Petition to United Nations

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is a petition drawn up by student president, Dewayne Dutton, at the request of a large body of students here on the G.T.C. campus. It is to be submitted to the United Nations as an expression of our respect and admiration for the Hungarian Freedom Fighters in their struggle against Russian oppression. We hope that the United Nations will be able to effect a solution to this tragic situation.

This petition is still in circulation for signatures. The George-Anne urges you to sign this document, thereby adding to its strength. We also suggest that similar petitions might be undertaken by our sister schools throughout the state and the nation culminating in a groundswell of public opinion condemning the Russian Tyranny and slaughter in Hungary.

WE, THE UNDERSIGNED STUDENTS OF GEORGIA TEACHERS COLLEGE STRONGLY AFFIRM OUR SOLIDARITY WITH THE STUDENTS AND THE PEOPLE OF HUNGARY IN THEIR HEROIC STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM AND INDEPENDENCE. THEIR REVOLT AGAINST THE BARBARIC YOKE OF COMMUNIST IMPERIALISM MARKS A NEW PINNACLE OF GLORY IN THE THOUSAND YEARS OF HUNGARIAN HISTORY.

WE URGENTLY PETITION THAT ALL POSSIBLE STEPS BE TAKEN TO HALT THE RUSSIAN TERROR IN BUDAPEST, TO SECURE THE IMMEDIATE WITHDRAWAL OF SOVIET FORCES, AND TO RESTORE TO HUNGARY HER FULL STATUS AS A FREE AND SOVEREIGN MEMBER OF THE SOCIETY OF NATIONS.

'As I Watch a Nation Dying'

Hungary as a nation has for the past week been dying a slow but sure death. The ominous ticking of a teletype in Budapest which sent out the message, "God save our souls . . . The Russians are too near," has been crushed into oblivious silence by the overwhelming onslaught of Communist might—never to be heard again.

The heart and core of any nation is its youth. Today the cream of Hungarian youth lies among the rubble of Budapest—they will never be heard again. They fought gallantly to the last man; knowing that they faced insurmountable odds. Sticks, stones, guts, and a few light arms were their weapons against Russian tanks and heavy artillery.

The Hungarian nation has fought a brave but hopeless battle for its existence. It received no visible help from any of its neighboring Western allies. They fought alone and knew they were fighting alone. One of the last reports heard from a rebel radio transmitter said: "The Russians demand that we law down our arms. We won't do it and if it is necessary, we will fight to our last drop of blood." These are the last words of a brave and determined people, a people that preferred death rather than to live under tyranny.

The Hungarian rebellion against Communist tyranny is just another episode in the world's long history of freedom inspired rebellions. The true nature of the Russian Regime has been laid bare for all to see.

There can be no mistake of her aims. She has bathed herself in the blood of innocent people and it cannot be washed away.

Hungary lies dying, her sons buried beneath the rubble of Budapest, but she has not died in vain.

New B.S.U. Choir Sings at Meet

The B.S.U. choir of Georgia Teachers College sang at the state B.S.U. convention at Rock Eagle Park Saturday morning, November 1. They sang "Blessed Assurance" and were under the direction of DuWard Wheelchel, a music major here at G.T.C. and minister of music at First Baptist Church of Ludowici.

The choir is a new organization on campus, having been organized this year. The group has about twenty members but expects to get bigger every year. The B.S.U. is proud of its choir and expects big things of it in the future. Membership

Eight G.T.C. business students presented a program at the Georgia Education Association in Savannah on November 5. These students wrote and acted out their own skit. The skit was titled "The Teaching of Shorthand." Ellen Blizzard, Avonel Morris, Ruth Bennett, Norma Walton, Charles Tyre, Don McArthur, Don Flanders, and Powell Collins. There were approximately forty business teachers from this section of the State.

is open to any Baptist student and rehearsal is held in the music building every Saturday morning at 9:30. Wheelchel extends an invitation to all those interested in joining the choir.

Fatal Date Set For Rat Day; Rules And Regulations Below

Broucek-Hooley Music Recital Is Top Success

Daniel Hooley and Jack Broucek, duo-pianists from the G.T.C. music faculty, were a complete success Wednesday night in the first music program of the season.

From the bright tones of the first selection, Mendelssohn's "Con Moto Maestoso" from "Sonata No. 3," the artists created a single instrument of the two pianos. Touch, and even thought, became as one and remained so.

In a lighter air the piano painted pictures of everything from lovely ladies to little birds in "Liebeslieder Waltzes" by Brahms. The grace and effectiveness of each musical sketch in this group was again an example of how different techniques can almost breathe together.

The most impressive work was Rachmaninoff's Suite No. 2. The "Introduction" movement set a dignified atmosphere with forceful, rapid chords. This feeling was resolved into one of elaborate gardens with heavily perfumed flowers as the "Valse" movement brought quick, dancing themes. The "Romance" movement was soft and muted at times, then brightly sparkling in high notes, and once again, floating in soft runs into another shade.

The finale of the suite, "Tarantella," was the most dramatic selection of the entire concert. The themes burst into streaks of runs over a backdrop of deeper chords. The vivid shading gave a sense of depth that held the audience.

The second portion of the program included selections from Copland's "Billy the Kid," which portrays, in modern music, western scenes.

Other selections included "Mardi Gras Cakewalk" by Tansman; "Popular Song Circa" by Walton, Triggs' "Danza Braziliiana" with its whirling Latin rhythms; and the ever loved "Liebesfreud" by Kreisler.

The final note of the program came with Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," with the quiet reflections of the peace and beauty of God.

Standards Committee Organized

The Standards Committee held their second meeting of the year Thursday, November 1. The sub-committee appointed by President Henderson at the first meeting presented several recommendations through its spokesman, Ellen Blizzard.

The first recommendation proposed and accepted with corrections was the ex-officio membership be as follows: Student Council president and vice president, dormitory presidents, George-Anne editor, presidents of the Band, the T-Club, Masquers, Vets Club, captain of Cheerleaders, and four members at large. There are to be four appointments, one by the dean of men, one by the dean of women, and two by the Student Council.

The Plight Of The Poor Freshman

My Poor Little Girl—"Thrown to the wolves"

The fatal day for Rats will arrive next Thursday in full fashion. The following are the rules as devised by the sophomore class and approved by the Student Council to govern Rat Day activities.

General:

1. Rats will wear a large cardboard sign on back with name, such as "RAT SMITH."
2. Rats will carry pillow case or laundry bag for books with wrapped penny candy to give to sophomores. If not wrapped look out, rats.
3. Rats will carry a banana in one hand all day and until Rat Court.
4. Rats will wear a blanket instead of a coat if weather is cold.
5. Rats will wear a peeled Irish potato on a string around the neck.
6. When a sophomore yells "Air Raid" all Rat boys must lie flat on the ground until the "All Clear" is sounded. Rat girls on the same command must stand on their left foot with the right foot straight out behind them and arms out-stretched and repeat this poem:

I am a lowly freshman,
I have no poise or grace,
I must respect the sophomores,
To show I know my place.
My place is very low indeed,
I am a humble soul,
I crawl around like a centipede,
When I should crawl in a hole.
I am a lowly freshman,
I have no sense of knowledge,
To learn respect and discipline,
Is why I came to college.

7. Rats must learn the school song and sing it when directed by sophomores:

"Alma Mater"
Down among the mumuring pine trees
Where old nature smiles,
G.T.C. holds up a standard,
Known for miles and miles.

Chorus:
Lift the chorus, speed in onward,
N'er her standard fail,
Hail to thee our Alma Mater,
G.T.C. all hail.

From the blue and broad Atlantic,
Balmy breezes blow,
Wafting far your noble spirit,
May it ever grow.

8. All sophomores will be identified with a name card. Rats are not obligated to comply with commands from anyone other than designated sophomores.

- ### Rules for Girls:
1. Part hair in middle; thoroughly grease one side, plait the other side in thirteen pigtales with blue and white ribbons on the ends of each.
 2. Wear dresses backward and inside out.
 3. Wear one bedroom shoe with sock and one tennis shoe with hose.
 4. Paint fingernails with a different shade of polish on each nail.
 5. Using nose as center paint a bull's eye on the face with lipstick.
 6. No make-up can be worn all day.
 7. Dangling earrings can be worn all day.
 8. No smoking until Rat activities are over.

Rules for Boys
1. All clothing must be worn

Concert Series Names Artists

The Statesboro Community Concert series will begin November 30, according to Jack Broucek. The first program to be presented in the college auditorium will be Miss Beverly Bower. Miss Bower has appeared with Philadelphia Civic, American, Wilmington and Milwaukee opera companies. Recitals and orchestral engagements have taken the young soprano throughout the United States and Canada.

The second concert will be given February 20, featuring the Longines Symphonette. The group will play familiar numbers of light classical and semi-classical nature. The third and last presentation will be The Concertmen, a male chorus, singing a cross section of program materials—classics, opera, operetta, folksongs and spirituals.

Ustry, Linda Hardie, Nita Freeman, Cathy Simmons, Verla Garrett, Beverly Hall, Denise Henson, Mary Weldon Hendrix, and Mrs. Shirley Chambers.

One member noted that there was no representation from a religious organization. It was explained that as there is no religious organization including all faiths, it was deemed unwise to designate the president of any now existing religious group as an ex-officio member. Further, the interests of religious groups may be represented through the appointment of a member-at-large or membership by petition.

The second recommendation was that the chairman of the committee be elected by a two-thirds vote on secret ballot without nominations. Dean Carroll stated that he believed no faculty member should be considered for chairman. The recommendation was accepted with this change.

The third recommendation was that a committee recorder be appointed by the chairman after consideration of the person's qualifications and willingness. This recommendation was accepted without discussion or amendment.

The final proposal from the sub-committee was that regular meetings be held the first Thursday of each month at 3:45 p. m. unless members were notified that there would be no meeting. This, too, passed unanimously.

After the proposal concerning the election of a chairman was accepted, the committee then voted by secret ballot. On the third ballot, Ellen Blizzard was elected by a two-thirds vote. She later asked Miss Duncan to serve as recorder.

You Have Responsibilities

Everyone has responsibilities whether he likes them or not. Class meetings are one of those responsibilities. True, they must seem to be unimportant and useless, but they do accomplish things.

This week there have been meetings of every class, and perhaps half of the students were present. Practically no one bothered to listen to what was going on. Others listened, disagreed, and lacked the courage to voice their opinions.

This is the one basic reason why meetings are such a bore to attend—lack of interest. The officers can barely conduct a meeting when all students present are carrying on their own conversations. Little can be definitely decided when time is spent repeating what was just said. Lack of cooperation in carrying out plans leaves all the work for just a few who already have enough to do.

Something must be done. It remains to the class to decide what. More publicity about the meetings would help. Consideration from other groups meeting at the same place and hour could cut down on excess noise. Courtesy from members attending would give the officers an even chance.

Who knows—perhaps if the students heard what was going on, they might get interested, the meetings might not be so boring. When the students in a class are united and interested, the class can function effectively—only until then.

High Note in Band History

Those people who missed assembly Monday morning missed a sight worth seeing and a sound worth hearing. The college band paraded down the aisles in their new uniforms. For the first time in college history, they were led by a drum major. Coming as a surprise to most of the students, and even as a surprise to the band members, the uniforms arrived very early Monday morning by special flight and were personally escorted from Augusta to the college by Dana M. King and John Chambliss.

As some of the old students will remember, there were many articles coming out in this column last year advocating new uniforms. We take a personal pride in knowing that our band will be marching in clothing fit for kings. The uniforms were specifically designed for the G.T.C. band and made up by one of the most reliable firms in the nation.

Making their first public appearance tonight at the Statesboro football game, the band members will continue to give performances during the year for other high schools. The band will also make an appearance during the half-time of the Homecoming basketball game at G.T.C.

Our congratulations are extended to the band for the performance they gave Monday morning. Our dramatic introduction to the new uniforms was most effective. The sixty members of the band marching to the stage was an awe-inspiring sight to say the least.

To Mr. King, we can only say, "Thanks. You have done a magnificent job."

Campus Squirrels Get Busy...

When winter approaches and the wind blows cool, squirrels get extra busy preparing for the long sleep. The nuts are gathered and stashed away for food when nothing else can be gotten.

Even on the campus you can see this activity going on any afternoon, between classes, after supper. The little four-legged animals have help from their two-legged counterparts. The males scale the trees and shake the limbs to loose the nuts. Then they scurry to the ground and help their female friends pick them up. Sometimes they sit a while; calmly cracking and nibbling away part of their winter supply. Other times they store the nuts away in bags and boxes and cans and cart them off to their hide aways.

It is a pleasant sport—sitting in the sunshine with congenial company. The furry friends are cute to watch and the two-legged ones are nice to talk with. There is little competition, plenty of nuts for everyone. Sometimes, when there is a spare moment, take a minute and try your luck or just sit and watch the squirrels.

HEY, PAL, HOW MANY TIMES YOU FLUNKED THIS COURSE, ANYWAY?

The Editor
George-Anne
Collegeboro, Ga.
Dear Editor:

"Hats off" to Larry Hyde for expressing my exact sentiments about Elvis Presley in his "Hyde and Seek" last week.

I enjoy reading The George-Anne and personally, I think that we have the best college newspaper in the state of Georgia. May you continue to be the best.

Sincerely,
EDWARD McLESKY

Editor:

A big vote of thanks and appreciation is sent to Mr. Don McDougald for his interest and enthusiasm in helping the girls of East Hall obtain the use of the long-awaited washer and dryer.

The use of them has already been great and has helped the girls in saving time and money.

We are sorry to have been impatient, but now we are happy with what we have gained.

Thanks loads for the big washing loads.

WILLENE FISHER

For the East Hall freshmen girls.

Dear Editor:

Observing the letter written by the Observer in last week's George-Anne, I guessed it to be a female. If it was a male, then I'll wait until Uncle Sam puts him behind the wheel for a few years and starts telling him what to wear and when to wear it.

You say and I quote, "that we here at G.T.C. dress on Sunday." I should hope so. I haven't seen anyone eat at the chow hall naked yet.

How about answering a question, Observer? Do you go to the chow hall to eat or to gawk at the way people dress? If you want to observe clothes, then go to a fashion show.

Otherwise, chow down, Matey—Uniform of the day will be clean, comfortable clothes.

A CHOW HOUND

Dear Editor:

I regret having to write to this paper about a faculty member. I know that it is unusual to criticize a teacher and I regret having to do so. I feel that it is necessary to draw the attention of the students and faculty to this situation before it gets out of hand. The teacher is extremely rude, sarcastic, and very unfair in grading. The students feel that they are failed out of prejudice, rather than for academic reasons.

The result is that many students are scared to major with the division in which the teacher works. A large group of the present majors are planning to change their majors, and some say that they will transfer

Hyde and Seek

By LARRY HYDE

Since Georgia Teachers College does not have a football team, how many would be in favor of playing the intra-squad game of physical education 422 in the afternoon? Last week, this game drew a great many students down to the athletic field for the game. If the game was played in the afternoon, after classes are over, I'm sure there would be a good crowd for the game.

I hope everyone had as much fun at the T-Club Halloween Party as I did. It has been a long time since I laughed as much while taking people through the "House of Horror." This must truly be a "Rock 'n Roll" age we are living in. From all reports, there was definitely a shortage of seats and oxygen in the "showroom" that featured all the "Big" names of Rock 'n Roll fame.

A WORD OF ADVICE—If you choose to work, you will succeed; if you don't, you will fail; if you neglect your work, you will dislike it; if you do it well you will enjoy it. If you join little cliques, you will be self-satisfied; if you make friends widely, you will be interesting. If you gossip, you will be slandered; if you mind your own business, you will be liked. If you act like a boor, you will be despised; if you act like a human being, you will be respected. If you spurn wisdom, wise people will spurn you; if you seek wisdom, they will seek you. If you adopt a pose of boredom, you will be a bore; if you show vitality, you will be alive. If you spend your free time playing bridge, you will be a good bridge player; if you spend it in reading, discussing and thinking of things that matter, you will be an educated person. (Time—Oct. 22, 1956).

I wish to thank Mr. Pennington for the above and at the same time, thank all of you for the nice things that you have said about last week's column.

I think the Vet's Club has come up with a great idea. It should be interesting to see who is "The Ugliest Man on Campus."

I don't think any of you will want to miss the dance this weekend. The Vet's Club has gone far and near rounding up entertainers for the floor show.

Overheard on front campus:
DON: Do you have a speedball set?

LINDA: No... I didn't know you played speedball in Art!

I leave this thought with you... While the "Ghost" is away, the "Spook" will play...

Eisenhower Holds the Key

Dwight D. Eisenhower was swept back into office this week by an avalanche of votes that may hold the key to future world leadership.

President Eisenhower gained the nationwide respect of the majority of American people for his personal integrity and handling of important issues. His reappearance in office brings hope and confidence to millions viewing the Middle East and European upheavals.

His military background places him in a better position to deal intelligently with world affairs, and gives the people the benefit of someone who knows first hand the price of war.

The brilliance of his political victory is muted slightly by the smoldering factor of the chief executive's health. The presidential cabinet, each member selected for leadership and outstanding qualifications in some field, will be able to take much of the load, with the president making final decisions after they have gone into each issue. The past four years have shown this to be an effective plan in most cases.

However, should anything happen to the nation's number one man—what then? Though Nixon has shown definite leadership ability, he has on occasion demonstrated complete lack of judgement which might spill over into his presidential job.

Letter To Editor

schools rather than take another class from this teacher. Because of the teacher's actions, the health of some students has been injured, and the morale of all students unfortunate enough to have to take this teacher's classes has been extremely lowered. It is unfortunate that students having to deal with such situations receive only one-third credit.

We are inclined to follow the pattern set by the teachers here. How can we expect to uphold the high standards of the teaching profession when such a poor example is put before us. We hope this situation will be dealt with in the near future.

Nowdays it seems anyone that can beat on a wash tub or make an unusual sound and get the teen-agers to follow them can make a fortune in the popular music world. Elvis Presley went to fame and fortune over night with his odd singing and his almost burlesque dance on TV and stage. The top tunes this week to name only a few are "Behind the Green Door," by Jim Lowe, "What Will Be Will Be" by Doris Day, "Don't Be Cruel" by Elvis Presley, "True Love" by Bing Crosby and Grace Kelley. In Georgia the number one tune for this week was "Canadian Sunset." To get an idea of the kind of music the students on G.T.C.'s campus like and their favorite singer, the question this week has been put to a number of students like this: What is your favorite song and who is your favorite singer? And here are their replies:

Emory Cartrett: "Walking in the Rain" by Johnny Ray.
Frank Turner: "Canadian Sunset."

Gene Wiley: "Old Fashion Girl" by Teresa Brewer.

Wayne Edwards: "My Own True Love" by Margaret Whiting.

Tal Orr: "Suane" by Jaye P. Morgan.

Wiley Dill: "With a Song in My Heart" by Jane Froman.

Jimmy Tidwell: "We'll Be Together Again" by Frank Sinatra.

David Powers: "Moonglow" by Jo Stafford.

Dwayne Dutton: "Hound Dog" by Elvis Presley.

Guy Thompson: "True Love" by Bing Crosby.

Robert Gore: "Alle Muik ist Schoen" (All of it's good).

Barbara Faulk: "Singing the Blues" by Marty Roberts.

Jane Durham: "Try a Little Tenderness" by Cris Conner.

Ava Owens: "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Roy Hamilton.

Marion McClain: "Out of Sight, Out of Mind" by The Five Keys.

Sharon Ward: "Ready, Ready, Teddy" by Carolyn Milles.

Liz South: "You'll Never Know" by The Platters.

Mary Alice Taff: "Singing the Blues" by Guy Mitchell.

Anonymous: "Behind the Screen Door" by Homer and Jetro.

Varied Training Offered In The Ind. Arts Dept.

"Industrial Arts is the study of industry for purposes of general education," as defined by Dr. Donald Hackett, Professor and Chairman of Division of Arts.

He further states: "It offers through various shop and drafting room experience an opportunity to develop skills, understandings, and appreciations concerning the tools, materials, processes, and products of industry."

A Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in Industrial Arts qualifies the graduates of G.T.C. to teach industrial arts in elementary and secondary schools.

Besides the four-year teaching degree, a two-year program is offered for the preparation of industrial technicians. Other students take one or two years of industrial arts as pre-engineering work.

The Industrial Arts Club, co-sponsors with the Bib Sisters, were in charge of the Harvest Ball October 27.

Initiation of new members of the club will take place November 6, as announced by George Martin, president of the Industrial Arts Club.

The meetings are held every second and fourth Tuesday may attend.

'Girl Of The Week'

JOAN HURST, elementary major from Savannah, is this week's Girl of the Week. Joan is a member of the philharmonic choir, the German Club and was a participant in last year's beauty review. Joan is considered to be one of G.T.C.'s most vivacious beauties. She has also been active as a teacher of German in the Marvin Pittman elementary school. This week's George-Anne girl is not only a blond beauty but a brainy beauty.

All of us are constantly striving to increase our knowledge and always want to know those things that make us a well-rounded individual. This past week I learned a fact that I had never heard of before. I am passing it on to you because I'm sure that some day you will be able to use it. My information comes from a person who is well versed in this art and is in a position to know for she has lived all her life in Savannah where knowledge of this type comes in handy.

I am speaking of how to put a crab to sleep. Yes, a crab to sleep. As I said, you never know when you might need to know this. The first step is to pick up the creature gently so as not to disturb it. You hold it firmly in your hand and turn it on its back. Then being very careful not to excite it you begin to stroke its stomach. This is sleep inducing and before you know it, the crab is sound asleep.

Also, think what this means if it will work on turtles, alligators, snakes, and fish. This would certainly be an interesting hobby and one which I'm sure would not be crowded. Who knows, you might get a job in a circus or fair showing others how to use "The Magic Touch."

Dr. Farkas Votes for First Time in Presidential Election

By JOYCE KIRKLAND

"Tomorrow will be the happiest day of my life," said Dr. Zolton J. Farkas, head of the foreign language department, last Monday as he told his German 102 class that for the first time he would get to vote in the presidential election of the United States.

His statements, made so candidly and sincerely, produced varied emotions in the minds of each of the ten students who were listening. What at least one of them felt was a sense of shame. That one had not even thought enough about voting in Tuesday's election to register. It would have been his first election, too.

However, he was not the only one in that category. Only 650,000 of Georgia's eligible voters were expected to turn out to the polls on Tuesday.

In 1952, of the 100,223,000 eligible voters in the United States, only 61,551,978, or 62.7 per cent went to the polls, and the ratio of this year's election probably wasn't too much different.

Dr. Farkas, and many other newly inaugurated citizens like him, have learned that the right to vote is a privilege that has not always been their lot, and they are always grateful for a chance to select their own leaders.

Besides the number of eligible voters who don't even register, there is a great amount of the registered who don't.

Here at G.T.C. the average student has probably registered, but thinks it's just too much trouble to send off the absentee ballot necessary in such a case.

Would it be too much trouble to a student to give up everything he owns to the state if a Communist were in power just because he didn't feel like sending off a ballot or visiting the polls?

The feeling which Dr. Farkas has experienced should be universal in the hearts, not only of oriented citizens of the United States, but of the natives as well.

B.S.U. Students Attend Confab

Friday, November 2, thirty-five G.T.C. students attended the B.S.U. convention at Rock Eagle Park. The group was accompanied by Miss Sue Kirby and Mrs. Bobbie Cobb. The students are members of the local B.S.U. and made up one of the largest delegations at the convention.

The theme of the meet was "The Lordship of Christ." During the three-day meet the students participated in group discussions, saw films, and listened to well-known speakers.

After returning on Sunday evening some of the group told of their experiences at the convention at the evening worship service of the First Baptist Church.

New Floodlights Bought for Stage

Two $55 and three "baby spot" floodlights have been ordered for the stage of McCroan Auditorium. When these arrive the stock will be increased to six baby lights and two bullet-shaped lights. Although twelve lights are needed, these new ones are expected to produce the proper effects required for a modern play such as "Summer and Smoke."

The money for these new facilities was taken from the speech department funds.

SPORTS

SPORTS EDITOR

One of the most interesting sporting events in the history of this campus has been going on for the past week. The tough, down to the wire, photo finish in the "ugly man" contest has provided more sporting thrills than we have had a chance to witness in many a day. It has really been an inspiring spectacle. The mere sight of all these "ugly men" racing about the campus soliciting votes has been enough to unnerve even the most sturdy soul. This contest has really been an ugly affair to say the least.

And of course the title is one that any man would be proud to own. The ugly man is different. He is an awe-inspiring spectacle of ugliness that even the muses themselves would hesitate to look upon. His ancestors are Michelangelo, Van Gogh, Abe Lincoln, and Teddy Roosevelt. Men that no one can deny are among the ugliest in the history of the world. The ugly man has a heritage to defend, he has a long line of ancestors who have not only been ugly, but great and he must not let them down. He is akin to the Gods. St. Paul (one of the ugliest men in the history of Christendom) is his lineal descendent.

Yes, this ugly man contest has been one we shall not forget. It can definitely be said that a new height in ugliness was reached.

The "Profs" received a very good write-up in the 1957 edition of Street and Smith's Basketball yearbook. In the Southern independent rankings they are sixth. The "Profs" are cited as rapidly moving toward better things in Southern independent circles. Jim Long is given the big build-up as the man who will most likely replace Chester Webb. Garland "Hump" Campbell is highly praised for his shooting accuracy and his amazing rebounding ability. Doug Corry, Don Wallen, and Bo Warren are pointed out as the other three returning lettermen who are going to be heard from. Howard Walls and Walker Cook are given the sophomore laurels. The author states they are the best of last years frosh.

We agree that the "Profs" are on the way up in Southern basketball and also believe they will rank higher than sixth in the independent standings.

TOPS IN POPS

By KENNY GIDDENS

Well! Here the column is again and it seems that as long as this cloudy weather stays, Johnny Ray's top song, "Walking in the Rain," will be with us.

The question that pries into the teen-agers' mind today is: Is Uncle Sam getting Elvis Presley into the military forces? If he does, there probably will be a greater increase in the WAC's than ever before.

Getting to the "Hep Cats" on the campus the four great jitterburgers, Chip Culpepper, Joyce Kirkland, Harris West and Willene Fisher were really living it up last Wednesday night, when they tok top honors in the jitterbug contest sponsored by the T Club. These two couples were picked over ten other couples participating in the contest.

If any of you Elvis Presley fans take time out to listen to the Hit Parade each evening from 6:30 until 7 o'clock you will discover that Presley has squirmed to the top with his newly released song, "Love Me Tender."

It's hard to tell if this recording will hold the number one spot as long as his earlier recording, "Heartbreak Hotel." It depends altogether on the purchasing of this record as compared earlier.

Football Playoffs Scheduled For November 14-20

According to Mr. Jess White, coordinator of school recreation, there will be playoffs immediately following the completion of the intramural football schedule. Providing that there will be no postponed games throughout the remainder of the season, the playoffs will be held on November 14, 15, 19, and 20. The pairings will be made according to the order of finish of the participating teams. The team that finishes first will play the number eight team, the team that finishes second will play the number six team, number three will play number seven, and number four will be paired against number five.

The winners of the most games in the regular schedule will be declared intramural football champion, but each unit that enters their team in the playoffs will receive points as well as those that finish in the first three positions.

Every student on campus can participate in these playoffs, even the girls who do not play. Anyone who wishes to watch any contest included in the intramural program is welcomed. And for all the men on campus, you will need to contact your unit captain so that your name will be placed on the roster.

Social Dancing Classes Offered

Every person who wishes to have instruction in social dancing will have a chance to get this instruction on Wednesday nights at Play Night. Instruction will begin as soon as a sufficient number expresses the desire for this instruction. This is part of the arranged Play Night activities in the school recreation program as directed by Mr. Jess White.

As compiled by the every day Hit Parade, Elvis Presley's "Love Me Tender" holds the number one followed with "Green Door," "Walking in the Rain," "You Belong to Me" and "Blueberry Hill."

Football Roundup

By BOB DIXON

Chances are that the best football game of the 1956 season will be played on Grant iFeld in Atlanta, Georgia, this Saturday.

Coach Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee and Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech are both old students of General Neyland, who was one of the old masters of the single wing formation.

This could be a do-or-die game for both teams with the Southeastern Conference Championship and a big bowl bid at stake. Yes, football at its very best will be seen by those lucky ticket holders this Saturday. The strongest single wing unit in the nation will come face to face with the strongest team that Georgia Tech has ever had.

Georgia Tech has been given the favorite role by most sports writers simply because of Tech being given the favorite role by most sports writers simply because of Tech being the host team.

Coach Dodd has been practicing his team behind closed gates all week so you can be sure that some new razzle-dazzle plays are being cooked up for the Vols.

Since I am not a professional sports writer, I can afford to go out on a limb, with only my pride at stake, and pick Georgia Tech to win by thirteen points. Let me also say that I will not eat this column if Tech loses.

Wildcats Top Stallions Gain League Standing

by BOB POLLAK

The Wildcats grabbed first place in the intramural football league by dumping the Stallions from the top spot by the score of 32 to 20. This high scoring contest was marked by long scoring plays for both teams.

The cats clawed into the lead early in the first quarter as Dave Esmonde pitched to Bob Dixon for the score. Lowell Russell quickly grabbed Esmonde's pass in the end zone for another cat touchdown. The P.A.T. was no good and the Cats led 13 to 0 at the end of the first quarter.

On the first play of the second quarter Charles Head passed to Gordon Stallings on a scoring play which covered about 40 yards. The conversion was no good. Esmonde faded back a few minutes later and let fly with a tremendous heave and accurately hit Vondall Hall for another Wildcat Score. A short time later Stallings caught another pass and scored on the play that produced the Horses' first touchdown. Head then flipped to Hugh Belcher for the P.A.T. and the half ended with the score 20 to 13 in favor of the Wildcats.

In the third period the Cats scored again with the same combination of Esmonde to Hall.

The extra point was no good. The fourth period showed repetition of third period when the same players scored boosting the lead to 32 to 13. But the Stallions struck again when Mathison caught a pass and outran the defensive men for a score. He then got loose in the end zone and made a diving catch for the P.A.T. However time ran out and the Wildcats took over first place by virtue of their win.

Other action saw the Stallions whip the Clodhoppers by the score of 21 to 12 and they squeaked by the Cards 7 to 6.

After their loss to the Stallions the Clodhoppers got back on the winning track as they upset the Flyers 19 to 7.

Reddish, the Clodhopper quarterback, faked a pass and swept wide around end behind good blocking to score. The conversion was no good. A minute later Billy Swan intercepted a pass thrown by Fred Chance and sprinted 20 yards to a score. Again the P.A.T. was unsuccessful.

Early in the fourth quarter Emory Cartrett made a leaping catch of Fred Chance's pass for a score to put the Flyers back in the game. The same combination scored the extra point and the "airmen" were only 5 points behind, 12 to 7.

Reddish put the "Hoppers" into a safe lead as he stomped 15 yards straight up the middle for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter. Swan grabbed a deflected pass for the extra point and the score ended up 19 to 7 in favor of the "Hoppers."

Ben Lee got the Cardinals off to a good start against the Stallions when he passed to Lowe for a score in the first period.

However the Stallions roared right back when Charlie Head passed to Stallings for a touchdown and flipped to Dick Fluornoy for the P.A.T. The last half was scoreless and the final score, 7 to 6, ended in favor of the Horses.

Rat Squeaks...

WILLENE FISHER

The time is not long off 'til there won't be any squeaks from Rats as every freshman will be considered a full-pledged G.T.C. student.

The fun and enjoyment of being a rat is exciting if both sides keep the fact in mind that it should be clean fun.

One Rat not only squeaked but actually squealed, when on the B.S.U. convention, she sat on a bee!! I think one of the (the bee or the girl) names was Doodle. On the same trip, another squeal came when the bus left the city limits of Statesboro and the Rats took off their Rat hats (with permission, of course)!

All the rats will be very relieved when the big Rat Day is over, but this time next year they will be remembering and laughing at the fun. Right now, it looks like a big ordeal.

The freshmen that are not taking their part in activities and are not wearing their caps should think about the future and how they will feel next year (when they are sophomores).

Well, fellow students, it will not be long 'til it will all be over. Let's look forward to it and make it a pleasant memory to think back on. What am I talking about? Why, Rat Day, of course!!!

Mr. Pennington this isn't a coral snake—is it?

'Starlight Club' Ball Will Be Really Different This Year

By BOB SPELL

Having washed the paint off my hands, I have decided to write down a few things about the forthcoming Starlight Club ball to be given November 17 by the Art Club.

Things are really popping down in the art department with paint, glitter and and odd shapes dangling everywhere. In case you haven't heard, this year the ball will be really different. With a theme "Tomorrow," the Art Club has really gone abstract, and I do mean abstract! Some of the students will no doubt be shocked when they walk in the gym that Saturday night, especially those who have attended the Starlight Club ball before.

Where did this name the "Starlight Club" ball originate? As I understand it, in the beginning the dance was simply called the "Starlight Club" and was decorated to give an atmosphere of a real nightclub. As the dance became a tradition here at G.T.C., the word "ball" was somehow attached to it, and the title evolved to the "Starlight Ball," but the real name is still "The Starlight Club" ball.

Night Club Theme

The Art Club has maintained the night club theme through the years, but has tried to arrange the theme around a different kind of nightclub each year. Last year the theme was a rooftop club and hundreds of stars were hanging from the ceiling. This year a very modern theme of the nightclub of the future will be used.

Several students have been talking about the clothes to wear for this dance. The Starlight Club ball is not a formal occasion, but is semi-formal in the sense that the ladies are supposed to wear "dressy" dresses and the men, a suit and tie. If the young man wishes to send flowers to his date he may do so, but corsages are optional.

First Come, First Served

It doesn't cost anything to go to the dance just as it doesn't for any of the other dances on weekends. However, since the dance is a nightclub, there will be tables available for reservation before the night of the dance. A small fee is charged for the table reservation, but just because you don't want a table, or they were all reserved before you got your two-bits in, doesn't mean you can't go. Incidentally, the art club members aren't being given any priority over the rest of the students in reserving tables. Table reservations will be made on a first come-first served basis and there will be posters all over campus announcing where, when, and how much the reservations will be.

The Art Club goes to a lot of work and expense each year to present the Starlight Club ball, and it will be one of the dances you won't forget! I know I haven't.

A parting hint to all the males on campus: Fellows, let's get busy and ask these girls for dates before all the time runs out and some of us wind up stags!

King Announces Chapel Concert

A chapel concert program will mark the beginning of the G.T.C. band, according to Dana M. King Jr., band director. The program will include numbers from marches to Mr. King's own arrangement of G.T.C.'s Alma Mater. Leroy Anderson's Alma Mater, including "Freshman on Main Street," "Library Reading Room," and "Class Reunion" will be played as a salute to freshmen. Other numbers include "Beguine for Band," the first playing in the South, and various marches. Mr. King says that this will be the most outstanding program ever presented by the band.

VET'S CORNER

By DAVID BEECHER

"In days of yore, a mighty rumbling was heard in a mountain. It was said to be in labor, and multitudes flocked together, from far and near, to see what it would produce. After long expectation and many wise conjectures from the bystanders—out popped a mouse. The story applies to those whose magnificent promises end in paltry performances. (Aesop, in Aesop's Fables, c. 550 B. C.)"

There now exists on the face of the earth two great and mighty nations whose influence seems ordained by heaven to control the destiny of mankind. Those two nations, of course, are Russia and the United States.

The free world has looked to the U. S. for guidance and protection since World War II, and in terms LOUD and STRONG the U. S. has promised to protect and aid those free nations against any act of aggression which threatens to blot out their independence.

In the Middle East (Egypt) the United States guaranteed that there would be no fighting involved in the Suez issue. And now in Hungary a valiant and defiant people are being slaughtered by a bold and atrocious act of aggression by Russia killing men, women, and children without cause or hesitation. The United States, the stout defender and mighty promiser, faces the most perilous and demanding decision since its inception as a free nation; a decision which may well epitomize those immortal words of Shakespeare, "To be, or not to be."

With the tinge of election excitement still in the air—we here at G.T.C. too, are holding an important election—not for a president but for a KING—one who will reign as King Ugly Puss for a day and night over the festivities to be held here on the sweetheart campus this weekend. We haven't taken a Gallup poll but from all indications there are a couple of candidates who seem to be in the lead. Be sure and attend the Ugly Man Ball this Saturday night and be on hand to crown the ugliest man on the campus as King for the night.

Up-To-Date

By MICKEY WEBB

The most fashionable people on our campus these days are the band students. I'm sure nowhere on any other campus could we find a more up-to-date band? Hats off to our band and their new uniforms, you sure looked great!

coming with skirts and sweaters and they add much color to the outfits.

While trying to pick the most fashionable dress to wear to the coming Starlight Ball let your fancy wander to the full-skirted cocktail dresses. You see, full-skirted gowns always hold the spotlight in evening wear.

For colors—black has always been highly praised for evening, emerald green or red taffeta is very good, also.

Men, have you noticed the sweaters that look like cashmere and are much easier on your pocketbook? Don't miss them. Your special gal will be "almost" as thrilled with one of these "maid o' fur" sweaters. Special hint for the Christmas season.

Campus Column

By JOYCE JACKSON

Hi Fellow Students!

Although the weather man in South Georgia can't seem to make up his mind whether it's gonna be warm or cold, there was good evidence of the presence of fall at Rock Eagle Camp at Eatonton this weekend. Thirty students "ooed" and "ahed" over the red and yellow leaves when they attended the B.S.U. convention there. While the Baptists hit to the hills, the Methodists ventured up to the "Big City." Eight students attended the conference in Atlanta. Both groups reported very inspirational meetings and wonderful fellowship.

I asked some of the students who remained on campus about the activities this weekend. The main thing I could find out was that it was very quiet. Also the "Newollah" dance was successful. I'm glad someone was around to draw me a picture 'cause for the longest time I thought the theme would be something about Hawaii and it didn't dawn on me that "newollah" was Halloween spelled backwards.

Rat Day Parade

Weren't we all proud of our band Monday! The uniforms looked so good and it seemed that the band even played better when it was all dressed up. I think we should have a parade real soon so we can show off. Maybe Rat Day, uh?

The girls in dormitories have something else to be proud of. After a long, long time we finally have washing machines that work. No more scrubbing in the sink.

It seems that a West Hall girl has a new idea for alarm clocks. Last week when she had planned to go fishing, but was afraid she wouldn't wake up on time, her boyfriend was heard banging on the fire escape door of third floor at 6 o'clock in the morning! Wonder if this invention has been patented.

The Masquers are really working hard preparing for the production of "Summer and Smoke" which will be put on November 28. Hope all of you are planning to go 'cause I hear that it's really going to be fine.

Ugliest Man

I can hardly wait until Saturday night to find out who the "Ugliest Man" on campus is. There should really be some excitement and fun so drop in over at the old gym and get in on it, wan'tcha?

There was really a lot of ex-

Russia and the United States.
