Parker Accounting Student Participates in Project Run With It

September 7, 2022

Taylor Robins, a member of the Zeta Delta chapter of Beta Alpha Psi (BAP) at Georgia Southern University, is now a part of the 1,000 alumni of Project Run With It (PRWI), which furthers the community service component of Beta Alpha Psi (BAP) and provides student participants with an incredible opportunity to engage in a real-world consulting project. PRWI is a high intensity, highly compressed competition that provides participating students a unique experience. Presentations are made to a panel of judges composed of BAP Faculty Advisors, NFP Leadership members, and Partners from the competition's sponsor, Moss Adams.

At its 18th annual meeting in Orlando, FL, 45 BAP student representatives worked together to develop solutions to the real-life business problems of The Association of Latino Professionals For America (ALPFA), an actual not-for-profit (NFP) organization. Working in teams of three to four, Taylor and other university students from around the U.S. had the equivalent of one and half working days to develop a formal presentation showcasing their solutions to the business issues presented by ALPFA. Prior to the meeting, ALPFA provided background information to all participating students and was onsite to answer students' questions.

International Management Students Successfully Demonstrate Presentations Skills

Students presenting their case study

Students in Ken Wang’s, lecturer of management, senior level international management class recently made group presentations featuring real world case studies that they had researched. Three groups of 11 students each particularly stood out for their preparation, organization, and professional dress. According to Wang, the cases of Russell Athletics and TOMS Puts the Right Food Forward were thoroughly researched and enthusiastically presented. These students, Lekiley Decimus Boazman, Lauren Elizabeth Burel, Amanda L. Castro, Tri Anna A. Cooper, Hap Frederick Heimel, Montasia Samone Jackson, Olabimpe Olaweye Olaoye, MacKensey Lee Randall, Sara E. Stiltner, Yasriyyah Trotter, and Ashton Lance Williams, commented Wang, “have demonstrated a good understanding of the international management concepts just learned and impressive presentation skills.” Steve Charlier, chair, Department of Management, added, “Congrats to the students on a successful presentation—a skill that will only pay ... dividends in ...[their] future careers!”
