Meeting the Needs of All Children in a Knowledge and Technological Rich World

Steven W. Edwards
Edwards Educational Services, Inc., steve@edwardsedservices.com

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/nyar_savannah
Part of the Education Commons, and the Social and Behavioral Sciences Commons

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.georgiasouthern.edu/nyar_savannah/2015/2015/55

This presentation (open access) is brought to you for free and open access by the Programs and Conferences at Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. It has been accepted for inclusion in National Youth-At-Risk Conference Savannah by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons@Georgia Southern. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@georgiasouthern.edu.
Meeting the Needs of All Children in a Knowledge and Technological Rich World

National Youth At Risk Conference
Savannah, GA
March 2015
Handouts
Why are we here?
The world is changing at a rapid pace and our schools must adapt to keep pace with these changes. This session will focus on the learning environment that needs to be in place to meet the academic, social and behavioral needs of all children in the 21st Century school setting.
Objective: (Topic(s) presenter will cover/discuss)
Learning dynamics of the 21st Century school
School culture and climate that reflect a new learning dynamic
Shifts that need to take place in the learning environment that support student needs

Goal: (What presenter wants participants to learn)
Participants will learn:
How to adapt their teaching style to meet the needs of the 21st Century student
How to engage students who do not respond to stand and deliver teaching style
How to use technology and higher order thinking and real world learning experiences to meet the needs of the most reluctant learner
Who am I?
A Different Kind Of Restaurant Experience
The Goal is not just to survive, but to THRIVE in a rapidly changing world
“Never, ever, think outside the box.”
Transforming the System (a paradigm shift... of monumental proportions)
Current Mode: Book Based

Content:
- Textbook
- Courseware

Teacher:
- Didactic
- Communicator
- Knowledge Transfer

Learner:
- Receiver
Emerging Model:

Teacher: Facilitator

Content:
- Fluid
- Problem-Based
- Relevant

Learner:
- Strength-Based
- Architect
- Active
- 24/7
Emerging Model 2.0:

Teacher:
- Facilitator

Learner:
- Strength-Based
- Architect
- Active

Content:
- Fluid
- Problem-Based
- Relevant

E-Content:
- internet
- Web
- Video lecture
- Digital Learning
- 24/7
Student Achievement In a Globalized World

• Problem Based Learning (PBL)
  – Provide students the opportunity to demonstrate understanding and build the capacity to global challenges

• Create and Innovate

• Integrate and apply knowledge to real-world problems

• Cross cultural collaboration-working in virtual teams across counties

• All of the above can be enhanced with technology
States of Equilibrium

- Panic Zone
- Growth Zone
- Comfort Zone

States of Disequilibrium

State of Equilibrium
“The achievement of excellence can occur only if the organization promotes a culture of creative dissatisfaction.”

Lawrence Miller
Change
“Change is hard because people overestimate the value of what they have and underestimate the value of what they may gain by giving that up.”

—Belasco and Strayer, Flight of the Buffalo
Children Need To Be Citizens, Not Tourists In Our Schools
The Lost Art Of Free Play
Types of and Process for Student Engagement

Engagement of the Heart

Engagement in School Life

Engagement of the Mind
“Those who do the work do the learning”
Rebecca Edwards

The student should go home tired not the teacher
Engaging Students

Technical Skills

Interpersonal Skills
Paradigm shift
“To do disruptive innovation, you have to be willing to be misunderstood for a very long time.”

-Jeff Bezos, Amzon.com: Innovation, Turning ON innovation in your culture, teams and organizations, Terry Jones 2012.
“Yes, risk taking is inherently failure prone. Otherwise, it would be called ‘sure-thing taking.’”

Jim McMahon
What we don’t address, we accept
The Knowing-Doing Gap
The story of the three frogs
The Thinker and The Doer
Change because you see...