HOWELL CONE HALL—Recently completed men's dormitory at T. C. at a cost of $385,000, will be dedicated Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Homecoming Begins Tonight as the Beauty Revue Gets Underway

The second annual Teachers College Homecoming will begin with a beautiful array of beauties that will be presented on the stage of the auditorium tonight at 8:00 p. m. as the eighth annual Beauty Revue gets underway.

Highlighting the Homecoming festivities will be the parade of floats at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning, dedication ceremonies for the recently finished men's dormitory which will take place at 4:00 o'clock the same day, plus a magnificent display of fireworks at the G. T.C. baseball field late that afternoon just before the basketball game with North Georgia College.

The Homecoming parade will consist of 15 floats representing various clubs on the T.C. campus. The theme of the floats will be "Georgia's Heritage."

Dr. Harmon Caldwell, chancellor of the university system, will give the dedicatory address that will officially dedicate Howell Cone Hall. Immediately following the groundbreaking ceremony for the new physical education building, a tea will be held in Cone Hall following the dedication.

Statesboro will salute Collegeboro at 7:00 p. m. with an enormous show of figure fireworks that will take place at the college baseball field. Sponsoring this display is the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Rotary Club, and American Legion.

Other activities taking place Saturday include the registration for the alumni, where they will receive guests meal tickets, from 8:30 to 10:00 a. m.; meeting at 9:15 of the board of directors, G.T.C. Alumni Association; 12:00 o'clock President Zack S. Henderson will give a barbecue near the lake, and after a second meeting of the Alumni Association at 2:00 o'clock that will be open to seniors, the divisions will have "At Home" for returning majors and minors and friends.

High scoring professors will clash with North Georgia at 8:15. At the halftime the winning floats and dormitory decoration will be announced.

A dance sponsored by the senior class of 1954, with music by the college orchestra after the ball game will climax this annual affair.

Following is a complete schedule of the Homecoming activities.

21 Contestants Appear In Eight Annual Beauty Revue

The house lights dim, at 8 o'clock tonight, the herald lifts his trumpet in a fanfare, and the curtains part. Behind those two snowmen is the crystal gate to Winter Wonderland; the entrance to light and gaily, beauty and the fanciful life.

As 21 girls appear in skirts and sweaters they are greeted by those same two "real live" snowmen before they pass through the entrance to the Snow Place and "Winter Wonderland."

That night the girls arrive at the castle with their escorts and are greeted by the doorman as they pass into the glittering halls beyond the doorway.

Later the great door opens again and ten of the most favored bells, those chosen to return, drift down the ramp to leave the castle.

Finally the climax is approached as the curtains part again to unveil five snowflakes in three dimensions. The fifth place winner appears from behind one snowflake and so on until the largest flake moves forward, revolves and displays the "Snow Queen," Miss T. C. of 1954. Now Miss Yvonne Jones, Miss T.C. of 1953 comes forward to crown the new queen and the curtain slowly closes on the eighth annual Beauty Revue.

In the order of their appearance are: Frank Willis, Herald; Mr. Roy Powell, Master of Ceremonies; Charles Mobley and Max Estes, snowmen, and Gene Roberts, doorman.

The committees who have labored long and hard on the various aspects of the revue include; set design, Shirley Dykes, Jeanette Wallace, Fey Carter, Janice McGoogan and Mary Frances Cox. The set construction committee included many members; Don King, George Kemp, Buddy Faulk, Marie McKendree, Jeanette Wallace, Fey Carter, Charlie Grovenstein, and members of art classes.

The script was written by Cherrell Williams, Carol Thomas, Fey Carter, Charlie Grovenstein, and Shirley Dykes designed the program covers.

Shirley and the other members of the art 205 class were in charge of publicity.

Ann Barry and Betty Altman selected the award to be presented to the winner.

The entrants in order of appearance and their escort and sponsoring club are as follows:

Shirley Dykes—Carlos Hand, Philharmonic Choir; Mary Alice Jones—Jim Harley—Georgia

East Hall Girls Experience Curfew

A restriction placed on all girls residing in East Hall was lifted just six after hours after the curfew had been imposed on the girls at noon of last Monday.

Restriction action was a result of a series of thefts according to Miss Ida Long Rogers, dean of women, small objects, mostly small sums of money, had been stolen from time to time. Most of the missing objects were missed from west end (near the dining hall) of the dormitory, but very little complaining was done because it was on first floor and a possibility existed that students from other dormitories could have taken the objects. But the incident setting off the restriction occurred on second floor.

The restriction was handed down through the East Hall House Council, although the suggestion came from the dean of women's office. Miss Rogers said it was suggested to the house council to use, if they deemed it necessary and thought it was the proper action. The occurrence was $16.00 missing by Carol Thomas, Waycross, in the earlier part of last week.

Revision of the restriction was at 6:00 o'clock Monday night. It was lifted due to the tremendous amount of work that must be done on the Beauty Revue and Homecoming floats. The house council handed down the latter decision after a meeting Monday afternoon where they discussed the possibilities of permitting some individuals to prepare for the weekend activities.

Objective of the house council was to retrieve the stolen material, not to try to catch the taker of the missing object, by applying social pressure. The process has worked twice previously but this time it was fruitless.

DR. HARMON CALDWELL, Chancellor of the University of Georgia System, will make the dedicatory address at the dedication of Howell Cone Hall Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Tyson's Type

We the residents of Collegeboro welcome you to the area which, at some interval, was your home.

A place where you experienced heights of pleasure and depths of sorrow. Here on T.C.'s campus you acquired life long friends and enemies in the same respect.

Since your departure from Collegeboro, changes have been made. Changes have been made in campus appearance, in the interior of the various buildings, the construction of new buildings, change in school policy and a change in types of degrees offered.

On the whole it has been a slow process evolving from day to day. This process was undoubtedly underway while you were a student. Each year it will grow bigger and bigger; each year we will be prouder of the institution.

This weekend will be the most thrilling and enormous one for T.C. 1954. We want you to be a part of it.

Again we say welcome alumni.

Vision of Saint Valentine

Probably each of us, if we were asked to describe our vision of Saint Valentine, and there really was such a fascinating man as you should know, we think immediately of cupid, that fascinating little fellow with a bundle of arrows and a head full of very interesting notions. But, unfortunately for the romantic atmosphere of the story, Saint Valentine was a martyr of the 3rd century. The people long ago believed that on the 14th day of February birds began to mate. This day was also a religious celebration to Saint Valentine, and his name has come to mean love in bloom. However, we are sure that Saint Valentine wouldn't have approved of cupid, at all, because he was a Christian martyr, and cupid was a pagan deity of Greek mythology. His mother, Aphrodites (Venus if you were a Roman) was the goddess of love and her son has the reputation of being a mischievous fellow with a deadly aim. In fact, though people don't trust him anymore than they do, they still get in the way of his weapons, which give the same results as our atomic explosion, as the students on T. C.'s campus can prove.

It's Not So Bad

Wonder if we stop to think how contradictory are the things said about our meals in the dining hall. Last Monday night, because someone didn't like every tiny bite on their tray, she was heard to remark, "They must have fixed this supper to punish the East Hall girls." The same person at other times has praised the food served in the dining hall. We have, without a doubt, one of the best dining halls in the state. The food has to be fixed in tremendous quantities at one time to serve us all in an hour, but even our own mothers couldn't do better with this problem than Mrs. Melton and Miss Annie.

If you are looking for the bad things, you'll find them, the carrots and other vegetables aren't always very hot, the meat like steak and ham are sometimes hard (we really enjoyed that broiled steak last week). But there are plenty of good points: Hot rolls and plenty of butter, good desserts, (even though we would like to have Danish pudding again), plenty of milk, and we know the variety of breakfast can't be beat. We have talked to students from Milledgeville and South Georgia, Middle Georgia, and other schools; we have eaten at the University, Wesleyan, University of Florida, and so far no school is any better than ours when it comes to food.

American Guild Of Organists Only at G.T.C.

Up until last year the chapter of the American Guild of Organists of Georgia Teachers College campus was the only college guild in Georgia. This guild was established December 2, 1948, with eight members, but the membership has been kept at or below the original, because only piano students of exceptional ability are eligible to take organ. So far there have been about 28 members in all including this year's membership of five. Faye Lunsford is the dean and Johnny Denitto is the secretary-treasurer combined for this school year. Since its birth the Teachers College guild has done much commendable work for the school. They have sponsored four organ concerts. Richard Elsasser in '51 and '52, Robert Rhodes in '43 and Carl Weinrich last week. This sponsorship took a lot of spunk because these artists cost them a lot and there was no one to back up the guild if they lost money.

The guild has monthly meetings at which they study organ, church music, the building of an organ and electronic organs. They have visited Savannah to see different types of organs there. It is in fact one of the best organizations on campus.

Ernest Vandiver Tells Students Of Civil Defense

Maj. General Ernest Vandiver, state adjutant general and director of civil defense, told the T.C. student body Monday he "hopes and prays" the funds spent on civilian defense will be wasted money, but warned that "we must be ready at all times in case of an atomic attack."

Civil defense, he said, begins at home, and every citizen should first learn how to protect himself and then learn how to help others.

The speaker, who was introduced by Dr. Fielding Russell, chairman of the division of languages, pointed out that Statesboro itself would probably never be the victim of an enemy attack, but he warned that the college is near several of the 92 designated target areas in Georgia.

He cited first aid, home nursing, ground observed corps, and the refugee program as four important fields of civilian defense in which the average citizen would be of service in the overall defense program.

Seaman Williams, Statesboro attorney and Bulloch county defense director, was present and was introduced to the students by President Zach S. Henderson.

T. C. Marches On

This is a collection of the outstanding accomplishments, feats and changes T.C. has experienced during the past school year. They are presented in the order they occurred.

Newest addition to the campus is the nursery, located near the gymnasium, in which a child development class is taught. The nursery has a capacity of 12 children. Ten T.C. students are taking the course this quarter.

That students at T.C. are better than average according to the college scholastic standards made by the administration. The report shows that 86.6 per cent of grades issued was for "C" or better. "A" accounted for 15.3; "B" for 36.4; "C" for 34.6 per cent.

James A. Hart, exchange teacher from England seems very well adjusted to Collegeboro. Teaching four classes in the Laboratory High School, he finds the climate warmer than windy England.

Kelly Powell and Muff Martin were the only members initiated into the "T" Club in the fall.

Masquers selected "Ladies of the Jury" as the fall quarter production, with Barbara Fossett getting the leading roles as Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane.

Sanford Hall sponsors T.C.'s first sock hop. The decorations consisted mainly of socks and a small combo of the T.C. band provided the music.

A new club was formed and given the name of "Cave Club" primary aims of this club was to promote journalistic interest on the campus, particularly the school paper.

Georgia Teachers College, runner-up in last year's Gator Bowl Tournament was again invited to return to the tournament. This is an annual affair and was played at Jacksonville Junior College.

T.C. was invited to enter a contestant in the Gator Bowl Beauty Contest. The Cave Club sponsored the affair.

Tuesday morning, November 3, all Rats on campus were rudely awakened by the sophomores. The cold morning light marked the beginning of "Rat Day" 1953.

Twelve persons were selected for Who's Who in American Colleges. Those selected were, Rosie Ammons, Christy Trowell, Tommie Jean Corbitt, Johnny DeNitto, Mary Helen Altman, Morris Davis, Yvonne Jones, Janice Chastian, Mary Flanders, Marilu H. Mills, Fred Pierce and Gene Roberts.

The Starlight Club, a semi-formal dance sponsored by the Alpha Rho Tau proved to be, as it has in the past, one of the outstanding dances of the year.

Miss Janel Fields of Portal was selected Miss T.C. Gator Main of 1953. The alternate was Miss Patsy Edenfield, also of Portal. Both were freshmen.

Highriding, high scoring Professors placed second in the Gator Bowl Basketball Tournament. In doing so T.C. broke four records. The most points scored in game by any team (101) and Chester Webb 6' 6" center, from Elberton, set a new individual scoring record of 31 points in one game. The team also scored more points in the three game tournament than any other team bucketing 296 points.

Another record was broken by Chester Webb, this being the 59 points for the highest number of points scored by an individual in any three-game Gator Bowl Tournament.

The eighth annual Beauty Revue will be presented February 12 in the college auditorium by the Art Club. There are 21 entries for the much sought after title of Miss T.C. The theme of the beauty revue of 1954 is "Winter Wonderland."

T.C. Professors had a good night in swamping Mercer 81-64 in one of the big games of the year.

The new seats and general face lifting of the auditorium was completed this quarter.

T. C. Marches on.

Find Yours

Some students are attending college in order to better prepare them for life in the future. There are some, however who are in college simply because they feel that their family owes them an education. These are the people who are at school to be party boys or good-time joes. These are the people who originate the disturbance in the dormitory that keeps those who have worked so hard for a chance at higher education from being able to concentrate on the much sought after knowledge. Those who do not care about learning should have consideration for those who are labouring for the much sought after book learning. Immature people who thrive on childish pranks, and those who come to college merely because Mama and Papa could afford it have no place in college. There is a place for every caliber of person. Find yours!

Professors Maintain More Wins than Losses; Webb Leads in Scoring

The Professors are (excluding Thursday night's game) sporting a spotty 13 won, 12 lost record. Four of these losses have come since the loss of guard, Horace Belflower, who sustained a sprained ankle against the Rollins team.

Although this record does not live up to the expectations there has been at least one bright spot in the picture as the T. C. squad copped second place in the Gator Bowl tournament in Jacksonville, Florida during the Christmas holidays. In winning second place the Professors won convincing victories over two S.E.C. teams as they defeated Georgia Tech and University of Florida squads, only to lose an upset game to the University of Georgia five 80 to 69. Center, Chester Webb, and guard, Horace Belflower, were placed on the all-tournament first team.

The Professors have amassed a total offense of 1,819 points for a 79.1 per game average. They have scored past the century mark twice winning 108 to 88 over Rollins and 101 to 81 over Georgia Tech.

The opposition has hit the nets against the Professors for a total of 1,766 points and a 76.6 average per game. Parris Island, Quantico, and Mississippi Southern have scored victories over the Teachers in which they scored past the 100 mark.

Chester Webb, 6' 6" center, from Elberton, has paced the T.C. scoring throughout the season with a total of 447 points and a 19.5 average per game.

Teachers Suffer On Road Trip

The Cage Professors of Georgia Teachers College suffered one of their most unsuccessful road trips of the season as they lost all three games to the opposition in Alabama and Mississippi.

In the first game of the trip the Professors were beaten by the Troy State Team from Troy, Alabama, by a 76 to 62 margin. The Professors grabbed a 15 to 13 first quarter lead but were unable to hold it as the Troy team gained a 39 to 33 half-time lead. The scoring for the Professors was led by Chester Webb as he hit the nets for 16 markers. David Harris followed closely with a 14 point total. The Troy team was led by Bobby Ross with 13 points with Hilyer and Wilkenson each contributing 11.

In the second game of the three-game road series the Mississippi Southern five amassed a total of 103 to the Professors 85 as they annexed the win. The game started at a fast pace as the Professors were on the short end of a 56 to 41 half-time score. The Mississippi team, led by Revon and Harrington with 26 and 23 respectively, went on to win by a 103 to 85 score. The T.C. effort was led by David Harris who sank 19 points followed by Jim Harley who had 18 and Boney Phillips with 16.

The Professors lost the final game of the road trip into Alabama by a 76 to 64 score. The game was close throughout the first half with the Spring

Hill quintet leading at half by a 30 to 25 margin. Led by forward, Mahfooz, the Spring Hill five added to this lead in the second half and went on to win by a 76 to 64 margin. Howard Warren led the Professor scoring effort with a 17-point total, followed by Chester Webb and James (Peabody) Denny with 13 each.
