Sign Up for a Library Workshop

September 4, 2008

You are invited to attend a Fall workshop offered by Henderson Library Information Services Department. Workshops are open to all students, staff and faculty. It’s a great opportunity to improve your computer and research skills, and learn about new library databases accessible through GALILEO. Please distribute within your departments and to your students.

If you’d like to take a library workshop, see the calendar or descriptions for information on a workshop you would like to attend. To review workshop descriptions and the Fall 2008 schedule, click https://library.georgiasouthern.edu/workshops.html

To register online, click https://library.georgiasouthern.edu/forms/workshop_registration.html

If you do not see the workshop listed on the calendar, use the registration form and enter a preferred time and date. Upon request, other dates and times can be scheduled.

Posted in Archive, Uncategorized

Tags: information literacy, instruction, workshops