GEA Presidents Discuss APEG For 1st District

President Zach S. Henderson, local GEA President George A. Rogers, various local high school GEA presidents, and a number of principals from the First District met Monday afternoon at the Laboratory High School to discuss the Adequate Program of Education for Georgia.

This meeting of key education people was to make preparations for and get their reactions to the APEG program.

In an interview, Dr. Rogers stated the objectives of the APEG which was the item of interest at the meeting. He said the objective are manifold, being mainly (1) to reduce the teaching load (thereby giving students better opportunities and providing more teachers), (2) to develop a curriculum which will better meet the needs of high school students who will enter adult life directly from high school, (3) to increase salaries, thereby making the teaching profession more capable of attracting and holding better teachers, (4) to improve transportation facilities for the consolidated schools, and (5) to improve administrative expenses so that principals, superintendents and other administrative officials will be better equipped with clerical aids, better facilities and the like.

Discussing the accomplishments of the meeting, Dr. Rogers said, "We were told that late this month a study guide for each local high school system will be distributed by the GEA. These are to be used in an inventory conducted jointly by the school staff, parents, and other interested citizens, to determine the individual school's need and how they will go about fulfilling their needs."

In order to finance this program, the GEA Board of Directors has asked each local unit president to solicit a voluntary contribution of three dollars from each member.

"Faculty members of GTC, beware," says Dr. Rogers, "I'll be around to see you right after pay day."

BAPTIST STUDENT Saturday Chosen Student of Month

Peggy Saturday, Collins, has been chosen Baptist Student of the Month. Peggy, a senior majoring in elementary education, is former president of the Baptist Student Union, Elementary Education Club, West Hall Dormitory Council, and the Student Christian Association. She is now first vice president of the Georgia Baptist Student Union. She was recently chosen "Sweetheart of BSU" at GTC.

THE COLLEGE now has materials for lighting one of the tennis courts, but labor is not available for the job. Donald O. McDougald, comptroller, stated that he is looking for volunteers to do the job which will probably consist of welding iron pipe into crossbars and attaching reflectors for the lights. The pipes will be placed in the ground by the maintenance department. Instructions have been given for three floodlights to be attached to the bathhouse at the pool; however the opening for night swimming will have to wait for warmer weather.

BSU Members Planning Annual Spring Retreat

All students are invited to the annual BSU Spring Retreat at Bessie Tift, April 23-24, as announced by Jean Cannon, president of BSU.

A registration fee of $1.00 will be charged.

Dr. Roy O. McClain, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Atlanta, will speak on the theme of the meeting, "Ye Are My Witnesses."

Dr. William Hall Preston, of the Department of Students Work, and Mrs. Frank H. Leonell, also of the Sunday School board, are two other main speakers.

Jean asks all BSU members to meet in the art room of the Administration Building Monday, 7 p. m. to construct some props which will be used while on the retreat.

TC Library Gets Five Daily Papers

The serials department of the GTC Library, which subscribes to five daily papers, 10 weeklies and 265 other periodicals, has nearly finished a complete inventory.

This inventory has made possible the binding of about 400 more volumes, with several hundred more waiting funds for binding. A large number of volumes can't be bound because of missing copies, but there are duplicates in many many other volumes. These duplicates are being gophered to Georgia libraries to complete their periodical sections, but will be discarded if not disposed of in this way, according to Miss Grace Cooper, serial librarian.

'Parent's Day' Set Sunday, April 25, As All-Day Affair

"Parents' Day" will be observed on the campus Sunday, April 25, with hundreds of GTC parents here for an all-day program.

Although the administration has issued letters of invitation to the parents, the students are also urged to write personal notes to their families asking them to attend as guests of the college.

The day's schedule calls for the parents to arrive at 10:30 a. m. For the next 45 minutes an informal social hour will be held in the dormitories, giving the guests a chance to become acquainted. At 11:45 a. m., a special Sunday service will be held in the college auditorium. The sermon will be delivered by Tom Cottingham Jr., Douglas, a Methodist layman, who has been very active in work with youth groups and youth assemblies. President Zach S. Henderson will preside. Special music for the service will be presented by the philharmonic choir. At 12:30 p. m. a picnic lunch for parents, faculty members and students will be served down by the lake, giving parents and faculty a chance to become acquainted. 'Treat 'em' on Parent's Day

Who made it possible for us to come to college? Our parents. In one way or another, most of us by finances, all of us by encouragement, and all of us by giving to us a proper mental environment, instilling in us a desire to do better.

Sunday, April 25, is the beginning of an annual event dedicated to our parents. This event was developed to first, let our parents see what we are getting at college and secondly, to share with us on this day some of the enjoyment of college life. The later reason is probably the most important and it is the one we shall consider.

"Parent's Day" can be enjoyed by our parents only if they are here. It's our duty and privilege to invite them to be here with us. After they are here, we must make it enjoyable for them. We must set the right atmosphere. We must show them around, show them our interest on campus, our work, and where most of our time is spent. They want to know and they'll receive immeasurable pleasure from it. The program is only the outline, we must supply the meat of the entertainment.

Let's make this event a success. Let's invite our parents and see that they enjoy the day. It's our privilege for enjoyment too!

Gather While You May

Once, there were two men who traveled together through forsaken desert. While on the journey they noticed a huge quantity of odd, glittering stones in a specific spot. They gathered some of the stones without thinking of their future usefulness.

Upon reaching their destination the men discovered the stones were diamonds. They tried to retrace to the spot where they had acquired the valuable objects, but it was a search in vain.

One of the men had gathered more diamonds than the other. The one with the lesser wealth wailed about his misfortune and the more fortunate man simply stated he wished he had gathered more.

That is the situation existing in our colleges today. While we make the long journey through college little is the realization of the future. We are in the midst of materials that will be invaluable to us in later years, but to come back and find them will be impossible. They will be lost forever.

TC could be the representative desert, you one of the travelers, and the diamonds the education by this institution. The destination your future life in society.

When you reach this destined time will you be the one of lesser wealth or the more fortunate person?

Why Not After Classes?

It is spring again and the grass is growing. In order for the campus to be kept neat the grass has to be cut. This is done at TC with a grassmower.

The mower is not an unusual machine, but it is quite a noisy one.

Classes are disturbed numerous times during the spring and summer quarters by this noise maker. Instructors are forced to yell at the top of their lungs so students may hear them. Especially in the morning part of the day.

During these seasons of the year the days are long enough for the grass to be cut after class hours.

Why couldn't this task be done after class hours eliminating the battle between the professors and the mower?

MISS ELLA JOHNSON VISITS HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Ella Johnson, instructor in the English division, will attend the College Day program at Elberton High School on April 15.

A safe and promising polio vaccine is being studied now. Hundreds of thousands of children in the primary grades are taking part in tests to prove its effectiveness. After completion of the tests in early June, this vaccine will not be used again in 1954. There will be none of it for anyone else this year.

Only children in counties selected by State Public Health officers and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis could be included in the tests. Not all of them received the vaccine, but the health records of all these children are important to the vaccine study.

After the 1954 polio season is over, a count will be made of polio cases which may occur in the test areas among children who received the vaccine and among those who did not. A comparison will show whether children who received the vaccine actually were protected when polio came to their neighborhood. The results will not be known until sometime in 1955. Until scientists declare this vaccine to be effective, it will not be produced for general use.

This vaccine study is financed by the March of Dimes at a cost of $7,500,000.

ABOUT GAMMA GLOBULIN

The quantity of gamma globulin for polio will be tripled in 1954. To make this possible, the national foundation will purchase supplies costing $19,000,000 and turn them over to the federal government for distribution. But there is still not enough for all the nation's children. In 1954, it is officially recommended that GG be used only in group inoculations in places where polio is occurring. This means groups larger than a family, such as neighborhoods, schools and camps. Your State Public Health officer will decide when, where and to what groups it shall be given.

In the polio vaccines test areas, GG will not be used for the important reason that this would interfere with proving the value of the vaccine. The only exceptions recommended will be use of GG for the control of measles and hepatitis and in unusual circumstances where the State Public Health officer decides that its use will not affect the vaccine study.

Remember—gamma globulin is not a vaccine. It can give only temporary protection against polio. Scientific tests have shown that it is 80 per cent effective when given sufficiently early to all children in an area where an epidemic has started. Until the effectiveness of the vaccine has been proved, GG is the only available protection against polio.

ABOUT PRECAUTIONS

Although a vaccine is being tested and GG will be available in increased amounts this year, we must expect polio cases again in 1954. Here is what you can do if polio comes to your community.

1. Keep children with their usual companions; don't take them in crowds.
2. Avoid fatigue and chilling. This means adults, too.
3. Follow your doctor's advice about mouth and throat operations.
4. Teach children to wash hands carefully before eating and after going to the toilet. Don't use another's soiled towels, dishes or tableware.
5. Tell your doctor if these symptoms appear: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back. Put sick person to bed promptly.
6. Remember—at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.
7. Get in touch with your local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis if you need help for a polio patient.

HOW TRIAL VACCINE DIFFERS FROM GG

The trial polio vaccine now being tested by health authorities for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis holds the hope of long-lasting protection against paralytic polio.

The trial vaccine consists of all three known types of polio virus. They have been killed by chemical treatment, yet are capable of stimulating the body to produce polio-fighting antibodies. The field trials will determine if the amount of antibodies provides protection against paralysis and, if so, for how long.

Gamma globulin, used for mass inoculations last summer in 23 polio-stricken areas, is a fraction of pooled human blood that contains polio antibodies. GG offers only a short-term loan of someone else's polio-protecting antibodies. This acquired protection disappears after about five weeks.

Unlike an effective vaccine, gamma globulin is unable to "spark" the body's antibody mechanism into building its own more enduring defense against disease.

Gene's Gab

By GENE MEADOWS

Let it not be said that there is no athletic activity on the campus of Georgia Teachers College. Currently there is enough activity going on to keep that perennial plaque, spring fever, away from everybody.

The sport that seems to be drawing the most attention at the present time is softball. The boys don't seem to be getting enough of it in their physical education classes, so they have scheduled a game every night at 6:15 p. m. with the different classes each having a team. If you don't have anything to do at this time, why not drop down behind Cone Hall and watch the boys perform?

There seems to be quite a bit of activity going on at the tennis courts. As a matter of fact, you can hardly get a court to play on unless you get there plenty early. More interest in this activity will be created by the tournament which is coming up soon, and also there will soon be lights on the courts which will make night tennis possible.

We have a few candidates for a polar bear club membership on the campus too with all these people who are disregarding the chilly weather and going swimming anyway. The pool is now open every day and will be open at night when weather permits, so all of us will get a chance to "cool off" on those sultry days that are coming up soon.

The biggest attraction of all though is the baseball professors, sporting a 7 won 1 lost record as this goes to the press. The squad is now on a road trip to Mercer and Florida State University. Vondall Hall is leading the pitching for the Professors with a 4 win no loss record, not including the games on the current road trip. Let's show the team our appreciation for their efforts by filling the stands when they play on campus.

Professors Win Over North Georgia Twice

Georgia Teachers College baseball team won the opener of a double header Saturday, beating North Georgia 3-2 in an eight inning game.

The game was scheduled for seven innings since it had been rained out on Friday. It was the third straight game the Teachers have won in extra innings.

With the North Georgia nine leading 2-1 going into the bottom of the seventh and final inning, right fielder "Ace" Little singled. Potts came through with a single putting Little in scoring position. Pitcher Vondall Hall then proceeded to tie things up with a single which scored Little.

In the bottom of the eighth, Jimmy Ford singled. "Bo" Warren beat out a sacrifice bunt for a hit sending Ford to second, and put Warren on first. Kelly Powell sacrificed Ford to third and Warren to second. Ferrell Sparks laid down a bunt to squeeze in Ford with the winning run.

Freshmen — Team manager, Artie Richards; assistant Albert Bacon.

For Hall it was his fourth win against no losses. Hall went the full eight innings giving up only three hits. For the Professors, it was the sixth win in seven starts.
