Homeless College Students Are A Reality

Demick and Morales to Represent Armstrong

By Gabriel Williams

A few weeks ago, Dr. Yvette Carter announced her annual "All Hours Homeless" event on campus to raise awareness about Savannah's homeless population and collect donations. But what about the homeless population that are right here on campus with Armstrong's very own students?

"Many of us don't seem to think about homelessness in terms of college students. We tend to associate homelessness with certain images and terms of college students. We forget our very own students?"

But what about the homeless who are on this campus? Homelessness for college students has always been a reality that campuses around the country.

"In 2012-2013, the Free Press, Armstrong and Savannah Campuses are all addressed and reported back to the SGA presidency by Jarvis Steele, who will then consider them with both of those concerns."

"Among those who won were Armstrong students Spencer Demink and Yilnette Nunuez. They both serve as delegates of the Armstrong and Liberty Campuses. Spencer will serve as the Executive Vice President and Nunuez will serve as the Executive Vice President of SGA."

"Spencer was elated once he found out the good news and has high goals for next school year. He mentioned that he wanted to have a smoother process. He is looking forward to applications and scholarships making more transparency visible to the student body."

In a U.S. News article titled "A New Focus on College Campuses: Ending Homelessness Insecurity," Caroline Wahl wrote, "...gave one-third of students at two-year colleges and 11 percent to 19 percent of students at four-year schools face housing insecurity, a study published in Educational Researcher said."

"Also, there are problems that are posed by college students themselves as some campuses choose to close dorms during breaks. Many students depend on university housing and when these dorms close it puts many students out on the streets."

"Armstrong students should pro- vide lower housing costs for people who need to stay over the break," says an Armstrong student who finds it "dis- appointing" that the school doesn't reduce prices for stu- dents who have nowhere else to go on breaks.

"Although dorms on the Armstrong campus remain open and students are free to stay during Spring Break and Thanksgiving, for longer breaks like Winter Break, stu- dents are not allowed to stay without payment and approval.

Along with homeless- ness, students also face vari- ous other problems like not having enough to eat.

"Armstrong's Captain's Cupboard Food Pantry caters to this problem. The Captain's Cupboard is an emer- gency food service program that serves students, faculty, and staff."

"This food program allows for approved individu- als to receive a bag of food every week. For information about the Captain's Cupboard, please contact the Dean of Students Office at 912.344.2514 or armdeanofgeorgiasouthern.edu."

"Student homelessness is a part of a bigger problem of financial aid and college affordability that affects the whole country."

"Efforts to help this press- ing problem came with the last reauthorization of the Higher Education Act in 2008. The Higher Educa- tion Act (HEA) was passed to support educational resources of colleges as well as student financial aid for college students."

"The reauthorization of the act was set to happen in its expiration year 2015 but was extended to 2017 and is still being considered in Con- gress where they are continu- ing to make changes. House Republicans are considering overhauling the entire act. Currently, Democrats agree with this possible overhaul but have differing opinions on how this new act should be."

"With a large and consoli- dated university brings an issue for students when regis- tering for classes. Some are not quite sure how to access WINGS, the new student portal, which is required for all GSU students to register for full classes."

"There has also been growing concerns if students' academic grades will be affect- ed. Spencer plans to resolve these issues so that students can have an easy transition into classes with as little ob- stacles as possible."

"We are going to work closely with administration to make sure they are listening to what the students want as well as having them inform the student body in a timely manner and allow the student body to give feedback" he added.

"Villette Moralez Nunuez will be charged with the task of maintaining all disburse- ment and financial operations of the Armstrong campus of GSU. She will also oversee expenditures by organiza- tions receiving funding from SGA."

"Nunuez currently serves as a Senator member and has also made the Dean's List of the PROSPER Act would ul- timately foster a higher edu- cation system that works for the students and families of the whole country."

"Moreover, students will be allowed to park on all three campuses and utilize the fa- cilities on all three campuses."

"Though some are not quite satisfied with the aftermath of the consolidation, others commend GSU for expand- ing its opportunities and re- sources to the Savannah area."

"Even though there will be three campuses, the unified mission of GSU will be to empower students through edu- cation work to create oppor- tunities for people to achieve advanced degrees and implement creative solu- tions to benefit current and future students."

"A complete list of elect- ions results including all out- gates of each college can be found on the Inkwell's Web- site."

"This will be an important event for students and future students."

With a large and consoli- dated university brings an issue for students when regis- tering for classes. Some are not quite sure how to access WINGS, the new student portal, which is required for all GSU students to register for full classes. There has also been growing concerns if students' academic grades will be affect- ed. Spencer plans to resolve these issues so that students can have an easy transition into classes with as little ob- stacles as possible. We are going to work closely with administration to make sure they are listening to what the students want as well as having them inform the student body in a timely manner and allow the student body to give feedback."
Revisiting The Smiths and Morrissey with The Ordinary Boys

April 12, 2018

THE INKWELL
ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT

Ordinary Boys was formed in 2010 by vocalist AJ Nava and lead guitarist Michael Setton. Known for Morrissey’s melodic/jangly guitar riffs. It has been described as a mix of early 80s punk, new wave, and mod revival. They are known for their dynamic stage presence and energetic performances.

The Ordinary Boys started touring their first album in 2010 by vocalist AJ Nava and lead guitarist Michael Setton. The band has built a strong following across the country with their high-energy shows and engaging stage presence. They have played at various festivals and venues, including The Smiths’ celebration at the Jinx in Atlanta.

Harris Cutcher, Ashley Ball and Shelley Bence. William Mastrosimone wrote the play. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men— and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?

Harris Cutcher is the lead actor for the role of a rape survivor who is portrayed by Aradillas. The play opens with Aradillas listening to a rape survivor in reference to her own experience. The play goes on to say that it puts a mirror up to our nature—those of men—and women—and asks—who do you trust? What would you do to protect your own? And can forgiveness break the circle of doubt and resentment?
I deleted Facebook. I just never cared for social media, besides Snapchat for communication. I have a small social circle so I never saw a need for it. If I still did, I would get rid of it. Though, the thought of something it in the user-agreement makes me nervous. My parents almost deleted our accounts. It sketches me out.

William Billoro
Undecidable, Sophomore

---

Does the current revelation that Facebook sells your information worry you?

No, I think it is fair because who is getting my information? I think that it could be used for that, but the information is still there already.

Aditi Goyal
English Communications, Junior

---

Is there an app that I can use to see who is reading my Facebook to see who is getting my information?

I ask them to take a poem and watch him probe across it. However, one must not force it. One must glide across the page, carefully feel each word as it must gently probe their way through each line, like the reader must gently probe their way to the light like a color slide for a light switch.

The poet Stephen Dunn has said, “We seem to always know where we are in a Billy Collins poem, but in reality, we are usually nowhere near where he is going.”

I invite you to take Collins’ poems with the intention to motivate readers to dissect them in a more sensible manner, and avoid tying it to a chair with a rope and torture a confession about their meaning. They begin beating it with a stick, until they find out what it really means.

I deleted Facebook. I just never cared for social media, besides Snapchat for communication. I have a small social circle so I never saw a need for it. If I still did, I would get rid of it. Though, the thought of something it in the user-agreement makes me nervous. My parents almost deleted our accounts. It sketches me out.

William Billoro
Undecidable, Sophomore

---

The Inkwell is Awesome! We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Will you start writing about student profiles in the future?

Yes, we are definitely on the docket. We have a weekly writers meeting every Wednesday at 12:30pm in Student Union 350 to touch stories that our editors need covered for the week. We also have a board on our door where you can leave your information and your own to share with us.

Will the Inkwell stay the way it is?

The Inkwell will always be the Inkwell. Will the Inkwell stay the way it is?

The title of this poem suggests that it is written from a distance. The poem can be experienced when analyzing the meaning of a poem, one must gently probe their way through each line, like the reader must gently probe their way to the light like a color slide for a light switch.

The poet Stephen Dunn has said, “We seem to always know where we are in a Billy Collins poem, but in reality, we are usually nowhere near where he is going.”

I invite you to take Collins’ poems with the intention to motivate readers to dissect them in a more sensible manner, and avoid tying it to a chair with a rope and torture a confession about their meaning. They begin beating it with a stick, until they find out what it really means.

I deleted Facebook. I just never cared for social media, besides Snapchat for communication. I have a small social circle so I never saw a need for it. If I still did, I would get rid of it. Though, the thought of something it in the user-agreement makes me nervous. My parents almost deleted our accounts. It sketches me out.

William Billoro
Undecidable, Sophomore

---

Mark Zuckerberg should be roasted over an open fire for what he did with data about influential quotes for students? Horoscopes? Horoscopes are always fun for a large majority of college populations, so we are definitely pushing to add a horoscope section. It would most likely share a section with the Comics and Cartoons. We encourage student horoscopes as well.

Good picture quality. Thank you. Laura Weyman

The Inkwell is Awesome! We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

The Inkwell is Awesome! We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.

Please keep the Inkwell. It’s staying. don’t worry, we aren’t going anywhere.

We appreciate all of your questions and comments. You can ask any questions or comments, contact us through Writers’ Meetings, at 12:30pm on Wednesdays in Student Union 350, via email or on our social media platforms, theinkwellGSU on Twitter and The Inkwell on Facebook. We are working on possibly getting an app in the near future.
WrestleMania 34: A Classic New Orleans Showcase

As most WWE fans know, Charlotte Flair showed up and once again provided a WrestleMania moment for the ages. Flair was good while at Wresltemania with Elias Samson putting on a show as Styles and Shinsuke Nakamura "Styles Clash" on Nakamura. Eventually we got the fight we wanted but the fight itself was lackluster. Undertaker manhandled John Cena, and it was unclear whether this was just a one-time deal or that Cena and Undertaker will continue their feud with Undertaker looking as good as he did.

Jax feud for months to come, AJ Styles and Shinsuke Nakamura, both made it to main event WrestleMania both coming from Japanese wrestling backgrounds and have actually been friends for as long as anyone could remember. Nakamura lost Styles with a cheap shot, something no one would have expected from him, so we will see how WWE decides to play that storyline.

In what ended up as a bloody grudge match, Brock Lesnar, amidst UFC return rumors, retained his Universal title against Roman Reigns who had a blood red face after the match but they didn't agree with. We'll see how long Lesnar stays champion.

Regins harped on most of what the WWE Universe seemed to agree with. We'll see how long Lesnar stays champion. WrestleMania 34 was one of the record books. New Orleans has always been a special place for WWE and once again it did not disappoint. WrestleMania 35 will be showcased in New York next year on April 7, 2019. As a grade for WrestleMania, I’d give it a B. Solid, but not great.