Top stories from January 16, 2020

Welcome back, Eagle Nation, and welcome to The G-A Daily newsletter! Thank you for your present and future readership! Be sure to keep up with us through our social media links above.

Renovated Georgia Southern Museum to reopen this spring

The museum has renovated some of the old permanent exhibits, such as the Mosasaur exhibit, as well as added in a new Human History and Coastal Plains, Georgia exhibit. It will also debut its first dual-language exhibit, featuring Latin American folk art.

Anita Howard speaks on Alexis Brown and staying consistent during program rebuild

Head Coach Anita Howard knows what outsiders see when they look at the Georgia Southern women’s basketball team. They see a 5-10 record and a program rebuilding.

A wild season that ended in defeat: A look back at the Cure Bowl

“They wanted it more than us and they got it,” Head Coach Chad Lunsford said. “They were really well prepared and they beat us.”
Engaging in history

One history professor has his students play a semester-long game to create an exciting learning environment that extends beyond the classroom.

Georgia Southern student selected for gallery show in California

Senior Kimberly Barron created a 50 pound clay ceramics piece for the national juried exhibition "Pretty and Peculiar" hosted in Sacramento, California by the Fey Gallery.

THE GEORGE-ANNE REFLECTOR MAGAZINE

Brunching in the Boro

See Reflector Magazine's top places to brunch in the 'Boro.
Poem: Magic is Molasses

"Instead of begging for a miracle,
Fry it up like bacon in the morning.
Mix it together and make a scramble.
Yell when your toast burns
And always cry over spilled milk."

PHOTO OF THE DAY

Alli Matarrese, special education major, enjoying a book on campus today.
(Click to see full size)

Photo by Doreen Fosco.