Africans in America presentation March 31

February 26, 2021

GEORGIA SOUTHERN UNIVERSITY
AFRICANA STUDIES

AFRICANS IN AMERICA

This event is sponsored by the Center for Africana Studies, the Department of History, and the Department of Political Science.

Rising immigration levels, globalization, and the United States' first African American president have all sparked new dialogue around the question: What is an "African American" and how does this identity relate to the African continent? Join us as Dr. Nemata Blyden of George Washington University provides an introduction to the relationship between African Americans and Africa from the era of slavery to the present, mapping several overlapping diasporas.

Dr. Blyden will examine the diversity of African American identities through relationships with region, ethnicity, slavery, and immigration to investigate questions fundamental to the study of African American history and culture.

MARCH 31 | 5:30 PM | FREE | OPEN TO THE PUBLIC
