Revelers To Be First Attraction In Civic - College Artist Series

The Revelers, reputed to be the world's most famous male quartet, will be presented at 8:30 p. m. tomorrow in the college auditorium as the first in a series of four programs sponsored by the Civic-College Artist Series.

Originally organized in 1916 as the Shannon Quartet, the group has been reorganized around Wilfred Glenn, renowned bass of the original group. On four different occasions Glenn was named "All-American bass" by the nation's radio editors.

Outstanding vocalists who have served as members of the famous quartet at various times include such stars as James Melton, Franklin Baur, Lewis James, Elliot Show, Frank Parker, Phil Duey, and Frank Luther.

The Revelers now include Glenn Burris, tenor, recently featured soloist at Radio City Music Hall; Nino Ventura, tenor, well known in radio and recording circles, lately as soloist with the Stradivari Orchestra on CBS; Rand Smith, baritone, who toured the world for USO Camp shows in 1944-45 and who recently was soloist in "Zeigfield Follies" and "Stars On Ice"; and Paul Vellucci, pianist and arranger, who was director of the Hartford School of Music and who conducted the American premiere of Ernest Toch's opera, "The Princess on the Pea," on Broadway.

The Revelers have announced a concert program that "runs the gamut from Bach to Gershwin" and displays the versatility of the entire group.

Portrait Work For Reflector Begins Today

Editor Parrish Blitch, of the Reflector, Georgia Teachers College yearbook, announced last week that contracts have been let for publication and that the photographers would be on the campus today to begin taking pictures.

Contracts for printing were signed with Bowen, Long and Young, of Atlanta, and for photographs with Chidhoff Studio, New York, who have just completed work on the Pandora, yearbook of the University of Georgia, Blitch revealed.

Editor Blitch said that this year the Reflector would be of the size standard to all University yearbooks and assures the student body that they will be delivered on or before the first of June.

Dramatic Fraternity Pledging Ceremonies To Be Held Tonight

Pledging ceremonies for those students qualified for membership in Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity, will be held tonight at 7:30 in the college auditorium.

Miss Dorothy Stewart, director of the Masquers Club, announced recently that plans are being made to hold the normal initiation exercise in approximately two weeks.

Members of the dramatic club to be pledged at the meeting tonight include: Rosalyn Tillotson, Bobbye Quick, Jerry Conner, Peggy Thompson and Julie Turner.

Freshman Election To Be Held Friday

Freshmen class officers will be elected Friday, November 7, in the hall of the Administration Building during the chapel hour, Max Lockwood, president of the Student Council, announced last week.

Oral nominations were made after chapel last Friday and one week will be given the candidates before election for campaigning and soliciting the votes of their fellow class members, Lockwood said.

In addition to the regular class officers, two Student Council members will be elected from the freshman class, Lockwood stated. He urged every member of the class to cast his ballot in the coming election.

Girls' Athletic Group Elects New Officers

The Women's Athletic Association held its first meeting Monday, October 20, at 4:30 p. m. in the college auditorium to elect officers for the present year.

There were approximately 50 girls present and the following officers were elected: president, Joyce Calloway; vice president, Jo Ann Thompson; secretary and treasurer, Vahnal Harrison; intramural manager, Martha Tootle.

The girls were divided into five teams and the following group captains were elected: Pat Preetorius, Bobbie Quick, Bettye Lewis, Reba Barnes and Iris Lee.

Definite plans for the intramural program have not been worked out, but Miss Jackie Upshaw, physical education director, who presided, hinted that a variety of sports were expected to be offered and also pointed out that more girls are needed to put this program over.

Rehearsals Begin For 'Hay Fever' Cast Announced

The cast for "Hay Fever," a three-act comedy by Noel Coward, has been selected by Miss Dorothy Stewart, director of the Masquers Club, after a week of tryouts, recently completed.

Members of the cast include: Jo Ann Thompson as Sorel Bliss, 21-year-old daughter of Judith and David, at whose home the scene of the play is laid; Bill Sarratt as Simon Bliss, Sorel's brother, who draws cartoons; Lola Robbins as Clara, maid of unusual ability, who attends Judith and considers herself a member of the family; Julie Turner as Judith Bliss, an ex-actress who always has a "crush" on young men.

Ben Darsey will play the role of David Bliss, Judith's husband, and writer of sexy novels; Jimmy Gunter as Sandy Tyrell, a prizefighter, invited by Judith to the Bliss home for the week end; Rosalyn Tillotson as Myra Arundel, a young girl invited for the week end by Simon Bliss; Parrish Blitch as Richard Greatam, a diplomatist, week end guest of Sorel Bliss; and Wynelle Eason as Jackie Coryton, guest of David Bliss.

Several members of his cast have shown considerable acting ability in previous dramatic presentations on this campus, according to Miss Stewart. Rosalyn Tillotson, Julie Turner, and Parrish Blitch appeared last year in the Masquers winter production, "Night Must Fall," a dramatic three-act murder mystery; Ben Darsey appeared in the spring production, "Brighten the Corner," a comedy in three acts; and Jimmy Gunter appeared in James Hilton's "Lost Horizon," presented by the Masquers in 1943.

Rehearsals for "Hay Fever" began Monday night, October 27, in the college auditorium with Miss Stewart supervising.

Dedication of Organ To Feature Recital

The latest model Hammond electric organ, now in the Teachers College auditorium, will be formally dedicated to the Georgia Teachers College Monday, November 10, at 8:30 p. m.

The program, according to Mr. Broucek, assistant professor of music, will consist of a short formal dedication ceremony presided over by Dr. Ward, president of Georgia Teachers College, and an organ recital with Mr. Broucek at the organ assisted by Mr. Geiger, of the music department, at the piano, and the philharmonic choir, under the direction of Dr. Neil, head of the music department.

The organ now completed is the latest model Hammond electric two manual organ with a pedal keyboard. The organ was purchased by the college in November, 1945, but due to war conditions only the key console and one speaker were installed.

College Hour Program Plans Are Announced By Mr. Jack Broucek

The "Teachers College Hour," a program broadcast from the local radio station, featuring Georgia Teachers College, will be continued this year, Mr. Jack Broucek, chairman of the Radio Series Committee, reported today.

"The broadcasts will be better and somewhat different than last year," Mr. Broucek said. He also stated, "the programs will be presented every Wednesday evening from 7:15 until 7:45, beginning November 5.

This radio presentation was organized during the winter quarter of last year for the purpose of giving the college publicity. These programs were scheduled in such a way as to give all the departments an opportunity to participate.

The programs, planned differently this year, will include Faculty Roundtables or discussions; Student Roundtables; Music, students and faculty; Dramatics, one-act plays; and Interviews, including personalities presented in the Artist Series programs.

A format of the program, as outlined by Mr. Broucek, would open with the Teachers College Alma Mater, followed by a college fight song. A five-minute newscast of college activities will also be presented on each program, followed by the featured presentation. A preview of the following week's program will be presented at the close of the program.

The first broadcast will be a Faculty Roundtable. Dean Zach Henderson, Treasurer R. L. Winburn and Gilbert Cone, Mayor of Statesboro, will discuss the "Relationship of Georgia Teachers College to the Community," with Dr. Judson C. Ward acting as moderator. The discussions will center around the contributions made by the college to the community from a religious, business and cultural standpoint.

Ten Georgia Teachers College students have been named to be included in the 1947-48 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," Dean Zach Henderson announced today.

Students named for the high scholastic honor include Parrish Blitch, Lawanna Daves, Clifton Davis, Max Lockwood, Marvin Prosser, Myrtice Prosser, Eddie Rush, Jay Sarratt, Peggy Stanfield, and Leo Weeks.

The students were selected on the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society.

The final selections were made by a committee chosen from members of the faculty. Members of the senior class indicated their choice, and their opinions were taken into consideration by the committee. This is the first time this privilege has been extended to the students.

Membership in "Who's Who" is the appropriate climax of a student's career, summing up all the other honors, scholastic or social, that he has obtained. "Who's Who" serves as an incentive, means of compensation, standard of measurement, and recommendation of successful students.

"Who's Who Among American Universities and Colleges" publishes biographies and information on the outstanding students from more than 650 American colleges and universities. The publication, Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, and the organization of the same name furnish personnel managers of America's largest companies and organizations with information and advice in the recruiting of outstanding graduates for business and public positions.

Following is a list of those students in Who's Who and part of their accomplishments and activities.

Scholarship Aid To Be Awarded By Pepsi - Cola

Twenty-six new graduate fellowships, each of which will pay full tuition and $750 a year for three years, are being offered to college seniors this year for the first time by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board.

Like the four-year-old Pepsi-Cola four-year college scholarship program, winners of which are now attending 152 colleges, this new fellowship program has as its purpose the discovering of students of unusual ability and helping them to secure further education. Both programs are administered by an independent group of educators known as the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board and are offered as a service to American youth by the Pepsi-Cola Company upon the recommendation of its president, Walter S. Mack, Jr.

Any college student who will receive a bachelor's degree during the school year 1947-48 from a college or university in the United States may apply for one of the new fellowships, according to an announcement made by John M. Stalnaker, professor of psychology at Stanford University and director of the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship program. Winners will be selected on the basis of their promise of outstanding achievement in later life as evidenced by their record.

THE GEORGE-ANNE

Monday, November 3, 1947

Published Weekly from September until June, except during holidays, by students of Georgia Teachers College.
Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Collegeboro, Ga. under temporary permit.

R.S.V.P.

In our first issue we made the announcement that we were instituting a "Letters to the Editor" column. From the amount of controversy heard daily on the campus we believed that this would be the most popular single column in the paper. However, until now we have not received a single letter for publication. When you argue this or that thing should be done your argument is not effective until everybody on the campus has had the opportunity to express his opinion about it. The best way to attract everybody's attention to a certain problem is to publish it in the George-Anne.

We want to know what you are thinking, so again we solicit your opinions on all aspects of student life. It takes very little time or effort to write a short letter telling what you think about this or that question. Make your letters brief and to the point. Place them in the George-Anne box in the hall of the administration building or hand them to the editor.

We are especially interested in what you think about the advisability of having fraternities and sororities on GTC campus and any ideas you have about how they could function most effectively.

Please cooperate in making the letters column a success. Naturally, we can't have one unless you write the letters. It can be of great benefit to the student body and to the school. Remember, the people who formulate rules around here read the paper and this is your best opportunity to let them know what you think should be done about the activity program. This is the medium through which you can express your opinions.

You don't have to wait until you have a gripe to write. Several things have happened since school started that are worthy of praise from the students. You should certainly let it be known that you appreciate these things that are so important to you.

We would also appreciate any suggestion as to how we can make the George-Anne a better school paper.

Congratulations In Order

We wish to congratulate the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes or the dances they have sponsored this year. They were all highly successful and this time from the student's point of view. They are far superior to the dances held last year. What the reason is we don't know, but our opinion is that the new attitude prevailing on the campus in for the most responsible. Let that new spirit continue to grow.

Polish Your Soap Box

We urge every member of the freshman class to get out this week and campaign for his favorite candidate in the coming election. These class offices are of the utmost importance now that the student body is regaining its lost voice. It is an honor to serve as a representative of your class. To the voters, we ask that you choose your candidates with care because of the importance of this election. But the most important thing of all, every member of the class, cast a ballot. It is not only your privilege, it is your duty.

A Word To The Wise

The Little Store hour at night is being enjoyed by a large number of students. But you haven't been as careful as you should about cleaning up before you leave. The Student Council warned that if the store is to remain open it must also be left clean. Let's remember this and do a better job this week.

Another Improvement

We hope that every student on the campus attended the chapel program last Monday morning. If chapel programs of this type were the rule rather than the exception we believe that chapel attendance would cease to be a problem and then it would be possible to dispense with the unpopular five cut rule. The program was interesting and important to every student on the campus and when all chapel programs have these two features students will cease griping about having to attend. It is not impossible that programs in the future be as interesting as this one rather it seems to us that good ones would be more easily planned and executed than the type to which GTC students are accustomed. The students will cooperate as long as you give them something that isn't dull and trivial. We hope that all future programs are as good.

The Technique: Tips to Engineers. You'll never meet a man that isn't smarter than you in some respects. Why not admit it?

To succeed you must learn to get along with the man above, the man alongside, the man below, and yourself.

Both fairness and good business demand that you work always for the man who works for you.

Brilliance doesn't rate unless tied to common sense, character and dependability.

These points apply to just good living for everyone, don't you think?

The Piedmont Owl—Harold: Aren't you ready yet?

Patty: I wish you wouldn't nag at me so. I've been telling you for the past hour I'd be ready in a minute.

Why won't men listen?

The Red and Black: "I say, your game of football is so much more exciting than soccer—and crowds; really, they act like red Indians. But of the two I really think I like football much the better." Quoting the University's only Englishman, Reginald C. Mitchell. Is it possible for an Englishman to see the light?

The Campus Canopy: Your life is yours to live and account for. Gamble wisely!

According to Jimmy Walker, in the Red and Black, a young married couple in Massachusetts recently had the third set of twins born to them within a period of two years.

Russian critics of American production will probably blow their tops with envy.

Does Vishinsky have a better plan?

Campus Canopy: College Bred—a four year loaf made with dad's dough. For success watch the way you bake it!!

Headline—The Red and Black: Coon Visits Registrar; Astonishes Office Staff.

You can even take progressive education too far.

In spite of all the cracks pro and con about the longer skirt length, the situation does have a serious aspect.

For years woman has been trying to gain freedom of dress. She fought tooth and nail torrid herself of the hoopskirt, the bustle and other excess unmentionable articles of costume. Now when the point arrives at which the young lady of the day can dress to be comfortable and still appear pleasing to the masculine eye, up pops a few influential clothing designers, and bag goes the goal. Either the young lady of this age is foolish, or the clothing manufacturers have them by the ears.

With prices and the world situation what is, I hope the American girl feels proud of herself when she buys a new wardrobe, since the world in general is in need of all the available clothing material. People in other lands will go almost naked for the lack of fabrics, while some wear excess wool for fashion's sake.—The Coe College Cosmos, Cedar Rapids, Ia.)

Halloween made an early arrival in Lewis Hall—Miss Veazy heard eerie noises escaping from a vacant room overhead. Could there be bats in the belfry?

It seems that (Francis Craig Marsh is featuring a new song. It's called "Near Sue."

Bobo Bryan spends off hours tearing up the road 'twixt here and Macon. His true love, Lou Futrelle, is a student at Wesleyan.

The Hilda (de Milo)-Paul Geiger affair can be described more accurately as directly proportional to the product of their masses and inversely as the square of their distance apart.

When Hoke Smith gets sweet on someone he make both friend and her girl friend happy by sending candy. A hint from Ogden Nash:

"Candy is dandy,
"But liquor is quicker."

Seems that some of the Beau Brummels of Sanford Hall are doing the less academic of their college work on the steps of the library.

Of the group reported attending the Alabama-Georgia game in Athens in last week's George-Anne, I am happy to say that all save Mr. Walker returned in one piece.

"GUS, THE GREAT"

By Thomas W. Duncan

Readers who want a big, long book for their money will find it here. Readers, who want to know how gus was born, how Gus grew up, how Gus learned the newspaper game, chiseled his way into management of an amusement park, parlayed the park's only elephant into a circus, married the dumb daughter of a penny-pinching banker but never really loved any person other than himself, will find these matters, and others more german to circus life, here. Laid in the midwest at the turn of the century, the story moves forward or backward as there is some particular occurrence to explain. It will probably be a little strong for Junior or Aunt Hattie.

"THE PSYCHOLOGY OF RUMOR"

By

Gordon W. Allport, Leo Postman

How a rumor starts, spreads, and can be detected will be found in this enlightening investigation into hows and whys of rumor. Gnawing but unrecognized hatred motivates many rumors. Instead of candidly admitting intolerance of the rumor subject, i.e., the Jews, Negroes, etc., a rumor is seized on that will justify or explain to ourselves and other why we feel that way. How we turn and twist and rationalize! By such devious mental maneuvering, intolerance is employed as a device to escape an uneasy conscience. Thus rumor, no matter what about, is free to go its nefarious way.

We Want A 'B' Team !

There are many good basketball players this year at TC who will play no inter-collegiate basketball unless this college has a "B" squad.

Boys coming out of high school basketball into college basketball take a mighty big step, and few of them make the varsity squad during their first year. There, fore, it is almost a must that any college have a "B" squad.

Besides giving those boys, who otherwise would get no chance, an opportunity to play it also helps prepare a team for years to come. A "B" team is a source of preliminary games to the regular college team. The students of TC had much rather see these fellow classmates play these preliminaries than some high school.

Many boys come to small colleges so that they will get to take part in activities. If these boys are denied a chance to at least try, there must be a good reason.

Common Words Are Inadequate, Students Say

Those stock adjectives dear to the hearts of people who write college catalogues can be used to describe most of the TC plant. But students who are ever the most casual observers are aware that there are attractions on the TC campus that absolutely defy description. For instance, just exactly what color would you call the new dining trays?

That question was asked a number of students in an effort to discover a pertinent adjective. Most of them answered with a bleak silence or unintelligent pantomime. Most nearly satisfactory was Roz Tillotson, who tried to be helpful with the revelation that the trays were the color of butterscotch and liverwurst pudding, a dish concocted by Tillotson and claimed to be original with her. It probably is. The interminable step-climbing and roof-trotting necessary to gain entrance to the music rooms over Anderson Hall are definitely on the untoward side of convention, and such and architectural freak cries to have a word coined for it. Exhausted music students are in no mind to coin words, however. Mary Ida Carpenter is almost helpful when she says, "It's such a complicated route that getting there is kind of like a descending escalator walking sideways. But I don't suppose there's a word for that, is there? If there is Miss Carpenter, along with the rest of us, would like to know what it is.

And then, there's that mirror in the speech room—and a few more spots and it will have to be labeled to be taken for a mirror. It is, to Daniel Spell, clabbered. A good word. And one you won't find in a college catalogue.

Perhaps the most nondescript monstrosity on the campus is the fountain, or love seat, or monumental bird bath, or whatever it is, to the east of the gymnasium. That inglorious stack of rocks tests the virility of our strongest

People Go Places...

Last week end Mrs. J. B. Johnson, Sr., Miss Margaret Strahlman and Miss Leila Stevens reported a delightful week end, spent at the General Oglethorpe Hotel on Wilmington Island.

Emory Wheeler attended the Georgia-Clemson game in Athens over the week end.

Margaret Lockhart, a former student, was a visitor on the campus during the week end.

Iris Smith and Isabel Murphy, of Swainsboro, visited Ramona Morris Tuesday afternoon.

On November 1 and 2 Mary Frances Geiger, Doris Tillman and Miss Margaret Strahlman attended the State Work Shop in Home Economics held at Pine Mountain, Ga. (Franklin Roosevelt's state park.)

"Rhed" Prosser had as his Wednesday dinner guest Evelyn Arnold.

Betty Hinely spent the week end in Atlanta and attended the Tech-Duke game.

Dot Downs had as her guest at her home in Claxton over the week end Lila Brady and Dot Forbes. A delightful Saturday evening was spent in Savannah.

Eugenia Wimberly was the guest of Joyce Calloway over the week end in Collins.

Marie Pitts, while spending the week end at her home in Adrian, served at a tea honoring Dr. and Mrs. John R. Roger, Jr., of Milledgeville.

descriptives, but to Lee Watson, who recently sat in the water basin part of it, go the honors for a whole dictionary of quite pertinent and unprintable adjectives.

There are any number of other parts of the TC plant on which students can test their descriptive powers. Stress is put on the physical plant due to the fact that upon being asked to suggest nondescript campus attractions, most of the students started rattling off names of fellow students. In the interest of the general peace their comments are omitted here, but irresistible is the word-searching freshman who refers to the faces of his roommates as "unfortunate."

Class In Flying Now Possible

Classes in instrument flying, with the aid of a Link trainer, now have a possibility of being offered by Georgia Teachers College, Dr. Hostetler, head of the Industrial Arts Department, revealed today.

Dr. Hostetler said that the inauguration of these classes are dependent upon interest shown by the students in flight training and the availability of a suitable place in which to set up the trainer.

He stated that these classes will have a competent instructor who taught the use of the Link trainer to air force cadets during World War II.

It was clearly stated that nothing about the classes is definite as yet, and that when they do start they will, most likely, be given at night.

The Link trainer, valued at $10,000, was given to GTC last summer by the War Assets Administration in the event the college wished to start courses in flight training.

The Link Trainer is a device used to teach blind flying on the ground. It was used extensively by our air force during the last war.

SOPHOMORE CLASS SPONSORS HALLOWEEN DANCE SATURDAY

A Halloween party, complete with everything from balloons and cornstalks to jack-o'-lanterns and pumpkins, was the featured social sponsored Saturday night in the college by the Sophomore class.

Even the refreshments reflected the spirit of the occasion, with pimiento-cheese sandwiches, red and black cakes, and coca-cola served from attractively-decorated tables. Breaking the tradition at the Saturday dances of not serving until intermission, the Sophomores served all during the evening.

In viewing the contemporary scene it is often beneficial to delve into the past in order to see what precedent we have to follow. Since this is a sports column, we will consider the past records set up here at T. C. in the athletic field. Most of these records are taken from the period of '32-'41, which saw the height of our sports program.

Football, once the major sport here at school, but now obsolete, did not have too fine a record as a whole. The team of 1932 won the conference championship and '33 and '34 were creditable season, but after this the decline began and never stopped until the demise of the team in 1941. The percentage of our football teams from 1932 was approximately .400.

Basketball, one of our two present inter-collegiate sports, has enjoyed a commendable history. The high was probably reached in '34 when we had a record of 15 wins and only one loss, which included a triumph over our paternal organization, the University of Georgia. Last year's crew won 8 while losing 12, but only two teams defeated us in both engagements. The basketball percentage since 1932 is near .800.

Baseball, the other member of our current inter-collegiate sports program, has not been on the agenda for many years. The '32 and '33 teams held good records but after '34 there wasn't a school-supported team until last year's edition, which lost only three games in very fast competition.

A boxing team was organized here in February of 1934 under the tutelage of Mr. Fielding Russell, who is at present a faculty member. With matches against such crews as G. M. C., University of Georgia, and the Irish League of Savannah, the team continued under Mr. Russell until he left for further education in 1937.

Tennis, one of the easier sports to have because of the small equipment cost to the school, was organized in 1934 with Mr. William S. Hanner as mentor. The net game continued as an inter-collegiate sport until 1939. During this time we engaged many other colleges with some show of success.

In addition to the above mentioned activities, there were also gold and track. A golf course with a par of 32 was constructed (on the right side of the road coming onto the college grounds) in 1934. A few meets were held with outside teams in '34 and '35. Track seems to have had a record of mediocrity during its existence here in spite of the fact that there were two good coaches (Wrinkle and Wescott) leading them.

After an examination of our past records one might be led to the conclusion that we are not now coming up to par, with only two inter-collegiate sports and with more students on had they have never had to work with in the past. It must be remembered, however, that all of those activities did not enjoy a good record during their life span. The question is whether it would be to our interest to increase the range of our sports program or to concentrate on only two activities and make them outstanding. There has been some agitation among the students for the formation of a boxing, football, and track team.

A training table has been set up for the basketball team in the dining hall, where they will be served dinner and supper. Basketball is a game which requires the utmost in conditioning and is the hardest physically on the men who play it; therefore, it is necessary that they receive the proper amount of calories to keep them going.

denced by their undergraduate records and recommendations as to character, personality, and qualities of leadership, the announcement states, and the fellowships will be limited to those students who have financial need.

The fellowships may be used at any accredited graduate or professional school in the United States or Canada and in any field of study which will lead to an M. A., Ph. D., M. D. or other advanced professional degree. Fellowship holders must enter graduate schools no later than the fall of 1948 and they must pursue a continuous and normal program of work.

Six winners will be chosen by selection committees of professors from each of four geographic regions, and two Negro winners will be selected from graduates of Negro colleges in the United States. Negro seniors in other colleges will be eligible for six fellowships to be awarded in that particular region.

Seniors who wish to apply for one of these fellowships may obtain application forms from the dean of their individual colleges or by writing to the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 532 Emerson Street, Palo Alto, California. Completed applications with official transcripts of credits and other required information must be received by the Board not later than January 1, 1948. Winners will be announced March 15.

Last August the organ was completed with two big speaker cabinets installed in special chambers over the side entrance, a small speaker in the balcony to be used as an echo, and a set of tubular chimes.

The organ now has four times as much volume as it formerly had, and is in excellent condition for a recital, Mr. Broucek announced.

Students Display Improved Spirits At Intramurals

The intra-mural football games got off to a good start Tuesday with six teams participating. Coach Searce stated that interest and spirit were good and much better than that shown in the softball program.

Victory was sweet for the "Tigers," "Hoboes," and "Bulldozers," while the "Polecast," "Woodpeckers" and "Savages" will be seeking revenge for their smarting defeats.

Bagley and Collins, with their passing attack, combined to defeat a combination of Wireman and Mincey by the score of 26 to 12 in spite of the fact that the "Polecasts" led at the end of the first quarter.

White and Daniel led the "Hoboes" to four touchdowns with their hard and accurate passing, and the "Woodpeckers" were able to garner only 2 points on a touchback.

Millican, Godbee and Bowen led a passing and running attack that netted an 18 to 2 victory and left the weaker, but potentially strong, "Savages" in a confused muddle.
