

Georgia Southern University

Digital Commons@Georgia Southern

The Inkwell

Student Media

Spring 1-23-2019

The George-Anne Inkwell Edition

Georgia Southern University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/inkwell>

Part of the Higher Education Commons

Recommended Citation

Georgia Southern University, "The George-Anne Inkwell Edition" (2019). The Inkwell. 269.
<https://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/inkwell/269>

This newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Student Media at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Inkwell by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.

The graduating class of 2017 at the Savannah Civic Center. Armstrong.edu.

Commencement ceremony at Paulson Stadium. Flickr.com.

inside:

Page 2- Campus
CorkBoard

Page 4- Commencement Changes

Page 5- Health Professions building opens

Page 6- Savannah
Hockey Classic

Thursday, Jan. 24

Piano in the Arts: Baroque, Romantic, Contemporary

7:30 p.m.
Fine Arts Auditorium
Pianist Daniel Schene has long been known as a consummate artist and a superlative teacher. Having performed throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Asia, concertgoers have come to admire his comprehensive musicianship and formidable technique.

Savannah Browse

11 a.m.-1 p.m.
Student Union
The Savannah Browse gives campus departments, Savannah area businesses and non-profit agencies an opportunity to visit campus and share information about their goods and services with Georgia Southern students, staff and faculty. It is also an excellent opportunity to directly provide our incoming and returning students with knowledge of business, organizations, or department's services within the Georgia Southern and Savannah communities.

UPB Movie Night: Nobody's Fool

7-8 p.m.
Ogeechee Theatre
The University Programming Board (UPB) is hosting their first movie night of the semester qabd screening "Nobody's Fool". There will be free concessions! Students, please bring your Eagle IDs. If you need assistance to access for this event please email us prior to the event.

Friday, Jan. 25

Faculty Lecture Series, "Sustainable Aquaponics Research Center: Striving to Improve the Sustainability of Aquaponics"

12:15-1:15 p.m.
Ogeechee Theatre
Learn about exciting research currently being conducted at the FORAM Sustainable Aquaponics Research Center on the Armstrong Campus of Georgia Southern University. Aquaponics is the combination of fish production (aquaculture) and vegetable production through hydroponics (soilless farming with plant roots directly in water). This form of food production alleviates environmental risks associated with traditional aquaculture and agriculture. While aquaponics has the potential to sustainably feed a growing global population, there remain economical challenges, particularly related to operational costs that impede creation of a sustainable aquaponics industry. Dr. Joesting discusses how aquaponics systems work, the benefits and challenges of aquaponics, and the current projects underway at SARC.

Street Clothes// Fevergreen//Chloe Kay
8-11 p.m.
El Rocko Lounge
El Rocko Lounge in downtown Savannah is hosting a night of various musical acts including Savannah locals, Street Clothes, Chloe Kay, and Evergreen, both of Atlanta, Ga.

Saturday, Jan. 26

2019: Night at the Museum

3-10 p.m.
Savannah History Museum
303 MLK JR. Drive, downtown Savannah
The annual event takes visitors through night guard training and then on a behind-the-scenes tour of the museum. Guests will be able to interact with historic characters from Savannah History Museum's exhibits as they appear to magically come to life. This year's characters include: Casimir Pulaski, Flannery O'Connor, a Central of Georgia Railroad worker, and many more! Tickets are $12 per person and require pre-registration.

Sunday, Jan. 27

Edible Plant Hike

10 a.m.
Fort McAllister State Historic Park
Enjoy a scenic hike with our park Naturalist and learn helpful tricks to identifying edible wild plants in Georgia. We'll be searching for local plants that have medicinal properties, some used for tea, seasonings, and especially ones that could be poisonous. Dogs are welcome but must be kept on a 6-foot leash. Cost: $2 per person plus $5 ParkPass per vehicle. For more information, call the park office at 912-727-2339.

Whale Week Reception and Yoga

1-4:30 p.m.
Oatland Island Wildlife Center
A free mindfulness and yoga session explores the perilous migration of the species at 2 p.m., guided by Dr. Doretha Walker. Loop It Up Savannah will display Right Whale art work made by students and Tybee Island Marine Science Center will discuss artifacts from the whale science community. Light refreshments will be served. Please join us in honoring and protecting Georgia's state marine mammal, as we build the future of our Coastal Georgia heritage.

Monday, Jan. 28

Student Juried Exhibition

Begins at 9 a.m. and continues until Feb. 8.
Fine Arts Gallery
The Fine Arts Gallery will be hosting its first senior exhibition of the semester for graduating art-based majors.

Tuesday, Jan. 29

Speed FITting

11 a.m.-1 p.m.
Student Union
Get ready for Spring Break with speedy advice for a healthier you at SpeedFITting! Join us for free, quick consultations (in the form of "speed-dating") from nutritionists and personal trainers on how to maintain a healthy weight.

SOLD Series Workshop

5:30-6:30 p.m.
Ogeechee Theatre
The Student Organization Leadership Development (SOLD) Workshop Series is designed for any student seeking to develop their individual leadership capabilities and for students who currently or aspire to hold a leadership position within a student organization. This series is an excellent way for student organizations to train their next leaders.

Wednesday, Jan. 30

Stop the Bleed Class

11 a.m.-1 p.m.
Armstrong Student Success Center, Rm. 102
Learn how to save a life! This class will teach you several techniques on how to stop a bleeding emergency.

Thursday, Jan. 31

Science on Tap: Pouring Science Into Our Community

6-8 p.m.
Savannah Coffee Roasters
Dr. Danny Gleason, Professor of Biology and Director of James H. Oliver Jr. Institute for Coastal Plain Science, will present "Spinless Critters: The Backbone of the Ocean" as the featured speaker at the College of Science and Mathematics Science on Tap Lecture Series.

Documentary Film: Black America Since MLK

6:30-8:30 p.m.
The Beach Institute Film Series Presents

Black America Since MLK: And Still I Rise (Part 1)

This series looks at the last five decades of African American history through the eyes of Henry Louis Gates, Jr., exploring the tremendous gains and persistent challenges of these years. Drawing on eyewitness accounts, scholarly analysis and rare archival footage, the series illuminates our recent past, while raising urgent questions about the future of the African American community--and our nation as a whole. Filmmakers include Leah Williams, Leslie Asako Gladsjo, Sabin Streeter and Talleah Bridges McMahon

Last Look: From Monet to Matisse

6-8 p.m.

Jepson Center for the Arts

Monet to Matisse: Masterworks of French Impressionism closes on February 10. Bid the exhibition adieu with this final lecture, "The Impact of Modernity on Impressionist Art," with speaker Dr. Rihab Bagnole. Members free and non-members $8. Pre-registration is required.

Late Bloomer / GirlWithAGreenRibbon / Dollar Signs / Valley Gals

9 p.m.- 12 a.m.
El Rocko Lounge, downtown Savannah
El Rocko Lounge hosts Late Bloomer and Dollar Signs from Charlotte, N.C. and local bands GirlWithAGreenRibbon and Valley Gals.

Pick of the Week

Wednesday, Jan. 30

2019 MLK Celebration

12 p.m.

Student Union

Roland S. Martin visits Armstrong in honor of Martin Luther King Jr. Celebration

The first staff's event "Pick of the Week" aligns with the celebration of Martin Luther King Jr. Day this previous Monday. Renowned journalist Roland S. Martin will be the keynote speaker during the MLK celebration on Armstrong's campus Wednesday, Jan. 30 at 12 p.m. in the Student Union.

Martin is currently hosting and managing the first online daily show #RolandMartinUnfiltered and delves into politics, culture, entertainment and sports from a African American centered perspective.

Martin has earned many accolades throughout his prestigious career including more than 30 journalistic awards and has authored three non-fiction books.

Seeing Martin speak is a must for journalism and writing majors. Students and faculty are encouraged to attend.

Email us at

chief.inkwell@gmail.com

Monday

8:00am to 12:00pm & 2:00pm to 6:00pm

Tuesday

12:00pm to 6:00pm

Wednesday

8:00am to 12:00pm

Thursday

12:00pm to 6:00pm

Friday

10:00am to 12:00pm

Feel free to come in, pitch ideas and give us your opinions on what you want to in the paper.

STUDENT AFFAIRS WEEKLY BUZZ ARMSTRONG & LIBERTY CAMPUSES

FLU SHOTS

AT THE COUNSELING CENTER

MONDAY - FRIDAY | 8AM - 12PM & 1PM - 4PM

Don't let the flu be the reason you miss an important test or event! The CDC recommends that everyone get the flu shot. It's not too late to get yours! Get a flu shot right here on campus.

SERVE 912UESDAY

LEADERSHIP & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

TUESDAYS | 11 AM - 12:30 PM | STUDENT UNION LOBBY

Join the Office of Leadership and Community Engagement for our weekly on-campus service project! Come and learn about ways to get involved in our office, on campus, and in our community from 11:00 a.m. - 12:30 p.m. downstairs in the Student Union.

2019 MLK CELEBRATION

LEADERSHIP & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 30 | 12 PM | STUDENT UNION LOBBY

Award-winning journalist Roland S. Martin will be this years speaker at the MLK Celebration.

SPRING SAVANNAH BROWSE

OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES

THURSDAY, JAN. 24 | 11AM - 1PM | STUDENT UNION BALLROOM

EXTREME CHALLENGE

CAMPUS RECREATION & INTRAMURALS

theinkwell35

Armstrong Inkwell

InkwellGSU

Commencement Changes Spark Controversy

By: Madison Watkins

A student proudly holding up his diploma at the Fall 2015 Commencement ceremony. Armstrong.edu.

“Who came up with this idea?” That question was on the minds of many students and faculty after Georgia Southern University announced the plans for the spring 2019 commencement.

The University announced on Jan. 16 that the spring commencement ceremonies would occur on two days. College-specific ceremonies will take place on Friday, May 10 and the campus-wide ceremony will be held at 9 a.m., May 11, at Paulson Stadium in Statesboro.

The Waters College of Health Professions, College of Education and Jiann-Ping Hsu College of Public Health will honor graduates at individual ceremonies on May 10 at the Savannah Convention Center.

The College of Behavioral and Social Sciences, Allen E. Paulson College of Engineering and Computing, and College of Science and Mathematics will hold ceremonies on May 10 at Hanner Fieldhouse on the Statesboro campus.

The ceremony for College of Arts and Humanities and Parker College of Business will take place on May 11 at Hanner Fieldhouse.

The schedule forces many students to travel to an unfamiliar city and campus for the final days of their college careers.

A petition on Change.org to move the graduations to students home campuses had more than 13,000 signatures at press time.

A FAQ on the Georgia Southern includes the question that so many students are asking: “Who came up with this idea?” The response said that a committee considered schedules at other universities, but no committee members or institutions were listed.

“The George-Anne” listed the members of the committee in that paper’s commencement coverage

•Velma Burden, Registrar, Statesboro

•Wallace Brown, Associate Registrar, Statesboro

•Nichole Booker, Assistant Registrar, Armstrong

•Laura Mills, Associate Vice President for Enrollment Management, Armstrong

•Christine Ludowise, Vice Provost, Statesboro

•James Brawner, Mathematics Department Chair, Armstrong
•Allen Amason, Dean, Statesboro
•Patrice Jackson, former Associate Vice President & Dean of Student Services, Statesboro
•Andrew Dies, Dean of Students & Student Affairs Campus Lead, Armstrong
•Amanda Heinz, Community Affairs Coordinator, Armstrong
•Katie Twining, Associate Vice President for Facilities
•Diana Cone, Vice Provost
•Chris Curtis, Vice President for Armstrong & Liberty Campus Operations
•Amy Ballagh, Vice President for Enrollment Management
•Georj Lewis, Vice President for Student Affairs
•Amy Heaston, Chief of Staff

Five committee members are based on the Statesboro campus and six on the Armstrong campus.

Student Government Association senator Keyshawn Housey told “The George-Anne” that senators were never consulted about the commencement schedule.

The Inkwell reached out to Jennifer Wise, Melanie Simon, President Shelley Nickel, and Provost Carl Reiber, but they had not replied as of press time.

Board of Regents Names Next President of GSU

By: Gabriel Williams

On Jan 17, the Board of Regents declared Dr. Kyle Marrero of the University of West Georgia (UWG) as the next president of Georgia Southern University.

Dr. Marrero’s first day in office will be April 1.

“I am thrilled and honored for the opportunity to become the 14th President of Georgia Southern University,” said Dr. Marrero in a press release from the University System of Georgia (USG).

Dr. Marrero has served as the president of UWG for five years.

According to University System of Georgia (USG) Chancellor Steve Wrigley, Dr. Marrero implemented strategic initiatives to increase student and academic success and strengthened engagement within the UWG community.

UWG also sustained record 4 and 5-year graduation rates and increased enrollment under Dr. Marrero.

“Kyle’s devotion to student success, innovation and growth are evident and will serve Georgia Southern students, faculty and staff well”, said Wrigley in a press release from the USG.

Dr. Marrero has developed partnerships with local companies within the education and business field to better equip students with access to useful resources.

He won the 2015 national award for Innovation and Excellence in the category of Leadership Development and Diversity from the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

He also founded the foundation of the Carrollton/Carroll County Education Collaborative geared to focus on K-16 student success.

Dr. Marrero was recently assigned to lead as chairman of the Steering Committee, which is USG’s Comprehensive Administrative Review. This committee will oversee the evaluation of efficiency and effectiveness of the administrative support service and will support functions for all 26 USG institutions.

Dr. Marrero holds a bachelor’s and a master’s degrees in vocal performance from Bowling Green State University and a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Michigan, respectively.

Because of his background in the arts, he has served as an artistic ambassador for the United States Embassies in 10 countries and as a singer and stage director in 40 states.

Prior to his time with UWG, Dr. Marrero worked as vice president for University Advancement at the University of West Florida.

His obligations included supervising the university’s marketing communications efforts, development and alumni-related activities.

“Dr. Marrero is the right person to lead Georgia Southern University as it continues to expand its footprint into southeast Georgia,” Wrigley also said.

“Kyle’s higher education experience, combined with his focus on strengthening academics and building community partnerships, will be an asset to Georgia Southern’s campus community and the region as a whole.”

A national search for the next president of UWG will be announced later this year.

“Kyle has a passion for community engagement, student success, and the relentless pursuit of academic excellence. I am excited for you all to get to know him,” said Shelley Nickel, Interim President of GSU in an email to students and faculty.

Our new University President Dr. Kyle Marrero. Georgiasouthern.edu.

Dr. Marrero’s first day on the job will be April 1.

Stay tuned to your student email for more updates and information.

Health Professions Academic Building Officially Open

By: Kassidy Fikes

Georgia Governor Nathan Deal, Georgia Southern University President Shelley Nickel and others were present to cut the ribbon for the new Health Professions Academic Building on campus on Jan 3.

The new building is now home to the Waters College of Health Professions (WCHP). Nearby Ashmore Hall was also renovated. Ashmore Hall will now house the health professions staff, respiratory labs and other resources.

The new two-story building, which was budgeted to cost $22 million, is near the Fine Arts Hall on the Armstrong campus.

The new building houses a simulation suite, nursing skills and assessment labs, communication sciences and disorders labs, a cardiovascular intervention sciences lab and many more resources.

The new building will support more than 10 health professions programs. GSU awards provided by WCHP with Georgia Southern's allied healthcare programs, represent almost one-fifth of all undergraduate healthcare degrees earned in Georgia.

"I am very pleased and very proud of the fact that we got this facility built," said Deal. "It's going to provide more training opportunities for students of all ages."

"I think that this is going to be a great recruiting tool particularly for students who are interested in the health professions" - said Nickel.

The college is named for Armstrong alumni and Board of Regents chair Don and Cindy Waters, who donated $2 million to the college in 2017.

President Shelley Nickel and Gov. Deal with others at the Ribbon Cutting Ceremony. Courtesy of Georgia Southern University.

Exterior of new Health Professions Academic Building. Courtesy of Georgia Southern University.

Interior of the new Health Professions Academic building. Alyssa Liefeld.

Club of the Week

This semester, we are trying out a new profile series called Club of the Week! Each week we'll have a brief profile about a club on campus that students can join.

This week's profile is on the Anime Club!

Anime Club (also known as J-PAC- Japanese Pop Culture and Appreciation Club) is for students who are interested in discussing Asian culture, eating different but tasty foods, and of course, anime.

At the beginning of every semester, the club officers and members vote on the different shows they will be watching every week.

The club officers also provide free food and drinks at every meeting. Some of the food and drinks regularly provided are Korean teas, Oreos with eccentric flavor and rice with a variety of seasonings available.

Meetings usually consist of watching an episode of a show and then spending an hour discussing and learning about topics related to that show.

If you are interested in joining Anime Club, they regularly meet at 6 pm on Wednesday nights in University Hall 157.

Anime club officers Brandon Ellershaw, Nathan Insel, Alazay Streeter, Max Huber, and Jamil Petty.

Georgia Tech Wins 20th Annual Savannah Hockey Classic

By: Ethan Smith

The EnMarket Savannah Hockey Classic brought huge crowds with a promise of some fun southern hockey, and the teams in attendance did not disappoint.

For the 20th year in the row, four club teams from the University of Georgia, University of Florida, Florida State University and Georgia Tech came to Savannah to compete for the Thrasher Cup.

At this year's event, Georgia Tech was successful in winning their eighth Thrasher Cup trophy, going 2-0 in the tournament with wins over Florida State and runner-up Georgia.

Both Georgia and Georgia Tech were successful in their victories last Friday, as Georgia Tech up-ended Florida State 7-3 and Georgia defeated Florida 8-5.

Florida State and Florida would meet in the first game Saturday in a Sunshine State showdown. FSU jumped out to a 4-2 lead at the end of the first period of play and the Seminoles continuously answered every UF goal with one of their own.

The Seminoles would take third place in the tournament, defeating the Gators 6-4, finishing 1-1 in the tournament.

The action would shift to the Peach State showdown for the Thrasher Cup between Georgia Tech and UGA. Both teams were very physical from the get-go, which had the sellout crowd on their feet and into the action from puck drop. GT took the early lead, but the Bulldogs answered to tie the game at one a piece.

The Yellow Jackets would score two-unanswered goals to take a 3-1 lead and take complete control on most of the game, but the Bulldogs came within one in the final minutes. Georgia Tech was able to stave off the Bulldogs, winning their eighth Thrasher Cup and preventing a Georgia three-peat.

With hockey being a sport that isn't usually accessible within the regional South, hockey fans from Savannah and even other areas within Georgia clamored for a chance to attend the cup.

The event brought huge crowds to the Savannah Civic Center, and the Savannah Sports Council was very pleased with the turn-out and excitement that came from the fans in attendance.

Savannah used to have its

Georgia Tech celebrates winning its eighth Thrasher Cup. Photo by: Ethan Smith

own hockey team, the Savannah Sharks, but that team has been disbanded for quite some time, and the enthusiasm for the sport has long since resided. The Savannah Hockey Classic has helped to rekindle a dormant passion for Hockey within the Savannah community.

The event, which has been hosted in Savannah since 1999, has always served as an event for fans from numerous colleges to come out and express their passion for their universities and for the sport of hockey.

The event will likely return to Savannah in 2020 for its 21st installment, so keep up with the club's teams for the remainder of their seasons and come out next year if you are a sports fan.

Letter from the Editor

By: Madison Watkins

Hello, Armstrong campus! I am the Inkwell's new Editor-in-Chief (EIC), and I am so excited to take on the spring semester with all of you.

After much consideration and with the encouragement of others, I am excited to be selected as the Inkwell's EIC.

I will continue to uphold the journalistic standards that our publication reveres.

We will continue to do our best to be the Armstrong students' primary news source, ensure all students have a voice and cover a variety of topics. Importantly, we will continue to hold administrators and academic leaders accountable.

That being said, we need your help covering this wide array of topics! Many students feel that we have lost our sense of community since the merger went into effect. I hope that this paper can incite those that wish to revitalize that sense of community to write for the Inkwell and to share their opinions and stories with our publication.

There are so many topics concerning both our school and Savannah that are worth discussing. If there is an issue that troubles you, or you want to talk about an upcoming event that excites you, don't be afraid to reach out!

We will continue to have staff members in the office throughout the week so you can stop by at any time that is convenient for you. If meeting in person is not feasible, you can reach out to us through the emails that are listed online at theinkwellonline.com and in the physical paper.

I have been an Armstrong student since fall of 2015 so I have been present for the glory days of Armstrong and have witnessed the rough transition of the consolidation to Georgia Southern University.

I first started writing for the Inkwell in January 2017 and became the Arts & Entertainment (A&E) editor in January 2018. After working as the A&E editor for two semesters, I am looking forward to taking on the helm of EIC.

I am now a senior. I have been a theatre performance major since the beginning of my studies as a freshman. I added journalism and film minors my sophomore year. All of these subjects blended together have really enriched my student experience.

When I'm not working on news stories or memorizing lines for plays, you can find me watching and/or talking about movies, laughing at memes, listening to audiobooks, reading my Bible, making videos or going to the Baptist Collegiate Ministry (BCM).

If you have any questions, feedback, or story ideas, do not hesitate to email me at chief.inkwell@gmail.com. I will get back in touch with you as soon as I can.

I'm looking forward to what this semester has in store and continuing the Inkwell and the Armstrong legacy.

The Inkwell
Playlist:
Staff Picks

1. Chlorine- Twenty One Pilots
2. El Paso- Marty Robbins
3. Bonfire- Childish Gambino
4. West Coast- Imagine Dragons
5. thank u, next- Ariana Grande
6. Face My Fears- Hikaru Utada
7. A Horse With No Name- America
8. Juke Jam- Chance the Rapper
9. joy. - for KING & COUNTRY
10. you should see me in a crown- Billie Eilish

Abroad	Greedy	Screaming
Abruptly	Heads	Seconds
Agree	Hunger	Slide
Agreed	Images	Spellings
Aimed	Manage	Spend
Alike	Manners	Story
Areas	Masks	Studies
Aside	Minus	Taken
Badge	Multiplication	Third
Birth	Nations	Thorn
Brick	Noise	Transfer
Cheek	Noses	Transparent
Chores	Nosey	Truly
Clubs	Ocean	Tucked
Comic	Older	Uncle
Creeps	Pines	Unlike
Curve	Quacks	Until
Dense	Random	Vacant
Designs	Rates	Yards
Edged	Reduce	Yawns
Ended	Roast
Eskimos	Rolls
Facing	Ruins
Flock	Ruled
Glands	Sadly
Going	Saving

Across

- 1 Clutch
- 6 Raises
- 9 French Sudan,
today
- 13 Side dish in India
- 14 Ely of Tarzan
fame
- 15 Gulf ship
- 16 Packing heat
- 17 Actress Peeples
or Long
- 18 Christopher of “Superman”
- 19 Abandons
- 21 Two bean-shaped
excretory organs
- 23 Low grade
- 24 Prefix with photo
- 25 Choose
- 28 Out of harm’s
way
- 30 Painter’s tool
- 35 Motivate
- 37 Songbird
- 39 1944 Gene
Tierney classic
mystery
- 40 Cork’s place
- 41 Pedigree figures
- 43 Road shoulder
- 44 Derby prize
- 46 Old Italian
money
- 47 Organ knob
- 48 Bouquets
- 50 Feminine suffix
- 52 A.A.R.P.
members
- 53 Perjurer
- 55 German resort
- 57 Theory type
- 61 Went ‘round and ‘round
- 65 Steer clear of

Copyright ©2019 PuzzleJunction.com

- | | | |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 66 Calendar abbr. | 8 Chinese zodiac | 36 Regard |
| 68 Impressive display | animal | 38 “Ol’ Man River” composer |
| 69 Bakery items | 9 Demeanor | 42 More rational |
| 70 Extinct flightless bird | 10 Sheltered, nautically | 45 They can be tossed |
| 71 Recycle | 11 Impose, as a tax | 49 Fall from grace |
| 72 Bygone blade | 12 Ticks off | 51 Start out |
| 73 “Is that ___?” | 15 Tough going | 54 Terrestrial lizard |
| 74 Leg joints | 20 Dabbling ducks | 56 Femme fatale |
| | 22 Off one’s feed | 57 Flying mammals |
| | 24 Airedale | 58 Nobelist Pavlov |
| | 25 Bizet work | 59 Horror film staple |
| | 26 Former | 60 Angler’s hope |
| 1 Sheepskin holder | 27 Trunk | 61 Kind of agreement |
| 2 Hard to find | 29 Go belly up | 62 Test choice |
| 3 Intentions | 31 Applies lightly | 63 The good life |
| 4 Mount with spirit | 32 Twosomes | 64 Henna and others |
| 5 San Diego team | 33 Miscue | 67 Neighbor of Ger. |
| 6 Still-life subjects | 34 Stadium walkways | |
| 7 Polynesian paste | | |
- Down

Crossword by Myles Mellor

Sudoku by Myles Mellor
Hard

Georgia Tech and Georgia lineup for awards after GT wins its eighth Thrasher Cup.

Florida State defenceman Stephen Kuzio accepts player of the match award against Florida.

The Thrasher Cup trophy. Georgia Tech, Georgia, Florida and Florida State compete for every year during the Savannah

Bernard Yount and his friend cheer on the Gators in the Savannah Civic Center.

Georgia Tech and Georgia lineup for a face-off during the championship game.