12 T.C. Students Placed In Who's Who In America

Twelve seniors selected by students and faculty members will be recognized in the 1953-54 volume of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Those were elected are: Mary Helen Altman, Rosemary Ammons, Janice Chastain, Morris Davis, Mary Flanders, Fred Pierce, Johnny Denitto, Tommie Jean Corbett, Yvonne Jones, Marilu Hurt Mills, Christy Trowell, and Gene Roberts.

A brief biography, featuring his or her campus career, will be published about each of these. The students recognized in Who's Who each year are nominated from approximately 650 colleges and universities. They are selected on the basis of scholarship, cooperation and leadership in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to the school and promise of future usefulness.

Mary Helen Altman was selected on the basis of her outstanding contribution to college publications, for scholarship and for active participation in many phases of campus life. She has been editor of the George-Anne and "T" Book, secretary of the junior class, a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Masquers and English Club and an active council member of the Wesley Foundation.

Among the many important contributions of Rosemary Ammons has been her leadership and promotion of the Future Teachers of America, both on campus and in the state. An exact science major from Brunswick, she has been active in many campus organizations, including Masquers, Science Club and Reflector. She is now state president of the Future Teachers of America.

Selected for outstanding leadership was Janice Chastain, past president of the junior class, an officer in Wesley Foundation, associate editor of the Reflector. These are only a few of her noteworthy achievements and contributions through which she has earned the honor of being recognized in Who's Who.

Tommie Jean Corbett, an English major, is an unusual campus leader and personality. She is now president of Masquers and the English Club. Among her many activities is included participation in B.S.U. and prominent roles in many dramatic productions.

Johnny DeNitto has been selected for his extraordinary contribution to music on the campus. He has participated in all phases of musical activities and has been recognized as a brilliant pianist. His promise of future service to his community is certainly great.

Yvonne Jones, an home economics major who is now Miss T.C., is a well-known campus personality. She has been on the Student Council for four years, serving for some time as secretary. She has

Seventeen T.C. Co-eds Selected For Review

Seventeen of T. C.'s best looking co-eds appeared in Sanford Hall lounge last Wednesday night at 10:30 p. m.

The mere appearance of the girls created quite a sensation. Mallie Denmark announced the 17 girls as the boys voted for 12 of them by secret ballot.

Before approximately 200 men and Aunt Sophie the girls paraded one by one. It was originally intended for each girl to make only two appearances, but popular demand brought each girl back the third time.

The girls were escorted back to their dormitories and the Cave Club counted the votes. Man of Sanford Hall have chosen the following 12 campus beauties to appear in the T. C. preliminaries of the Gator Bowl Queen contest: Mary Alice Jones, Bonnie Wren, Joan Coleman, Janel Fields, Marie McKindre, Yvonne Jones, Betty Hendrix, Shirley Dykes, Marzee Richards, Mary Tippins, Patsy

Frosh Election

Larry Evans, of Crawfordsville, was elected president of the Freshman class in a grueling three-day election, which appropriately enough, began on "Rat Day." Others who will assist Larry in the administrative duties of the freshman affairs are: Gene Meadow of Register, vice-president; Lois Hammond of Augusta, secretary; and Lorene Brown, Elderendo, at the post of treasurer.

Alpha Rho Tau Reopen Annual Starlight Club

The Starlight Club, a semi-formal dance sponsored by Alpha Rho Tau, is scheduled to re-open November 21, in the gym.

This dance is annually one of T.C.'s most outstanding social events. Art Club members began making plans for the dance weeks ago. Miss Frieda Gernant and Miss Roxie Remley, Alpha Rho Tau sponsors are acting as advisors, designers, decorators, counselors, artists, are contributing generally in practically all plans. Working on the preparations for the dance is the entire membership of the Art Club and many other interesting students.

Tables will be reserved and all students will be permitted to make reservations. Don King, Alpha Rho Tau president, stated that the reservations fee will be 25 cents "stag or drag." Students not desiring to reserve tables will be admitted free of charge. Only a certain number of reservations will be on sale the week before the dance at a table which will be set up in the dining hall.

The dance will feature, among other things, a bar which will serve mixed drinks (but no alcohol, remember there will be a bouncer) cigarette girls, candle light, music by the T.C. dance band, and the general atmosphere of a night club.

A highlight of the evening will be the floor show. Plans are being made to present some very special entertainment.

Marie McKendree, vice-president of Alpha Rho Tau, is chairman of all the committees working on the dance. The committees are as follows:

T.C. Represented By Music Dept.

Two G.T.C. students and an assistant professor of music are playing this season with the Savannah Symphony Orchestra.

Professor Dana N. King, of the music division, plays the french horn; Gene Frazier, a junior of Atlanta plays the trombone; and Don Flanders, a sophomore, statesboro plays the Tympani.

The trio attends rehearsals in Savannah twice a week, and will play with the orchestra in five concerts this year. The first is scheduled November 16, with Dorothy Warenskjold, soprano, the visiting artist. Chauncey Kelley is the conductor.

Mr. King is the G.T.C. band director and sponsor for the college dance band. The two students are music majors.

Girls Invite Boys To F.T.A. Dance

A new dating angle will be tried Saturday night for the Sadie Hawkins Dance. The girls will ask the boys to come to the dance.

Sponsored by the F.T.A., the dance will begin at 8:00 o'clock Saturday night in the gym.

Music will be played by the combo, with added instruments. The floor is being planned by Shirley Roundtree.

1. Chair and table committee: Don King, Christy Trowell, Robert Hurst, Tim Carson, Charlie Simmons, Charles Grovenstein, and all other boys.

2. Whisky bottle committee: Marie McKendree, Carolyn Branch, Tim Carson, Charlie Simmons, Charles Grovenstein and Don King, chairman.

3. Refreshment committee: Barbara Barineau, Annette Brock, Janice McGoogan, chairman Cherell Williams and Don King.

4. Entertainment Committee: Sylvia Griner, Marie McKendree, chairman; Betty Ruth Folsom, Juanita Dowdy and Carol Thomas.

5. Welcome committee: everyone.

6. Publicity committee: Ann Ramsey, Fey Carter, Carol Thomas, Robert Hurst, chairman; Tim Carson and Don King.

7. Reservation: Jean Watson, Carolyn Branch, Miss Gernant's Art 201 class, Mary Dilworth, Ann Ramsey, chairman.

8. Decoration committee: Juanita Dowdy, Jeanette Wallace, chairman; Shirley Smith, Carol Thomas, Betty Ruth Folsom, Jeanette Dobbs, Robert Hurst, Jimmie Prentice, Don King, and entire Art Club.

There will be a meeting of the club this Monday night at 6:45 in room 1.

Frosh Suffer Rat Day Antics

The stately, dignified halls of G.T.C. resounded raucously Tuesday with the antics pulled on the annual "Rat Day" as masterful upperclassmen set about to thoroughly humble the freshmen.

The "lowly freshmen" theme, cooked up by the older students and fed to the frosh in a day-long diet, stretched from an early morning rising to the finale Tuesday night with "Rat Court" at the Statesboro high school stadium.

Most classes were total losses, schedules were disrupted, and favorite and unfavorite professors fared accordingly. No one was spared in the shenanigans; but the day was fun for one and all.

Freshmen were required to wear their clothes inside out and backwards, with the girls trying their skirts on upside down. Girls wore their hair in 13 pigtailed, and men and girls alike faced the day with the word "Rat" written across their foreheads in bright red lipstick. They were required also to wark up and down all steps backwards, to bow and curtsy to upperclassmen and teachers, and to immediately obey any order, no matter how preposterous, issued by an upperclassmen. Each freshman wore a large onion on a string around his neck and had with him a raw egg upon which he was required to get the autographs of at least twenty of sophomores.

Freshmen girls were ready,

Points Worth Considering

Last week the George-Anne published a public opinion poll on Freshman dating privileges. As you probably noticed, the majority of opinions were in favor of abolishing double-dating but you might have also noticed that a good minority favored double-dating during the Freshman year, or at least the first quarter. The split opinions not only illustrate the complications which are involved in setting up dating rules, but also that the upperclassmen recognize the valuable assets of the present system.

Over the past year, dating restrictions have been eased considerably. The seniors may date any night until eleven o'clock. This is a new rule this year. The juniors may date three nights a week and on weekends. The sophomores two. The freshmen may date once a week and on weekends. These restrictions may sound severe, but in comparison to the year 1951-52, they are much more student conscious, especially the week-end dating.

The George-Anne is satisfied that when conditions permit, dating privileges will be relaxed even more. The consideration of student needs is certainly one of the administration's foremost thoughts, and we are sure that they will be regarded with great consideration.

Opportunity Has Arrived

The opportunity has arrived.

The F.T.A. is sponsoring the Sadie Hawkins Dance Saturday night in the gym which presents to the girls a chance to throw down the barriers of dating control and invite the man of their choice.

The "manet" is the most recommended weapon of seduction for the occasion and the girls should use it to their best advantage.

The George-Anne has decided to give instructions on its use since men are shy game and hard to capture.

First, the prize game should be located and the "manet" erected. To erect the "manet," the girl should wouk up to the boy and ask him for a date. If he shutters, the "manet" should be cast over him and girl should say "I'll see you at eight."

Second, the element of firmness is one of the most vital steps in the use of the "manet" and by all means should be applied with cunning.

The "manet" may be acquired in any female individual, so get one today, and USE IT.

Everyday Philosophy

Our success and failure is determined,

By thinks we cannot sway,

But to succeed, we'll all agree,

That we must pave the way.

This everyday philosophy is unusually true in the life of the college student. There are many things which cannot be changed, but there are many can. Nothing is free, because in some way a person must make himself deserving of success, either by devotion to duty or by contacts with persons favorable to his cause.

No one can say which of these means of paving one's road to success is best. The important thing is to decide which method to take and to pursue it with zeal.

Will you do it now or will you wait and fall by the wayside? NOW IS THE HOUR TO DECIDE.

Rodent's Remark About 'Rats' Day'

By CHINA ALTMAN

The Big Day was ended. It was one o'clock in the early morning. From the paths and walks of the T. C. campus came the faint aroma of many onions.

Suddenly, there was a movement. Then he came—crawling out of the gutter and scampering up to the bench under the street light, a tiny grey rodent with piercing black eyes and a press card in his hat. It was evident that this dynamic character had pressing business.

He was heard reading aloud. He was writing his column for the Daily Squeak:

"Many unusual scenes on the T. C. campus today marked the 1953 celebration of the Festival of the Onion, presented in honor of all Rats.

This occasion was commemorating (first quarter freshmen), who wore onions around their necks on strings for the entire day.

And as a late flash discloses the latest fashion: "For the new look, the smart co-ed wears her clother inside out, upside-down, and backwards. Milady's inspired Coiffure features a striking arrangement with a center part and one side daintly arranged in pigtales while the other is thoroughly greased. Small blue caps, with geometric T decoration, are currently the vogue."

The blue-capped men have participated in a new fad—they have dropped their books and collapsed on the ground at the slightest mention of the word, Air-raid.

Freshmen girls showed an overwhelming interest in dramatics, strolling around the campus all day long, reciting volumes of poetry.

The grand finale was the Ceremony of the Pig, held at the Statesboro Football iFeld. Despite a slightly depressed pig who had an inferiority complex, this gay Pig-Chase by the Freshmen was a great success.

The scene was again quiet.

And lying in the circle of light under the lamp post was a small crumpled blue cap and a ragged onion on a string.

JIM HARLEY

Harley Selected For Personality

For wit and friendliness, you can't beat Jim Harley, this week's personality. As upperclassmen know, and freshmen will find out, he is a demon and a clown on the basketball court.

A junior from Perry, Jim is a physical education major. His sparkling smile has made him a favorite here at T. C. Jim is a member of the "T" Club and Westminster Fellowship as well as first string forward on the varsity basketball squad.

This column is proud to include Jim in the list of outstanding campus personalities featured here.

DON HAMILTON AND JOY HATCHERY are shown engaged in one of the most popular "Rat Day" stunts. President Henderson, by the way was not always the object of these antics.

—Cathy's Column—

Hi, you all!

Well, "Rat Day" sure was it. Just a BIG word of congratulation to the freshmen who are now one of us, and no longer just "rats." You were wonderful!

Oh yes. Ask Mary Tippins to tell the joke she told in the chemistry lab.

Eulita Carter had a fine time last weekend at home, and she says that she is looking forward to another one this weekend.

What do the East Hall girls do in their spare time? Why, crochet rugs, of course! Right now there are over 30 rugs being made in East Hall!

Why do they call Cherrell Williams, "Red" now-a-days? Could it be because of Masquers' initiation the other day?

When I asked Carolyn Johnson what the girls in Lewis Hall had been doing lately, she replied, "No more than we can get out of!"

We seem to have a new two-some on campus—Tim Carson and Betty Lott. Also—Buddy Ward had a good time this weekend with Fay and Shirley Akins!

I have just heard that Larry Evans just loved that "Rat Day!" Robert Young did also! Lawanna didn't, tho!

Kelly—shame on you! Scaring Cherrell with that lizard!

The other day China Altman hit Charles Mobley on the shoulder, and he told her, "Don't touch me. You hardly know me!"

Also, when Charles brought a glass of milk to her table and accidentally touched Cherrell on the shoulder—milk flew everywhere! Charles was heard to comment, "Oh, what you do to me!"

'Here to Eternity' Classed as Great

By ROBERT HURST

"Got paid out on Monday
Not a dog soljer no more
They gimme all that money
So much my pockets is sore
More dough than I can use.
Re-enlistment Blues."

James Jones has reached the peak of greatness in his novel, "From Here to Eternity." No other book, in recent years, has had such impact, vitality, and driving power. It relates with shocking realism the story of our peace time army in Hawaii just before Pearl Harbor.

This story is true, maybe not so much historically, but it is true from the way men think and what men do in situations such as the men in this story went through. Their story is true and the characters created by James Jones live and take possession of the reader and make him take notice—and wonder.

There is the thirty-year man, the "hard-head," Private Prewitt; there is the tough guy, the typical sergeant, Warden; there is the likable little wop, Angelo Maggio. There are also the girls who help make this story live. There's Karen, the captain's wife, and Lorene, the girl who was good to all the boys. These five characters and many more make up the unforgettable story of love and hate, courage and shame, peace and war.

Columbia pictures have just released a picture made from this book starring Montgomery Clift as Prewitt, Burt Lancaster as Warden, Frank Sinatra as Maggio, Deborah Kerr as Karen Holmes, and Donna Reed as Lorene.

Chapel Reminder

A reminder that the regular scheduled assembly of all students will be held in the Laboratory School auditorium on next Monday morning, November 9, at ten o'clock. The program will be in the charge of the Student Council, who will present a cup to the winner of the "Tug of War" event. The Combo will be in charge of the music department. All students are required to attend.

Mike's Team Wins Victory Over Broncos

Monday saw a great day of football in a 14-12 victory by Mike's team over Allen's squad.

Early in the first half ramblers scored a pass from Mike to Pierce. The extra point was made by Mike.

The second and last touchdown for the Ramblers was scored by Pierce on a pass from Mike. The extra scored on a pass from Pierce to James.

The first touchdown for Fat Allen's team came late in the first half. It was made by Herringdine on a 25-yard pass from Evans.

The Bronc's made the second touchdown later in the last half. It was not the Bronc's day because they missed both extra points to lose the game by two points.

During the game Mike completed 8 out of 15 passes while Evans completed 13 out of 25 attempts.

Outstanding players were Pierce for the Ramblers and Herringdine for the Bronc's.

Yard Stick

	Mike	Allen
Gains on passes	123	155
Gains on runs	0	0
Completed passes	11	13
Penalties	0	25

Wednesday's game was a different story.

Lamb's team received the kick-off and kept the ball most of the game. The half time score 12-0, with the Bogies in the lead. Touchdowns were scored by McLode and Lamb.

During the second half, Lamb's team scored two more touchdowns to end the game with a 25-0 victory over the field hands.

Outstanding players were Sammy for the Boogies' and Joe for the Field Hands.

DAVID HARRIS

Harris Is Named '53 Cage Captain

David Harris, six-foot three-inch senior from Canton was selected captain of the basketball team. The lanky forward was chosen by his team mates in secret balloting.

Harris, a transfer from Brewton Parker Junior College, lettered with the Professors last year, and was one of six men on this year's squad eligible for nomination.

G.T.C. 'B' Squad Is Discontinued

Coach J. B. Searce announced that Georgia Teachers College has discontinued its "B" basketball squad for 1953-54.

"We regret having to do this," said the G.T.C. mentor, "But for a number of reasons beyond our control it's necessary to discontinue the 'B' squad."

He added that the few "B" teams games previously scheduled has been canceled.

'53 Cheerleaders Include Two Vets

Carolyn Talley, sophomore of Griffin, and Betty Ruth Folsom, junior of Nashville, are the veterans returning to the cheerleading squad. "The Team that Never Loses." New additions to the group include Shirley Willis, junior from Coron, a M.G.C. transfer; Melba Prosser, Statesboro, sophomore, and Salley Kingman, Dublin freshman.

Ten Frosh Hail From Glenn County

Ten freshmen from Brunswick and the surrounding islands entered T.C. this year, bringing to a total of sixteen the number of students enrolled here from Glynn county.

One-half of the freshmen group are taking the two-year business course. These include Lou Nell Brockington and Dot Hamilton of Brunswick and from St. Simons Island, Phyllis Smith and the twins, Marcia and Barbara Wilkins. Linda Brown, also from St. Simons and Jeanne Shine from Sea Island are majoring in home economics and Libby Ann Martin of Brunswick is working toward a special major in elementary education. There are two boys in this group. Joe Anderson, an industrial arts major, and James Prentice, a physical education major. Joe is from Brunswick and Jimmy is from St. Simons.

Another physical education major from Brunswick is Janice McGoogan. She is one of the Glynn county sophomores along with Marie McKendree, who is a business major. Gene Stallard, a transfer from Young Harris and a major in social sciences is the only junior from Brunswick.

Three seniors, all from Brunswick, finish out the Glynn county crowd. They are Francis Ammons, and English major, and her sister, Rose Mary Ammons, an exact sciences major, and Barry Owens, another English major who is off campus this quarter practice teaching.

been an active member of many other clubs, including Home Economics and B.S.U.

Marilu Hurt Mills, social science major, has made an unusual contribution to art on T.C.'s campus. She is now art editor of the Reflector for her second year. She is vice-president of Kappa Delta Pi and has played many important roles in Masquers productions. She is well-known for her cheerful willingness to use her artistic talents in promoting many campus productions and activities.

Gene Roberts, music major, has been selected on the basis of exceptional contributions to the musical and dramatic life of the campus. He has played several starring roles in plays produced on campus. Students and others have enjoyed his vocal concerts, year after year. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha and many other campus organizations.

Mary Flanders, home economics major, has been an outstanding campus leader, having served as president of the Wesley Foundation for two years and president of the Home Economics Club for her senior year. She held the position of class treasurer in her junior year and is an officer in F.T.A. and an active member of many other clubs.

Fred Pierce, physical education major, was selected because of his important contributions as a campus leader. He is now president of the Student Council and is a former class president. In addition to being an enthusiastic participant in many phases of campus life, he has served as manager of the basketball team, a member of the "T" Club and many others.

Morris Davis, who is graduating this June with a degree in exact science was named to Who's Who for his contribution as an outstanding scholar and musician and for his leadership in Kappa Delta Pi, of which he is president. He is a member of the Science Club and participates in many phases of campus life. He has been an enthusiastic participant in

The Clifton Photo Service will begin making individual pictures of students for the reflector at 8:00 o'clock, Monday, November 9, in West Hall parlor.

A list of appointments is posted on the bulletin board in the Ad. building. All students are excused from classes to meet their appointments and are asked to be on time.

Boys are expected to wear jackets and ties and girls wear skirts and sweaters.

A $2.00 sitting fee is to be paid before picture is taken.

The proofs will be returned two or three days after your appointment. A notice will appear on the bulletin board when your proofs are returned. If you do not make your selection by November 19, the staff will choose them for you.

practically every musical activity or organization during his four years on campus.

Christy Trowell, social science major, has made an unusual contribution to campus life. He is now president of the IRC and is treasurer of the Southeastern Regional I.R.C. His work in lighting and other technical backstage duties was an important factor in the success of many campus productions. He is a member of Masquers and past officer of the Art Club. Christy has shown an unusual devotion to study in his field of social science and great promise of usefulness and leadership in his future communities.

on command, to assume an awkward balance position on one foot and quote a poem, "I'm a Lowly Freshman," and the men were required to fall flat on their faces at an "Air Raid" warning shout from an upperclassman. In addition they were called on to perform certain special acts such as kissing their teachers, going into dance routines, and singing love songs. Many of these were done riotously in classes.

A "Rat Parade" from the G.T.C. campus to downtown Statesboro was a feature of the afternoon activities, but the traditional "Rat Court" was the highlight of the day. Here the freshmen were required to answer for their violations of humility and respect by entering into one-legged races, siamese-twin races, egg-throwing contests, and chasing a greased pig. The most flagrant violators were made to kiss the pig.

Completing the initiation was the "tug-of-war" The freshmen were victors and the program ended with the traditional removal of the rat cap.

Sarah Fletcher, junior from Chula, has been elected by the Home Economics Club as a nominee for the official national 2nd vice-president. Sara will compete with representatives from other college clubs for the nomination from the state.

W.R.A. will meet next Thursday night at 6 o'clock to discuss the volley ball games between T. C. and Armstrong College which will be held in the near future.

The "Cave Club," T. C. journalism organization, has received official recognition from Dean Paul Corroll.

MASQUERS INITIATION

Everyone from Hamlet to Little Abner was turned loose on campus as the Masquers initiation took place last Monday.

Pledges were made to impersonate characters that are familiar to most college students. The impersonation continued throughout the day.

Monday night each pledge gave a short skit of some type. The program ended as the pledges were made full fledged members.
