Beauties Sought For the Maid Of Cotton Contest

The 1952 Maid of Cotton Contest is open, the National Cotton Council has announced. In all probability, the girl who will become King Cotton's fashion and good will ambassador on an exciting six-month tour will be a college student, if the 1952 contest runs true to form.

The contest is open to all girls between the ages of 19-25, inclusive, who were born in a cotton state and have never been married. To be eligible, girls must be at least five feet five inches tall.

Application forms are available from the National Cotton Council, P. O. Box 18, Memphis, Tenn. The forms may be completed and returned to contest headquarters along with a head-and-shoulders photograph and a full-length photograph. All entries must be post-marked before midnight, December 1.

Girls will be judged on the basis of beauty, background, and personality. The winner will be presented with a glamorous, all-cotton wardrobe, made by 30 of the nation's leading designers. She will be trained in New York and will appear on television and radio.

She will then leave for an action-packed tour which will carry her across the United States and to France, Cuba, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Brazil, and other foreign countries.

If any TC coeds are interested in further information pertaining to this contest, see the editor of The George-Anne.

R. W. Mills Named Soph President

A saxophonist and high school graduate of Georgia Military College, he will have as fellow class officers Hugh G. Wells, of Guyton, vice president; Miss Bettye Hendrix, of Metter, secretary; and Miss Janice Chastain, of Albany, treasurer.

The College Grill Improves Facilities

The College Grill of yesterday is gone. Today, a new College Grill stands in its place. A quiet, attractive place, where good meals and a pleasant atmosphere prevail.

We can recall when it was an all-night truck stop, where many would go the night before finals to drink coffee and study. Then it was operated by J. B. Iler. When the Grill changed into the hands of Granger and Johnnie two years ago, it closed at 1 p. m. That was the start of the change. The policy of catering to truckers was changed to serving the college. That is their policy now, and how well they have served the students is a known fact today.

We are now served in a room with big plate-glass windows hardly resembling the crowded sham-

Dr. Ashmore Loses Name

Now the Georgia Teachers College professor reports difficulty in becoming established by his first name.

According to Dr. Ashmore, his mother, who lives in Crawfordville, Fla., was asked recently by a stranger whether she was related to a Dr. Henry Ashmore. She failed to recognize the first name and denied kinship until she had run over the names of her 15 children.

GEORGIA THEATRE—

"SOLDIERS THREE"—Sunday and Monday—From the pen of Rudyard Kipling comes this rollicking, rip-roaring adventure-comedy of three soldiers in the service of 'Er Majesty the Queen in India—the three soldiers they called "The Queen's Hard Bargain," who fought and cheated each other tooth and nail—but let any outsider try to start something, and he had the three to fight! Stewart ("King Solomon's Mines") Granger, Walter Pidgeon, David Niven and Robert ("Treasure Island) Newton are the stars, and it introduces the beautiful international star, Greta Gynt, in her first American picture.

"THE FROGMEN"—Tues.-Wed.—For the first time, the story of Navy underwater demolition teams of the Second World War hits the screen, starring Richard Widmark, Dana Andrews and Gay Merrill. The paddle-footed commandos they called Frogmen spearheaded every Allied invasion from Sicily to Okinawa, swimming underwater to plant their murderous explosives. Most of the action takes place underwater.

"THE PEOPLE AGAINST OHARA"—Thurs day and Friday—Spencer Tracy stars as an attorney who returns from civil practice to criminal law to defend a young man named O'Hara whom he believes to be innocent of the murder of his boss. But the attorney finds that the suspenseful trial is going against him and O'Hara, and he turns to bribery, which is against his own strict code of integrity in an attempt to save the innocent O'Hara. But, when this fails, Tracy sets out to find the real killer himself, to recompense for his mistake. Pat

Off-Campus Teaching Is Expanded By 6 Schools

Student teaching at Georgia Teachers College is becoming individualized and more expansive with provision for a separate supervisory instructor for each teacher intern and in addition of Statesboro as a sixth off-campus practice school.

Thirty-one seniors will assume fall school assignments under the plan after joining here next Saturday in a conference with all local and off-campus teaching supervisors. This number makes the off-campus project one of the biggest the college has ever seen.

On Thursday morning the students attended a panel discussion in which business and professional leaders presented the subject, "What I Expect of a Teacher." Morris A. King, principal of the College Laboratory School, led the discussion.

Off Campus . . .

The following student teachers will teach off-campus in Sylvania: John Clifton Key, of Parrish, Ala., will teach Social Science with Miss Lillian Eason; Henry Sherrer, of Fitzgerald, Ga., will teach Industrial Arts with Mr. Fred Kennedy Jr.; Doris Maxine Townsend, of Kite, Ga., will teach Business Education with Mrs. Fred Oliver; and Emily Adamson, of Morrow, Ga., will teach English with Mrs. Hunter.

In Claxton the student teachers will be Mitchell B. Owens, of Collins, Ga., who will teach Social Science with Miss Lucile Hodges, and Lois Griner, of Lyons, Ga., who will teach Business Education with Mrs. Merrill Perkins.

Student teachers in Vidalia will be: Don Johnston, of Statesboro, will teach English with Mrs. Hazel Springer; Lewis K. Wynne Jr., of Sandersville, Ga., will teach Social Science and Math with Mrs. Ruth Bond; and Clifford V. Friday, of Tampa, Fla., will teach Social Science with Mrs. F. K. Messink.

In Baxley the student teachers are: Oldin V. Lewis, of Glennville, Ga., will teach Business Education with Mrs. Inez Scott; James E. Knight, of Thomaston, Ga., will teach English with Mrs. Johnnie Wolfe; and Robert N. Hadaway, of Atlanta, Ga., will teach Industrial Arts and Physical Education with Mr. W. H. Thomas.

Student teachers assigned to Statesboro are: James R. Duncan, of Worley, Ky., who will teach Business Education with Mrs. Wendzel; James Ellis, of Savannah, Ga., will teach Science with Mr. Don Coleman; and Ben L. Brinson, of Summit, Ga., will teach Industrial Arts with Miss Martha Tootle.

On Campus . . .

The secondary student teachers remaining on the campus are: Frank Clements, of Eastman, Ga., who will teach Physical Education with Mr. Stopp; John Renfro, of Williamsburg, Ky., who will teach Physical Education with Mr. Stopp; Harry Strickland, of Statesboro, who will teach Physical Education with Mr. Stopp; Betty Ann O'Brien is the cop who arrests O'Hara, Diana Lynn is Tracy's daughter, John Hodiak is the District Attorney, and gigantic James Arness, who played "The Thing," is O'Hara. This is an absorbing crime drama, and fans of Tracy will see him in one of his most terrific roles.

Fourth Estate Speaks

It has always been the right of any newspaper to bring to the attention of its readers the truth concerning any event or action that directly or indirectly concerns them.

With that thought in mind, we of THE GEORGE-ANNE wish to present the truth behind a recent statement which suggested that THE GEORGE-ANNE took credit for certain administrative policy changes. In truth, no credit was claimed. Credit was rightfully given to a force that history has shown to be powerful. That force is PUBLIC OPINION.

We do claim to be the honest voice of the students, the instrument for the expression of public opinion. That is all we claim.

We are reprinting that portion of the article in question. Please read it and see if any organization claims credit.

"Public opinion is a powerful force, and every voice helps. It has definitely brought about changes at TC in the past two years—such as one chapel period a week, extended dating privileges, and better dining hall facilities. We are running this column as just another organ of democracy at TC."

GTC Lab School Will Get Band

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY MORE THAN NAMES

Friday and Saturday are names of more than days of the week at Georgia Teachers College.

The student body includes Cliff V. Friday, former Marine of Tampa, Fla., and Miss Peggy Saturday of Collins.

Withrow, of Albany, Ga., who will teach English with Miss Kessler; Donald Reinsmith, of Decatur, Ga., who will teach Industrial Arts with Mr. Pelts; Charles Morgan, of Macon, who will teach Social Studies with Miss Crouch; Gus Groover, of Newman, who will teach Social Studies with Mr. Wheeler; Alan Sanders, of Swainsboro, who will teach Social Studies with Miss Dahoney; Madlyn Meeks of Soperton, who will teach Business Education with Mrs. Augley; and Jeanette Wilder, of Vidalia, who will teach Home Economics with Mrs. Newton.

Student teachers on the elementary level will all remain on campus. They are: Edith Chalker, of Warrenton, who will teach with Miss Constance Cone; Elizabeth Ruth Dobbs, of Covington, who will teach with Miss Leona Newton; Hazel Jarriel, of Register, who will teach with Miss Marie Wood; Jack Wade, of Charleston, who will teach with Miss Marie Wood; and Barbara Claire Warnock, of Tarrytown, Ga., who will teach with Miss Cleo Edenfield.

Basketball Starts

Coach J. B. Searce announced this week that basketball practice will begin Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in the gym. All boys interested are invited to turn out for the practice.

Sophomore: Did you take a shower?

This year, for the first time since 1941, a band has been organized for the Laboratory High School. Richard (Sonny) Hawkins is in complete charge of the new band.

Instruments have been donated by the college, and, although there were more interested students than instruments, it is hoped that additional instruments will be secured.

Hawkins stated that the Laboratory High band will appear in concert during the spring quarter.

Stars to Visit Town On October 12

The thriving metropolis of Statesboro will play host to many celebrities Friday morning, October -2.

During the week of October 7, small towns all over Georgia will get to see real-life movie stars, producers, and directors.

The group will include Joan Bennett and her producer-husband, Walter Wanger; James Craig, handsome young M-G-M leading man (hold your hearts, girls); Lamar Trotti, Georgia-born producer, who has been responsible for some of 20th Century-Fox's biggest and most successful pictures; Robert Parrish, RKO-Radio's Academy Award-winning director, and others to be announced.

A platform will be erected on the courthouse square for the half-hour program. The Statesboro High School Band will play a selection and Mayor Cone will welcome the guests.

Campus Democracy

By ROBERT HURST

FROM YOUR high school days you have probably heard of Sigma Chi, Sigma Nu or some other fraternity or sorority that boasts of fame far and wide. And when you came to TC you probably wondered why there were not any such organizations greeting you when you came in. Well, perhaps the reason can be found in these next few paragraphs.

Georgia Teachers College is a small senior college, and, if the war situation continues, it will become still smaller. Therefore, with the smallness of the college in mind, TC can't afford to be divided into classes of people who seem to think social importance is the most necessary function of college life. Social importance at TC is very minor and no one thinks he or she is better. "Snobbism" is definitely taboo at TC.

In the last issue of The George-Anne, George Parrish said, and I quote, "TC is a democracy." This is the truth—TC is a school where Mary Smith can be in the same club that Gloria Van Moneybags is in, and no one can say who is better.

There is an old American custom that can be applied to Georgia Teachers College, and that is the custom of "pulling together." With everyone working and pulling together, how can we help but have a better school, better community—even a better America.

The Use of Time

THIS MORNING a mocking bird was singing in a cool wind, and early shadows fell in streaks across the newly-cut grass. The leaves from the pecan trees rolled with little rattling sounds over the pavement. The air was cool, not cold—just enough to make your blood tingle. Those were some of the reason I looked at my books and back at the campus with a sigh. It wasn't a day for study, but a day for adventure.

After a little, I glanced at the people passing me. They were walking rapidly to and fro, with never a glance at the sparkling drops of dew underfoot. Not one glanced up to see or hear the little gray singer perched overhead. None of the exhilaration I was having to stifle was evident in a single face. I wondered—why?

Why do so few of us see what beauty the ordinary has? Why doesn't a shy flower nodding by the walk thrill us the way a gorgeous American Beauty rose does? Why do we always look for the exciting and the glamorous away beyond our range, when all the glamour and excitement any heart could wish is there beside us?

I'm afraid too many of us are blind, spiritually blind. "I haven't time," I heard you complain, but at that moment the last bell was ringing, and I had to hurry away to classes with the wind tugging at my skirt and begging me to come and play. It isn't time that you lack, friend. It's the use of time.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to take this means of saying that I agree with President Henderson wholeheartedly in regards to the external turnover of instructors here at TC.

We, the students, are the ones who suffer most from this condition. We realize that the school does not have the funds available with which to increase instructors' pay to the point where they can be retained.

Taking the liberty of speaking for the entire student body, we want to go on record as demanding, not requesting, a state appropriation large enough to obtain and hold any instructor the administration may hire. We are the ones who are being taught. Surely, our needs should be the prime concern.

Again I say, we're behind you, President Henderson, one hundred percent in your fight to get and keep the best instructors for the teachers of growing generations.

Freshman Beware

FRESHMEN! Have you been wearing your rat cap? Have you been honoring your upperclassmen- If not, the day of reckoning is coming. All Freshmen, remember...

Dear Editor:

An optimist has a face full of sunshine. He beams on you and says, "It can be done"—and then lets Sam do it.

I trust you will continue to be a "pep-ti-mist."

Respectfully,

A HAPPY SUBSCRIBER.

Sunrise Sentiment

Well, it's 12:30 a. m., October 4, and a precious few (two, to be exact) members of The George-Anne staff are remaining here in the office trying to think of something—anything—to insert in this issue of the TC weekly newspaper which will be of general student interest.

The point is—there's a deadline

"SOME NIGHT"

(By Jim Hodges)

Some night when we're alone, my dear...

I want to let you know...

Just how my love for you has grown...

And why I let it grow...

And why I've chosen you to be...

The idol of my heart...

And why the clouds elect to stay...

So grey when we're apart...

I want to tell you how I know...

My love will always last...

And be for you alone sweetheart...

When other things have passed.

These things my dear and millions more...

Are dreams of you I've known...

And they will claim their rightful place...

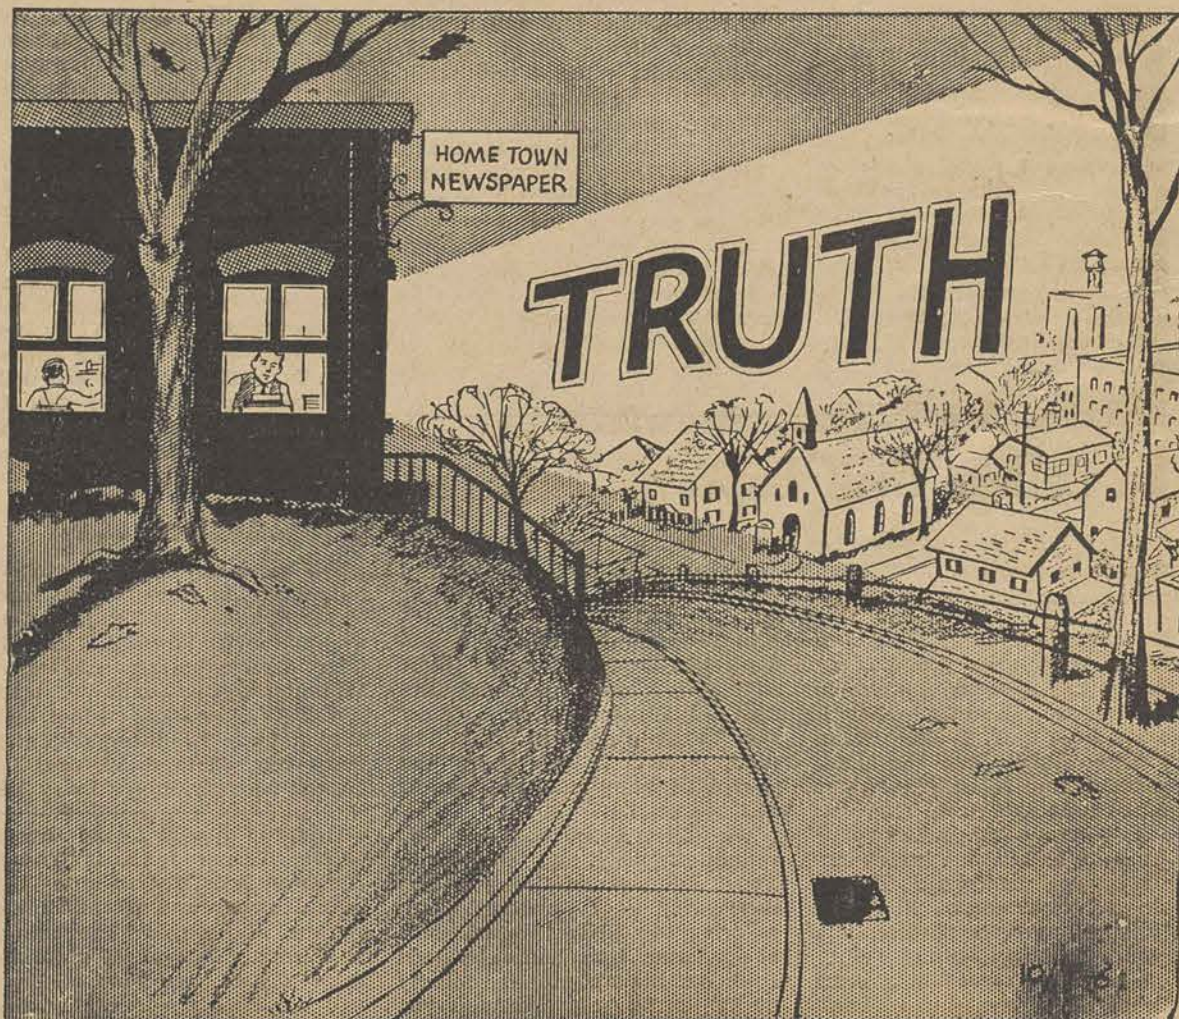

Some night when we're alone.

In essence, we would like any information, of interest to any groups, to be turned in to the publicity office or The George-Anne office before Wednesday at 4 p. m. each week.

Fall Baseball Will End Next Week, Outlook Good

Fall baseball will end Wednesday of next week with the final contest of a three game series composed of teams within the squad.

Coach J. I. Clements disclosed that 25 men reported for baseball practice and a good team is expected this year. If the boys this year show as much hustle as last year's nine, we will not only have a good team, but a winning one.

The intra-squad game last Wednesday night proved to be a preview of the 1952 season. It was an exhibition of good baseball. One of the outstanding plays of the game was a squeeze play made by "Little Ed" Mitchell, scoring Sonny Clements for an important run.

Some of the pitchers who saw action were in fine form. They were Milton Gunter, former North Georgia star, Charles Bostwell, Middle Georgia transfer; Fred Weitman, and Dick Whaley.

Final score of the tilt was 5-3, with the Whites triumphant.

PEMM Club Has First Meeting

The PEMM Club had its first meeting Monday afternoon. Many of the girls who are majoring or minoring in physical education were present, but there are still a few girls who should join in the planned activities.

Plans for this year were discussed and agreed upon. The programs will include discussions on sports, refereeing, instruction, and participation in many activities.

Plans will be made for a group to attend the convention to be held in Atlanta.

Rat Day's Coming

Climaxing the wearing of rat caps will be the annual "Rat Day" and "tug-o-war" sponsored by the sophomore class.

Two teams, consisting of twenty-five men, will compete in the tug-o-war contest. The team winning two out of three pulls will be proclaimed the winner and will be awarded the traditional trophy. According to custom, if the freshman class is the victor, the freshmen will remove their caps together.

In 1949, the trophy was won by the freshman class. In 1950, the sophomore class won it. This year's contest will decide which of the two is superior.

Frosh Scores Out

The rating of the freshman class of GTC on the placement tests has been compiled. Sixty-nine students stood the psychological test and 66 the English test.

Those placing on the psychological test are: Cherrell Williams, 1st; Marilou Hurt, 2nd; Rose Mary Ammons, 3rd; Vivien Cowart, 4th; Alice Willingham, 5th; Hara Archie Toler, 6th; Faye Henry, 7th; Angene Culbreth, 8th; Robert Wright, 9th; Sue Miller, 10th; Shirley Lagerblad, 11th; Mary Joe Jackson, 12th; and Sara Gay, 13th.

The highest scores on the English test were made by Marilou Hurt, Faye Henry, Vivien Cowart, Robert Wright, Alice Willingham, Mary Joe Jackson, Cherrell Williams, Rose Mary Ammons, Angene Culbreth, and Sara Gay.

Our congratulations to these students.

Two girls have something in common in West Hall. They are Molly Potts and Margaret Chambers.

Question on a recent examination paper: If the President of the United States died, who would get the job?

Freshman's Answer: A Democratic undertaker.

By LIZ, FAYE and BETTY B.

Janice Chastain, Ann Jean Culbreth, and Cherrell Williams were well escorted to the little store the other night. How do you do it, girls?

What trouble those Ford twins do cause! You hear people saying as they try to distinguish them: "Doris has the freckle on her nose ... No, it's Dorothy!" It makes one begin to wonder if he's seeing double.

East Hall will have a new addition next week. Marilyn Nevils is moving on campus.

Would someone please ask Ann-bell Leverenz what in the world Mike Genevrino was trying to prove to her on campus the other afternoon? It resembled a lesson in "muscleology"!

Hats off to the "T" Club for sponsoring such a mighty fine dance last Saturday night. Let's hope all the other ones will be as big a success as their's.

Sara Ann Denham's new love for domestic animals is sorta sudden! What could the reason be?

That added glow to Rudy Mills can be blamed on the fact that he's the new president of the sophomore class. Congratulations, Rudy! Oh, and we mustn't forget—Hugh Wells is vice president; Betty Hendrix, secretary; and Janice Chastain, treasurer. Fine bunch, huh?

Mynette May had a call from Scotty the other night. Bet they didn't talk about baseball, either!

Bob Taylor, what's this that Miss Stewart has been telling you in her speech class? Something about your resembling someone?

Wonder if George Parrish has painted the sign for Dr. Little's "chicken house" yet?

Gene Harper has surely gotten a certain young lady very interested in football referees—namely, himself!

All in the 1:00 o'clock physical ed. class holds their breath for fear that Bobbie Steedley won't make it. Always late!

Mary Jo Jackson was most attractive with that pot hanging around her neck, and that mop looked good in Sara Fletcher's hands. In case they looked funny, they're being initiated into the Home Ec Club.

Hugh Pharis, are you sure you can trust Morris Davis? You must, since he was marking your ballot for your choice in the sophomore election.

Ann Eubanks seemed thrilled that she can now go to the College Grill without bringing back the scent of French fries. The Grill not only looks better, but it surely smells better!

East Hall's "Mrs. J." was about the most popular gal at the dance Saturday night. Why, she just had all the boys dancing with her!

Music and Song In Chapel Monday

Next Monday morning in chapel the music department will present a special program, featuring several soloists.

First on the program will be a voice selection, "Come Ye Blessed," by Ann Trice, soprano, followed by Gene Roberts, tenor, singing "Prayer Perfect."

Instrumental numbers will be presented by Hugh Pharis, pianist, who will play "Traumerei"; Georgia Harper, violinist, will play "Czardas", and Johnny DeNitto, pianist, will play "Malaguena."

"Kiss in the Dark" will be sung by Betty Hart, soprano, and the program will also include a brass quartet.

Sanford Hall should be shining clean now, since the "Rats" over there have so willingly decided to take up housekeeping.

Visual Aid Facts

With the State of Georgia now leading the nation in visual education, students and faculty at TC will be using to a greater extent the film library located here on the campus. The film library, which is located in the basement of the library and managed by Mr. Emory Maddox, is one of Georgia's four state supported circulating film libraries.

Organized in December, 1949, the library was the second of its kind in Georgia, the first being the one in Atlanta. The library on the campus serves thirty counties and one hundred and sixty schools.

During the past year, it shipped 16,000 films and had a total of 2,000 pick-ups, which are films borrowed directly from the office. The staff of this film library includes Mrs. J. I. Clements, who serves as secretary; Charles Jackson, book-er; Jerome Lee and Johnny Patterson, shipping clerks; and Mrs. Martha Keeney, film inspector.

Methodists Hold Rally Day Sunday

The Methodists of Statesboro will observe Rally Day at the church and Sunday School Sunday, October 7.

The feature of this rally will be the assembly in the main auditorium of the church at 10:15 a. m., with all the adults participating to hear Dr. Marvin E. Pittman teach the combined classes. The choir will be made up of college students who will sing special songs.

Rev. John Lough, pastor of the church, urges all to plan to attend the rally. "Bring your friends. We expect this to be the best day in the history of our Sunday School," he said.

World-wide Communion Sunday will be observed at the morning worship hour at 11:30. The Lord's Supper will be administered at this service.

The Youth Fellowship will meet at 6:30 p. m. The Wesley Foundation Forum Hour will be at 6:30 p. m. Evening worship is at 7:40 p. m., when the pastor will preach on "Christianity in Action."

The Wesley Foundation Fellowship Hour will follow the evening service.

Legion Installs New Commander

More than 100 members of the Dexter Allen Post No. 90 of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, attended the installation of officers in the new Legion Home on U. S. 301 on Tuesday night of this week.

A. S. Dodd Jr. was installed as commander of the Legion and Mrs. A. S. Dodd Jr. was installed president of the Legion Auxiliary. Guy O. Stone of Glenwood, national executive committeeman and past state commander and Mrs. Stone were the installing officers.

Other visitors included J. B. Warren of Monticello, vice commander of the Department of Georgia; Dale Thompson, judge advocate, of Macon, and Frank Hendrix, past district commander, of Pembroke.

Commander Dodd announced that a date for the "open house" when the public will be invited to visit the new home will be set later.

The Thermometer Last Week Said

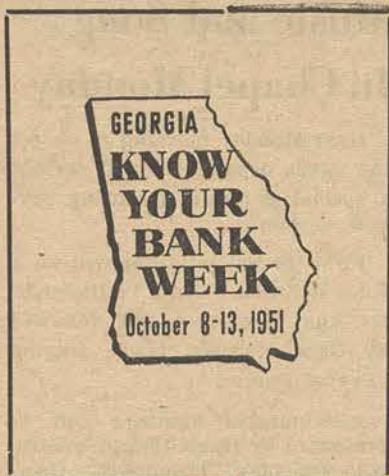

The thermometer hit 90 degrees only one day last week — on Monday, September 24. The low for the week was 60. The day-by-day recording is:

	High	Low
Monday, Sept. 24	90	67
Tuesday, Sept. 25	86	71
Wednesday, Sept. 26	86	70
Thursday, Sept. 27	88	68
Friday, Sept. 28	85	69
Saturday, Sept. 29	80	62
Sunday, Sept. 30	82	60

Rainfall for the week was 5.21 inches. The normal rainfall for September is 4.63 inches.

Statesboro Banks Hold Open House

Beginning on Monday of next week, the local banks will join the nation's 15,000 chartered banks in observing "Know Your Bank Week." In Georgia the week is sponsored by the Georgia Bankers Association.

The Bulloch County Bank and Sea Island Bank will hold open house at each of their places on Wednesday afternoon, October 10, from 4 to 6 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Mr. W. G. Cobb, executive vice president of the Bulloch County Bank, and Kermit R. Carr, cashier of the Sea Island Bank, say that during this week they want their customers to know their banks better.

The two Statesboro bankers say: "We realize what a tremendous responsibility the banks have in helping America to be productive, strong and free. We know that in order to keep America that way the banks must be honest, and careful, and wise. They must be enterprising, and must be ready at all times to serve the financial and banking needs of the people."

Mayor J. Gilbert Cone has issued a proclamation proclaiming the week in Statesboro and Bulloch county.

Marine Sgt. Bonds Here On Mondays

Master Sergeant Lynn W. Bonds, recruiting sergeant for the U. S. Marine Corps, will be at the Statesboro post office each Monday at 11 a. m., through the month of October to talk to anyone who is interested in an enlistment in the "Leathernecks."

Young ladies, as well as young men, may now join for the new, shorter, 3-year enlistment. New enlistment requirements, in general, are no so strict.

For further details, see Sergeant Bonds at the Statesboro post office next Monday or write the Marine Corps Recruiting Station, Post Office Building, Savannah, Ga.

BULLOCH COUNTY P. T. A. TO MEET AT STILSON OCT. 13

The Bulloch County P. T. A. Council will meet at the Stilson High School on Saturday, October 13. Mrs. H. M.
