's office today, which states that "Easter week end will be the long week-end observed during the Spring Quarter."

Classes will be suspended at noon on Friday, April 23, and will commence again on the following Monday. Only one off-week-end will be given to students this quarter.

Music Hour To Be In Audio-Visual Room

The weekly music hour program will be held in the audio-visual room Tuesday night from 8 to 9 o'clock. Miss McElveen will be in charge of playing the records.

The programs of records will include, "Second Hungarian Rhapsody," by Liszt; "Hansel and Gretel Overture," by Humperdick; "Der Wanderer," by Schubert, and "William Tell Overtures," by Rossini.

Senior Class Elects Three Officers

At a special call meeting of the senior class after chapel exercises last Monday morning, three men were elected without opposition to fill vacancies in senior class offices.

Harold "Judge" Herrington, Swainsboro, was voted in as vice-president; Thomas Robinson, Sardis, became the new secretary, and Harold Pearman, Pavo, was elected treasurer.

NEW RULES MADE THIS QUARTER

Becoming effective at last Monday's chapel when presented by Dean Henderson, several changes in student activities have been effected this quarter. Ranking among these is the weekly student activity calendar which lists the time of meeting of all the student organizations on the campus. The calendar fixes the time for meeting of all social clubs, chorus, Student Council, religious organizations and departmental clubs as from 7:30 to 8:15 p. m. on designated nights.

Among other changes was the change in the library hours. The library keeps its former schedule for the mornings, but closes at 4:30 in the afternoons instead of 6:30. The library hours after supper begin at 7:30 and stays open until 10:15 p. m. instead of closing at 9:45 p. m. as it originally did.

Observing only fifteen minutes opening time every night, the "Little Store" hours have been changed from 9:30 to 10:00 every night to 10:15 to 10:30 p. m. on school nights and from 10 to 10:30 on Saturday and Sunday nights.

Absence regulations have also been changed. Eight cuts were originally allowed in every class before a "quality point" was deducted. Under the present set-up no class cuts will be allowed and no "quality points" deducted.

The activity calendar set the meeting nights of student activities from 7:30 to 8:15 on the following nights:

Monday—Chorus, Bachelors, "X" Club (twice monthly).
Tuesday—Lambda Theta Chi, Epsilon Chi.

Ramsey, who was in the Naval Reserves, has been ordered to report to Columbia University, N. Y., on April 5. Stephens will go to the Medical School in Augusta in April.

ARMY RESERVES CALLED TO DUTY.

Five G.T.C. Men Ordered To Report On March 30

Five more Georgia Teachers College students will report for duty in the United States army on March 30. These five men were in the Enlisted Reserve Corps of the Army, which have been called to active duty, they having completed the academic period of the winter quarter on March 15, 1943.

The army enlisted reservists who will report to Fort McPherson for active duty on the 30th are William Z. Brown, Statesboro; Walter T. Johnston Jr., Americus; Jacob Jackson Rutherford Jr., Nashville; Sam P. Stephens, Smithville, and Robert C. Waters, Hiltonia.

Brown was a member of the Sigma fraternity; Johnston was a member of the I.R.C. and was a transfer student from South Georgia College in Americus; Rutherford was president of the freshman class and a member of the Iota Pi Nu fraternity; Sam Stephens was managing editor of the George-Anne and at one time secretary-treasurer of the Bugger Dagger club; he was a senior and a transfer student from Americus. Waters was also secretary-treasurer of the Bugger Dagger club last year.

CAMPUS FOOD PROSPECTS

Of even more interest than rubber tires and "C" gasoline books is the problem confronting every American, the once unexpected food rationing which cuts out the age-old custom of having several meats at every meal and having a bounty of everything to waste. Gone also is the favorite pastime of students grumbling about dining hall meals. It must be realized that we are at war and that it is impossible to get many types of foodstuff, and also that food costs are about 25 per cent higher than a year ago.

Even though with rationing of processed foods, students here can be assured that they will receive abundant, wholesome diets, and the college can make arrangements that will assure them of a constant supply of vegetables and unrationed foods.

The college dairy produces enough milk to allow every student to have two quarts a day, and milk is being served to students who want it at all three meals every day. Besides this asset the farm is capable of producing a goodly supply of the pork needed by the students every year.

On the other hand in the month of December the dining hall used 30,150 points for the purchase of rationed foods to be served to students. At present the dining hall has 29,575 points on hand, and in addition to this has been allowed 19,673 more points, making a total of 49,248 points, to be used between now and September 1. This means that what is ordinarily a six weeks' supply of these types of food must last six months, or for the remainder of this quarter on through two summer school sessions.

This need not cause undue alarm but is a problem that must be dealt with from now on, and special and immediate attention must be given the matter and long-time plans made to meet the situation to procure foods to take the place of those that are rationed.

The farm area of Bulloch county offers the opportunity for purchasing fresh vegetables in season and other farm produce, but with a similar scarcity of foods prevalent everywhere, more of the townspeople will be demanding more and more farm produce. Consequently farmers who raise more of these vegetables and produce than will be needed for home consumption will ask a higher price than has been formerly asked for the produce they sell, and the food will be harder to get because of the increased demand.

With all this in view there are several things that the administration must do to assure a plentiful supply of food in future months for students. It seems that advance arrangements must be made with farmers of the surrounding area and a definite contract be made with them for the amounts of vegetables, etc., that the college will need. The college farm should also produce potatoes, turnips and other greens, squash, tomatoes etc., as much as the land area will permit above that necessary to raise feed for the dairy cows and hogs, and it seems that several acres could be used for gardening, and should be used.

Another thing that can be done is to use students to work in the gardens to take care of the labor shortage.

It seems that with the milk, pork, and possibilities of getting and raising vegetables that students here need not have to depend entirely on rationed foods for subsistence and that their fare will be exceedingly good in the months to come.

AMERICAN HEROES

Maj. John L. Smith of the U. S. Marines has 19 Jap planes to his credit—Have you as many War Bonds?
Show all our American boys that you're doing your part on the home front to win the war. You've done your bit; now do your best—Buy more War Bonds.

Through The Keyhole

Romance seems to affect Judge's appetite. How about it, Miss Edwards?

Miss Billie Harrell is wearing a pretty diamond. Could it be that handsome man who came up to see her last quarter?

Bill Houston seems to be all smiles these days. The new brunette even keeps him on the campus over the week end.

"Farm Life" Pulliam has gone into landscaping. We wonder how this will affect the grades in bushology for the spring quarter?

There are lots of light and patrolling going on in East Hall. This dormitory must be under the "new order."

Pearman and Parkerson's house party seems to be a lasting affair or would you say that it has turned out to be a real romance?

What was Darley's business in Sylvester spring holidays? Oh, that is Jane Bateman's home town, isn't it?

"Tot," watch Denver. Seems like he likes the look of the new girl, Miss Stevens.

Miss Thomas seems lonesome this quarter. Come on boys, and help Red out. He can't entertain two good looking women. Or can he?

Mr. Hinely doesn't want to give any of the boys a chance. Have you seen that diamond that is "Prudy's" proud possession?

Dot Garner is really getting around these days. Two dates came up at the same time. What's the matter, "Big Chief," is two men all you can handle these days?

Drake Beasley has settled down to study since Mary T. isn't back.

Pruella seems to be all smiles since the army has deferred her "Cheshire."

What did Sam and Frieda lose in the corner of the gym that took a whole afternoon to find?

Ida Lee Mosely has settled down to work again since a boy from southwest Georgia did not come back.

It's no use boys, or have you seen Rutherford's claim check on Jean Hendrix?

Lindsey has clear sailing since Uncle Sam has increased his Air Corps.

The two Hinely boys' girls wear rings even if Lewis didn't give the girl the ring.

Why doesn't the president of the senior class approve of compulsory play night on Saturday night?

Wonder how the "new order" will affect Feaster and Swann? Since they have such a beautiful romance.

Better watch you step girls. Ex-cadet Jack Parker is around. And is he a whiz!

Wonder why Elaine hasn't dyed her hair again, or was she waiting to see which color car Dorsey drove back?

Jesse, who was the young lady from the training school? How about giving some of your boys friends a break?

Stooges are now on the loose in East Hall! Mrs. Myers and her assistant, Ida Lee, could probably throw some light on the subject.

Little Bo-Peep lost her "jeep," Elaine Herrin seems to have found hers.

Ida Lee seems to be down on the dormitory since Uncle Sam has called her last hope, Walter "Winchell."

FLOODS OF SPRING

By HENRY BELLAMANN

(Reviewed by Charles H. Stone)

The scene of the Floods of Spring by Henry Bellamann is laid in the Middle West, in the same locality as his earlier best seller, King's Row. The time is the period following the War Between the States.

"This is a rather gripping novel of Peter Kettering's struggle to assert his own individuality. His earlier home background has made him rebellious against intrusion of others on his real self and he determines to live a life of isolation." The achieving of this purpose alienates him from his neighbors in his new home on the banks of the Missouri to which he has taken his lovely young bride from her Pennsylvania Dutch background. His determination to be self-sufficient marks him as "different" and unneighborly. He even fails in understanding and working with Savina, his wife, and their two sons. He is domineering and selfish. The Missouri river plays its part in the inevitable tragedy which lies ahead for him.

This is a character study, well done

POETRY

By PALMER EDENFIELD

EVENING

A sunset of color,
Of splashy, bright hue,
Is draping—yet rigid—
Over heavens of blue.
Nature plays a symphony,
The landscape's afire
With color, and with music
From nature's sweet lyre.
'Tis evening, and quietness,
Nightfall is at hand,
Dusk now assembles
To blanket the land.
To offer a prayer, then,
We cannot resist
To thank Him for nature
And beauty like this.

LIFE

Life is living—
Some taking,
More giving;
Some leisure,
More labor;
Some praying,
More cursing;
Some feasting,
More starving;
Some loving,
More hating;
Some peacetime,
More fighting;
Some happiness,
More sorrow;
Some giving up today,
More looking to tomorrow.

JUST ONE WAY

By HARRY ROBERTSON

As Time Goes By

What is being done on the campus about donating to the Red Cross? If I had fifty cents to donate to the Red Cross I wouldn't know any representative on the campus to give it to. The reason is that the national drive has received no emphasis on T. campus . . . nothing is being done about a movement to increase the sale of War Bonds and Stamps. They are being purchased but not as they should be . . . bandages are piling up in the Red Cross bandage room. Congratulations to all those doing such a fine job . . . The cost of books increase. Why couldn't the Blue Tide buy the books from the students after they've been used a quarter and resell them or rent them second-hand? It would cut down a needless drain on empty billfolds.

Interesting Points

The first point of interest during the holidays was Daytona Beach, Fla., where I observed some interesting features of the U. S. Army. I also had the unique experience of getting sunburned . . . Always interesting are the advertisements. Some of the most appealing ads of national concerns have not been for their products but for two words that cannot be overused—War Bonds . . . Interesting sidelight is the fact that more adults enjoy comics than children and it isn't because there are more adults. The other day two men were having a hot debate in the barber shop about Smilin' Jack's love for Cindy, and on a Greyhound not one out of fifteen persons were reading the news last Sunday morning—all had turned to the McManus feature first. McManus, writer of Maggie and Jiggs for forty years, has just celebrated his sixtieth birthday.

On The Campus

The shrubbery which was moved for more than one reason looks pretty in its new location but has left a bare spot in the heart of the campus . . . All of the new rules would be perfect, says one student, if one more were added compelling a seven-day-week of class attendance . . . We have heard less this year than at any time before of stolen articles or willful destruction of school property. This speaks well for our college and our student body . . . When will the swimming pool open this year or will it? . . . Note to Coach Smith: Will all the tennis courts be made ready for use this year? I hear rumors that there will be plenty of players like Beth Stanfield, Jack Parker, George Mulling, "Jedge" Herrington, and Dot Garner wanting courts. Last year some of these very best people beat the rest of us to the two decent courts every time.

Since writing the first paragraph about the Red Cross a movement has gotten under way. We withdraw our complaint and wish for it the most in success. Incidentally the fifty cents the most in success. Incidentally the fifty cents has been contributed.

ABSENTEES HINDER WAR PRODUCTION

One of the chief causes of slowing up of vital war work is not foreign Axis agents but our own home front saboteurs, the worker who continually and persistently lays off the job for a day or two for no good reason at all.

It has been calculated that from five to fifteen per cent of workers directly engaged in war production are daily being marked absent from their work. This is an outrageously high percentage at any time and certainly so when compared with the peacetime estimate of 2 per cent. This large amount of "absenteeism" during war shows that many of the workers are still passively patriotic.

It is true all over America that the majority of the people are making higher wages than they have ever made and even though they buy War Bonds with their weekly checks they still slow up vital war production by their chronic "absenteeism."

Some of the reasons for war workers staying off the job include drunkenness or "just wanting a day off." Although some of them have legitimate reasons for not being at work, such as sickness, the majority do not, and not being at work lowers the output of their plant considerably.

This is one of those national problems or "bottlenecks" in the war effort that needs to be remedied in order to insure maximum materials for the fighting men of our country. It's one of those problems that will have to be solved by making those workers conscious of the need for their being on the job and by making them realize that they have more at stake than just a highly lucrative job, and a way to evade the rigors of actual fighting, and those who still insist on not keeping on the job should be eliminated.

Absentees are our home-front saboteurs.

Letters To The Editor

March 24, 1943.

Dear Editor:

This letter is in the form of a report of the last regular Student Council meeting. It is our desire that this letter will help the students understand the position of the council in regard to the changes at the beginning of the quarter by the administration.

Dean Henderson, our sponsor, was at the meeting with us as well as a group of spectators who will verify all that I have written here.

The four major changes discussed were as follows: (1) The ruling concerning the study periods in the two dormitories; (2) the absentee ruling; (3) the new store time, and (4) the schedule for club meetings.

Practically all the members of the council agreed that there was no great wrong in having a two-hour period of study for the students since some of them could not certainly use it—although it was pointed out that only one F was made in Sanford Hall for the past quarter and that the grades of the students showed considerably all-round improvement over those of the winter term.

The group as a whole showed no antagonism toward the absentee ruling.

Dean Henderson explained that the conflicts caused by moving the meeting time of the clubs together would be straightened out by changing either the times or the nights for the meetings.

But there was a reversal in the tone of the council when the changing of the store time at night from thirty to fifteen minutes came up. Dean Henderson explained that the faculty felt that the students needed no more than fifteen minutes in which to purchase whatever they needed. He also added that this plan would eliminate all unnecessary loitering along the path to East Hall by couples. The consensus of the council was that to most of the students "little store time" was one of the high-lights of the day and that most of them looked forward to that brief thirty minutes when they could get together with the rest of the students and enjoy themselves for a change. There aren't too many means of recreation and group socials here at T.C. and store-time is the one period of complete relaxation and pleasure for the students as a group.

When Dean Henderson was asked about the possibility of getting the time changed back to thirty minutes for the store, he replied that there was a much better chance of getting no time at all. It seems that some of the faculty were heartily in favor of closing the store at night, thus giving the students no opportunity to buy themselves a "coke" or needed school supplies when they needed them, but they were overruled.

Though no such thought was expressed in words, the council got the subtle impression that there was nothing the students could do about the new "regime" but abide by the rules and that anything that we did would only make matters worse.

This letter is not written in an apologetic sense, but is intended to show that our hands are literally tied.

Sincerely,
HARGARET "POP" RAULERSON,
President Student Council.

Our Freedom Is Priceless

By JOSEPH E. DAVIES
Former Ambassador to Russia and Belgium.

(Written for the Treasury Department in connection with the Retailers' "SAY YES" campaign to complete the nation's 100,000,000 partially filled War Stamp albums.)

What I myself saw in my four years in Europe gave me a new realization of the priceless rights which we here enjoy.

No secret police can in the night whisk us away, never again to be seen by those we love.

None of us can be deprived by any party, state or tyrant of those precious civil liberties which our laws and our courts guarantee.

None of us can be persecuted for practicing the faith which we found at our mother's knee.

None of us can be persecuted, tortured or killed because of the fact that an accident of fate might have made us of the same race as the Nazarene.

No American can be placed by any party or government in a regimented vise which takes from him or her either freedom of economic opportunity or political religious liberty.

What would the millions of unfortunate men, women and children in Europe give to be able to live and enjoy such a way of life?

Well, in this war, those are the things in our lives which are in jeopardy. Our boys are dying to preserve them for us.

Then we can do no less than to "say yes" and fill those war stamp albums. It is our duty and privilege to help the secretary of the treasury, Mr. Morgenthau, in his magnificent effort to do the tremendous job of getting the money to keep our boys supplied with the weapons with which to fight our fight.

Surely that is little enough for us to do on the home front.

to be. Their job was to take Gaudalcanal and hold it.

In August, Fields saw his first real battle. His organization had been attacked by air every night and shelled by day. The battle lasted five or six hours, but 1,200 Japs were killed to the loss of only forty-eight Marines.

He had several narrow escapes; once from a bomb and once from a shell. He bears a scar on his leg. The Japs could not get Capt. Fields down, but two sieges of malaria did.

The captain praises the American Red Cross very highly. He says that information, entertainment and canteen service were available at every port at which he stopped. "No Red Cross workers were on Gaudalcanal Island, because it was a battle zone, and no place for women workers of any kind," he stated.

While attending school here at G. T. C. he was a member of the Y. M. C. A., the Bachelors and Literary Society. He was on the George-Anne staff, the Student Council and the House Council. From 1935 to 1937, he was assistant in the registrar's office.

and each of those portrayed in this novel has a definite place in bringing out the lone man's loneliness. He is bewildered by the failure of others to understand his point of view and the failure of his family to fall in line with his theories. In the final denouement he begins to understand but not in time to save the fragments of his shattered life.

Mr. Bellamann has given us not only good characterization but good word pictures as well. One criticism that might be made of the novel, however, is that the author has a thesis to develop and makes that thesis a little too evident throughout.

While not so good a piece of fiction as King's Row, it is worth while as a study of an unusual character.

What Kind of College Credit For War Service?

Washington, D. C., (ACP)—When today's collegians come home from the wars to resume their education, they are virtually assured of real academic credit for their experience and training in service.

That idea is not new. Veterans of 1918 got credit when they came back. But the way American colleges and universities go about it this time may be new and much better.

At the end of the first World War, colleges lavished credit on students returning from service. It was "blanket credit" then. The amount depended only on time served under arms or rank at demobilization.

Of course such "blanket credit" had nothing to do with educational achievement or competence. Indeed, colleges vied with each other in the amount of credit granted the returning heroes.

To the veterans, however, this enthusiasm was hardly a boon. Many were assigned to academic levels beyond their reach and promptly flunked out. In other cases, there was no adequate recognition of increased competence.

Iota Pi Nu Fraternity Initiates Two Pledges

Club Had House Party At Tybee Spring Holidays

James Hubert Wells, of Climax, and Lindsey Pennington, of Oglethorpe, will be formally inducted into the membership of the fraternity tonight at its regular meeting. Both have served faithfully as pledges and both have bravely endured the rigors of the final initiation which are requisites to full membership.

The spring holidays house party at Tybee was declared a "howling" success by all those attending. Nine couples spent four days in the sun and surf under the watchful eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter at the famous vacation resort. A chartered bus served as the means of transportation.

Plans are already being made for this quarter's spring formal.

We dedicate this last paragraph to Pi Nus Roy Bedenfield and Jack Ruthenford, who were forced to drop their college work at the end of last quarter. Both will be flying for Uncle Sam in the Army Air Corps and it is our hope that they will prove to be as "ace-high" with him as they have been with us. Our loss will always be someone's gain.

Delta Sigma Sends Four More Members To Armed Services

The Delta Sigma fraternity is preparing a letter to go out to all old members expressing the hope that all are safe and conveying the best wishes of all the brothers.

Four brothers became inactive this quarter and will carry on their inactive relationship with the fraternity from various parts of the service and country. They are Tiny Ramsey, Billy Brown, "Fats" Bryan and Bill Scott. Ramsey who has been connected with the fraternity for five years reports to Columbia University April 5th for ensign training. He is a past president of the fraternity and graduated at the end of the winter quarter.

At the regular meeting last Wednesday night plans were made for meetings to be held in the future. Thomas Harrell will undergo initiation this week to be taken in as a member next Wednesday night. The fraternity is moving forward with plans for closing its books at the end of the quarter until the war is over.

Boston University is admitting to college study high school seniors who are recommended by their principals.

"X" Club News

"X" Club conformed to the new meeting schedule by holding its first meeting of the spring quarter in Lewis Hall Tuesday evening at 7:30. The sponsors, Misses Dukes and Brazier were hostesses.

Miss Juanita Thomas was unanimously nominated and voted to serve as "X" reporter. We are glad to see "Prudie" Townsend return to T.C. campus and take her place with us as a truly loyal "X" member.

Dorothy Garner, Winona Eason and Margaret Strickland were appointed to plan a picnic for Saturday afternoon.

After a short meeting students returned to East Hall to resume their studies.

Bugger Daggers Elect Officers

Members of the Bugger Dagger club held the first meeting of the spring quarter in Sanford Lounge on Thursday night, March 25th. New officers for the spring quarter assumed their responsibilities at this time.

Those officers are Hubert Wells, president; Dorsey Blalock, vice-president; Marvin Prosser, sergeant-at-arms; Palmer Edenfield, secretary and treasurer.

Plans for extending membership bids were made during the meeting. The club also unanimously agreed to have another one of "those Bugger Dagger picnics" on Saturday, April 3, at Rushing's pond.

Members responded well to the War Bond campaign within the club.

Lab Hi Joins Red Cross Drive

WYNDELL CROUSE

During 1943, the Red Cross has asked for more money than ever before. The Laboratory High School was asked to raise seventy-five dollars; of this the students were to raise fifty dollars. Mr. Moon offered a prize to the class that brought in their contribution of fifty cents per person first. In a week's time the ninth grade had gone over the top with $10.50 for their twenty students.

The school has co-operated with the war effort in trying to have a physical fitness program. The students have been divided in squads and each Monday is drill day. At the present time, Pete Wolfe is commander of the boys and Jack Parker of the girls.

President and Dean Fill Speaking Dates

Dr. Pittman spoke at the Nevils Methodist church yesterday and has two more speaking dates to be filled soon. He speaks to the Tattnall County Teachers Association in Reidsville on Friday, April 2, and at the Millen Methodist church on Sunday, April 11th.

Dean Henderson spoke at the Register Methodist church on a Layman's Day program yesterday. He presented High School Victory Corps certificates to the Victory Corps at Statesboro High School on March 23, and at Brooklet on March 26. The Dean and Mrs. Henderson have been invited by the Guyton Woman's Club to be on the Memorial Day program there on April 26. The dean is to speak and Mrs. Henderson will play musical selections.

Delta Lambda Delta

Y.M.C.A. Urges Men To Attend Meetings

Jimmy Varnell Named President For Next Year

It is the purpose of the Y.M.C.A. to encourage all young men to attend and take part in some phase of religious work here on the campus, but for some reason the purpose has failed.

Couldn't we make this a better college by doing some of the "little" things that add to the "finer" things of life? Maybe it wouldn't take but just a kind word or maybe a thoughtful act to help brighten the day for someone. Certainly we aren't too busy that we don't have time for an act so small as this!

At the cabinet meeting of March 24, the following members were elected for next year: Jimmy Varnell, president; Lewis Hinely, vice-president; Marvin Prosser, secretary-treasurer; Lindsey Pennington, chairman Evening watch; Jesse Hamby and Hubert Wells, program committee; C. E. DeLoach and Max Lockwood, co-chairmen play night; Jim Roberts, publicity chairman; Marvin Prosser, chorister.

With our new cabinet let us strive to build a better Y.M.C.A. for next year. Won't YOU help us?

Respectfully,
MARVIN PROSSER, Secy.
