Rumenov Named PBC Player of the Year; Pirates Earn All-PBC Tennis Honors

Posted: Apr 11, 2013

FLORENCE, S.C. - Armstrong Atlantic State University senior Georgi Rumenov was named the 2013 Peach Belt Conference Men's Tennis Player of the Year, highlighting the top-ranked Pirates' honors at the league's annual awards banquet on Thursday evening in Florence, S.C.

A senior from Barcelona, Spain, Rumenov is the top-ranked singles player in all of NCAA Division II. He finished 16-1 in singles play this year, going 11-1 at #1 singles and 5-0 at #2. Rumenov was 9-1 against nationally-ranked players. Rumenov and partner Daniel Regan are the top-ranked doubles team in the nation, going 18-1 at #1 doubles this season. Rumenov is the fifth straight Armstrong player to win the Player of the Year award and joins Eudaldo Bonet as a two-time winner. He becomes the first back-to-back Player of the Year since North Florida's David Olave in 2002 and 03.

Rumenov also earned first-team All-PBC singles honors along with fellow seniors Matus Mydla and Dan Regan, while junior Pedro Scocuglia and sophomore Sven Lalic earned second-team All-PBC singles honors.

In doubles, Rumenov and Regan earned first-team All-PBC doubles honors along with Lalic and Scocuglia, giving the Pirates two of the three first-team doubles duos.

Simon Earnshaw, meanwhile, captures his sixth PBC Coach of the Year honor and fourth in a row. In his 14th season at Armstrong, Earnshaw has his team ranked #1 in the nation after winning their third NCAA National Championship last spring. The Pirates also captured their eighth PBC regular-season title and are the top seed in this week's PBC Tournament, where they are the eight-time defending champion.

The top-seeded Pirates open up action in the 2013 Peach Belt Conference Championships by taking on eighth-seeded Flagler at 11:00 a.m. at the Dr. Eddie Floyd Florence Tennis Center in Florence, S.C.
