

Georgia Southern University

Georgia Southern Commons

Newsroom

University Communications and Marketing

4-17-2008

Newsroom

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/newsroom>

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "Newsroom" (2008). Newsroom. 257.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/newsroom/257>

This news article is brought to you for free and open access by the University Communications and Marketing at Georgia Southern Commons. It has been accepted for inclusion in Newsroom by an authorized administrator of Georgia Southern Commons. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

Sixteen graduate from Leadership Southeast Georgia

APRIL 17, 2008

Sixteen people have graduated from the seventh annual Leadership Southeast Georgia program

The participants were awarded their diplomas at the graduation ceremony held on Saturday, March 29, at the Effingham County Chamber of Commerce.

Leadership Southeast Georgia was created in partnership with the Regional Advisory Council and Georgia Southern University. The 10-county program gathers emerging leaders who were nominated by their own communities to attend six weekend sessions of leadership training, networking and skill-building.

The 2007-2008 class included:

- Bryan County's Jerry DeLoach and Lisa M. Humrich
- Bulloch County's Abbie W. Blackmon, Carolyn Ethridge and Heath Seymour
- Chatham County's Aileura N. Crawford, Mathew Cremeans and Henry C. Whitfield
- Effingham County's LaMeisha R. Hunter and Steve Liotta
- Glynn County's William Butler Dawson Jr.
- Liberty County's Anna Chafin, Brett Green, Kimberly M. Sachau and Sherrie Struble
- Long County's Ellis M. Waters

For more information on Leadership Southeast Georgia, contact Deborah Champion at dchampion@georgiasouthern.edu .

Georgia Southern University, a Carnegie Doctoral/Research University, offers more than 120 degree programs serving nearly 17,000 students. Through eight colleges, the University offers bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs built on more than a century of academic achievement. The University, one of Georgia's largest, is a top choice of Georgia's HOPE scholars and is recognized for its student-centered approach to education. Visit: www.georgiasouthern.edu

Georgia Southern University will host Missoula Children's Theatre in June

APRIL 17, 2008

Children and teenagers who are interested in developing their acting skills are invited to attend a day camp at Georgia Southern University.

The Missoula Children's Theatre (MCT) will conduct its annual summer drama camp from Monday, June 16, through Saturday, June 21, at the University's Performing Arts Center (PAC).

There are openings for 60 students who will be in grades one through 12 during the 2008-2009 academic year. The students will audition for roles in MCT's production of 'Robinson Crusoe.'

The students will rehearse throughout the week and then give two public performances in the PAC on the final day of the camp.

MCT is the largest touring children's theatre in the country. The company's mission is the development of life skills in children through participation in the performing arts.

With 32 teams of tour actors and directors, MCT will visit nearly 1,000 communities this year. After arriving in town with a set, lights, costumes, props and make-up, the company casts the play with local children.

The fee for the camp is $225 per person. For more information, visit <http://ceps.georgiasouthern.edu/conted/campdrama.html> or call (912) 478-5551.

Georgia Southern University, a Carnegie Doctoral/Research University, offers more than 120 degree programs serving nearly 17,000 students. Through eight colleges, the University offers bachelor's, master's and doctoral degree programs built on more than a century of academic achievement. The University, one of Georgia's largest, is a top choice of Georgia's HOPE scholars and is recognized for its student-centered approach to education. Visit: www.georgiasouthern.edu