GTC Enrollment Rises Up Above Last Quarter

Georgia Teachers College's winter quarter enrollment of 598 students exceeds by 15 the figure for the previous quarter and marks the third time in the history of the school that such a situation has occurred.

Returning veterans in the two years following World War II hiked the winter quarter enrollment above that of the previous quarters, but the increase has not happened before in a normal year.

Miss Viola Perry, registrar, and other college officials believe this increase heralds the general expected trend of increased enrollment in schools and colleges for the next few years.

The registrar pointed out, however, that the increase this quarter does not represent a record in college enrollment, merely an increase from one quarter to the next. GTC's biggest enrollment was in the summer of 1950 when 1,104 were registered, she said.

Sixteen of the 583 students enrolled during fall quarter completed their work for graduation. Forty-nine others dropped out of school. Eighty new students registered January 3, however, to push the new total over the fall mark.

Of the 80 new students entering GTC, 53 were men, providing a substantial gain in men students equalizing to a greater extent the man-woman ratio. Although at one time there were two women per man on the campus, the new enrollment shows 289 men and 309 women.

A breakdown by classes lists 208 freshmen, 147 sophomores, 139 juniors, and 104 seniors.

The GTC enrollment includes two foreign students, one from Germany and one from Cuba.

Guild Receives Manuscript Gift

The GTC Organ Guild has received as a gift a 330-year-old original music manuscript from the manager of the music department of the Clark-Brewer Teacher Agency in Chicago.

Jack Broucek, faculty advisor for the local guild and president of the Savannah Organ Guild, says the old manuscript was originally a page from a large altar book of Spanish origin and that it might be more valuable than is apparent. He says that marks on the hand-lettered sheet indicate that the parchment might have been used earlier than the present verified date of 1585. He explained that back in the fifteenth century and earlier, parchment sheets were sometimes reused, after the lettered symbols previously written were scraped off.

The manuscript comes from the estate of Charles Lutton Sr., who was at one time national secretary-treasurer of Phi Mu Alpha.

X-Rays Slated For Students

A mobile health unit will be on campus next Monday and Tuesday to take chest x-rays of all students and faculty members. These x-rays are required of all students and if they are not made at this time they must be taken later at the individuals own expense.

Library Reports On Use of Books

Books totaling 3,763 were checked out of the library by students during fall quarter, according to a report submitted by the faculty by the circulation desk in the library.

Only 357 of these books were fiction. The highest number of books, 1,025, checked out were those pertaining to social science. When averaged, each student checked out approximately six books.

Also, there were 129 pamphlets and 18 film strips checked out, and 1,185 reserved books were used.

The circulation totals for the faculty for fall quarter were 451 books, seven pamphlets, and 69 film strips.

Films checked out by students and faculty totaled 881.

Methodist Plan Special Program

GTC Night will be observed at the Statesboro Methodist Church this Sunday at the regular 7:30 evening service. This program will feature several college students and will be followed by an hour of fun, food and fellowship for all, given by the ladies of the church.

These special features will be preceded by the regular Wesley Foundation Forum Hour. The bus will come by the dormitories at 6:20 and 7:15 for these services and at 10 and 11:15 for Sunday School and the morning worship.

Emma Jean Brock, senior, Climax, has been made vice-president of the Wesley Foundation to succeed Midge Bentley, senior, Talapoosa, who is student teaching in Glennville this quarter. Fred Lenfesty, associate professor of education has replaced W. S. Hanner, chairman of the division of exact science as faculty sponsor of that organization.

Famous Comedy Production Set For January 27

A cast of 14 GTC students is slated to delight a Collegeboro audience next week in a Masquers production of the Kesselring light comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

The play, which has been applauded time and time again throughout the country on stage and screen, is scheduled for two performances—a matinee Wednesday, January 26, at 1:10 p. m. and an evening performance the following night at 8.

Darwin Humphrey, Vidalia freshman, who made his college debut in the fall quarter production, "Idylls of the King," takes the lead male role as Mortimer Brewster who tries to untangle the complicated problems of his two aunts who have a habit of "comforting" lonely old men by putting arsenic in their wine. A half dozen other comic characters support the Brewster family and provide laughs and complications to the plot. Among them are Teddy Brewster, who believes himself to be Teddy Roosevelt, and his brother, Jonathan, an escapee from an asylum for the criminally insane.

The cast includes, besides Humphrey, Lorene Brown, Eldorado, as Abby Brewster; Joel Cooper, Thomasville, as Dr. Harper; Stanley Brobston, Baxley, Officer Brophy; Bob Priestly, Pittsburg, Pa., Teddy Brewster; Hans Kittel, Germany, officer Klein; Nan Waters, Savannah, Martha Brewster; Fayrene Sturgis, Statesboro, and Diana Bair, Pelham, (alternates), as Elaine Harper; Donald Waugh, Huntington, W. Va., Mr. Gibbs; Tab Smith, Daisy, Jonathan Brewster; Jimmy Johnson, Augusta, Dr. Einstein; Cliff O'Neil, Martinez, Officer O'Hara; Johnny Purser, Statesboro, Lt. Rooney; and Carlton Humphrey, Milledgeville, as Mr. Witherspoon.

Miss Dorothy Few, speech instructor, is directing the production. Carlton Humphrey is stage manager. Mary Henderson, Collegeboro, is in charge of lighting.

Float Themes Due Friday

Themes for Homecoming floats are due in the office of Dr. Georgia B. Watson, director of guidance and counseling, by Friday, January 28. Each organization is allowed to register one idea that ties in with the general Homecoming theme, "Scenes from U. S. History."

Plans for a place to build the floats and arrangements for selling concessions and allowing women students late hours to work on them will be announced later.

The Student Council will be responsible for enforcing rules at the float building place.

The college auditorium officially becomes McCroan Auditorium at special dedication ceremonies scheduled Sunday, January 30, at 3 p. m.

Junior Formal Date Postponed

The Junior Formal, scheduled January 29, has been postponed until March 12. This change in date was necessary because of conflicts as to the dates that the gym was available. A double-header high school basketball program is scheduled in the gym for the night of January 29.

Record Dance Set Saturday

There will be a record dance following the basketball game with Valdosta State College on January 22. This dance featuring music by records will be sponsored by the Student Council's social committee and will last until 11:15.

A similar dance is to follow every Saturday night ball game for the rest of the season.

Futura Fantasy Committees Set

Production committee chairmen have been appointed for the forth-coming Beauty Revue as follows: ramp construction, Buddy Faulk, Don Whaley, T. J. Godbee; tickets, Shirley Eunice; programs, Patsy Page; program covers, art 305 class; northern lights set, Lillie Douberly, Gene Baston, Emma Rushing, Star Woodard; skyscraper set, Carol Thomas, Eulita Carter, Mickey Webb, and Bob Byrd.

Posters, art 305 class; script, Dale Warnock, Eulita Carter, Ann Johnson, Cherrell Williams; lighting, Don Haimovitz.

Practice Set For Beauty Revue

Beauty Revue rehearsals will begin Wednesday morning at 10 in the art department, according to Miss Margaret Stanion, director. All entrants are requested to be present at this time.

Gene Mikell is master of ceremonies; the director will be Miss Margaret Stanion, associate professor of physical education, and the student producer is Cherrell Williams.

Miss Freida Gernant and Miss Roxie Remley, of the art department, are sponsors of the production and EJanette Wallace is president of Alpha Rho Tau.

Former GTC president, Guy H. Wells will deliver the address during the program which names the auditorium in honor of the late J. E. McCroan, a long-time member of the chairman of the board of trustees and a life-long supporter of the college.

Mr. McCroan, a Statesboro businessman for a number of years and for 12 years Bulloch county ordinary, became a member of the college board of trustees in 1921 and served until 1934 when the University System Board of Regents was established. He was chairman of the board for the last 12 years of his service, during which time the auditorium was originally constructed. Mr. McCroan was responsible for many improvements on the campus and other college achievements during his tenure of office. Old records show that it was upon his insistence alone that the auditorium was originally designed in its present size.

During the summer of 1953, the auditorium was given a complete overhaul. Total cost of the project was around $90,000 and included the installation of new seats, new curtains and drapes, a new lighting system, as well as the expansion and enlargement of the stage area and the rooms backstage.

Dr. Wells, the dedication speaker, was president here from 1926-34, while Mr. McCroan was chairman of the board of trustees. After leaving here, Dr. Wells was president of GSCW at Milledgeville. Later he served with the U. S. Office of Education on foreign service in Libya. At present he is executive secretary of the Georgia Committee on Inter-Racial Cooperation.

Mr. McCroan, born in Jefferson county, lived the last 50 years of his life in Statesboro. At the age of 84, he was struck down and killed by a car on South Main street in front of the Methodist Church on the evening of June 8, 1953.

Revue Planned By Little Theatre

The Statesboro Little Theatre will present "The Little Revue," a musical comedy scene from "Our Town," in the college auditorium Thursday, February 3, at 8:15 p. m.

Under the direction of Lewell Akins, the show will feature such popular song and dance numbers as "Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend," "If Men Played Cards As Women Do," and others. Dr. iFelding Russell is a member of the cast, an dMiss Frieda Gernant is designing the sets.

A fifty-cent admission will be charged.

Let's Remember Lab School

GTC students, in their relationship with the Laboratory School, act in the capacity of big brothers and sisters to the high school students connected with the college. Sometimes it is difficult to remember this relationship, or maybe some students haven't thought of it. Forgetfulness can sometimes lead to painful situations, as is now the case with Lab School.

High school students are beginning to ask the question, "Why do college students cheer for opposing teams during Lab School basketball games?" It seems like a personal affront to the students when college fans don't lend their support to the Lab School team.

Next time, think before cheering, and show the Laboratory School that GTC is behind them all the way!

Gossip Columns: Good or Bad?

Several students have approached GEORGE-ANNE staff members to ask why a gossip column isn't included in the paper. They all argue that such a column would add interest to the paper.

The question isn't whether or not interest would be stimulated by a gossip column, but rather, whether or not such a column would lower the journalistic standards of the GEORGE-ANNE.

The editorial staff believes that "gossip" typifies an extremely low grade of humor. Remarks reflecting the beliefs of characters of fellow students or confidential "peeks" at private love affairs seem to carry no real amusement. Agreed that Hedda Hopper is getting rich by just this sort of writing, the staff feels that a newspaper is no place for gossip.

The GEORGE-ANNE is published for the interest of students, and all attempts are being made to provide an interesting paper. However, a gossip column, if not carefully controlled, could easily get to the point of malicious attacks upon character with loss of friendships among the student body. In short, the staff feels that "gossip" would not only degrade the standards of the paper, but also the names and reputations of the students mentioned.

If students can offer suggestions for a column that would conform to the standards of "no untruths, no rumors, no insinuations...no friendships to be endangered, and no editorializing about boy-girl friendships," the GEORGE-ANNE staff will gladly consider its publication. Gossip columns on any other standards will do more harm than added reader interest will do good.

Olympic Team Needs Support

Next year the U. S. Olympic team will represent us in the world contests in Melbourne, Australia. This team is supported by individual contributions from persons interested in seeing the U. S. well represented.

It seems that the team needs more financial backing for the trip to Australia than is now available. To help in this venture, the Statesboro Jaycees have inaugurated a campaign to provide local support for the team. Contributions can be made to any GTC ball game, and January 29, four high school teams will play in the GTC gymnasium, all proceeds going to the Olympic Fund.

The Olympic team needs support, and students can help raise funds by attending these games and by contributing to the fund at any GTC game.

Campus Clean-Up

Day

By GENE MEADOWS

Have you ever been walking from the Blue Tide, or around the dormitories and seemingly unconsciously thrown a Coke bottle, candy wrapper, or some other debris on the ground? I think most of us have been guilty of this at one time or another.

Here at GTC we have one of the most beautiful college campuses in our state and it is one we should be proud of. But, can you be proud of a campus if it's littered with beer cans, Coke bottles, candy and chewing gum wrappers and almost all forms of trash mentionable.

This condition of our campus was brought up at the last meeting of the inter-dormitory council. After a thorough discussion and many suggestions a final plan was decided upon.

So, on a Saturday, January 22, we're going to have a chance to redeem ourselves. This date is to be Campus Clean-Up Day at GTC. The plan is to have the students work in pairs: boy-girl, boy-boy, or girl-girl. After everyone has divided into pairs there will be a general scavenger hunt for all those unsightly objects which mar the beauty of our campus.

There have been several posters and signs posted over the campus about this Clean-Up-Day. Plans are to start at 9 a. m. and finish by noon. An undertaking such as this will surely take a great amount of spirit and cooperation from the students. If you're going to be on campus, instead of sleeping all morning why not get up a little early and help in a job that really needs to be done?

Now, all this work isn't going to be unrewarded. There will be a judge to inspect each pair's collection when it is brought to the centrally located collection center. There will be several theatre tickets to be given to the pairs having the largest amount of debris collected.

Believe...

"I believe for every drop of rain that falls, a flower grows.

"I believe that somewhere in the darkest night, a candle glows.

"I believe for everyone who goes astray, someone will come to show the way.

"I believe, I believe.

"I believe above the storm the smallest prayer will still be heard.

"I believe that someone in the great somewhere hears ev'ry word.

"Ev'ry time I hear a new-born baby cry, or touch a leaf, or see the sky, then I know why I believe."

Everyone is familiar with this song, but few people noticed the most important part of it. Its words are words of faith and belief in Someone who watches and keeps His children safe day by day. The next time you hear this song don't just listen to its rhythm and beat, hear the words and the message they have for you.

The Music Box

By HARRIET WOODWARD

Last week someone asked me why I didn't ever mention the latest songs on the Hillbilly Hit Parade in my column. Surely I didn't mean to slight Cowboy Copas, Moon Mullican, Homer and Jethro and all the other guitar strumming folks, but I'll try to keep you posted from here on.

During the Christmas season I heard a real crazy song by Spike Jones and his City Slickers. Don't know how much Eddie appreciated the slam, but the song was "I Want Eddie Fisher for Christmas." On the other side of the record was "Japanese Skokiaan" and you can just imagine what kind of noise that turned out to be.

Some fellers I had never heard of before introduced a great jig record recently and Carolyn has gone wild over it. It's "Earth Angel" by the Penguins. Les Baxter also recorded it, but his version isn't nearly as cute as The Penguins'.

Last week I told you to listen to "Sincerely" by The Moon-glows. Well, just turn the record over and listen to the other side, then draw your own conclusions. The "Racing With the Moon" guy is in great voice on his "Goodnight Mrs. Jones" song. He takes a real solid up-tempo beat on "Butterscotch Mop," if you'll notice.

The freckled blonde whom everyone loves sang another sweet ballad on "Late Date" the other night. It was Doris Day doing "Till My Love Comes to Me." You really oughta hear it!

Dicky Valentine, the lad with a heart, sings a dreamy tune that'll put tears in your eyes. It's "Endless." Have you heard it?

For Vondall and all the other cats who were so crazy 'bout "Shake, Rattle, and Roll" there's a new album by the name and numbers in it. It's a Decca recording by Bill Haley and his Comets and just listen to some of the numbers it contains: "ABC Boogie," "Shake, Rattle and Roll," "Thirteen Women and Only One Man in Town" and others.

ouonno W cmfwy cmfwy Here's a favorite in Lewis Hall. It's The Chuckles singing "Run Around."

May I also mention that the most heard song in the music building is still "One by One" by just anyone who happens to feel like singing it. Nearly every jam session we have ends with the definitely "jamless" "One by One." Oh well, what's the difference.

Last Tuesday night down in the Cave while we were getting the George-Anne ready to go to press, some of the choir members came in and taught us a new song—at least it was new to us. It was "Ooh, Ooh, Ooh What You Do To Me" from the musical comedy "Willy" which the Philharmonic Choir will present this quarter.

I just can't close without mentioning Rosemary Clooney's "We'll Be Together Again" backed by Paul Weston and his orchestra.

Oh yeah, here's an album for Reggie, Milt, Cecile, Martha, Glenn and all the other Earl Bostic fans. He plays a real mean sax on "Flamingo," "Swing Low Sweet Boogie," "I Can't Give You Anything But Love" and others.

Bet you thought I'd forgotten, didn't you? Nope, sho' didn't. Homer and Jethro murder all the standards of music when they sing? "Over the Rainbow," "Night and Day," "Always" and "Glow Worm" in their King "extended-play" album.

If you have a favorite song that you'd like me to mention in the Music Box, just let me know.

"Sincerely."

On The Sideline...

Well, all of a sudden, we have a topnotch basketball team on our campus. Those of you who braved the rash of tests scheduled for Tuesday, and saw the Monday night Erskine game, saw what Coach J. B. Searce called "our best performance in three seasons."

Chester Webb had a 36-point evening. Bo Warren hit for 30 in his top college point-production, and Doug Corry added 21 more. But let's not forget the other two starters and what they did to help make the Erskine fleet take a long and dreary bus ride home to Due West after absorbing a 110-71 lacing.

If Garland "Humpy" Campbell commits a crime in the near future, the authorities won't need to look anywhere except on our backboards for many good samples of his fingerprints. The 5-11 jumping-jack took 10 first rebounds (and 15 for the night) right out of the hands of a 6-10 boy and a 6-6 forward whom Erskine Coach Gene Alexander calls "The best rebounder for his size I've ever seen." The Hump scored 12 points also, but man, that rebounding.

Don (The poor man's Cousy) Wallen sent the fans home talking to themselves about his passing. The one that impressed me the most was the 6-foot bounce pass that gave Doug Corry a layup. That one went through about three pairs of Erskine legs. All-in-all he had 11 assists for the night, nine of them in that startling first half that found GTC going to the dressing room, up 64 to 35.

Mind you, this was all against a team that had defeated the Professors 88-78, just nine days earlier. Coach Searce must be congratulated on a masterful job in doping out a defense against Darrell Storms, Julian Robinson, and the 6-10 Jim Jordan that held them to 26 points, 21 less than the 47 they scored at Due West.

And here's a rumor for you. Coach Searce plans to enter the Professors in the District NAIA playoffs that could lead to a trip to Kansas City, Mo., for our boys. But here is the best part. The playoffs stand a good chance of coming off right here on the campus. More on this later.

Luke, Calloway Lead Intramurals

Since the beginning of the winter quarter the men's intramural basketball teams have been reorganized with several games already played. There are six teams in the league, each headed by a senior.

Following is the name of each team head and the leading scorer for that team, and the team record:

Ronald Luke—Vondall Hall 63 points, 3 wins, no losses.
Tom Perry—Lowell Russell 48 points, 1 win, 1 loss.
Sam Zipperer—Vaughn Dyer 10 points, no wins, 2 losses.
Beeler Thompson—Kelly Powell 28 points, no wins, 2 losses.
Ozzie Maxwell—Ed Gibson 43 points, 1 win, 2 losses.
Anson Calloway—Gene Collins 34 points, 2 wins, no losses.

Vondall Hall is the coordinator of the intramural activities. There are to be two games played on nights when the varsity team is not using the gymnasium. Also, in order to get in the crowded schedule there will be occasional afternoon games. The times for these games have been set at 6:15 p. m. and 7:15 p. m. for the evening games and 3:30 for the afternoon games.

New Gymnasium Nearly Complete

The new $325,000 health and physical education building for Georgia Teachers College is expected to be completed and ready for use by June of this year.

This ultra-modern building, which will seat 3,000 people, will be the finest in the state of Georgia. There will be two basketball courts, three volleyball courts, two handball courts and ten badminton courts. Dressing rooms will be available for all athletic teams and will include a training room with all the modern conveniences. Separate dressing rooms and showers will be provided for the visiting teams.

The entire physical education program, under the direction of Athletic Director J. B. Searce, will be conducted here. The girl's dressing rooms will be on the east side and will have individual dressing stalls and showers. The boys dressing room on the west side will accommodate 102 boys at one time.

The gym floor will be of maple hardwood and lighting will be by 25, 1500-watt bulbs. Plaster is being put on the walls at this time and tile will be laid in a few weeks.

Home Ec. Club Sees Cosmetics

Monday night, January 17, the Home Economics Club held its first meeting of the winter quarter. The program featured a demonstration on "How to apply your make-up." It was given by Mrs. Hilda Bell, cosmetician for the Franklin Rexall Drug Company in Statesboro. Tuesday, January 25, Mrs. Bell will present a similar demonstration to the 8 o'clock home economics 100 class.

Etta Ann Akins, president of the club, is in Athens today attending a meeting of the State Home Economics Club officers. The purpose of this meeting is to plan the state club's part on the program for the annual meeting of the Georgia Home Economics Association, which will be held in Augusta March 4 and 5. The Home Economics Club is only a portion of the Georgia Association.

Current plans for the club include building a float for the homecoming parade and attend-

Varsity Sports Highlights...

By ROGER BROWN

The Georgia Teachers College Professors proved that you shouldn't believe everything you read as they edged the Belmont Abbey Crusaders 83-75 last Saturday night. A national ranking system had rated the visitors six point favorites.

Chester Webb led the "Professors" scoring with 26 points followed by "Bo" Warren with 24 points.

Webb set a new scoring record when he passed Scotty Perkins, former GTC great, who scored 1181 points. Webb now has 1228 points and has the remainder of this season and next year to set records that future stars will be hoping to break. As it looks to this writer "Bo" Warren is the only one who can come close to this record for a few years.

The 110-71 victory over Erskine College last Monday night produced one of the best games played in the alumni gymnasium in quite a while.

Coach J. B. Searce Jr.'s starting five, consisting of Don Wallen, "Bo" Warren, Doug Corry, Garland Campbell, and Chester Webb share equal credit in one capacity or another.

Wallen played an outstanding floor game through only hitting the basket for eight points. Campbell, Corry, and Webb proved they could rebound with the best of them on defense as well as offense.

ing the GHEA meeting in March. Janis Miller will be the contesting representative for the club in the Beauty Revue.

Webb led the Teachers scoring with 36 points followed by Warren and Corry with 30 and 21 points respectively.

The GTC quintet had the Wolverines "shook" (as the saying goes). The 6' 10" center was held to points as the Professors chalked another victory to make this season's record 10 victories and four losses.

Valdosta State College will visit the campus Saturday night to test their strength as a basketball power.

"A word to the wise"—Don't count your chickens before they hatch."

Cage Program Helps Olympics

A double-header high school basketball program has been scheduled Saturday, January 29, in the GTC gym, proceeds going to help the U. S. Olympic teams go to Melbourne, Australia.

The four teams agreeing to furnish the entertainment are East Crisp, Ludowici, Portal, and McRae. East Crisp pairs off with Ludowici at 7:30, and Portal takes on McRae at 8:30.

These teams have been selected as outstanding high school ball clubs in the southern section of the state. East Crisp will represent Crisp county and the third district. Ludowici, Portal, and McRae are located closer to GTC and should provide interest to local fans.

Campus Column

JO ANN HILL, Editor

Just in case you are prepared to read a long list of engagements—get set—Cupid played it cool this past week. For once there is not the first announcement being made. The only comment we have handy for this mishap is: hey, girls, you had better get busy.

It seems that we cannot completely get away from the idea of weddings though. Lorene Brown, Annie Ruth Jones, Juanette Ellington, Marilyn Kent, and Billie Kinchen spent the weekend in Hazelhurst with Martha Lacey and attended the wedding of former GTC student, Anne Colley.

Right along this line we might mention that Nancy Rowland was pinned during the holidays. Nancy is pledged to Harold Kimball of the University of Georgia. And with the mention of this we call to mind that she is paying a visit to the University campus this weekend. Wonder why?

Say—Did you all notice those extra smiles on the faces of Jane Knight, Shirley Rountree, and Martha Evans during the weekend. We are wondering if those "extra special" visitors could have had anything to do with them. Jane's visitor was Tommy Lovett from Mercer. Bob Tanner of the University of Georgia came calling on Shirley and Tom Marchman of Savannah was visiting Martha.

Pat McCorkle and Julia Pryor made a journey over to Metter during the weekend and visited Diann Hardee—one of the newcomers to the campus.

From what was reported to me, the home of Betty Sisco was kinda lively during the weekend. But why shouldn't it have been. Shirley Wynne, Etta Ann Akins, Doris Warnock, Margene Jenkins, and Jewel Hart were all on hand to keep Betty company.

Just a break here to recite to you a little poem we have just had a good laugh on. "The sofa sagged in the center, the lights were burning low, the atmosphere was cozy, the shades were pulled just so. There came a sound from the sofa as the clock was striking two, and the student closed his textbook with a thankful—I'm through."

We are sorry to hear of a catastrophe that struck one of the GTC students. Seems as if Barbara McAfee took a tumble and had to spend the weekend in the hospital.

By the way. We were asked to pass out some orchids and onions this week. In keeping with the policy of the George-Anne, we will refrain from using any names in this. Why? Because we do not want to offend or hurt anyone. But here goes on something all new.

Orchids to: those who do not push, shove, or break in line in the lunch and supper line.

Onions to: boys who are real nice to girls who have cars. Couldn't be because these boys are wanting to use the car, could it?

Onions to: (by special request) those boys who use the halls of one of their dormitories as bowling alleys. What makes the game so bad is that Coke bottles are used as bowling balls, and the hour at which they play the game is—awful.

How did you like the yell the cheerleaders introduced at one of the recent ball games? The object of it was to spell out the word team by using different bodily movements that represented the letters of the word. It seemed to work up pretty good.

Away from the campus last weekend were Betty Jo McDonald and Martha Ann Wynne. They attended the basketball game at Middle Georgia College on Friday night.

Colleen Lafavor had a visitor (male of course) from Tech last weekend, lucky gal, but she wouldn't tell us his name.

And so goes the incidents for this week. We had much more cooperation and so, we hope, a better column.

See you next issue.
