Freshmen—Vivian Cowart Eugene Craig, Sara Pat Gay, Marilu Hurt, Faye Henry, Betty Jones, William Rogers, Charrell Williams, and Alice Willingham.

Library to Make Improvements

The library will dress for early summer in acoustical tile, new lighting fixtures, and air conditioning. The engineering firm of Thomas and Sutton of Savannah are drawing up plans and specifications at the present time to air condition the library, change the lighting system, and install acoustical tile. All of these improvements will aid in presenting a silence promoting atmosphere in our reading rooms. Plans and specifications are expected to be completed in the near future, and it is hope that their recommendations can be carried out by the early part of the summer.

TC Professors Pummel Erskine Nine In Double Diamond Fracas — 11-0; 7-3

After defeating Presbyterian Monday, TC got five-hit pitching from Frank Clements and Ralph Parsons in each game Wednesday and collected 23 hits to win a baseball doubleheader with Erskine College, 11-0 and 7-3.

Parsons struck out nine batters in the nightcap. Each contest was limited to seven innings.

First Baseman Hollis Powell led with five hits in seven attempts as the Teachers unleashed a 14-hit attack in the first game and produced nine safeties in the second. He got four for four in the oepner, including a triple.

The Professors, who have a 5-5 record, will resume play against the Parris Island Marines next Tuesday and Wednesday.

TC Alumni Plan East Entrance

The GTC Alumni Association has for its project for this year the erection of an entrance on the east side of our campus at the point where Herty Drive intersects the Pembroke road. Since this entrance is very near the spot where Dr. Charles Herty began his experiments with cups to catch the resin from pine trees, it will also serve as a memorial to the great Georgia scientist. Its form will not be a duplicate of that at the north entrance, but will be built to suit the landscape where it will be located. Contributions for the project have been coming in to the alumni office throughout the year. Twenty-one non-alumni faculty members and two hundred and ten members of the the alumni have thus far made contributions. The gifts of the alumni have ranged all the way from $1 to $50. Mrs. Ralph L. Dawson, of Ludowici, is thus for the most liberal contributor, her gift being $50. She graduated with the August, 1951, class and is a teacher in the public schools of Ludowici. In making her contribution, Mrs. Dawson said: "After having spent six summers at TC, I have developed such a love for and pride in the college that it gives me a great deal of pleasure to make a donation for the erection of the east entrance, which I consider a most worthy cause."

Dr. Pittman has been the dynamic force in the erection of the entrance to the north, and also in aising the fund to make possible the east entrance. If you want to make him happy, all you have to do is to make a contribution to that fund. It is hoped that it may be possible to have the construction begun at once and completed by Alumni Day, May 31.

Joe Neverla Back With George-Anne

Joseph Neverla, experienced make-up editor of the George-Anne staff, has recently returned to work in his old capacity.

Neverla was forced to take a leave of absence during the fall quarter because of pressing duties which required much of his time.

A senior, Neverla has been dubbed one of the most efficient make-up editors in this publication's history.

Elementary Education Group Is Organized

The elementary education majors on the campus have at long last organized a departmental club. With only two meetings behind them, they have affiliated themselves with the Association for Childhood Educational International and made plans to make fancy Easter eggs for the elementary lab school.

There are approximately 100 prospective members on campus and all are urged to look into the possibilities for both recreational and educational activities.

The next meeting will be held next Thursday at 3:15 in the kitchen of the elementary laboratory school and the members will paint and decorate the Easter eggs for the elementary children.

Miss Lois Johnson Named May Queen

Miss Lois Johnson, Warrenton senior, has been elected by the students to reign as queen of the annual Hay Day festivities here.

Lois Johnson
May Day Queen

From the sophomore class, Betty Hendrix and Yvonne Jones were elected. Representing the freshman class will be Shirley Hanson and Bonnie Sue Pickron. The junior class has not yet made its selections.

College Is Host To School Athletes

The division of health and physical education was host to 35 high school athletes who participated in the second annual high school basketball clinic held here.

The high school seniors arrived Wednesday, were spectators at the Erskine baseball game, and participated in the clinic through Saturday.

The purpose of this clinic is to give worthy high school athletes an opportunity to see how they compare with one another and to introduce them to opportunities to enroll in the summer or fall quarter.

Workers Study

Out of 78 students on the Dean's List, 24 were student helpers.

Only five out of 85 student helpers failed to make the C average required of a student to continue work the following quarter.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Meeting in room 31, Tuesday at 3:10 for the purpose of drawing lots for position in talent show. The IRC requests that a member from each participating club or organization be present.

Spring Retreat At Bessie Tift College

Bessie Tift College will be the scene of the annual Baptist Student Union Spring Retreat, April 18 and 19. The two-day event will begin Friday, April 18, at 7 p. m., and will close Saturday at 8:45 p. m. All new officers on local campuses and other interested students are expected to attend the Retreat, which is sponsored by the Department of Student Work of the Georgia Baptist Convention.

Friday's program will consist of William Hall Preston, associate in Southwide Student Department, speaking on the theme "First They Gave Themselves"; a missionary on the way to a new assignment; student missionaries; student musical groups. Officer clinics will be held on Saturday, and there will also be social periods.

All girls attending the convention will stay at Bessie Tift College in the dormitories, and the boys will stay at Mercer University in the dormitories, being transported by bus from Bessie Tift after the evening service and returned before the Saturday morning session begins.

According to Ed Timmerman, president of TC's B.S.U., students wishing to attend the Retreat from TC should sign the paper on the bulletin board in the administration building. The B.S.U. bus will take all students to the Retreat. The entire trip should not cost over $4 or $5.

In Recital Here

DANA M. KING JR.

The Division of Music at Georgia Teachers College presented its band director Dana M. King Jr., in a trombone and French horn recital at 8:15 p. m. last night (Friday).

Mr. King, who has appeared as soloist throughout Ohio and in West Virginia and Pennsylvania, will be accompanied by his wife, former head of the department of music theory at Ohio University.

The public will be admitted without charge.

Sigma Xi Honors R. G. Sherrill

Robert G. Sherrill Jr., biology instructor at TC, has been named to Sigma Xi, a national honorary fraternity in scientific research.

Mr. Sherrill has attended Emory University and received his bachelor of science degree from Florida Southern College. His original home is Lakeland, Fla., and he spent three and one-half years in the Army Medical Corps. He worked a year in a clinical pathological laboratory and another year as a soil chemist. After that he spent a year at Vanderbilt University teaching lab sections. His next move was to come to TC this year as biology and physics instructor.

Mr. Sherrill received this honor for research on the adrenal glands. He plans to spend the next few years at the University of Tennessee Medical College, and then eventually to do more research work in the field of endocrinology.

Talent Show Date Is Thurs., April 10

The annual IRC Talent Show will be presented at 8 p. m. Thursday, April 10.

This affair has repeatedly uncovered formerly unknown talent, basking dormant on the campus. Most of the clubs and organizations have expressed the intention of participating.

The winning club will receive $15, while second and third place winners will be awarded $10 and $5 prizes.

This night of entertainment was postponed from last quarter.

Letter To The Editor

... 'I Said as I Licked a Greasy Paw'

The dry cleaners in Statesboro have had quite an increase in business lately, and it was not entirely due to the change of seasons.

This influx of dirty clothes was brought about by an entirely different and completely inane reason. Although the owners of the dry cleaning establishments might be inclined to smile at their good fortune in having such prosperous business, I dare say they were inclined to raise a puzzled eyebrow at the multitude of greasy fingerprints on all articles of apparel from TC. How were they to know the plight of those poor students who vainly attempted to remain neat when trying to eat chicken, hot dogs, hamburgers, and all other foods for that matter, with the aid of only ONE PITIFUL LITTLE PAPER NAPKIN!

Thrift is a commendable virtue. In its place, it should be greatly admired. However, it, like everything else in this old world, can be carried to extremes, and I personally think that allotting one napkin to each student who eats in the dining hall is one of those extremes.

For a line-checker to stand before the line and hand out one napkin at a time to the students as they pass is a childish and inept procedure. In the elementary grades, or perhaps even in high school, this method might be acceptable, but to people who are mature enough to be in college it is highly irritating. There is something in the dignity of the human soul that rebels against such treatment.

College students should be treated with the respect and courtesy due the adults they have become, or should have become.

It is not so much the actual act itself as it is the principle of the thing that gets one's dander up. Evidently, someone thought that simply to ask the students to take only as many napkins as they really needed was not enough.

The result of such an attitude was the undignified and revolting situation that all students are forced to face as they go through the line at each meal.

By this time, most college students have gotten over having finicky stomachs. Nevertheless, most of them still like to be the only person to handle his or her napkin.

It seems to this reporter to be a mistake to institute the practice of doling out napkins in the first place. After all, the war days of "one to a customer" are over!

Fortunately, however, it is a mistake that can be, and should be, rectified immediately.

Thoughts

By JIM HODGES

"Tis best for thee, old world, that God is the only one Who knows of our destiny before tomorrow's begun."

"Some bridges are made out of branches and clay, With not much intention that way they will stay."

"The Road of life goes on and on, and ends in a shade by a stream, A spot, when all of life's troubles are gone, we stop, go to sleep, have a dream."

"A group of teachers held a meeting, They came from near and far, Some came in by airplane, And some conveyed by car, Some took months and months to come,

A few came in a day, And some got lost along the road And still are on their way."

Sonnet

By JIM HODGES

If this love is fair, then I am blind, And all my words and rhyme are vainly spent,

When morning thoughts pursue my evening's mind, I note where in my true decision's rent,

If love was bare of influence by the day I might assign a static post to three,

And worship those ills that now convey Such bitter hours and varied tears to me,

I will not say my heart's afraid to swell When through the contents of the day I ride,

On Nature's boundless stair I sometimes dwell, Where breathes the duty of my heart's confide,

But love's great moments are all spent too soon, And heart's inflation placed within the tomb.

GEORGIA (Sun. & Mon.) — "THE MODEL AND THE MARRIAGE BROKER." Here is a wonderful comedy, mixing lonely hearts and laughs. Jeanne Crain is the model, Scott Brady the young man; Thelma Ritter is the marriage broker. There's a little Cupid in all of us, and this movie will appeal to everyone as Thelma Ritter, the new, human, comedy star, assuages her own loneliness by making matches for the timid souls who want to get married and can't find a mate. Among her clients, who make the picture, are Zero Mostel—a frustrated optometrist, and Frank Fontaine, a tongue-tied Swede. You'll laugh and cry, and love every minute of it.

"PHONE CALL FROM A STRANGER (Tues. & Wed.) A great story, about how three ill-fated lives affected a man's marriage. Gary Merrill is leaving his wife on a plane, where he meets three strangers—Shelley Winters, a strip-teaser, returning to her husband; Keenan Wynn, a loud, vulgar salesman; Michael Rennie, a doctor with a secret. The plane crashes, all are killed but Merrill, who visits the families of each. And on the last visit, to the salesman's invalid wife, he learns forgiveness. In the small role of the invalid, Bette Davis is magnificent, proving herself as one of the truly great actresses of all time. You'll thrill to "Phone Call From a Stranger."

"DISTANT DRUMS" (Thurs. & Fri.). Filmed in Technicolor in the Florida Everglades, this is the story of Captain Quincy Wyatt and his heroic swamp-fighters who defied the terrors of the jungle to turn the tide of the Seminole War of 1840. Gary Cooper is Wyatt, new star Mari Aldon the girl who had a date with vengeance in Savannah. This is a good Western in a Florida setting, climaxed with a terrific underwater knife duel in Silver Springs.

BSU to Present Testimonials

The BSU will present a testimonial program at the Claxton Baptist Church on Sunday night, April 6. This deputation follows the one here at Statesboro last quarter, and is the third one this year.

Those giving testimonials are: Shirley Dykes, Phil Norton, Peggy Saturday, Hugh Pharis and Jane Seabolt.

Musical numbers will be rendered by Virginia Newby, vocal solo; Betty Ewing, vocal solo; and Georgia Harper, violin solo.

Here's The Latest...

By FAYE and BURNEY

Joanne Surrency and Martha Ann Todd are running Joan Bennett and Betty Anne Bedingfield a close race at doing the "Cancan." To all who are interested, there is a performance every night in room 220, East Hall.

"It happens every Spring—The boys have hit the bottle again... peroxide bottle, that is. For proof, take a look at Boney Phillips, Earl Moore, Ferrell Sparks and Joe Sullivan.

Those April showers don't keep Shirley Hanson and Spencer Overstreet from seeing the baseball games. True fans, huh?

Billy Moore has just been voted the luckiest boy on campus. Congratulations for winning the luggage; Billy—but tell us, what are you going to do with the beauty parlor ticket?

You'd have thought it was a fashion show on campus Wednesday morning when all the girls came out dressed in their best. Could the boys trying out for basketball have anything to do with this?

Joanne Jones and Larry Hatrell made a handsome couple as they slaved over the hot stove, cooking shrimp for the Industrial Arts party.

Lois Johnson has been chosen the lucky girl who will reign as queen at the May Day Festival. Congratulations, Lois!

Bonnie Sue Pickron not only has a sparkle in her eye, but there is also one on her finger. Who's the lucky boy?

Perhaps the "Big Team" would be interested in signing up Molly Potts. She's truly the star of the West Hall baseball team.

Marilyn Nevils seems to be a hard luck girl. She fell off the radiator and also up the stairs. Wonder what'll happen next?

Virginia Newton and Bettye Hendrix were seen signing up for the badminton tournament. By their boasting, they seem mighty sure of victory.

Fran Hawkins seems to be the pet (?) in Mr. Scott's psychology class. Could it be your red hair that makes you so outstanding?

Bet Mrs. Johnson and Miss Veazy thought that "their" girls just couldn't get along without them. But did we fool them? Seriously, everyone has missed you both a greatdeal, so PLEASE HURRY BACK!

Youth To Go 'On Trial' Here During Hi-Y And Tri-Hi-Y Meeting April 21-23

The Christian youth of this section will "go on trial" here April 21, 22 and 23, when young people from Bulloch, Evans, Jenkins, Candler and Screven counties and Georgia Teachers College who are members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs and the Student Christian Association will meet here for the "Trial of Christian Youth."

This is a mock trial sponsored by the State Y.M.C.A. to examine and evaluate the moral and spiritual climate in which our Christian youth find themselves in their communities, and the challenge our boys and girls to nobler Christian living, Kemp Mabry, district secretary, stated in announcing plans for the "trial."

The trials will be held at the Statesboro Methodist Church at 7:30 each of the three evenings.

Seaman Williams, young attorney who recently moved to Statesboro, will serve as prosecuting attorney, and Wm. Joe Neville of attorney, Clyde Dekle, prominent Statesboro will act as defense Millen attorney, will preside over the trial.

Mr. Mabry said that youth is

College Short On Red Cross Quota

Incomplete returns on the campus-wide Red Cross drive reveal that $80.64 has been contributed to date by both students and faculty. The returns from each respective dormitory are as follows:

West Hall, $9.45; East Hall, $8.23; Lewis Hall, $10.10. No report has been made to date from Sanford Hall.

The campus quota was set at $350, which means that 23 percent of the total has been reached.

Although the entire month of March was set aside as Red Cross charged with five counts of failure to live up to the Christian standards: (1) being Biblically illiterate; (2) failing to attend and support their churches; (3) breaking the Ten Commandments and being intemperate; (4) selfish in use of time and money; and (5) failure to consider Christian and service vocations.

The public is invited to attend these trials.

month, contributions will be accepted at any time. All students and faculty members who have not contributed are urged to do so, especially since Red Cross funds are so urgently needed in the tornado disaster area in our neighboring states of Alabama and Tennessee. Mr. McDougald is the campus chairman and all contributions may be made to him.

The Eds Have It...

Eds seem to have a monopoly on the presidency of the Baptist Student Union here at TC, for, in recent election of officers for the organization, Ed Timmerman, a junior from Plains, Ga., was elected to serve as president. Ed Mitchell, former president, succeeded Eddie Ort in last year's election.

The B.S.U.'s newly elected president is beginning his second quarter at TC. He is a transfer student from the University of Georgia, where he was also active in religious organizations. Ed is majoring in music.

Other officers elected for the remainder of this school year are: 1st vice president, Jean Cannon; 2nd vice president, Barbara Fosssett; 3rd vice president, Loretta Green; secretary, Yvonne Jones; treasurer, Carl Tyson; editor and reporter, Angene Culbreth; extension chairman, Shirley Dykes; historian, Peggy Saturday; music
