Nine Seniors Are Named to 'Who's Who'

Frosh Nominate Officers

The freshmen nominated class officers at their first meeting on Wednesday, October 31.

The nominations were as follows: For president Joe Sullivan, Don King, and Phil Norton; for vice president, Ferrel Sparks, Bobby Wright, and Mary Jo Jackson; for secretary, Marilou Hurt, Marzee Richards, and Rosemary Ammons; and for treasurer, Betty Myers, Carl Tyson, Faye Henry, and Jean Cannon.

Nominations were also made for Freshman representatives to the Student Council. For the men, Christy Trowell, Lester Davis, Floyd Simons, and Bob Bond were nominated; for the women, Betty Rose Hatcher, Grace Young, Shirley Hanson, and Angene Culbreth.

The first primary will take place on Monday, November 4.

Conrad Thibault In First Concert

The first concert for the 1951-52 season of the Statesboro Community Concert Association will be given by Conrad Thibault, famous American baritone of radio, stage, and television. The program will be presented Friday evening, November 9, at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium of the college.

The Statesboro Community Concert Association is composed of adult members from Statesboro and surrounding communities and students of Teachers College. T.C. students need only present their I.D. cards at the door to gain admission. There will be three concerts during the current school year.

Mr. Thibault possesses youth, good looks, a naturally beautiful voice, and a magnetic personality. He loves to sing for people and they enjoy hearing him sing. Season after season, he has appeared throughout the nation in small towns and large cities, and when television came it was quick to recognize him as a "natural" for that medium. Besides starring on several TV shows, he is currently appearing on his own, "Music Room." As far as radio is concerned, he has been heard on the Lucky Strike Show, the Coca-Cola hour, the American Melody Hour, Carnegie Hall, and many others. Although of French ancestry, he is American-born and American-trained.

A large audience is expected for this first concert of the season.

stormy affair with the sultry singer, Jane Russell, who proves she can sing, too. Vincent Price adds comedy to drama, as an Errol Flynn-type movie hero with a big-game-hunter complex who helps Mitchum out at the climax. Tim Holt hangs up his boots and saddle to play a slick detective who as a playboy. Russell has visited the resort to be near Price, the movie star on vacation, and renew an old flame, but she finds he has a wife, and Mitchum steps in, and thereby hangs another battle of wits—on the sexy side. "His Kind of Woman!" is the No. 1 pick of the week's pictures, for drama, for comedy, for action, for romance, and intrigue.

Dr. Smith of SGC To Speak Monday

Two colleges which Georgians frequently confuse as being the same will get better acquainted Monday.

President William S. Smith of South Georgia College will speak at Georgia Teachers College in chapel exercises recognizing graduates of his college who now attend Teachers College.

Former students from South Georgia College have been requested to sit on the stage as a welcoming gesture to Mr. Smith.

There are now 27 former South Georgia College students enrolled at Teachers College. They are:

Carolyn Jean Brannen, Joyce Brantley, Elaine Brock, Jacquelyn Brown, Jerry Burrows, James Deen, Wendal Duncan, Betty Ewing, Sam Fuller, John Herndon, Peggy Hinely, Thomas Johnson, Vann Layson, Eunis Lewis, Elberta McLoon, Hortense McMillan, Lewis McNair, Jeanette Mathew, William Pafford, Henry Sherrer, Norris Strickland, Edsel Taylor, Delores Turner, E. D. Turner, Elwanda Tyre, Opal Tyre, and Mary Steedley.

Many of the upperclassmen here typically transfer from South

Hold It, Please!

Picture sittings for The Reflector began on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock. The first to have their pictures made were the freshmen class. Pictures are being made in West Hall between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 noon in the morning and 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. in the afternoon at the time scheduled and posted on the bulletin board by The Reflector staff.

Practice teachers who are off-campus will have their pictures made on Saturday, November 11, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 noon at Clifton's Studio.

Faculty members will decide whether to have individual pictures as they have always had, or group pictures, at the next meeting of the faculty.

Club pictures will be made around the middle of November. All clubs must pay for their pictures before these are made. The deadline for payment is November 9.

Georgia, a junior college at Douglas. Most of the confusion about the separate identities of the colleges dates from the 1930s when the Statesboro institution bore the name South Georgia Teachers College.

Nine T.C. seniors have been named to the 1952 list of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

They are Grover C. Bell, of Munerlyn; Dan U. Biggers, of Toccoa; Miss Edith Carpenter, of Tifton; Charles G. Jackson, of Attapulgis; Jimmy H. Oliver, of Waynesboro; Spencer W. Overstreet Jr., of Wadley; George I. Parrish Jr., of Jesup; Miss Anne Trice, of Greenville, Ala.; and Miss Betty Anne Withrow, of Albany.

Nomination for "Who's Who" is based on "the student's excellence and sincerity in scholarship; his leadership and participation in extra-curricular and academic activities; his citizenship and service to the school; and his promise of future usefulness to society."

PTA Training Course at College

Mrs. Marguerite Scheid of Chicago, Ill., director of field service for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, will conduct a one-day Leadership Training Institute in Statesboro at the Georgia Teachers College on Wednesday, November 7. The meeting is scheduled to begin and 10:30 a. m. and close at 3 p. m.

Every parent-teacher member and members of the teaching profession in Statesboro and the surrounding area is urged to hear Mrs. Scheid and benefit from this outstanding national leader who will be in Georgia through November 16 conducting similar institutes.

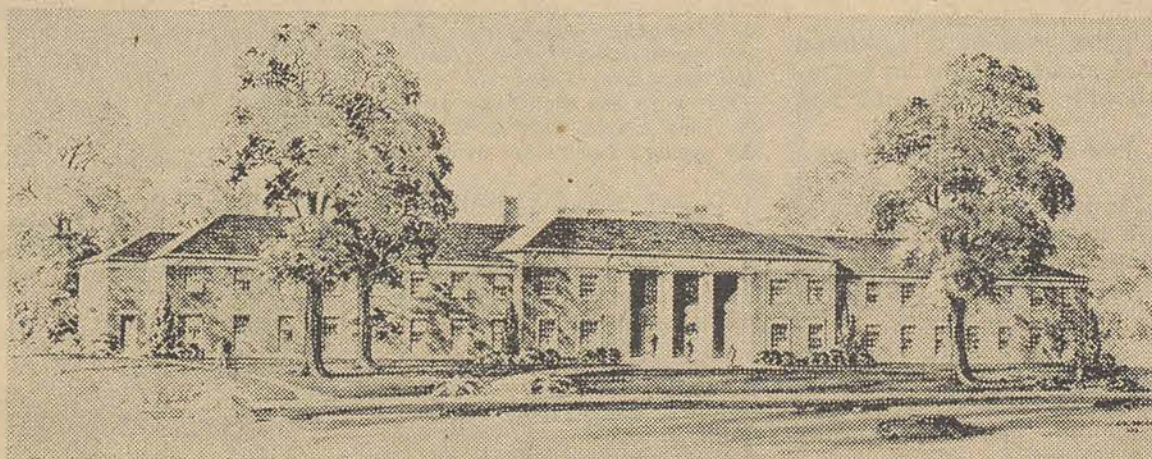

In 1948, Mrs. Scheid joined the National Congress and since that time has conducted conferences, training classes, and leadership courses in parent-teacher work, in all the major cities as well as in most remote sections of the states. She is considered an expert in this service.

Before joining the staff of the National Congress, Mrs. Scheid's professional work brought her into close contact with community problems. She is thoroughly familiar with juvenile courts, boys' courts, child labor regulations, family counseling, child adoptions, and other related services.

Enthusiastic about the program of the National Congress and tireless in her efforts to develop good leaders, Mrs. Scheid looks forward to this assignment in our state.

Mrs. Sam Brannen is president of the Bulloch County P. T. A. Council.

Preview of Men's Dormitory

PREVIEW OF GTC DORMITORY—The new men's dormitory under construction at Teachers College will look like this when completed. Gov. Herman Talmadge broke ground for the building, illustrated here by an architect's drawing, on August 29. It will cost $384,000 and will be the second structure in three projects currently authorized or in progress at the college, for which more than a million dollars has been allotted. The Coite Somers Company of Vidalia holds the construction contract.

Rat Day Is Over

Climaxing the activities of Rat Day was the annual Freshman Night, held in the gym, at which the Frosh were given their final initiation.

Wearing blue jeans and old shirts, and with their hair still dressed in the necessary manner, the Rats were put through their paces by members of the Student Council.

After solo performances by several "talented freshmen", three-legged races and sack races were run. The Rats were then divided into several teams for potato races and a game in which a ping-pong ball was blown along the floor.

The tug-of-war between Freshmen and Sophomores went to the Sophs; nevertheless, at 9:41 p. m., on the night of October 25, 1951, the Freshmen removed their Rat caps.

GEORGIA (Sun. & Mon.).

"SIROCCO"—Humphrey Bogart is a man without loyalties in this exciting melodrama actually photographed in old Damascus—more hell than hero. As a ruthless American gun runner who plays both ends against the middle in the French-Syrian fighting which ripped the Biblical city apart in 1925, he is pitted against Lee J. Cobb, great star of Broadway's "Death of a Salesman," an idealistic French major who tries to end the fighting that Bogart profits by. Another bone of contention between the two is Sweden's Marta Toren, whose eyes have been called Hollywood's most beautiful. Zero Mostel, famous nightclub comedian who turned gangster in "The Enforcer," is a treacherous black marketeer, and Everett Sloane, the evil-eyed villain, takes part in the throat-cutting and back-stabbing along the mysterious streets and Roman catacombs of Damascus. One for Bogart's fans.

"HALF ANGEL" — (Tues. & Wed.).—Loretta Young and Joseph Cotten co-star in this delightfully sexy Technicolor romantic comedy about a lady sleepwalker with a split personality. Loretta is a plain, Puritanical nurse by day who won't admit to herself that she has a crush on a young lawyer, Joseph Cotton. But by night! Her subconscious comes out, she walks in her sleep as a beautiful, seductive creature who sweeps Cotten off his feet. Of course, the next day she remembers nothing of her somnambulistic adventures—but she's married! "Half Angel" is a lot of fun, and you'll get quite a few charges from it.

"HIS KIND OF WOMAN" — (Thurs. & Fri.).—Howard Hughes who gave you "The Outlaw," now presents "The hottest combination that ever hit the screen"—Robert Mitchum and Jane Russell. "His Kind of Woman!" is a violent, romantic mystery-thriller with a plot that keeps you on the edge of the seat. Set in a luxurious resort on the coast of Mexico, this is the story of a battle of wits. Mitchum is a gambler who is sent to the resort on a mysterious errand—and finds he has walked into a trap set by a mysterious gang which intends to kill him. From start to finish he is involved in a deadly game, complicated by a Congratulations!

WE CONGRATULATE the nine seniors who have been named to "Who's Who." In past years each of you have contributed much to the general betterment of college life here at TC. You have set excellent examples for lowerclassmen to follow, and have served as constant inspirations to us, the other members of the senior class.

Reiterations

IT SEEMS that we brought up a controversial issue when we wrote the editorial concerning our Saturday night dances. The vast majority of those who expressed their opinions on this issue agreed with our condemnation of the unsavory behavior displayed at some of the dances.

Quite naturally, some people misread the contents of the message and read a meaning into it other than that which we intended. We will reiterate the idea we tried to express: We do not advocate the barring of servicemen from the dances. The Saturday night dances are given by, and for, the students of the college and our INVITED guests. We do not urge any irrational action, either.

We are glad that the situation is now better.

Public Opinion Poll

By MARTHA WOOD

IN YOUR OPINION, what are the qualities of a good student?

Edith Carpenter: A good student is a good sport, is well-liked by students and faculty, and has a certain percentage of "gray matter."

Mrs. Guardia: The qualities of a good student are many and varied—from a real sense of humor to intellectual curiosity. I think the good students work with regularity, day by day, instead of working in spurts before exams.

Mrs. Flanders: I believe the "good" student is the well-rounded student. He should be able to make good grades without hiding his face in a book for hours upon hours. He should be the person who ever walks in a friendly manner.

Dorothy Stewart: A "good" student is alive!

Miss McElveen: A "good" college student is a dependable, trustworthy, discriminating, ambitious, loyal citizen, diligently in search of a better way of life.

Walton Ewing: A "good" college student should be thoughtful of fellow students, should accept the faculty as friends instead of enemies and, above all, should try to learn.

Miss Ela Johnson: A good college student is one who shows an enthusiastic interest in all activities; not forgetting, however, that there is no substitute for scholarship.

Sonny Hawkins: A "good" college student is well-adjusted socially, sincere in his work and dealings with people, ambitious and honest. A "good" college student should be morally capable of setting himself up as an example.

Melba McAllister: I think a good student is a person who can do good work in his classes and take part in extra-activities as well. Of course, he should enjoy both, not just the outside activities.

Ann Altman: I don't know. I've not seen any around lately.

Bobby Richardson: A good student, in my opinion, is the person who does good work in both classes and extra-curricular activities; one who is cooperative with faculty and student organizations.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Orchids to the GEORGE-ANNE for the timely article bringing to light the situation concerning our dances. I feel that inebriated soldiers on the prowl are certainly no asset to any dance.

As a brother, I certainly wouldn't appreciate any questionable stranger, soldier or civilian, breaking on my sister. Certainly, it is proper for a girl to invite anyone to the dances.

As far as I am concerned, patriotism is no issue when our coeds are insulted. As you said, "College dances are for the students and our INVITED guests."

A VETERAN STUDENT.

Did It Happen?

The small group stood huddled together under a tree just outside East Hall. They had been waiting since 6 o'clock on that morning of October 25, 1951. The leader stood tensely, his microphone in hand... waiting...

In nearby cities the citizens had been up for hours waiting for the broadcast to begin.

Just then a loud explosion resounded over the campus! The announcer began talking excitedly.

"Ladies and gentlemen, at exactly 6:44 a. m. on this day of October, 1951, A.D., the festivities for which millions have been waiting have just gotten underway.

"As tradition demands, the day will begin with a fashion parade. The models will be wearing for the first time the newest creations which have been handed down by the S. Court.

"A roar is heard from the watching crowd! Just a minute! I believe it is... Yes, it is! The first model has stepped out of the dormitory door! Let's pick up the reaction from that crowd!"

"What is it?"

"It resembles a human, but..."

"Has Mars been invaded?"

"Yah-h-h-h-h!"

"Ladies and gentlemen, the new trend is the most exciting scene I have ever witnessed! It seems that the S. Court has decreed that the most glamorous girls of the season will wear their hair parted in the middle.

"For added allure, one half of their hair shall be thoroughly greased, the other half in thirteen pigtails! Fashions have taken a revolutionary twist in that the well-dressed girl now wears all her clothes inside-out and upside-down!

"And, of course, every girl is wearing that unforgettable perfume, more popular than ever this season, "Odour of Onione," by Patch No. 5.

"The next feature of the day will be that most graceful of all modern dances, "meditation a la broom." The stars of the day are moving in a body about the circle drive, swinging their brooms to the music of that smash hit, "Glory, Glory to the Sophomores."

"We take you now to the T.C. dining hall where crowds are watching the unique actions of these creatures. As we come in, we see a small girl standing and yelling, 'Attention!' Listen! She is proclaiming her love for some person! What a revelation!

"But, let's move on. We take you now to our announcers who are covering the classrooms. Come in, Spencer!"

"Good morning, ladies and gentlemen of the radio audience. Mr. Scott's sociology class has proceeded undisturbed by the day's happenings so far. Wait! There's a knock on the door! It's a creature! One of those rat creatures who are starring in the day's program! He's speaking!"

"Is it true, Mr. Scott, that your grandfather was an ape?"

"While Mr. Scott defends himself, we will move to Miss Stewart's class. One of the rats is begging her for a date!

"Over on the soccer field in the girls' P.E. class, one of the persons is trying to make Miss Stanson reveal where she's teaching that Smooching Class, No. 405.

"Over to the right one of the rats has snared Carroll. What is she saying? Let's move over! Listen!"

"I think you're so cute, Dean Carroll..."

"Oh, what will happen next? Over to our left one of the creatures is scrubbing the college bus with a toothbrush!

"The creatures seem to be having some kind of fits every few minutes! Every time an upper-classman speaks to them they drop their books, stand on one foot, and begin madly reeling off poetry.

"Our time is almost gone. Until tonight at seven, this is Station PHEW, exclusive broadcasters of the annual combination fashion revue and onion celebration, signing off!"

WILD BIRD CALL

(By Edith Carpenter)

The song comes drifting through the night

Just a lonesome strain and a wild bird call.

With the cool night breeze it comes and goes.

And my tense ears strain to hear it all

As I lie and think I have come to think;

Once my heart was never, never still.

And I've come to weep when the the song drifts in

On the wavering notes of a wild bird's trill.

For he went away—he went away When the song was floating in the air.

Oh, I wept, I wept in the still night time.

For I dare not weep when my friends were there.

Now the song is drifting through the night

As it comes each night when the bright leaves fall;

With the cool night breeze it comes and goes:

Just a lonesome strain and a wild bird call.

ON FEELING GOD'S PRESENCE

(By Jim Hodges)

Nor hymn, nor prayer, nor any spoken word... was in the air tonight when I... My loving Saviour heard... "Believe in Me" the echo rang... And filled the empty air... And God was there before me as... I knelt to Him in prayer... I offer up my soul to you... And all that I might have been... Those things the world has criticized... And labeled as sins... I ask that I be cleansed of these... And that You will forgive... And that my life be such as You... Dear God would have me live... With your endearing comfort and... My everlasting praise... I'll lift my hand toward Heaven up above... And claim that I have been... Completely saved through God's own love... In His name I ask it, Amen.

Here's The Latest...

By LIZ, FAYE, BETTY B.

Joe Sullivan wandered around the campus kissing all the girls on Rat Day, but on Rat Night he got his reward—the privilege of kissing a pig.

Jack Chelnutt has high score (?) in the canasta games in East Hall.

The trip to Emory was very convenient for Pat Kilpatrick, who has other interests there.

Sonny Hawkins was voted into the Statesboro J.C.s. He's spreading his good citizenship from the campus into the "city."

Harvey Lee Simpson has been hitting the bottle again. Have you noticed his peroxidized hair?

Notice: The top step of the Blue Tide is being reserved every night from 9:00-9:45 for Ann Greenway and her new beau.

Classes on Rat Day were filled with pop quizzes, but the tide was turned—the Rats gave the instructors the quiz. Example: "Miss Gerant, why didn't you marry?" Answer: "I didn't know my last chance would be my LAST chance."

There is an exclusive new club that is being opened on the campus for membership. The first meeting will be held at the gym on Saturday night, November 10.

The city police surely hit Fred Pierce's billfold hard when they charged him $5 for his own car last week. He really couldn't help the fact that his battery went dead uptown and he had to leave the car.

Sonny Clements certainly wants his picture to be in The Reflector this year. After it had taken him two hours to put on his tie, he met his appointment exactly one week early.

The Freshman Class nominated a fine group for its class officers. This looks like a successful year for the class.

It looked like old times seeing Laretta Greene and Mike McDougald at the dance Saturday night... Wonder who's carrying the torch now?

Congratulations! Everybody's turning out for twilight this quarter. Let's keep it up!

Peace?

Ralph Parsons Begins His Final Year At GTC

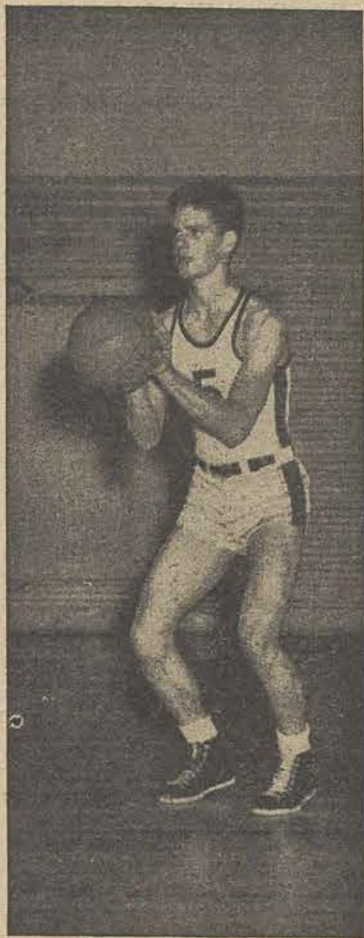

By HARRY STRICKLAND

(NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on this year's Georgia Teachers College basketball team.)

Our second letterman is Ralph Parsons who previously has earned two letters as a regular on the Teachers Varsity. Ralph graduated from Hall High School in Harlan, Ky., in 1947, where he was never good enough to be on the high school squad. After staying out of school for a year he entered Eastern Kentucky State College in September, 1948. He was a member of the Eastern Freshmen basketball squad and pitched for the varsity baseball team. Ralph is by no means a lone Kentuckian and boasts of his home state every chance he gets. If anyone has heard Ralph talk of Kentucky and trying to compare the two states, Kentucky and Georgia, you will note that he is loyal to his home state and never gives up when a Georgian tells him it's "syrup" instead of "sorghum."

In September of 1949 he joined his brother, Roger, at Georgia Teachers College. During the first part of the 1950-51 season, Ralph was anything but impressive and ran with the second string until after the Christmas holidays. During practice sessions preparing for the Peerless Woolen Mill game his play was so impressive that he earned for himself a starting berth in that game, proving his worth by scoring 14 points. From then on he became a regular member of the varsity.

During the 1950 season Ralph scored 257 points. In 1950-51 he picked up where he had left off the year before taking the place of brother Roger as the playmaker and holding his own as a scorer, winding up the season with a total of 349 points. Ralph plays first-string guard and has come through many times in the clutch when the Profs seemed doomed to defeat on an off night.

This year Ralph states that after always playing the bridesmaid and never the bride in the NAIB tournament, with a lot of work and improvement we should be set to play the role of the bride. Followers of Georgia Teachers College are looking forward to this as an outstanding year for the "kid from the hills." Ralph weighs 152 pounds and is six feet tall. He

Passing the Book (For Adults Only)

By MARTHA WOOD

How is your love life? Have you been sitting in your lonely room nights admiring the moon from a second story window? Do you have mounting premonitions that you are fated to wend your way through life, lonely and unloved, doomed to the solitary existence of a spinster or a bachelor? Or have you suddenly ceased to be the object of your affections affection? If so, we are prepared to offer you a solution to your problems.

No, we are not advertising some elixir with the potentialities of Hadacol. Our product is even better than that. Next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the audio-visual room we are presenting to you, free of charge, none other than the great Dr. Georgia Watson in a program entitled "So You Call It Love." During the course of the evening two movies, not one, but TWO, will be shown. Yes, these TWO delightful dramatizations, "It Takes All Kinds" and "Choosing for Happiness," will be shown for your benefit, absolutely free of charge! Bring no money, coupons or box-tops. Just come and be enlightened! We know you will enjoy it!

This is merely the second in a series of delightful programs to be offered every Tuesday evening from now on.

Never before has this stupendous offer been equalled! Just think, one evening's entertainment every week at absolutely no cost whatsoever except the energy it takes to pilot your bodies to the library. Don't fail to take advantage of this amazing opportunity every Tuesday at 7:30 in the audio-visual room!

has added height, weight and poise, but has lost none of the spirit which earned for him the nick-name of "Fireball."

Clements Aids Varsity

By HARRY STRICKLAND

Before basketball season officially underway, let's look at some of the people that play a decisive part in our basketball program. A person that has lots of ability and knowledge of the basic fundamentals of basketball is Coach J. I. Clements.

Coach Clements, assistant basketball coach, came to Georgia Teachers College in 1948 where he was appointed professor of Health and Physical Education and assistant coach at Georgia Teachers College. Coach Clements is originally from Ray City, Ga., where he graduated as an outstanding athlete. When attending Norman College he was rated as an all-star basketball and baseball player, and incidentally was coached by Coach J. B. Searce Jr., our present coach. After his graduation from Norman College he coached at Naylor and Wadley High School. In 1943 he assisted Coach Searce at North Georgia College and proved himself to Coach Searce as a promising young coach. From 1944 to 1946 Coach Clements served in the army as a paratrooper and upon discharge entered Eastern Kentucky State College where he received his B.S. and M.A. degree. While a student at Eastern Kentucky, he played two years of excellent baseball and received training for his coaching career.

While at Georgia Teachers College, Coach Clements has made a good record for his baseball team. He became coach of the first freshman basketball team to represent Teachers College last year and did an excellent job. As a coach, he is tops; as a man, he is understanding. The students at Georgia Teachers College would

Kappa Delta Pi Pledges Members

Kappa Delta Pi held an election for new members into their organization on Wednesday, October 24. These are: President Henderson, Gilbert Hughes, Shirley Shuman, Martha Wood, Walton Ewing, John Renfro, Oldin V. Lewis, Mary Jane Smith, Edna Ruth Sanders, Betty Eason, and Rosemary Johnson.

The initiation ceremony was held in Laboratory High School on Thursday, November 1, at 1:30. At this time, the initiates were given pledge cards which they must wear for one week.

On the following Thursday, November 8, a banquet is planned, at which time the pledges will receive full membership into the fraternity.

like to congratulate Coach Clements on the jobs he has done and hope that he will continue proving his ability as a coach and instructor.

63 Percent Make 70 on Selective Service Tests

Sixty-three percent of the 339,000 students who took the Selective Service College Qualification Tests last spring and summer made a score of 70 or better, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, Director of Selective Service, reported today, and he also reminded college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the December 13, 1951 test is approaching. He said a further breakdown of the results of the former tests would be available within a short time.

The new series of tests will be given Thursday, December 13, 1951, and Thursday, April 24, 1952, by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N. J., at more than 1,000 different centers throughout the United States and its territories. The blanks may be obtained by the registrant at any local board office.

General Hershey stressed the importance of all eligible students taking the test, and indicated that those who do not have test score results in their cover sheets may have a "very difficult time indeed" in convincing their local boards that they should be deferred as students.

Application blanks for the December 13, test must be postmarked not later than midnight, Monday, November 5, 1951. Applications for the April 24, 1952, test must be postmarked not later than midnight, March 10, 1952.

To be eligible to apply for the test, General Hershey pointed out, a student must:

(1) Intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course; (3) must not previously have taken a Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Students whose academic year will end in January, 1952, General Hershey said, are urged to apply for the December 13, 1951, test, so they will have scores in their files when the local boards reconsider their cases in January.

To Be Continued.

Women Teams Elect Captains

By JOAN BENNETT

The intramural sports for women have taken the beginning step. Wednesday morning, team captains and volleyball managers were elected as follows:

Black—Cordelia Kidd, captain; Betty Sherman, manager. Yellow—Winifred McCall, captain. Orange—Betty Mikell, captain; Faye Waters, manager. Green—Virginia Newton, captain; Yvonne Jones, manager. White—Miriam Floyd, captain; Loretta Green, manager.

Practice may be scheduled by the managers if they will drop by the office in the girls' locker room. Practices will continue until Saturday, November 10. The tournament starts Monday, November 12, at 4:00. There will be two games every afternoon in a round-robin tournament.

Any girls who are interested in officiating at the volleyball tournament will be given instructions at 4:00 Monday afternoon.

If you weren't at the organizational meeting and are interested in playing volleyball whether you know how or not, be sure to get in touch with your team manager.

Everybody come on out and make it the best tournament yet.

W.A.A. News

By CORDELIA KIDD

Twenty-three members, each carrying lighted candles, participated in an impressive ceremony at the annual W.A.A. installation service held in the gym Monday night. A candle, symbolizing the spirit of the W.A.A., was lighted by President Catherine McNally, from which candles representing activity, health, leadership, service, and sportsmanship were lighted by Carlene Sharklin, Sara Simpson, Marion Jenkins, Cordelia Kidd, and Ann Nevil, respectively.

The point system of awards was explained by the vice president, Ann Nevil, and hundred-point emblems were given to Doris Ford, Dorothy Ford, Ann Nevils, Ann Greenway, and Cordelia Kidd. Catherine McNally received her emblem and small "T" for having 200 points.

Notices on dormitory bulletin boards announce that a trophy will be given by an interested party to the winner of the softball tournament, to have and to hold as long as they continue winning. West Hall had their first practice on Tuesday afternoon with 16 girls participating and plan to practice again Wednesday afternoon.

There are good prospects for a fine tournament. Spectators—come out and support your team!

Wood Gains Office

Martha Wood, junior from Waycross, Ga., was elected secretary of the Georgia Methodist Student Movement during the conference of October 26-28 which was held at Emory University, Atlanta. The election of new officers was one of the main features of this annual meeting of the G.M.S.M., which is composed of all the Wesley Foundations in the state.

Miss Wood will serve for the entire coming year. She has been an active participant in Methodist student activities throughout her college career, having attended many of these meetings. She was one of the Georgia students who attended the National Convocation at Purdue University this past summer.
